The Duke of Genoa.

The young Duke of Genoa, of whom we read considerable now-a-days, as likely to carry off the prize of the Spanish Crown (that is if his mother and the Pope will let him), has had good training in England under the special care of Mr. Matthew Arnold. He belongs to the House of Savoy, the Princes of which have always borne a high character for courage and honesty, and some of whom have been men of marked ability. The fortunes of the house during the last twelve years have been somewhat remarkable. In 1849 Charles Albert, the father of the present King of Italy, having been defeated in the field of Novara by the Austrians, and failing to find the death he sought, abdicated in favor of his eldest son, and left Italy, to die in a few months of a broken heart. The kingdom to which his son succeeded then consisted of a small and poor province in the north of Italy, and the island of Sardinia, from which he took his title. It was heavily encumbered with debt, and had to pay a large ransom to the Austrians for the expense of the war. Under the wise Government of Cavour, perhaps the greatest statesman of the century, a man who to the subtlety so characteristic of the Italians, joined the common sense and industry of an Englishman, the little kingdom flourished, industry revived, and its administration became a model for other States. While the rest of Italy was given up to despotism, in Sardinia constitutional liberty prevailed so that from all parts of the peninsula the eyes of patriots were turned toward Turin. At last the opportunity came for which Cavour had waited so patiently, and in 1859 the rich province of Lombardy, the Duchies of which were virtually parts of Austria, though nominally independent, and a large portion of the Papal territory with the Kingdom of Naples, was annexed to the dominions of Victor Emmanuel. Two years more brought the war between Prussia and Austria, and the last Austrian soldier left Italy. With the exception of the small territory around Rome, which is guarded by French soldiers, the whole of Italy is now united into one constitutional monarchy under the government of the uncle of the Duke of Genoa. Of all the candidates named for the crown he is probably the most distasteful to the Pope. Under Isabella, Spain was a faithful servant of the Papacy, but under a Prince of the House of Savoy the broadest religious liberty is sure to prevail.

Allen's Pocket-Piece.

In the pocket book of the Hon Stephen Allen, who was drowned from on board the H. Clay, was found a printed slip, apparently cut from a newspaper, of which the following is a copy. It is worthy to be engraved on every young man's heart:—

Make few promises.
Always speak the truth.
Never speak evil to any one.
Live up to your engagements.
Be just before you are generous.
Never play at any game of chance.
Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors.
Good character is above all things else.
Keep your own secrets, if you have any.
Never borrow if you can possibly help it.
Do not marry until you are able to support a wife.
Keep yourself innocent, if you would be happy.
When you speak to a person, look him in the face.
Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.
Ever live (misfortune excepted) within your income.
Save when you are young, to spend when you are old.
Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.
Never run in debt unless you see a way to get out again.
Small and steady gains give competency, with a tranquil mind.
Good company and good conversation are the sinews of virtue.
Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.
If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.
When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.
Never be idle; if your hands can't be employed usefully, attend to the cultivation of your mind.
Read over the above maxims, carefully and thoughtfully, at least once every week.

A Model Princess

A correspondent of the San Francisco Call, writing from Jerusalem, mentions the following pleasant incident:—

Close to this place I saw two Arabs and a woman building a rough wall along the road. There was an air of intelligence about the woman's face not in accordance with her occupation, apparel, or soiled hands. The impression was confirmed on conversing with her, and I was astonished to think she could not gain a living by some higher occupation than building a wall.

'Would she be kind enough to write her name for me?'

'Yes. Would I walk into her house? It was close by.'

'I did not like to take her from her work.'

'Oh, she had plenty of time.'

We entered a neat cottage, plainly furnished and well supplied with books. I was now more puzzled than ever. She produced a large book and asked me to write my name. I glanced over the pages, and saw French Counts, German Barons, Russian Princes, Irish and English Lords and Dukes, and Francis Joseph Emperor of Austria. She wrote her name on a card, the 'Princess de la Tour d'Avergne.' She obtained a grant from the Sultan of the piece of ground whereon Christ taught the Lord's Prayer, and is erecting a temple on it at her own expense, which will contain this prayer in every language. She has already expended over two hundred thousand francs.

The Russian Government talks of building a railroad through Siberia to China. Its length in Asia will be a thousand miles.—A young woman of Dubuqueo, Iwa, has just been released from an insane asylum where she was confined for fourteen months, because of her refusal to marry the man of her parents' choice.

General Rules to be Observed in Consulting the Barometer.

