THE CHRISTIAN WATCHMAN.

foreseen events of a similar character to those which we now deplore. From the commencement of this unfortunate quarrel between the two sections of the United States it was evident that the causes of disunion were too deeply seated to make it possible that seperation would not take place, and it was also obvious that passions were so roused on both sides as to make it highly improbable that such seperation could not take place without a contest.

In answer to the question of the honorable member, I would say, that however much I regret the intelligence which we have received within the last few days, yet that intelligence ought not, in my opinion, to make any difference in the arrangements which after the fu lest consideration, we considered were calculated to meet all the requirements of the public service during the present year. We still adhere to that opinion, which was also strongly expressed on the other side of the House, when, in addi ion to the reduction of the income tax, it was proposed to make a reduction in the tea duties. I am still of opinion that, in addition to the reduction of the income tax, the repeal of the paper duties may be made safely in reference to the financial position of the country.

I do not perceive any reasons why we should apply to Parliament for increased armaments in consequence of the events which are taking place in North America, and I also hope that the customs' duties will not materially suffer in consequence of those events.

HOW THE ENGLISH POLICY IS REGARDED IN THE NORTH.

The news from England containing an account of the recognition of the Southerners as belligerents, has created considerable excitement in the Northern States and has aroused a defiant spirit.—The Northern Newspapers taunt the Brit ish Government with recreancy to principle through mere selfishness, and threaten war in case the slightest countenance is shewn to the Confederacy. The following is a dispatch to the New York Hearld dated Washington May 21.

OUR RELATIONS WITH FOREIGN POWERS

Special dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1861.

Our government, it is quite understood, have decided on their course should any foreign power display any disposition to truckle to the rebel States. Any act of intervention which affords direct advantages to the insurgent States, and which tends to hamper or obstruct the action of our government, will lead to the most decisive mesures on the part of the administration. Frequent consultations are taking place on the best means of avenging any interference in this domestic brawl, by England or other powers, and a complete programme, it is rumored, will shortly be settled upon.

It appears that about a month ago our government gave notice to the Powers of Europe who took part in the Congress of Paris, in 1856, that they were willing to accept the code they adopted at that period, which declared privateering piracy. How, then will it be possible for England one of the Powers in question, to refuse to accept the unqualified offer of our government to adopt their own code? And how will it be possible for her after this, to treat the rebel States simply as belligerents, however pliant may be the opinions of the legal advisers of the Crown. Is England disposed to become the patron and partner of pirates?—for such her laws pronounce privateers to be.

This timely act of our government places England in a false and untenable position if she persists in regarding the privateers of the South merely as belligerents.

This movement in the British Parliament is considered by the administration merely as a party measure, meant chiefly to embarrass Lord Palmerston. They feel sure that the people of England are strangers to it.

It will be gratifying to the country to learn that our government has received the amplest assurances from Austria, that she will have nothing to do with the rebel States whatever; whilst Prussia has not hesitated to manifest, in plain terms, her unequivocal sympathy with our couutry.

It is certainly remarkable that the three most despotic European governments, those of Prussia, Austria and Russia, have hastened to express their sympathy with our internal troubles, and intimate their indisposition to give any direct or indirect aid or comfort to the Southern rebels, while the rulers of England and France, whose boast is a certain liberality of political sentiment and action are slow in assuming a position on the side of law and justice and humanity, against anarchy, usurpation and barbarism.

The government regards with absolute certainty the speedy termination of our domestic difficulties should the rebel States receive no aid or comfort from England, and they are quite resolved not to deliberate for a single moment should England manifest any such insane disposition, but to launch against her the thunderbolts of a war that would not cease till every power in Europe was involved. On this vital matter the President, the Secretary of State, and all the Cabinet entertain but one view, and are animated by the same sentiments. They feel they can rely to any extent on the courage and energy of the nation, which will sustain them at every sacrifice against England and all the world, when they see their dearest rights assailed and their best interests rudely trampled on.

