Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, July 14.—Eight new world's and thirteen new Olympic records were created by the unprecedented attack on time and distance during the Olympic track and field championships which have set a new standard of brilliance for future international stars to aim at.

The 400-metre individual run and relay witnessed the most startling assaults against time, the records for each being lowered three times, with Liddell, of Great Britain, holding the former mark, which Imbach, of Switzerland, and Fitch, of the U. S., also held for a time.

In the relay the U. S. team twice cut the record figure after the British quartet had started the record-breaking habit. Other world marks were made in the broad jump by Robert Legendre, of the U. S., the decathlon by H. M. Osborne of the U. S., the 400-yard hurdles by F. M. Taylor of the U. S., the 10,000-metre run by Ritola of Finland, and the hop, step and jump by Winter of Australia, and the 1,600-metre relay by the United States

These marks also stood as new olympic standards in addition to which the latter list had three contributions by Nurmi for the distances of 1,500, 3,000 and 5,000 metres. Others were made by Osborne in the high jump, and "Bud" Houser, U. S., in the discus throw.

Now that the track and field battle is over, the interest in the olympics which has been concentrated on a single sport for the past eight days today found six branches of the competition in full swing.

Chief among the attractions today, from the Canadian viewpoint, are swimming contests, in which several stars from the Dominion are entered, and the rowing competition, in which Canada also is represented by some of its leading oarsmen.

Yachting and fencing contests, tennis, catch-as-catch-can wrestling, complete the calendar of activities in Paris and environs.

The record of points in the Olympic track and field games thus far is as follows: United States, 255; Finland, 166; Great Britain, 85½; Sweden, 31½; France, 26½; Italy, 19; Switzerland, 15; South Africa, 11; Hungary, 10½; Australia, 10; Canada, 8; Norway, 6; Argentina, 5; New Zealand, 4; Esthonia, 4; Holland, 4, Denmark, 3; Japan, 1; Chile, 1.

CRAMPS BEAT CUTHBERT.

Associated Press Despatch.

Olympic Stadium, Colombes, July 14.—J. Cuthbert of Guelph, Ont., who was in 13th place in the Olympic marathon yesterday, having been seized with cramps while running and having to walk a mile to get a cup of hot coffee which resulted in pulling him together and enabling him to continue in the contest, finished fresh as a daisy. His time was 3 hours, 44 seconds. The time of the winner of the marathon, Alben Stenross of Finland, was 2 hours, 42 minutes, 22 3-5 seconds. Cuthbert said it broke his heart to see others in the big race pass him between the third and sixth controls (the cramps seized him between the third and fourth control stations). He ascribes the cramps to the French diet.

The Guelph man was able to rub himself down when he returned to the stadium after the race, and following the rub down, he took a plunge which completely restored him. It was only a comparatively brief seizure of cramps that put Cuthbert so far back in the race. He said afterwards that he believed if there had been another stage to go he would have finished first.

V. McAuley of Windsor, N. S., the only other Canadian contender in the marathon, finished 1 minute, 21 2-5 seconds behind Cuthbert. The huge crowd cheered at seeing the Canadians finishing so close to each other.

Peanut King of District Is Allowed To Carry On

James Lamport Freed After a Warm Session in County Police Court.

BYRON PAYS COSTS

Magistrate Dismisses Case on Reading Wording of the Hawking Bylaw.

Victory!
Kingly crowns may totter and kingly roofs may part,
Amid the dust and carnage caused by Jimmie's peanut cart;
The sun may shine at Springbank,
Where the green is on the moss;
But Jimmie doesn't give a darn,
The court's declared him boss.

Yes, it is quite true. James Lamport, uncrowned peanut king of London and Middlesex, aided and abetted by his counsel W. B. Henderson, has put to flight the Byron village trustees and their counsel J. G. Gillanders in one of the hottest "hot peanut" arguments ever staged before County Magistrate Hawkshaw.

Jimmie not only won the racket, but the village trustees will have to disgorge $8 in costs.

Fined Before.

A little history regarding the legal battle might not be amiss. One month ago James was yanked before the magistrate for selling peanuts on the road directly opposite the Springbank amusement park. He was dragging down all the trade before it reached the amusement park, and the purveyors of goobers, who pay $25 a season for the right to sell monkey nuts, might just as well have been at the north pole for all the peanuts they were selling.

James, it seems, had taken out a county license as a "hawker" for $5, which gave him the right to "hawk" all over Middlesex. He was summoned to court and found guilty by the magistrate, who stated the peanut king could not stand for any length of time at one spot "hawking" his goods.

