The Political Tale.

From the Globe.

Sir John, Sir George and Sir Francis
Together one day did combine,
And agreed that they'd do some blackmailing,
On the head of the famed Allan Line.

Sir Hugh Allan wanted a charter,
And sought for the Government's aid
John A. said to George and Sir Francis,
"By this we will butter our bread.

"We need not be spoony about it—
We've got a soft thing on Sir Hugh;
Besides, we will want lots of money
To pull the elections all through.

"We've gone so far now in corruption,
Our consciences need have no qualms;
Let's go to the telegraph office,
And send Hugh some new telegrams,"

"Agreed," said Sir George and Sir Francis,
Then John said "Let's all take a horn,
And then we'll get well saturated
Sir Hugh will acknowledge the corn."'

They toss'd off some full flowing bumpers,
Then straight to the office they went,
And this is the substance of some of
The telegrams which the three sent:

Sir George telegraphed Mr Abbott
To do what we talked of before,
"Please send me twice ten thousand dollars—
Sir John A. wants ten thousand more."

As soon as Cartier sent this message,
He gave a sly wink of his eye,
And turn'd to Sir John A. Macdonald,
And said: "John, how is that for high!"

Sir Francis had "great expectations;"
Says he, "this thing cannot be done
Unless I get full fifty thousand,
And two thousand a year for my son."

"Send me ANOTHER TEN THOUSAND,"
(Was the telegram sent by John A.,)
"It will be the last time of calling—
Don't fail me, but answer to-day."

"You can draw on me for ten thousand."
Was J. J. C. Abbott's reply;
And this is the way that these gentry
For years past have gained a supply!

No wonder they won the election;
No wonder they have ruled the roast;
But this with their others defections
Will cause them to give up the ghost.

The country of late tired their doings,
And Huntington's praises we'll sing,
For bringing those miscreants to ruin
And breaking their Tammany ring.

ODDS AND ENDS.

"Weight for the waggon," sang the fat lady.

Spots on the sun—Freckles on your boy's face.

When Shakespeare's mother wished him to confess a theft, what distinguished character did she hold up before him? —William Tell.

The old gentleman who put his postal card in a stamped envelope is matched by a Mitchell man who has his money orders sent by registered letter.

Which is the plainest, you, I, or so-and-so? asked a young lady. "Well I don't know," replied her friend. "Anyhow, you are the querist."

An Indiana lawyer lately defended a man for keeping his saloon open after ten o'clock at night. He made the plea that it was ten o'clock until it was eleven, and won his case.

New London, Conn., has now the meanest man. He keeps a beer saloon. He rewarded a man who returned his lost pocket-book, containing 200 dollars by offering to "toss him for a drink."

The Boston Transcript says that persons who send poetry to the newspapers should always retain copies. The New York Times suggested that they should retain the originals.

A minister out west advertises, in the hope of making young people come forward, that during the warm weather he will marry then for "a glass of whisky, a dozen eggs, the first kiss of the bride, and a quarter of a pig!"

A king's fool who was condemned to die was allowed to choose the form of death she preferred. She remarked that if she must die she preferred to be smothered—with kisses.

The following hit at the water-cure was made by Charles Lamb, and none but himself could have made so quaint a conceit. "It is," said he, "another new nor wonderful, for it is as old as the deluge, which, in my opinion, killed more than it cured."

The celebrated artist who painted the rooster that crowed so naturally that the sun rose three hours before its time, has recently finished a picture of the moon that is painted with such wonderful fidelity to nature that it cannot be seen in the daytime.

A tender swain reproached his fair one with letting a rival kiss her hand, a fact that she indignantly denied. "But I saw it." "Nay, then," cried the offended fair, "I am now convinced you do not love me, since you believe your eyes in preference to my word."

A wag inspecting a farmer's instalment of pork, recently, picked up a ten pound stone and deposited it in one of the porkers, and then loudly berated the farmer for trying to cheat in weight. The farmer looking at the stone then at the crowd, felt the thrust, and growled to himself: "Hang me, but I thought I put it in the small hog."

"REASON IN WOMAN."—Young Wife—"George dear, I've had a talk with the servants this morning, and I've agreed to raise their wages. They said everything was so dear now—meat was so high, and coals had risen to such a price, and everything—I thought this was reasonable, because I've so often heard you complain of the same thing."

Houghton's "Monographs" has this new story of Sidney Smith: He was good-natured and tolerant; but when Lord Melbourne, whom he had gone to see upon some business, interlarded his conversation with much cursing and swearing, he quietly remarked, "Let us assume that everybody and everything are damned, and proceed with the subject."