It is fortunate for the country, at this momentous crisis, that there should be no division of counsels as to the best and safest policy both at home and abroad. It is equally fortunate that the President and Cabinet put so high an estimate on the sagacity and firmness of the Secretary of State, as well as upon his thorough knowledge of the condition and interest of Europe, that they are content at all times to defer to his views and support his suggestions. It cannot but fill with surprise all who may have followed the career of this able statesmen to see his usual caution and moderation suddenly converted by the force of events into boldness and decision. It is cosoling to think that whilst the portfolio of the State Department is in his hands there will be no blunders to regret, and certainly no timidity to deplore.

ASSASSINATION OF COL. ELLSWORTH.

May 24th.—Immediately on landing Colonel Ellsworth marched the Zouaves up into the centre of the town, no resistance to their progress whatever being offered.

Thus quiet possession was taken of that part of Alexandria in the name of the United States, by the portion of the troops immediately commanded by Col. Ellsworth.

Those commanded by Col. Wilcox, at about the same moment, as explained above, marched into the town by the extension of the Washington turnpike, the cavalry and artillery marching in two or three streets below.

Proceeding up town, Colonel Ellsworth saw a secession flag waving over the Marshall House, kept by James Jackson, a well-known secessionist. Instantly entering the house, with four or five of his men, Colonel Ellsworth proceeded to the house-top, tore down the flag, and trampled it under foot.

In descending the stairs the party were encountered by the keeper of the house, double-barrel gun in hand. He raised the gun to shoot the foremost Zouave, who knocked aside his aim, when Jackson instantly turned it upon Colonel Ellsworth, and firing discharged the load of one barrel into the heart of that gallant officer, who fell dead on the stairs. Jackson as quickly snapped the other barrel at a Zouave standing next to Colonel Ellsworth, when private Brownell, another of the Zouaves, accompanying Ellsworth to take down the flag, discharged the contents of his musket into Jackson's brain, bayoneting his body as he fell, pinning it to the steps. There it laid up to 9 A.M., under a guard of Zouaves, who will permit no one to remove it.

The news of the assassination of Col. E E. Ellsworth, reached New York at an early hour this morning, and created much excitement there though not at first believed generally.

The steamer James Guy has arrived at the Navy Yaard, bringing the body of Col. Ellsworth in charge of six Zouaves. The wildest grief is exhibited by the Zouaves, who fairly dotted upon Col Ellsworth. One of the escort, the man who shot Jackson, fairly bit his lip through to keep from crying audibly.

NEW YORK, May 26.

The procession which escorted the remains to the steamer Francis Skiddy, on which they left for Troy was large and impressive. The 11th, 25th 1st and 3d regiments—the two latter dismounted cavalry—formed the escort, while the firemen turned out in great numbers. The streets through which the procession passed was lined with people who by uncovered heads and other demonstrations of respect paid heartfelt tribute to the deceased. In the midst of the procession was the banner of the New York Fire Department shrouded in mourning. The flags all over the city were at half mast and many of them draped in black.

NEGROES CONTRABAND OF WAR.

FORTRESS MUNROE, Sat., 25. Three fugitive slaves, the property of Col. Mallory, commander of the rebel forces near Hampton, were brought in by our picket guard yesterday. They represented that they were about to be sent South and hence sought protection. Major Corry came with a flag of truce and claimed their rendition under the Fugitive Slave law, but was informed by Gen. Butler that under the peculiar circumstances he considered the fugitives contraband of war, and had set them to work inside the Fortress, and Col. Mallory was politely informed that as soon as he should visit the Fortress and take a solemn oath to obey the laws of the United States, his property would promptly be restored. Another party came in this morning with a flag of truce, but with no better success. On their return it is supposed they set fire to Hampton bridge, an immense volume of smoke being now visible in that direction.

WESTERN VIRGINIA.

