Poetry.

SOME LOVE TO GO.

AIR—"Some love to roam."

Some love to go, where the sun is low,
And the gas is all alight,
Awhile to stay in the heated shop,
And purchase goods by night;
They turn the store of bargains o'er,
For the best and cheapest lot,
And the fray and crease of the damaged piece,
Which they buy, is heeded not:
Oh-ho, oh-ho: Oh-ho oh-ho!
Think of that! is heeded not.

These people wise, who use their eyes
Like the owls, but when it's dark,
Must often make a sad mistake,
And often miss their mark;
Their pretty blue has a greenish hue,
When viewed by the light of day,
And the bright grass green is a mazarine
To the sun's all-searching ray:
Oh-ho, oh-ho! Oh-ho, oh-ho!
Why can't they go by day?

There's Mrs. Green, is never seen
A shopping until late,
And Mrs. Brown, pops up and down,
Just at the stroke of eight;
No time to waste, they're served in haste,
And the best of all good jokes,
Is that they buy the goods put by,
And left by other folks;
Oh-ho, oh-ho! Oh-ho, oh-ho!
Left by other folks.

If Mrs. Brown would have a gown,
Of colors good and fast;
Or Mrs. Green a victoreen,
That will the season last,
The broad day light, they should not slight,
But go betimes and choose;
'Tis just the same whate'er we name,
Caps, handkerchiefs, or shoes.
Oh ho, oh ho! Oh-ho, oh-ho!
Yes ribbands, gloves or shoes.

The spoiled and stale, the short of tale,
Bad measure, and light weight,
Full often take the folks who make
Their purchases when late;
And dearly pay, for bargains they
Who lose the golden prime,
And surely sin, when keeping in
The shopman after time:
Oh, ho, oh-ho! Oh-ho, oh-ho!
That horrid after time!

Men never go when the sun is low,
And the closing hour is past;
Let not your hand draw tight the band
That keeps the captive fast;
To breathe fresh air, the joys to share
Of converse with our kind,
For this we rent; release we want;
Why should we be confined?
Oh-ho, Oh-ho, Oh-ho, Oh-ho!
Why closely thus confined?

VARIETY.

A Cast.—Miss Fitzsnancy—elderly maiden—charged Mr. Cleaver, the gay young man who was accustomed to carry home her marketing, with having forcibly kissed her in the entry of her own house. Mr. Cleaver, although proud of his personal appearance, was short—very short—considering his whiskers; his height, even in French boots, reached only to four feet eleven inches. Miss Fitzsnancy, on the contrary, being fond of extremes, fan up a foot higher—and stayed there; being of remarkably right deportment. She swore the abbreviated, yet amorous butcher kissed her by assault—and hauled him up for it. Butcher—with some expression of disgust, more emphatic than necessary—denied the charge—Butcher was fat—lady was't. Cleaver had antipathy to what he irreverently termed 'scraggy' women, and vowed he hadn't kissed her, and wouldn't! Money couldn't and hire him to. Being cross-examined, lawyer inquires of the lady the circumstances—when, where, how, &c. Lady replies with great particularity:—On Monday morning—ten o'clock—in this entre—resisted all she could, but he persevered, and triumphed! Lawyer asks—'Did not he stand on anything but the floor??

'No! he stood on the floor—no chair, stool, or anything else being brought into requisition.'

'But my dear madam, this is impossible? you are twelve inches taller than him. How could he reach your lips?'

Lady hadn't thought of that, but she was not to be tripped by the gibbest lawyer of them all, so she replies—

'Oh! ain't well—I know—yes! to be sure! but then you know—I scrooched a little!'

'Exactly! Thank you, madam; that'll do.'

'Nothing further, your honor.'

Verdict for the short defendant.—Clinton Courant.

Putting out Boston Harbor.—Frequenters of our wharves are well aware that a class of vessels often lie at Long Wharf known as fishing smacks. These smacks hail, in most cases, from Cape Ann, and supply our markets with fresh fish. Near the centre of each of these smacks is a fish pit, with sides perfectly water tight, and rising to the decks, while the bottom, which is also a part of the bottom of the vessel, is perforated with holes. Into these pits or wells are thrown the fish, and the sea furnishes through the holes a constant supply of water for the preservation of the finny tribes, during the transit from 'along shore' to Boston market.

It happened one morning last week, that one of those smacks was lying near the Custom House, when two Irishmen came on board, inquiring for work. They were told that there was nothing to be done on board, but they still hung around, and at last discovering the pit, inquired if they might pump out the vessel, as they noticed she leaked badly. The two tars aboard, who were both first class jokers, perceiving the mistake of the Hibernians, replied yes, and asked their price for pumping the smack dry. A bargain was struck for a dollar and a half; a pump was procured; and at work the two men went, one pumping while the other bailed with a bucket.