Gustavus Adolphus knew how to put down duelling. Two officers asked for his permission to fight a duel. Leave was granted, and the King came as a spectator. With him the provost marshal. "Now, gentlemen," said Gustavus to the combatants, "fight till one of you is killed,—the provost marshal will hang the survivor." The officers shook hands.

Lord Eskgrove was a very "wordy" judge. Lord Cockburn, in his "Memorials," says he heard him, in condemning a man to death for stabbing a soldier, aggravate the offence thus—"And not only did you murder him whereby he was bereaved of his life, but you did thrust, or push, or pierce, or project, or propel the fatal weapon through the bellyband of his regimental breeches, which were His Majesty's!"

A WORD TO CAUTIONERS.—A Highlander was tried for a capital offence: and had a rather narrow escape; but the jury found him "Not guilty." Whereupon the judge, in discharging, thought fit to admonish him. "Prisoner, before you leave the bar, let me give you a piece of advice. You have got off this time, but if you ever come before me again, I'll be caution you'll be hanged." "Thank you, my lord," answered Donald; "thank you for your good advice; and, as I'm no ungrateful, I beg to gi'e your lordship a piece of advice in return. Never be caution for anybody; for the cautioner has often to pay the debt!"

A SHREWD CONJECTURE CONFIRMED.—Two rustic dames, who were on a visit to the Newcastle Exhibition, but could not afford the cost of a catalogue, were at a loss to decide the subject of a painting in the Music Hall, which particularly attracted their attention. Each at length came to an opposite conclusion, and stuck to it, till a lady came near who was provided with a catalogue. Her kindness was immediately appealed to, to determine between them: the fair referee, turning to the number of the picture, informed them that it was "Peter the Great and his Empress." "Ay, I doll'y a so!" exclaimed one of the old conoisseurs, with an air of triumph; "I said it was one o' the postles."

The way to Bribe an Honest Man.

The following narrative is not inappropriate to the times in which we live:

Five years ago, a gentleman in the United States (as gentlemen frequently do in that and other countries) got up a railroad speculation, for which it was thought necessary that there should be a Government subvention. The affair was duly submitted to Congress, and an engineer of high character, who was without a wit, was appointed, on the part of the Government, to report on scheme. This scientific man visited the the country, returned, and was one day sitting in his hotel with a friend lying on the sofa, when one of the railway promoters entered and addressed the engineer in a low whisper. "Speak out," said the engineer. Accordingly, after ascertaining that the other party present was a friend, he said in a loud voice: "Mr. Smith, if you will fix that report to suit us, we will give you $30,000 of the stock." "Mr. Jones," was the reply, "when you want to bribe an honest man—an honest man, mind you—come right down with your spodulics: d—n your stock!"

Sir Francis Hincks must have read that engineer's remark; for, said the venerable Sir Francis, when offered stock in the C. P. R., "I am getting old, and do not want prospective profits, which I shall never live to enjoy; I want $50,000 in cash on the nail, and the office of Seeretary on the C. P. R. for my son, with not less than $2,000 a year." That engineer and Sir Francis bear a most remarkable resemblance to each other in their moral and financial views.—Hamilton Times.

A Land of Wonders.

The American Engineer thus catalogues a few of American wonders:—The greatest cataract in the world is the falls of Niagara, where from the great upper lakes forms a river of three-fourths of a mile in width, and then, being suddenly contracted, plunges over the rocks in two columns, to the depth of 175 feet. Mammoth cave of Kentucky, where any one can make a voyage on the waters of a subterranean river and catch fish without eyes. The greatest river in the known world is the Mississippi, 4,000 miles long. The largest valley in the world is the valley of the Mississippi. It contains 500,000 square miles, and is one of the most fertile regions of the globe. The greatest city park in the world is in Philadelphia. It contains over 2,000 acres. The greatest grain port in the world is Chicago. The largest lake in the world is Lake Superior, which is truly an inland sea, being 430 miles long, and 1,000 feet deep. The longest railroad at present is the Pacific railroad, over 3,000 miles in length. The greatest mass of solid iron in the world is the mountain of Missouri. It is 350 feet high and two miles in circuit. The best specimen of Grecian architecture in the world is the Girard College for Orphans, Philadelphia. The largest aqueduct in the world is the Croton Aqueduct, New York. Its length is 40½ miles, and it cost $12,000,000. The largest deposits of anthracite coal in the world are in Pennsylvania, the mines of which supply the market with millions of tons annually, and appear to be inexhaustible.

What the Influential American Press Says.

