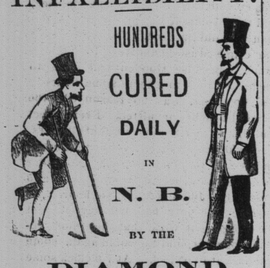
INFALLIBILITY.



DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE !

Effectually cured 150 of our St. John citizens from that terrible malady, RHEUMATISM !

This statement is substantially a FACT based upon evidence in the possession of the agent, in the shape of numerous testimonials from past sufferers, in all the walks of life, particularly from some of our most respectable citizens and trustworthy families.

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE !!

In its history, this invaluable Medicine occupies the most honorable position possible for any remedy to attain. A few years since it was known only to the friends and neighbors and patients of the proprietors, and always sought for by them wh never troubled with Rheumatism, and in this way came to the notice of physicians generally, and through their favorable expression, and its acknowledged value as a Rheumatic Remedy, the demand for it became so frequent and urgent as to oblige the proprietors to increase their facilities for its manufacture. Its reputation rapidly extended, and soon orders, letters of enquiry, letters of thanks, and certificates of praise were daily received from all sections of the United States and Canada; and in this way on a basis of its merits alone—unaided by "tricks of the trade" or special efforts—it has risen to its present enviable position. Wherever introduced it has received the most flattering preference in the treatment of all rheumatic complaints. In this we are really greatful and happy, not alone because our medicine finds ready sale, and is consequently profitable to us, do we say this, but because we open a new field in medical science, and cure at once what the medical practitioners have for ages found so difficult even to relieve. We fill a place heretofore unoccupied. We relieve the suffering and Minister to God's poor; we restore the laboring man to the use of his injured limbs, and save him scores of times its cost in doctor's bills; we carry contentment and gladness into the homes of the afflicted, and consequently are remembered by millions of grateful souls.

The proprietor of this medicine has walked the aisles of the hospitals in London, Eng., for the past twenty years, making Rheumatism a specialty, and the prescription from which this remedy is compounded is all he ever used in the treatment of this disease.

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

THE MUSIC OF VILLAGE BELLS.

BY J. G. HOLLAN.

Full sweetly sped the morning hours;
Then, wide upon the country round,
A tumult of melodious powers
Burst forth from all the village towers.

With blow on blow, and tone on tone,
And echoes answering everywhere—
Like bugles from the mountains blown—
Each sought to whelm the burdened air,
And make the silence all its own.

In broad, sonorous, silver swells
The air was billowed like the sea;
And listening ears were listening shells
That caught the Sabbath minstrelsy,
And sang it with the singing bells.

The billows heaved, the billows broke,
The first wild burst went down amain;
The music fell to slower stroke,
And in a rhythmic, bold refrain
The great bells to each other spoke.

Oh bravely bronze gave forth his word,
And sharply silver made reply,
And every tower and turret stirred
With quivering breath and converse high,
Or paused with waiting ear, and heard.

And long they talked, as friend to friend;
Then faltered to their closing toll,
Whose long, monotonous repetend,
From every music-burdened bowl
Poured the last drop, and brought the end!

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

"Darwin's Darlings" is the suggestive name of a newly organized minstrel troupe at the West.

A Washington newspaper claims to have made an impression on a gas company. Don't believe it.

The keeper of a restaurant in New York announced "paroxysmal stews" as a specialty on his bill of fare.

A Memphis policeman thought that his orders included all cases of drankenness, and, therefore, arrested the Mayor and was discharged.

In consequence of the long drouth, Mr. Tullivant, a wretched Illinois farmer, will have only 250,000 bushels of corn this year.

Cincinnati is considerably agitated because her Aldermen charge the city $12 per plate for their dinners. Cincinnati is noted for its hogs.

If you wake up in the night in an Italian hotel and shoot a burglar, the chances are that you can't see the landlord next morning and that his wife is a widow.

Lawyers out to be long lived. It is said that the number of volumes of American reports now exceeds 2,000, and that they are increasing at the rate of 100 per year.

Heaven, according to the idea of a Vermont clergyman, is 125,000,000 miles from the earth, and Blobbs stopped being good at eight o'clock this morning. He says it's too far off.

A Michigan farmer complains that he is not receiving half the campaign speeches this year necessary to light his fires, and he has had to make a shaving contract with a cooper shop.

An attempt was to have been made last week to get up another woman's crusade in Cleveland, but three or four of the leaders were disappointed about their Fall bonnets, and the affair didn't come off.