An hour passed on and still they worked, occasionally wondering how deep the hole was, and how much water remained still in the vessel.—The two sailors in the meantime, had gone up the wharf, as they said, on business. The captain, who was absent at the time the bargain was made, came on board, and finding the men hard at work, with the perspiration pouring off their faces, enquired what they were about. 'Pumping out this ship,' was the reply. 'Pumping out this ship,' said the captain. 'Yes, sir, an' a mighty dape one she is, intirely,' said one of the perspiring Emeralders, as he panted away at the pump handle. 'Sure, I'm thinkin' it'll be night before we get her dhry.' 'Night!' said the captain, beginning to roar with laughter, as he discovered the jokes that had been perpetrated during his absence. 'Night! why you will not get through till you have pumped out Boston harbor.'

He then explained the matter to the labourers, who resumed their coats, vowing vengeance upon the sailors who had dexered them.—Boston paper.

Mixed or Intermixed.—'My good friend,' said Lord Kaimes to a farmer, 'such are the wonderful discoveries in science, that I should not be surprised if, at some future time one might be able to carry the compost of an acre of land to the field in our coat pocket.'—'Very possible,' replied the farmer, 'but in that case, I suspect you would be able to bring back the crop in your waistcoat pocket.'

☞ Bonnet, Marshall, & Co., of Pittsburgh, have brought a quantity of large iron cannon in Canada, which they will convert into railroad iron. The cannon were used against the United States throughout the war of 1812, and, it is said, made and have among our troops at Malden and Brandy's Lane. Converting cannons into railroad iron is a near approach to beating swords into plough-shares.—Alb. Patriot.

Burns.—For burns or scalds, apply dry flour at once, and keep it on the wound till it is healed. It cannot be made to stick, grease or oil the part so as to form a coat of it. We know a child a short time since, to burn the back of its hand, so as to take off the skin entire. The flour relieved the pain instantly, and under its cover the wound healed in a few days.

If the girls would spend as much time with cosmetics as they do with millinery, they would look and their beaux as attractive as their hats.

The far-famed Medicine. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

SURPRISING CURE OF A CONFIRMED ASTHMA, AFTER FIVE YEARS SUFFERING.

The following Testimonial has been sent to Professor Holloway, by a Gentleman named Middleton, of Scotland Road, Liverpool.

Sir,—Your Pills have been the instrument, under Providence, of restoring me to sound health after five years of severe affliction. During the whole of that period, I suffered the most dreadful attacks of Asthma, frequently of several weeks' duration, attended with a violent cough, and continually spitting of phlegm intermixed with blood. This so shook my constitution that I was unfitted for any of the active duties of life. I was attended by some of the most eminent medical men of this town, but they failed to give me the slightest relief. As a last remedy I tried your Pills, and in about three months they effected a perfect cure of the disease, totally eradicated the cough, and restored tone and vigour to the chest and digestive organs.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

Jan'y. 1st, 1852. (Signed) R. MIDDLETON.

PERMANENT CURE OF A DISEASED LIVER OF MANY YEARS' DURATION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Gamis, Chemist, Yeovil, to Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—In this district your Pills command a more extensive sale than any other proprietary medicine before the public. As a proof of their efficacy in Liver and Bilious complaints, I may mention the following case. A lady of this town with whom I am personally acquainted, for years was a severe sufferer from disease of the Liver and digestive organs; her medical attendant assured her that he could do nothing to relieve her sufferings, and it was not likely she could survive many months. This announcement naturally caused great alarm among her friends and relations, and they induced her to make a trial of your Pills which so improved her general health that she was induced to continue them until she received a perfect cure. This is twelve months ago, and she does not experience any symptoms of relapse, and she declares that your Pills have been the means of saving her life. I remain, Dear Sir, Yours truly,

Nov. 23, 1852. (Signed,) J. GAMIS.

AN ASTONISHING CURE OF CHRONIC RHEUMATISM AFTER BEING DISCHARGED FROM THE HOSPITAL INCURABLE.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. W. Moon, of the Square Winchester.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—I beg to inform you that for years I was a sufferer from Chronic Rheumatism, and was often laid up for weeks together by its severe and painful attacks. I tried everything that was recommended, and was attended by one of the most eminent Surgeons in this town, but obtained no relief whatever, and fearing that my health would be entirely broken up, I was induced to go into our County Hospital, where I had the best medical treatment the Institution afforded, all of which proved of no avail, and I came out no better than I went in. I was then advised to try your Pills, and by persevering with them was perfectly cured, and enabled to resume my occupation, and although a considerable period has elapsed since, I have felt no return whatever of the complaint.

I am, Sir, your obliged servant,

Oct. 8th, 1852. (Signed) W. MOON.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF DROPSY, AFTER SUFFERING FOR SEVERAL MONTHS.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. G. Briggs, Chemist, Goole, dated February 15th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I have much pleasure in informing you of a most surprising cure of Dropsy, recently effected by your valuable medicines. Captain Jackson, of this place was afflicted with Dropsy for upwards of eighteen months, to such an extent that it caused his body and limbs to be much swollen, and water oozed as it were from his skin, so that a daily change of apparel became necessary, notwithstanding the various remedies tried, and the different medical men consulted, all was of no avail, until he commenced using your Pills, by which, and a strict attention to the printed directions he was effectually cured, and his health perfectly re-established. If you deem this worthy of publicity, you are at liberty to use it.

I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

(Signed) G. BRIGGS.