* * * We need not go far into other and unsupported statements of Mr Mc Mullen to discover that members of the Canadian Ministry, while engaged in a heated canvass, did receive from these railroad operators considerable sums of money for election purposes, or for their private use. There are the demands, and the vouchers. Perhaps they may be explained away; but until they are, any candid mind must admit that a very strong case is made out against the Canadian Ministry now in power. Allan and his associates obtain a profitable contract without opposition, they acknowledged having spent a large amount of money in getting it; several members of the Ministry (who had the letting of the contract) are shown to have received considerable sums of money from the Allan party during this time. Why did they receive these funds? What equivalent was rendered? These are only some of the questions which Sir John Macdonald and his associates must answer—unless they plead 'guilty.'—N. Y. Tribune.

Is health worth having? If it is protect it—it is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and in many cases as difficult to recover. In this climate, and more particularly at this season of the year, people are very apt to take cold and suffer from sore throats, coughs, spitting of blood and pulmonary complaints generally, which if not checked immediately lead to serious consequences. The question arises—which is the quickest and most effectual remedy? Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers have been before the public for twenty years, and have always given perfect satisfaction, and invariably effect permanent cures when taken in season. Sold by all medicine dealers and country stores, at 25cts per box.

A GOOD HORSE.—There is much pleasure and profit in the services of a good horse, and but very little of either in a bad one; no person from choice will retain a bad horse, many, however are in possession of such who need not be. We think there are few horses so bad that their condition cannot be improved and rendered more valuable and useful for their owners, to effect which, there is nothing equal to 'Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy;' it has effected astonishing results in thousands of cases. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

VIRTUE.—Virtue rarely passes unrecognized by the world. A few distorted optics may fail to recognize her features, but it would be as easy to conceal the face of the noon-day sun under a mask as to hide her resplendent features. And so it is with the "Canadian Pain Destroyer;" every one who uses it speaks in the highest terms of its virtues and pain removing qualities. For rheumatism, neuralgia, colds, cholic, cramps and summer complaints, it has no equal. For sale by Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cts. per bottle.

MANY SUFFER rather than take nauseous medicines. All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease. The Balsam is a pleasant remedy; it is a safe remedy; it is a powerful remedy; it is a speedy remedy; it is a remedy that cures.

Canon Kingsley says:—"The man who succeeds is generally the narrow man, the man of one idea, who works at nothing but that, sacrifices everything to that; the fanatic in short. By fanatics, whether military, commercial or religious, and not by liberal minded men at all, has the world's work been done in all ages."

NO RISK.

Thomas's Eclectric Oil! Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold. Do you know anything of it? If not, time you did.

Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is the cheapest Medicine ever made. One dose cures common SORE THROAT. One bottle has cured BRONCHITIS. Fifty cents worth has cured an OLD STANDING COUGH. One or two bottles cures bad cases of PILES and KIDNEY TROUBLES. Six to eight applications cure ANY case or ECZEMA or HERPES or INFLAMED BREAST. One bottle has cured LAME BACK of eight years standing. Daniel Plank, of Brookfield, Tioga County, Pa., says "I went thirty miles for a bottle of your Oil, which effected a wonderful Cure of a CROOKED LEGS by six applications. Another who had Asthma for years, says: "I have half of a 50 cent bottle left, and $100 would not buy it if I could get no more." Rufus Rossman, of Nunda, N. Y., writes: "One small bottle of your ECLECTRIC OIL restored the voice where the person had not spoken above a whisper in Five Years." Rev. J. Mallory, of Wyoming, N. Y., writes: "YOUR ECLECTRIC OIL cured me of Bronchitis in One Week." Dealers all over the country say: "We have never sold a medicine that has given such complete satisfaction as this."

It is composed of the of the BEST OILS THAT ARE KNOWN. As as good to take as for external use, and is believed to be immeasurably superior to anything ever made. Will save you much suffering and many dollars of expense. Is sold by one or more dealers in every place. Price 25 cents. Prepared only by S. N. THOMAS, Pharmacist, N. Y., and NORTHRUP & LYMAN, Newcastle, Ont. Sole Agents for the Dominion.

CAUTION! FRAUDS ABROAD!

I BEG most respectfully to caution the public of the British North American Provinces to be on their guard against purchasing spurious medicines which are being palmed off as my genuine "Holloway's Pills and Ointment," by certain individuals, of little or no means, trading (for the last few months only) under the style of the "New York Chemical Company." Every artifice is made use of by them for the purpose of imposing upon the public; and the more effectually to deceive, they have the effrontery, in their advertisements, to issue the following caution:—

"The immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable Medicines.

"In order to protect the public and ourselves "we have issued a new 'Trade Mark,' consisting "of an Egyptian Circle of a serpent with the "letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine "HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT will have "this trade mark on it. None are genuine "without it.

"TO DEALERS AND JOBBERS IN DRUGS AND MEDICINES.