This didn't bother James a bit. He was back next day on the job and selling more peanuts than ever.

Trustees Appear.

The Byron trustees, egged on by other goober vendors, laid another charge against the emperor of the peanut selling brigade and appeared this morning, backed by their legal adviser.

Mr. Henderson stated his client had taken out a license as a hawker and therefore he was going to "hawk" any place he chose, which, just at present, was in front of the amusement park, where business was brisk. Mr. Henderson pointed out that the county bylaw did not state how long a man could stay in one place to hawk his goods and therefore his client should be dismissed. The magistrate, after glancing over the bylaw, agreed with Mr. Henderson, and Jimmie left the courtroom with a wicked glance of joy at several vendors, who had fondly hoped to see Jimmie cleaned of all his spare dimes.

ROTARY TO SEND WIDOW REGRETS

Local Club Pays Tribute to Memory of A. M. Hunt.

On the motion of A. E. Silverwood the Rotary Club, at its meeting today, decided to express its condolences to the widow of the late A. M. Hunt, member of the Rotary Club, and formerly secretary of the Western Fair Association. The Rotarians stood in silence as a tribute to Mr. Hunt's memory, following appreciation of his record as a citizen of London, expressed by Mr. Silverwood and Col. Gartshore.

Rotarian Spittle presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Dr. Alf. Grant.

Three guests of honor contributed a special musical program in place of the customary speech. They were Mrs. Charles Ivey, Mrs. Robert Durst and Miss Lenore Coughlin. In appreciation of the excellence of the program furnished by this trio, the Rotarians expressed themselves by a standing vote of thanks. Mrs. Ivey was the first artist, playing several violin selections. Miss Lenore Coughlin, Rotary pianist, followed with piano selections from Chopin. The program concluded with contralto solos by Mrs. Durst.

LOVE IS GREATEST THEME IN WORLD

So Declares Rev. Collins Williams in Sermon at Congregational Church.

Rev. Collins Williams of Cheltenham, England, after six weeks of special service in St. John, N. B., gave a sermon in the Congregational Church yesterday on "Wondrous Love." He took as his text a verse from John iii. Only by deep study and a reverent attitude can we grasp the meaning of this verse was the opening of Dr. Williams' sermon.

He continued that the greatest study in the universe is Christ and the greatest theme is the love of God. This verse in itself is a miniature Bible, the gospel in a nutshell. This verse shows clearly the love of God for the world.

"To hear some people talk today, you would think there was no sin, but just as long as some man or woman is not brought into contact with Christ, sin will exist. He believes the only way to win men to the gospel of Christ is to preach the gospel of love, not the fire of brimstone, or hell fire. To show God's love to the darkest heart is to win souls for eternity.

"Love always gives, and always gives its best, and no sacrifice is too great where love is concerned," continued the speaker. "In no other way can men be redeemed.

"During the great war, young soldiers were being told strange things at services before going to the front. To whit, That God would save those who would lay down their lives for their country! This is not true, and furthermore men are saved and always will be saved, only when they believe that the Lord is their saviour.

"God had one son, but he gave that one to go into a life of poverty and hardship that ended on Calvary's hill. He made this sacrifice for one purpose only, and that was to give everlasting life to all who believe in the Lord Jesus. Until we truly feel that God's spirit and love are truly in our hearts, controlling our life, and not till then shall we realize the great love of God," concluded Dr. Williams.

NO DEFINITE DATE.

Sir Henry Thornton has promised the city that he will communicate at the earliest possible moment regarding a conference here on the matter of level crossings. No definite date has been given for a session, but the city is ready to go ahead with a meeting as soon as arrangements can be made.

REFUSES TO GRANT HOME BANK APPEAL

privy council finding in their favor. His honor fixed no date, taking the ground that he could not foretell what the decision of the privy council would be.

On the return of D. L. McCarthy, K.C., and the other counsel from England, an application will probably be made for additional particulars, and to have his honor fix a date for trial.

The decision of the privy council does not necessarily mean that the Home Bank directors and officials do not have to face a jury. Two indictments were found, one in which all jointly were charged with conspiracy, the other in which individually they were charged with offences under the bank act. The trial under the indictment charging the directors jointly with conspiracy is not affected by the privy council decision.

The court of appeal at Osgoode so altered Mr. Justice Middleton's finding as to make it clear that the conspiracy charge was not included in the mandamus.

