Morgan and Canada.

A subscriber in California sends us a San Francisco Daily Post containing the following which he wants to appear in the WEEKLY MONITOR:—

"Senator Morgan, of Alabama, a leading member of the Senate committee on Foreign Relations, expresses the sentiments of most Americans when he says that Canada has always been a bad neighbor and that the Canadians have made themselves offensive at every opportunity, from the seal fisheries in Alaska to the fisheries on the Atlantic coast. They have disregarded all rights, says Senator Morgan, and done all they could to injure and annoy our people. We have extended every sort of proper courtesy to Canada, and her conduct in return for our friendly treatment is unbearable.

It is strange that Canada cannot see what stores of wrath she is laying up for herself. She actually seems to think that the United States is afraid of her and dare not show proper resentment at her outrageous conduct, because she can run at a moment's notice and hide her face in the lap of Britannia.

If she continues in her present unjust and exasperating course she will find some fine day that the United States will march quietly across the borders, haul down the British flag, hoist the Stars and Stripes, and then ask England what she is going to do about it. We know and so would Canada if she had any sense, that England would not lift a finger in her defence, and that she exists in her present condition only by sufferance of the United States. We do not want to conquer Canada, for we know that in time she will come to us of her own accord, but unless she behaves herself the question of annexation will be settled speedily and forcibly, and England will not interfere."

The Road Question in Other Countries.

At a convention to consider the question of improved roads, held at Des Moines, Iowa, recently, one of the speakers claimed that the isolated character of the farmer's life explained why it is that, as statistics prove, the farming class contributes more than its share to those who people the insane asylums. Roads that are rendered impassible by bad weather during a large portion of the year, and that, too, when the farmer has the most leisure, contribute largely to this isolation and consequently to the condition mentioned. Whether or not the assumption of the speaker is correct, it is certain that travelling over some of the roads in this country is enough to make any man crazy, be he resident of town or country.

In France where the Government has built and maintain a system of national roads, the annual saving to the farmer in wear and tear of vehicles, and the extraordinary loads which he is enabled to take to market with ease, recoups him over and over again for his share of this taxation. These roads are hard, level, well drained and free from ruts, are constructed of broken stone heavily rolled into permanent foundation. The expense of keeping such roads in the best of repair is very trifling, while the pleasure of travelling is enormously increased. Until we replace the antiquated statute labor plan with some such general system we will never have decent roads.

Granville Sunday-school Picnic.

On Saturday last the Upper Granville Sunday-school held their annual picnic on the grounds of Mr. Owen Bent. The day was all that could be desired for the occasion —warm and beautiful. An invitation had been extended to the Wadeville Sunday-school, and about 2 o'clock the picknickers, parents, teachers, and scholars began to arrive until nearly two hundred were on the grounds prepared to enjoy themselves; and a very enjoyable afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation, swinging, croquet or football, as fancy directed each. It was good to see them at football, the middle-aged playing with as much jest and heartiness as the boys, and showing that they were still equal to them in activity and endurance.

About 4 o'clock all repaired to the Hall, over the way, where the thoughtful mothers had spread a bountiful repast, to which ample justice was done. Supper over, the organ, under the touch of skillful fingers, gave forth sweet strains, and happy voices rung out in the dear old familiar songs of bygone days. Then when evening shadows began to darken our peaceful valley, quietly all wended their way homewards, thoroughly tired but well satisfied with their holiday, and inwardly grateful to the all-provident Father who careth for all.

Resolution of Condolence.

At the regular meeting of Rothsay Lodge, No. 41, A. F. and A. M., held at Masonic Hall, Bridgetown, Sept. 8th, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, It hath pleased our Supreme Grand Master to remove from amongst us Bro. Ansley Elliott, one dearly beloved, and in the midst of a useful and active career;

And whereas, Our deceased brother was actively identified with every movement that had for its object the advancement and well being of our County,

Therefore resolved, That this Lodge take this occasion to express its high appreciation of his character as a man and a Mason;

And further resolved, That the sympathy of this Lodge be extended to the widow, mother and children of the deceased in their sad bereavement;

And further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of our deceased brother, and to the WEEKLY MONITOR for publication.

The King's Daughters.

A meeting was held on Friday evening last for the purpose of organizing a circle of the "King's Daughters" in connection with St. James' Church. The title chosen was the "St. James Circle," the text and motto, both taken from the epistle of St. James, being as follows: Motto, "Faith without works is dead." Text, "Be ye doers of the Word and not hearers only deceiving your own selves." The special line of work is to exercise "patience, kindness, and unselfishness in the home life." In addition to which the members will do any work for the church that they can. The meetings are to be held at the residences of the members in rotation on alternate Friday evenings. The admission fee is fifty cents, which includes the card of membership and the badge. The annual dues will be twenty cents. Applications for membership may be addressed to the president, Miss Ruggles, Queen street, or the secretary, Miss Greatorex.

Canada's Crop.