"We call your particular attention to the new "style of HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT "—none of the old style are manufactured by "us now, nor have they been for months. We "therefore caution all purchasers against receiving from any Jobbers or Dealers the old "style of goods

"Information concerning any such goods "being offered will be received with thanks

"We ask the favor of all the information you "can give in regard to those counterfeits."

Now this Company is aware that your laws do not permit them to copy the precise getting up of my Medicines, but in order the more completely to blind the public, they have recourse to another piece of deception, viz. in stating that they deem it necessary, as they say, to make up the Pills and Ointment in another form, and that they adopt a New Label, &c.

Besides the above-mentioned "Chemical Company," there is also a David Pringle of New York, who by consummate trickery is attempting to sell spurious imitations of my Medicines. Beware of him likewise.

This unprincipled Chemical Company has dared to say that I owe very large sums of money in the United States. What is the fact? A newspaper agent obtained, without my knowledge or consent, and by collusion with a party who held a limited power of attorney of mine, an order to advertise my medicines in South America for three years, to the extent of $400 000 in gold. He then sold his claim to a lawyer, who got it referred by the court to a friend of his who gave judgement against me to the amount of $171,237 gold, for profit which he said he could have made if it, had I not taken steps to repudiate this vile transaction the moment it came to my knowledge. This judgement will soon be set aside. It cannot be supposed, I am sure, that I owe a cent to any one that I would not immediately pay.

There is no truth whatever in the statement that, I ever authorized anyperson or persons to use my name for the sale of my Pills and Ointment, although gross frauds have been practiced upon me by unprincipled men in this way.

I would ask, as a fair favor, that should it come to the knowledge of any person that spurious medicines are being made and sold in my name, that he be pleased to send me the name and address of the vendor who is selling the same, that I may, for the protection of the public, institute proceedings against him, and I engage to remunerate handsomely my informant without divulging his name.

Should any person have reason to believe that he has been deceived by buying spurious imitations of these Medicines, he will oblige me by sending to the address at foot (which he can do at a cost of six cents in postage), one of the books of instructions which are affixed to the same.

My Medicines can be supplied at the lowest wholesale net prices in quantities of not less than £20 worth—viz., 8s.6d., 22s., 36s. per dozen boxes of Pills or Pots of Ointment, for which remittances must be sent in advance. These Medicines are not sold in the United States.

Each Pot and Box of my Genuine Medicines bears the British Government Stamp, with the words "Holloway's Pills and Ointment, London."

(Signed) THOMAS HOLLOWAY.

A DISTINGUISHED PHYSIOLOGIST has said that Nevralgia is the cry of the hungry nerves for their special food, which is the Phosphorus contained in the blood. This painful disease is usually followed by general prostration on account of the great waste of nerve tissue and insufficient supply of nerve force to maintain the functions of the vital organs. The common sense of Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pain, is depraved Nutrition arising from Derangements of the Stomach, Malassimilation of Food, and Poor Blood. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya supplies Phosphorous for the nervous system, lime as an excitant of nutrition, iron for the blood, and Calisaya for promoting strength. No preparation in existence is so reliable to maintain the vital forces and energize all the organs and tissues of the body.

A CALL SOLICITED.

Goderich, 12 Aug 1870

"A Large Soul in a Small Body."

The above cut represents our $70 Organs.

While thanking our former agents and customers for their liberal patronage and continued favors, we would say that which we still hope to retain, I we would respectfully call their attention to our style No. 61. This Organ being a 6 octave, Double Reed [C Scale] is a very desirable instrument for advanced players, Pianists or parties educating themselves for the pianoforte; and as a parlor Instrument, it meets every requirement.—Our No. 30 is the same as 61, but different style, and more expensive. Our No. 32 is pronounced by all who have seen it to be the finest Instrument in the world for the price; this organ has two complete setts same as No 30, with two additional half setts, viz, Hautboy and Vox Celeste, making four setts from middle C up and also 1½ octaves of Bass Profundo. We are the first and only parties who make this line of Instruments, and the universal satisfaction they have given, and the immense sale of these Organs, show that they are appreciated and encourages us to make them a specialty.

Applications for agencies, where we have no agents, at all times confidentially solicited.

This grand success, in addition to last year's record of a

Silver Medal,
3 Diplomas,
and 12 First Prizes,

Proves that our Instruments in the opinion of competent judges are incomparably superior to all others.

Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers of the

ORGANETTES,

Containing Scribner's Patent Qualifying Tubes, acknowledged by all to be the greatest improvement yet introduced. This superiority is conceded by other makers from the fact that at Guelph they withdrew from competition, thus acknowledging their inability to compete with them.

Every instrument fully warranted for five years. Send for catalogue containing fifty different styles of instruments.
