over to keep the peace. The coincidence of name and circumstance brought vividly to mind the inimitable Veller senior rendered immortal by the pen of Dickens.

Depositions were also taken to have Gifford bound over.

ILLness of the Hon. J. A. Macdonald.—The Montreal 'Gazette,' of Wednesday, says: 'We regret very much to hear of the sudden illness of Attorney General McDonald, which prevented him from addressing the party assembled at the Ottawa dejeuner. The work he has gone through since he started for the Charlottetown Conference would have severely taxed the endurance of a stronger man.' A later telegram, received at half-past eleven last night, says: 'Attorney-General Macdonald is still indisposed, but hopes to be able to go on with the delegates. In consequence of his illness, however, Mr. Galt has arranged to go to Toronto with special train to-morrow. There the Canadian Ministers take leave of their guests, the delegates from the other Provinces.'

Birth.

At Exeter, C. W., on the 30th October last, the wife of James Gordon, Esq., of a son.