When a Nevada miner leaps into a saloon, with a revolver in each hand and a bowie-knife under his arm, and asks, "Who runs this sole-destroying shebang?" echo is left to answer, while the crowd fall out of the back door.

A Brooklyn woman sues her husband for divorce, one of his trifling offences being the entering of the room in which she was sleeping with a lighted candle in his hand, which he held in a position so that a drop of melted tallow fell into her eye!

"A New York State woman owns five acres of peppermint meadow." An enviable woman, certainly. She has but to marry a man with a barrel of whiskey and a hogshead of sugar to have a mint julep fifteen or twenty times a day for the rest of her life.

Mention is made of a wedding in Indiana, on a scale which one hardly expects to encounter outside of the pages of Rabelais. The happy couple together tipped 508 pounds, while 14 gallons of wine and 17 kegs of lager did gladly furnish forth the marriage table.

A gentleman writes to the New York Times that he has been hunting for a wife for 15 years, but has never found a well educated girl, occupying a good position in society, who was willing to accept himself and his $1800 a year. He claims to be well-bred, good-looking and accomplished. Tough luck!

In Kansas, recently, a horse thief was arrested about sunrise, had his preliminary examination before breakfast, was bound over, and by 2 o'clock p. m. had been tried, found guilty, and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years. It is a pity that St. John incendiaries cannot be so summarily dealt with.

A certain family at a New York hotel pay a weekly board bill of $500. They have seven rooms and a private table. Six years ago the wife of the head of this wealthy family kept a boarding house on Fourth street. The husband struck something (not oil), and the interesting mortals jumped from almost poverty to affluence. How they must enjoy life at a first class hotel!

The telegraph is being introduced into Turner's Falls, Mass. The other day hardly five minutes had elapsed after the erection of one of the posts before some enterprising genius posted a bill thereon, and soon two street arabs were attracted to the spot, when the following dialogue ensued: "I say, Muckey, what an invintion the telegraph is." "Yis, an' here's a dispatch broke out on the post."

GENERAL.

Bad debts—owing grudges.

A fact is worth a thousand statements.

Fruitful in axe-idents—A chopping sea.

Moonlight mechanics is the latest for burglars.

The latest Irish fashion is a home-rule hat. It has no crown.

A fall pippin, a coal stove and a newspaper are not bad things to sit up with.

Babylon and Ninevah are lighted with American petroleum.

Clergymen of the Church of England avoid death by purchasing a living.

Sweet are the lessons of adversity, but they are apt to sour a man in learning them.

"Give us American claret," says an exchange. Get your nose punched and you will have it.

Paris is in distress. The cafes chantants are closed and the lights of the Jardin Mabille are out.

Women have more heart than men, for few men have the heart to pay thirty or forty dollars for a winter hat.

Figaro says that the French don't know what they want, and that they will never be satisfied till they get it!

What is the use of talking of this world's brightness and sunshine to a man that has tight boots?

The English folks have grown tired of lending Joaquin Miller money, and he has got to go home and go to work.

He who has got nothing to do in this world but amuse himself, has got the hardest job on hand we know of.

They have now invented shot guns which can be carried in the pocket, and a fellow can slide out and go hunting Sunday and no one know it.

A lady in a menagerie being asked why she so closely scanned the elephant with her opera glass, replied that she was "looking for the keyhole of his trunk."

A paper has this advertisement: "Two sisters want washing." We fear that millions of brothers are in the same predicament.

"Long-winded" isn't a very elegant expression to use in relation to deliverers of attenuated orations. Say that they are gifted with great continuity of breath, and you get at something elegant as well as expressive.

Parisian ladies are so over-burdened with beads and bugles on their costumes now that they go tinkling and jingling through the streets like the celebrated old lady who had rings on her fingers and bells on her toes.

An Alsatian woman goes to confess: "Father, I have committed a great sin." "Well?" "I dare not say it, it is too grievous.' Come, come, conrage." "I have married a Prussian." "Keep him, my daughter. That's your penance."

"Is that your offspring, madam?" asked the Fredericton Police Magistrate of a woman who had hold of a snub-nosed boy's hand. "No, sir," she replied, "this is my eldest boy."

Wells, Fargo & Co. had six million dollars worth of gold, silver and coin passed through their hands during the last quarter. We shouldn't have let it pass through ours.

Patti is to sing in Paris for the benefit of the Alsace-Lorraine fund. The performance is under the patronage of Mme. MacMahon, and the tickets are selling at only $8 each.

