GOOD NEWS FROM TARSUS.

How Nearly 600 Joined the Church in Five or Six Weeks.

A year ago Messrs. Jenanyon and McLachlan excited interest in religious circles in Toronto on the eve of their departure as missionaries for Tarsus, the birthplace of the Apostle Paul.

A Canadian committee, consisting of Hon. S. H. Blake, Hon. John Macdonald, Robert Kilgour, Henry J. Clarke, W. H. Howland, Hamilton Cassells, Elias Rogers, and George Anderson, was formed to forward the missionary work and aid in supporting St. Paul's Institute at Tarsus as a centre for evangelistic work.

A letter has been received from Mr. McLachlan of a very encouraging nature. He says there is an interest in the work without a parallel in the history of missions in the Turkish Empire. He tells of how the attendance at the daily meeting has increased until it was necessary to open the other churches "in order to make room for those who pressed eagerly to hear the message of the gospel told in a simple but earnest manner.

"The native pastors joined heartily in the work and Mr. Christie, missionary at Marash, came to Aintab for the same purpose.

"Within five or six weeks more than 650 persons asked to be admitted to church fellowship, and from this number about 559, after a careful examination, were accepted."

The harsh, drastic purgatives, once deemed so indispensable, have given place to milder and more skilfully prepared laxatives; hence the great and growing demand for Ayer's Pills. Physicians everywhere recommend them for costiveness, indigestion and liver complaints.

Irish Poplin.

[From Le Follet for October.]

When we heralded the return to fashion of rich plain silks we mentioned that Irish silk poplin would unquestionably make its reappearance as a thoroughly fashionable material and our expectations have been more than realized.

The wear of this beautiful fabric can never become common on account of its price, but its beauty and richness of drapery make it a great favorite with the upper classes and ladies who have to study economy as well as mere fashion and beauty of effect are beginning to understand that poplin, if of good quality, is not only a very rich looking material but really serviceable in wear.

To all purchasing Irish poplin for dresses or mantles—it is very fashionable for these also—we have much pleasure in recommending the very superior quality manufactured by Messrs. Pim, Bros. & Co. of Dublin, a firm whose fame in the production of this beautiful material is known in every country where European fashions and fabrics find favor.

We have several patterns before us of all the new colors and many of the favorites already established in a great variety of shades of each; also of several clan tartans as well as fancy plaids.

The late royal marriage has revived the taste for plaids and tartans and in no material are they more effective than in poplin. Several were included in H.R.H. the Duchess of Fife's trousseau and other large orders have been received since.

For any dress in which richness of appearance and grace of drapery are essential Irish poplins are most desirable, whether for the complete gown or in combination with other materials, a purpose for which it is well adapted, and the several qualities made by Messrs. Pim are admirable in wear, as they neither cut nor wear greasy, as is always the case in those of inferior make.

A HOUSEKEEPER'S HEAVEN.

The Pleasant Prediction is made that Drudgery will be Abolished from the Household and the Occupation of the Domestic Servant will be gone—Valuable Advice for the Present Day.

Mrs. Helen E. Sterrett, in a recent number of The Forum, contributes an article entitled "Housekeeping in the Future." In it she tells how in a few years electricity will supply light for the home, the family cooking and washing will be done outside, and there will be so little work in the household that the occupation of the domestic servant will be gone.

But Mrs. Sterrett's article is simply a prediction, and has no more than a passing interest for the ladies who live in 1889. Their social and household cares are straining their delicate, nervous system, and the result is terrible. Headaches, backaches, and womanly ills are growing alarmingly common. Many of them find that memory is failing; they are unable to recall the names of friends or tell whether they have performed some of their usual household duties.

Their nerves are in such a condition that very slight causes, or perhaps no cause at all, may irritate them. Life grows to be a burden. There is no need for despair, but there is great need of caution. Their nerves should be built up, life fortified, and brain restored with that remarkable preparation, Paine's Celery Compound. Instead of the depressed and languid feelings, after the Compound has been used, they will feel active, vigorous, and happy. To those who are weak and failing, and who desire health and happiness instead of illness and misery, we earnestly urge that they act upon this advice.

One Thousand Dollars Reward

One thousand dollars will be paid in cash to any charitable institution of Toronto that may be named by any reputable citizen who will prove that the watches sold in our cans of tea are not solid gold through and through, or that the diamonds are not genuine and set in solid gold, it being understood that the word reputable bars out The Evening Fake Telegram. The cry is still they come, and hundreds of patrons are made happy daily by receiving genuine diamonds and solid gold watches as souvenirs in their cans of choice tea at No. 15 King-street west. Remember that after 60 days these choice teas will be sold at the same price, same quality and quantity, but without these valuable holiday presents a souvenirs. The watches are genuine solid gold hunting case, American jewelled movements, stem-wind and set, and the diamonds ARE GENUINE AND SET IN SOLID GOLD.

The following are among the fortunate purchasers up to date:

Harman, builder, 395 Huron-street, and Fred W. Brown, Brownsville, each found articles of genuine diamond jewelry in solid gold settings in their cans.

Rene J. Garnard, Scenic Artist at Jacobs & Sparrow's Opera House, found a genuine solitaire diamond ring in solid gold setting; Mrs. W. N. McConnell, Berlin, sent in club order of $20 for thirteen cans of tea, and found in one can a gents' solid gold hunting case Elgin jewelled movement stem-wind and set watch. And in another a set of genuine solitaire diamond ear drops in solid gold setting.