Whether both will be tried in the county court or whether the conspiracy count will be tried in the assizes, will probably not be definitely settled until Mr. McCarthy returns from England.

SOLDIER QUARTERS BEING TORN DOWN

Skeleton of Yellow Timbers All That Remains of Building on Heights.

ERECTED IN 1918

Gaunt frames, a skeleton of yellow timbers, are all that remain of the married soldiers' living quarters building on Carling Heights. The big building, one of the first to be erected during the scenes of demobilization of his majesty's forces in 1918, is now the first to go into the hands of the wreckers. It has served its purpose; it belongs to history.

Twelve men are busy tearing down the long two-story building, the first one of the many large tar paper covered structures that loom up to the east of Wolseley Barracks on the heights.

The married soldiers' living quarters were situated at the extreme west end of the demobilization camp. The building was 215 feet long and 42 feet wide, and from the second story windows were long chutes like children's slides in the parks. Passers-by often speculated as to what the chutes were for. They were fire escapes to be used by soldiers' children if the tar paper covered firetraps ever broke out in flames.

There will be ten days of work on this building before all traces of it are removed. It is being carefully taken down as the wood is in good condition.

All the wood is being sorted out in piles of scantlings, joists, decking, wainscotting and firewood. Of all the windows that have been removed, only one pane of glass has been broken.

CADET COURSE ARRANGED FOR WESTERN STUDENTS

University men, teachers and students wh oattend the summer courses of training will no longer have to leave Western Ontario to take a cadet course in connection with their other summer subjects. The cadet course at the University of Western Ontario will take care of the students who have hitherto gone to Toronto or Queens or Kingston for such training.

This summer there is an enthusiastic class of fourteen men taking the five weeks' course at Western. The course is just the same as an officers' training course. Two days a week the cadets come up for instruction—on Mondays and Thursdays at 4:30 until 6:30. They also go out to the rifle ranges from time to time.

CHILDREN ESCAPE LIGHTNING BOLT

Off on Vacation, Boys and Girls of Soldiers' Aid Hostel Are Safe.

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, July 14.—The fact that the 50 boys and girls who usually reside at the children's hostel of the soldiers' aid commission, Jarvis street, were on vacation at Vimy Ridge farm, proved a real blessing in disguise on Sunday morning, when between 5 and 6 o'clock, lightning crashed into their erstwhile home, making havoc wwhere a moment before had been peace.

The bolt, which accompanied the loudest clap of thunder during the sharp early morning storm, first struck the main chimney, sending bricks careering down the roof in all directions, then made its way to the furnace room, knocking the iron front out of one fifireplace en route and throwing a cloud of black soot all over the rooms where two other fire places were located. The bolt lost itself in the cellar floor after blowing the door off the furnace.

MAYOR IS AROUSED AT EMPTY WAGONS

States Places on Market Are Being Blocked by Hucksters.

Hucksters who leave empty wagons on the best locations on the market overnight in order to keep reservations for Saturday trade were scored by Mayor Wenige today. The matter will be brought up at a special meeting of the market committee in a few days' time, the mayor said, and some action will be taken to stop the practice.

"We've had cases of people bringing in empty wagons the night before. Some of them left wagons there all week to reserve the best places," the mayor declared. "We said empty wagons wouldn't be allowed, and one man kept bringing in a buggy in which was a bag of potatoes. He probably brought the same bag each week.

"The regulations are that only loaded wagons may be placed on the market before market opens on Saturday morning.

"It isn't fair to the bona fide farmer," declared the mayor when told that nine empty wagons had been counted on the market square last Friday night.

CORNETIST'S OPINION

A bandmaster of a famous band speaks regarding Conn Cornets and Trumpets.

London, July 7, 1924.

To the Manager,
Mason & Risch, Limited,
London, Ontario,

Dear Sir,—I beg to state that the Conn Trumpet Cornet, which I purchased from your firm, has given me greater satisfaction than any other instrument I have played upon.

I gave it a thorough test and found it perfect in every way. Every note was perfectly in tune, including high and low pitch. I find I can play the trumpet for hours without my lips tiring, and I find it the greatest pleasure to perform on the instrument.

I wish to state that I have been solo cornetist of the Royal Canadian Regiment Band for the past eighteen years, and what I have stated about Conn's latest trumpet cornet model is absolutely true.

Thanking you for selling such a fine instrument,
I remain,
Yours faithfully,
R. BEDELL,
Band Sergeant, Royal Canadian Regiment.