Washington Irving once alluded to a man of superior pomposity "as a great man, and, in his own estimation, a man of great weight. When he goes to the West he thinks the East tips up."

A young blood at Barnes' hotel was requested to pass a dish near him. "Do you mistake me for a waiter?" said the exquisite. "No, sir; I mistook you for a gentleman," was the prompt reply.

Is there any quiet spot on earth? They are having church troubles in British Columbia now, and one of the deans has a latch key to the cathedral to prevent the bishop from excluding him.

The property of a French actress was sold recently in Paris to pay her debts. The property comprised twelve pillow cases, a lot of cambric chemises, the poems of Alfred de Musset and the fables of La Fontaine. That was all.

Marry for love, young men, but remember that it's as easy to love a girl whose pa has a hundred thousand in bank as one whose old man sits up behind a pair of mules and yells: "Whoa! you Pete, or I'll take your ear off!"

An exhange has an acquaintance who remarks that he has often heard the proverb, "A friend in need is a friend indeed," but he says he can't see where the laugh comes in. He has a friend in need who is always borrowing money of him.

"Captain, Captain," said Mrs. Impatience to the commander of an Anchor liner, as the vessel neared St. John, "I'm in an awful hurry to get on shore. I'm sure there's a lot of people on the wharf to welcome me; please put on more steam, go riggle the rudder up and down or—or—do something before I go crazy!"

Victor Hugo has entertained Emilio Castelar at a banquet. What a mass of rhetorical fireworks must have been let off! What swelling phrases! What magnificent periods! The other guests at the great feast of language must have carried away scraps enough to last them a twelvemonth.

Lawyer—"How do you identify this handkerchief?" Witness—"By its general appearance, and the fact that I have others like it." Counsel (cutely)—"That's no proof, for I have got one just like it in my pocket." Witness (innocently)—"I don't doubt that, as I had more than one of the same sort stolen."

The East Church in Aberdeen, Scotland, which was destroyed by fire on the 9th inst., was one of the finest granite buildings in the world. Its old wooden steeple had been one of the landmarks of the city for centuries, and in the peal of bells lost was one the tone of which has been familiar to people of the vicinity since the fourteenth century.

A distinguished clergyman, Dr. Hawes, used to say that his style of preaching was moulded by the criticisms of Dr. Emmons on a single sermon. Dr. Hawes read a paper to his tutor exuberant with rhetoric. "Joel," said the Sage, "I kept school once. When I punished the boys I always stripped the leaves off the rod"—drawing an imaginary rod through his fingers.

A Magic Fan.

A Fredericton maiden has invented a new method of dismissing tiresome beaux. When they call in the evening and remain until ten o'clock, she rises up quickly, and walking over to the clock, which is ticking on the mantel, winds it up, exclaiming (unconsciously, of course,) "Dear me, how late it is, and the nights are so short!" If they don't take this hint, she suddenly becomes very warm, and fans herself violently. Her fan is a model in every respect. It has the words, "Young man, does your mother know you're out?" painted on one side in small letters, while the other side is blank. She adroitly turns the side with the inscription towards the young man, who, glancing at it, suddenly remembers that he must be home by half-past 10 o'clock certain. She, of course, politely inquires why this haste, and he, murmuring an excuse, bids her good-night, and flies from her presence forever. Her real lover is never permitted to see that side of the fan.

SULPHINE.

SULPHINE is the most important discovery in medicine that has been made for many years. It is a clear and colorless liquid, possessing very remarkable therapeutical properties.
SULPHINE strikes at the root of numerous diseases, by destroying the germs which enter the system along with the food we eat, the beverages we drink, and the air we breathe.
SULPAINE purifies the blood from these sources of disease, by destroying the germs, or animated cells, which are carried by the circulation to every part of the system; and which propagate with amazing, rapidity; it renders all the secretions healthy.
SULPHINE also stops fermentation and prevents putrefaction: it is a powerful disinfectant, and arrests the progress of all epidemics and contagious disorders. It is antagonist to cholera, typhus, measles, scarlet fever, small-pox and all Zymotic diseases.
SULPHINE, by regulating the fermentation of the food in the digestive organs, is an immediate cure for flatulence and indigestion. It is a specific for chronic dyspepsia, and strikes at the root of all those evils which follow in its train—headache, heartburn, nausea, constipation, debility, etc. By this action it allows time for the food to become properly dissolved by the gastric juice.
A fresh supply of this invaluable English Medicine just received and for sale by