The reports recieved from all parts of the Dominion by grain merchants of Toronto gives promise of a good harvest in every part of Canada. In some Provinces the yield is not as large as anticipated, while in others it is beyond expectation, and on the whole crops will be as large in quantity and of more satisfactory quality than those of last year. In Quebec the yield will be unprecedentedly large, and in the Maritime Provinces and Ontario it will be up to the average. In Manitoba and the Northwest Territory the harvest will be much better in quality that last year though the yield will not be so great. On the whole the harvest will be abundant.

Wedding Chimes.

A pleasant event took place last Wednesday morning at the residence of Busby Gates, Spa Springs, when his daughter, Miss Edith F. was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar Drew, of Boston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Locke, Baptist minister of that district. The bride was tastefully attired in a dress of grey crepon, trimmed with white lace, which, after the ceremony, was exchanged for a neat travelling suit of navy blue. After breakfast was partaken of, the happy couple, accompanied by numerous friends, were driven to the station, where they took the W. & A. R'y express for Digby, from whence they shall go, via St. John, to their uture home in Boston.

Funeral of the late Harry Young.

Happening to be in Carleton last week at the funeral of the victim of the late C. P. R. accident, Mr. Harry Young, brother of the Rev. F. M. Young of Bridgetown, I could not but feel impressed by the universal sorrow that was manifest by the community. At his funeral, the Baptist Church, of which he was a worthy member, was crowded to the street doors. The Rev. W. J. Stewart, of St. John, in a brief address, told of the early life of the deceased, and of his upright walk since he had known him. The Rev. A. J. Kempton, his pastor, addressed words of comfort to the mourning relatives, the mourning church who had lost so valuable a member, to the choir who sorrowed over their lost one, and to the Sunday-school children who were thus so sadly stricken of their beloved superintendent. In the procession these children followed the mourning relatives, each carrying a bouquet of flowers. Then followed the Temple of Honor and Temperance, of which order he was a most valuable pillar; then followed one of the largest processions ever seen in Carleton. At the close of the burial service the grave was strewn with flowers. His C. P. R. fellow-employees presented a beautiful floral "car-wheel;" the choir a floral harp with a broken string; the Temple of Honor a suitable design, and each member of the S. S. then laid down their offerings. The whole was very impressive and will not soon be forgotten by those who were eye-witnesses.

It is rarely that a man in any community is more highly esteemed or more thoroughly wins the affections of his fellows; and we ask why is it? It was simply due to his Godly life. Children who always run to meet him never failed to get a pleasant greeting, and among his fellow-citizens he was always known as a thoroughly "good fellow" and a consistent christain gentleman.

A name that will long be cherished in this community as an emblem of a good and true life, is that of Harry Young.

W. L. A.

Acadia Steamship Company Limited.

At the annual general meeting of the shareholders held at Annapolis last week, the following named gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing year: Thomas R. Harris, Thomas S. Whitman, James P. Roop, C. D. Pickels, B. R. Hardwick, Shippy Spurr, W. M. Forsyth, A. G. Potter, S. W. W. Pickup, and Edwin Gates. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors the following officers were appointed: James P. Roop, president; Thos. S. Whitman, vice president and manager; Fred Leavitt, secretary; and Albert D. Mills, auditor.

A Needed Improvement.

We respectfully call the attention of our Street Commissioner to the unsafe condition of the plank crossing between the Presbyterian church and bridge, which in the darkness might have resulted in some serious accident to the many pedestrians of Sunday evening, had not some ladies noticing it placed the planks in a more secure position, and also to the accumulation of dirt and refuse in the bridge. These omissions, though trifling in themselves, reflect against the order and cleanliness with which our town is credited, and we hope to see them removed at once.

Y. M. C. A. Tent at Camp Aldershot.

The Y. M. C. A. tent at Aldershot presents unusual attractions with its fine assortment of reading matter, writing material, games, etc. E. W. Gorton, managing secretary, is in charge, assisted by Geo. H. Close, physicial director of the Halifax Y. M. C. A. The tent is occupied by the men and its privileges are greatly appreciated. At the first meeting on Thursday evening four men expressed a desire to be Christians and many spoke briefly.

Supreme Court Judgment.

In the cause of Mason vs. Sprowl, tried at the last June term of the Supreme Court here, His Lordship Chief Justice Macdonald has given judgment in favor of the defendant, with costs. This was an action brought to recover damages caused by a fire alleged to have been set by the defendant at Springfield. Ruggles and Ritchie for pltff. Daniels and Roscoe for defdt.

—It may not be amiss at the present time when the public mind is so aroused with the fears of cholera, typhoid, etc., to lay before the people a recipe for making one of the best, if not the very best disinfectant known to science, and which can be made by anyone and at a cost so trifling (less than ten cents) that certainly places it within the reach of all. Moreover this disinfectant is so very unlike many disinfectants, it leaves no offensive odor after its use:—½oz. nitrate of lead, ½oz. rock salt (common salt will do). Dissolve the nitrate of lead with two gallons of rain water, dissolve the salt in a quart of rain water and mix both together—the disinfectant is then ready for use. Pour half a gallon down sink and closets, sprinkle a quart round the corners of cellars and a little, say a teacupful, round bedrooms and under beds, stables and outhouses according to size. A sponge well saturated and hung up in a room will disinfect it in a few minutes.