MARIETTA, Ohio, May. 26.—We have the following election returns from Virginia:—Union majorities—Berkley county 700, Harrison 1000, Wood 1696, Morgan 400, Ritchie 378, London 1000, Jackson 400, Wirt 300, Pleasant 158, Doddridge 550, Barbour 350, Taylor 700, Marion 450, Wetsol 100, Mason 1700, Cabell 650, Kanawha 1200, Wayne 800, Preston 500.

The office of the Parkersburg (Va.) News, a secession paper, was completely demolished on Friday night by a crowd of Union men, who considered it their duty to stop its issue.

[By Telegraph to News Room.]

BOSTON May 28th.

Reports from Virginia state that Beauregard is preparing to march on Alexandria, where Federal troops are fortifying themselves. The Rebels are concentrating a large army in the vicinity of Richmond. Simultaneous attacks will be made on Norfolk, Richmond, Harper's Ferry and Pensacola, and a flotilla will be sent down the Mississippi River. Loyal citizens will be protected, but traitors will be hung, and their property confiscated.

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Steamship "Ætna" arrived of Cape Race on Thursday at 9. 30 P.M.

The British Government has issued a proclamation declaring its intention to maintain the strictest neutrality between the Government of the United States and certain States styling themselves the Confederate States of America. It warns British subjects that if they enter military service on either side, or join ships of war or transports, or attempt toget recruits, or fit out vessels for war purposes or transports, or break or endeavor to break any blockade lawfully or actually established, or to carry soldiers' dispatches, or any material contraband of war for either party, they will be liable to all the penalties, and consequences, and will do so at their peril, and in no wise obtain protection from Government.

The Jamacia Cotton Growing Company had determined to plant several thousand acres in that island forthwith, so that the crop can be in Manchester before the end of the year.

POLITICAL MEETING AT THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

THE Electors of the City and County of Saint John, WITHOUT DISTINCTION OF PARTY, are invited to attend a PUBLIC MEETING at the Hall of the Mechanics' Institute on the evening of THURSDAY the 29th inst., at 8 o'clock. The Candidates of the Liberal Party for the City and County, will address the Meeting.

may 29—u p BY ORDER.

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John.

GENTLEMEN,—The inhabitants of the County of Saint John being desirous of returning one member, (a resident among them,) to attend to the local affairs; and having been unanimously nominated at a large and highly respectable meeting of the Liberal Party, I shall offer myself as a Candidate to represent the City and County in the General Assembly of the Province. Should I be returned again, I trust, with the long experience I have had in the Legislature, I shall be better qualified to serve the interests of this City and County, as well as the Province at large.

I am, gentleman, your obedient servant,

may 28. JOHN JORDAN.

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John

GENTLEMAN,—The Liberal Party having nominated me as a Candidate for seat in the General Assembly of this Province, I place my services at the disposal of the Electors. If I am honoured by being returned, I will serve the constituency to the best of my ability.

I will give my support to such measures as I believe will be advantageous to this City and County and conductive to the best interests of this Country.

Your obedient servant,

may 20 CHARLES N. SKINNER.

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John.

GENTLEMEN—Having been nominated at a large and influential meeting of the Liberal Party as a candidate for the representation of the City and County of Saint John in General Assembly, I have allowed myself to be put in nomination.

If you return me Gentlemen, I pledge myself to devote whatever ability I may possess to the advancement of the interests of the City and County of St. John, and the Province generally.

As regards my political principles, I shall always be found on the side of reform and Progress, and advocate only such measures as I consider are calculated for the general good may 20 W. A. ROBERTSON.

Yours, Respectfully,

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John.

GENTLEMEN—On the 5th June you will be again called upon to exercise your franchise in the selection of four members to represent you in General Assembly.

I trust that I have not falsified the promises made on my behalf by those friends who brought me forward in 1857.

The unsolicited honor I have received by your Election of me during my absence has ever been an incentive to justify the confidence so handsomely placed in me by you, and my only fear and doubt have been that I have not fulfilled your expectations.