1. If the Mercury stays about 29 inches or the word "Changeable," without moving much, either up or down the weather will be unsettled and changeable
2. If the Mercury rises to or above the word "Fair," fine weather is at hand.
3. Should it happen to rain when the Mercury stands high, it will be local, and very little of it.
4. If the Mercury continues to rise slowly—say for eight or ten days—and arrives at or above the line "Very Fair," then in summer, look for drouth—if in winter continued frost.
5. When the Mercury falls, it indicates foul weather; if the fall be slow, it will rain; if quick, it will blow; and it falls very low, a severe storm is sure to follow.
6. When, during a storm, the Mercury is seen to rise a little, then rest assured the worst is over.
7. When the Mercury moves quickly, either up or down, the weather that follows will be of short duration, and vice versa. w26-1m

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS

The Globe of August 6th says:—It will be seen that the Toronto Tea Company are prepared to supply families in the country in clubs with teas and coffees, in such quantities as individuals may require at times; and where the total quantity ordered by a club is 15 lbs and over, that the Company forward the same free of expense to any railroad station in Ontario. By this means any one can be supplied as cheaply as if they bought from the Company personally in Toronto. We may mention that the Toronto Tea Company are doing a very heavy business, and stand well in the estimation of our citizens; and the large business they are doing may be taken as the best evidence that the people are well satisfied with what they purchase from them. We feel pleasure in saying that any business which our readers may have with the Company may be done with the fullest confidence.

The Telegraph says:—The Toronto Tea Company have sold Teas at such astonishing low prices, and of such excellent quality, that all who invest therein have returned thoroughly satisfied. If they do not suit you, we do not know who can.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY IN THE CITY:

It is no uncommon thing for the customers of the Toronto Tea Company in Toronto, to admit that the Tea we sell at 60c, in just as good as they used to pay 75c, and 80c, for elsewhere, others again declaring that the fine tea we sell at 55c, is as good as they used to pay $1 00 for per lb. in other stores. The reason is we sell at wholesale prices.

IN THE COUNTRY.

Out of many letters of similar import we publish the following extracts to show how our Teas are liked in the country.

LANARK, Ontario, 10th Aug., 1869.

"The tea that we received from you is giving every satisfaction. All are well pleased with it. I expect to have another order next week."

AINLEYVILLE, 11th June, 1869.

"The 55c Tea received from you gives very good satisfaction, and was all disposed of this morning. All who have tried it are willing to buy it, if the quality is as good in the next lot, now ordered."

The same party writes again on 11th August, as follows:

"Every one that tried the Tea, liked it very much indeed; also the Coffees."

THE following remarks on Testimonials of most wonderful and extraordinary cures in Canada by the GREAT INDIAN REMEDY. They are stern, undeniable and incontestible facts, sufficient to convince the most skeptical that the Great Medicinal Compound, earned after for ages is now accessible in the Great for Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Digestive Organs, Kidneys, &c., as well as Scrofula, the various Skin Diseases, Humors, and all diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, we boldly state that this great remedy has NEVER BEEN EQUALLED. Where was the such a cure as that in the person of Wilson [illegible] of Brighton, C. W., of Consumption; or that of Peter V. Miller, Earnestown, C. W., of Consumption; or that of Ambrose Wood, of Cameron, C. W., of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, or that of John Hoose, of Napanee, C. W., of Rheumatism, who had been on crutches for years, in spite of all treatment, cured and is now well. Scores of such cases might be added had we space.

SHOSHONEES REMEDY

MADOC, County of Hastings, Province of Ontario, Feb 9th, 1868

THIS is to certify that during the winter of 1866 I was taken with a weakness of the which gradually, during the spring of 1867 [illegible] to my knees, and on up to my hips, and I became so weak that I could not walk, but was confined to my chair. For about two years while this weakness was coming on me, and afterwards, I sought medical advice, employing at different times, three doctors, and medicines of different kinds, prescribed by friends, but to no avail. I continued to get worse and worse, until the summer of 1868, when I was induced to try the great Shoshonees Remedy by reading the cures performed, in a pamphlet. At this time I had begun to feel the weakness in my hands; in fact I was getting almost helpless. I have taken two bottles of the Shoshonees Remedy and two boxes of the pills and I am entirely restored to health. I never expected to get better, but simply tried the medicine as a sort of forlorn hope. This case of mine was not a private one, but known to all my neighbors and friends; and to any one afflicted as I was, I have only to say try the Shoshonees Remedy. I believe it will cure you. MARY ANN DOUGHTY.

Sworn to before me at Madoc, County of Hastings, this 9th day of February, 1869. A. F. WOOD, J. P. & C.

I hereby certify that I have known Mrs Mary Ann Doughty for the last fifteen years; she is a woman of probity and truth. I have known her before, during, and since her illness. I believe her certificate to be true in every particular. I know that while ill her case was declared hopeless; and I know that she has since her recovery, always attributed her recovery to the Shoshonees Remedy. Whatever may be the peculiar properties of this medicine, one thing is certain, that in her case, it has acted almost like the performance of a miracle. A. F. WOOD, J. P.