—We would call the attention of our readers and the lovers of good music to the treat in store for them on Friday evening next at the Court House. A choice selection of solos, duetts and instrumental music will be given by such well-known and popular singers as Mrs. H. Ruggles, Mrs. Campbell, of Ottawa, and others possessing rare musical taste. We are also informed that Mr. Horace Bishop, leader of our band, will render one or more solos on the cornet, and that his services will be rewarded in the near future by those having charge of the present entertainment, with the assistance of members of other denominations, by an evening's pastime on a large scale, the proceeds from which will be solely devoted to the benefit of the Bridgetown Brass Band. We may mention in conclusion, that J. G. H. Parker, Esq., and others, will add to the pleasing features of the programme by giving readings, recitations, etc.

—Dr. A. H. MacKay, Superintendent of Education, was in town on Monday. He met a number of the representatives of the Bridgetown and Paradise school sections, in order to get the basis of the proposed section between these two places, and ascertain if it is to be established upon equally balanced educational principles. The results of his deliberations will be reported to the Council of Public Instruction for final decision. The meeting was marked by the absence of anything of a frictional character, and all appeared willing to rest the case in the hands of the superintendent for consideration. Dr. MacKay took advantage of the leisure moments at his disposal and visited the different departments of the Bridgetown schools.

—The Halifax board of health has voted that no ship from any foreign port including Great Britain and Ireland, shall land any persons or passengers or freight at Halifax until after receiving permission from the port physician. This prohibition applies to the steamers Halifax, Olivette, Britannia, etc., plying between Halifax and Boston. But it will not subject any ship to inconvenience unless there is sickness or suspicious of sickness aboard, as the vessel will be boarded as she comes up the harbor, and if the officers report the health of passengers and crew all right she will be passed with but little detention.

—The Messrs. Kemp, the oyster experts, sent out from England to examine the oyster beds of the maritime provinces, have returned from P. E. Island, and are now in Ottawa. They report the beds here very prolific, and wonder that they have existed so long under the destructive methods of fishing and the lack of protection. The Messrs. Kemp have been engaged all their lives in oyster culture at the mouth of the Thames, and are thoroughly conversant with their work. Their recommendations will no doubt receive due attention from the department at Ottawa.

—The United States postal authorities have ordered the fumigation of all mails coming from Canada to the United States. As there is no cholera in Canada, and not even an infected ship in any of her ports, the necessity for this does not appear on the surface. It looks as if President Harrison's government was mixing some politics with its precautions.

At Colchester, a part of this field, two candidates have been received for baptism."

—Great excitement was caused in town on Thursday afternoon last by a horse running at full speed through our streets without any bridle on and hitched to a top buggy in which was seated a woman. As the numbers in pursuit increased, so did the speed of the horse, and when the corner at the head of Queen street was reached the animal was on the full gallop. Steering clear of all teams, he flew down Rectory street, then across by the school-house and was proceeding up Washington avenue, when Mr. Harry Miller, of Clarence, sprang and succeeded in getting such a firm hold as to somewhat retard progress. Other parties lent assistance, and after quite an effort brought the runaway to a standstill. The occupant of the buggy was Mrs. William Tupper, of Tupperville, and her escape from some very serious injury is looked upon, by those who witnessed the runaway, as almost a miracle.

SHAFNER & NEILY

In our advertisement of a few weeks ago, we explained to the public the reason we were in a position to sell
Flour, Oat Meal, Corn Meal AND FEED,
with any House in the Maritime Provinces; and we believe our explanation has proved satisfactory, when we say, after taking into consideration the population of our district, we have disposed of 3,000 BBLS. OF FLOUR AND CORN MEAL
since our schr. "Genius" commenced to run between this port and Boston, which was the 5th of April, 1892.
We now propose to give quotations, each week, of the many brands of Flour and Meal we are handling. Our host of patrons know the brands, and we feel assured that we are putting "the staff of life" within the reach of all.
Below we give our quotations for the coming week, and we will give a discount on these figures in 5 or 10 bbl. lots:

Acadian,	$4.90	White Dove,	$4.60
Golden Eagle,	4.90	St. John Cornmeal,
Crown Gold,	4.90	Kiln Dried,	3.15
Buda,	4.90	Roe Bud, American
Kentucky,	4.80	Kiln Dried Cornmeal,	3.30
Suffolk,	4.65	Hornet, best brand of
Vulcan,	4.65	Manitoba Flour,	6.00

TEA. TEA. TEA.
Another consignment of that English Black Tea, that is giving such universal satisfaction. We think we can safely say that it is one of the best Teas ever imported into this town. Those that are not using it should try it and be convinced.