It may not be advantageous in a pecuniary sense that a man should leave his private business, but it cannot but be esteemed an honor as well as a gratification that he should possess the regard and the confidence of his fellow Citizens sufficient to induce them to return him as their Representative.

I shall again be a Candidate, and if elected I shall endeavor to do as heretofore; to represent the interests of all without favor or affection to any—and to lend my aid in originating or perfecting any measures for the good of the Country, that may be brought forward; neither hesitating to su port or fearing to oppose what after due consideration I may deem to be right and best, or otherwise.

Should I again honor me with your confidence, I trust I shall be able to meet you at the close of the next term and render you a good and satisfactory account of my Stewardship.

I remain your most obedient,

JOHN W. CUDLIP.

St. John N, B. may 17 1861.

City papers copy

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John.

GENTLEMEN,—Having been requested by a large number of my fellow citizens to allow myself to be put in nomination at the coming election as one of the Candidates to be chosen by you to represent the City and County of Saint John, in the General Assembly, I beg respectfully to inform you that I have consented to become a candidate.

I now solicit your votes; and if I should be honored by your election, I will endeavor to discharge my duty honestly and fairly.

I belong to the class that have had to work their way in the world, and my interests are identified with men of industry, and men of progress. It will be my policy to support such measures as will best promote the interests of mechanical and industrial pursuits. On those pursuits depend the prosperity of this City, and of the whole Province. New markets are now opening for our manufactures, and the convulsions of other countries may bring capital to our shores. Proper legislation and sound policy will be required to develope the great natural resources of this Province. So far as it may be in my power, the Electors of the City and County of St. John may depend upon my exertions and my abilities being devoted to their welfare, should they elect me to be one of their Representatives.

I am, Gentleman, your obedient servant,

may 20 A. MAGEE

To the Electors of the City and County of St. John.

GENTLEMEN,—A large number of my fellow citizens having requested me to become one of the Candidates for your suffrages in the election of members to represent you in General Assembly, which will take place on the 5th of June next, I have with some hesitation, consented. The varied and important interests, the mercantile and financial questions, the commercial policy of our country, cover so broad a field, that I doubt my own capacity to do what is best, but if you who have known me in the different pursuits of business during the last thirty years, think that I can promote the advancement of this Province by representing you in the Legislature, I am willing to serve. Everything that I possess is at stake in this Province. With the prosperity and welfare of those around me, my feelings are identified. I shall be prepared to give my support to all measures which will develope the resources of the Province, and to all acts of a Liberal and Enlightened policy.

I have respectfully to ask your votes.

Your obedient servant,

may 2 — D. J. McLAUGHLIN.

To the Electors of the County of Kent

GENTLEMEN—I am again induced to become a Candidate for the representation of your County, by the solicitations of many friends; and I now respectfully solicit a vote which are favorable to my return as one of their Representatives, to assist me at the approaching Electon.

In politics, as in every other matter my motto has always been, and I trust always will be, Fair Play, Equal Rights and Equal Privileges to all British subjects. The Government that adheres to these and acts honestly with the public funds, will have my support—and no other.

Yours respectfully, WM. S. CAIE.

Kouchibouguac, County Kent, April 26, 1861.

TO THE ELECTORS AND FREEHOLDERS OF KING'S COUNTY.

GENTLEMEN:—The day is at hand when you will be called upon to choose three of your most able and discreet men, and Loyal Subjects, to serve you in General Assembly for the COUNTY OF KING'S. I intend to offer myself for your suffrages. Should I have the honor to have a majority of your votes, I will try to serve you to the best of my ability.

Gentlemen:—I am a Liberal, but not as some of the present ones now in the Government. I do also pledge myself to go for the wants of the people, independent of class or creed; also for the removal of the Public Building to a more convenient place. Electors - I will on the day of nomination state to you my political principles.

Gentlemen,

I am your most obedient, humble servant,

SAMUEL FREEZE.
