ROOSEVELT WINS BARNES COUNTY

Another Bad Blow For New York State Republican Bosses.

PROGRESSIVE VICTORY

Looks Now as If the Colonel Would Have Majority at the Convention.

New York, Sept. 21.—Old guard leaders who are fighting for control of the Republican state convention in Saratoga next week were admittedly surprised today when the news reached them that the supporters of Col. Roosevelt had carried Schenectady county Republican convention, and had instructed its delegates to the state convention to support Col. Roosevelt for temporary chairman, and to favor direct primaries.

Schenectady and Albany counties comprise the twenty-third congressional district, which is represented on the Republican state committee by William Barnes, jun., one of the most aggressive of the old guard leaders, and hitherto regarded as invincible.

Yesterday's defeat at the primaries of Vice-President Sherman, the old guard candidate for temporary chairman of the state convention in his home district in Oneida county, was not altogether unexpected, but the loss of Shenectady county today was a surprise even to the progressives here.

Points to Victory.

"It is an interesting straw, showing which way the sentiment in New York state is going," said Lloyd C. Griscom, leader of the Roosevelt forces, tonight. "So far as the forces of the old guard are concerned it is a greater blow even than the loss of Vice-President Sherman's home district yesterday, because it is a part of Mr. Barnes' congressional district, territory which was regarded as impregnable.

"If any doubt has existed in the mind of anyone as to the outcome of the efforts which are being put forth to control the state convention, today's events at Schenectady should be sufficient to banish it. I look for Col. Roosevelt's election as temporary chairman by a substantial majority.

Estimates of the old guard made today, before the Schenectady returns, gave Mr. Sherman 541 of the 1,015 delegates. After the returns the progressives went over the list and figured out that Col. Roosevelt would have 529 votes in the convention to 480 for Vice-President Sherman.

The contest has now sharpened to a point where a few delegates will hold the balance of power and the efforts to swing into line some of the counties still doubtful will be continued vigorously until the roll is called in convention.

GYPSIES CARRY PLAGUE

Russian Wanderers Spread the Disease in Italian Provinces.

[Associated Press.]

Washington, Sept. 22.—The recent cholera epidemic in Italy was traceable to the embarkation at Brindisi of a band of Russian gypsies. The origin of the infection is described by surgeon H. D. Geddings, at Naples, in a report to the state department. Surgeon Geddings reports that the gypsy wanderers, after coming from Trani, washed their clothing in vessels which were used later as water buckets. Many of the gypsies became violently ill, and the disease began to spread to districts surrounding Trani.

ASK LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Unusual Motion Made Before Appeal Court Today.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—An attempt, which appears to be unique in the annals of British justice as administered in Ontario, occurred in the court of appeal. This was a motion to the court for leave to appeal to the privy council in the case of Leckie versus Marshall, a case which has wended its way through almost all the courts to be found. The statutes of Ontario give the people the right to appeal to the tribunal in England. The right seems never to have been questioned.

In 1908 a rule of the privy council was passed requiring leave to be given from the privy council or the court appealed from. It was the fear of this rule that led to the motion.

"This thing (appeals to the privy council) has been going on for hundreds of years, but this is the first time I have ever seen leave to appeal to the privy council asked for from this court," declared Mr. Justice Meredith. However, the counsel still feared the 1908 rule might interfere with the usual course. The court of appeal had no doubts, for it dismissed the motion.

When the rule of 1908 first came to his notice, Colonel Patterson, registrar of the court of appeal for Ontario, wrote to the registrar of the privy council asking for the interpretation of the new measure. The latter replied that it had never been intended that the rule should conflict or override the customs of Ontario as followed in the statutes. The communication, while an unofficial declaration, shed light on the situation and bore out the subsequent course of the court of appeal.

Glynn Osler was the lawyer who brought the motion.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

Summer Work Reports Proved Very Satisfactory.

A meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Wednesday afternoon. Those present were: The president, Mrs. A. T. Edwards; Mrs. Becher, Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Waller, Mrs. King, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Orr, Mrs. (Rev.) Nixon, Miss Moore, Miss Fraser, Miss Brown, and the secretary, Miss Lindop.

Reports of work during the summer months proved very satisfactory, especially that in regard to the home at Port Stanley. This home was greatly appreciated by the working girls.

A grand rally is to be held on Oct. 9, when the programme for the fall and winter work will be gone into, and classes will be formed.

GRAND CLEAN UP IN THE TENDERLOIN

More Spectacular Raids of Gambling Houses at New York.

New York, Sept. 22—A police descent on the Tenderloin in the early hours today was featured by several of the most spectacular raids in years on alleged illegal resorts. Plain clothes men swarmed through the district and arrests were made right and left. Two police stations were crowded with prisoners taken by the police crusaders in their raid, and as the result of a round-up of women of the district found on the streets during the night.

Agents of Raymond Fosdick, commissioner of accounts, whose investigation of Tenderloin conditions brought about Acting Mayor Mitchell's recent complaint against Police Commissioner Baker, were out in numbers following the course of the police and seeking evidence for the grand jury.

It was expected that Commissioner Baker would be one of the witnesses called by the grand jury today.

CROSS-ALPS FLIGHT

Daring Aviators Unable Yet to Attain Necessary Height.

Brig, Switzerland, Sept. 22. — The weather was clear but cold today and a strong wind blew over the Simplon Pass. It was hoped that before evening George Chavez, the Peruvian aviator, and Mr. Weymann, the American, would find a favorable opportunity to attempt the cross-Alps competition flight from here to Milan, Italy.

During the morning Weymann made three trial flights to test his motor, but at no time reached a height greater than 4,300 feet. To clear the mountains an altitude of some 7,000 feet must be maintained during the first half hour of the trip

THOS. TAIT RESIGNS

Quits Position as Head of the Australian Railways.

Vancouver, Sept. 22.—The News-Advertiser announces in a cable from Australia the resignation of Mr. Thomas Tait, chairman of the railway commissioners of the state of Victoria. He is resigning, the dispatch says, because of recent accidents and loss of life on the state's railway line. The dispatch adds that Mr. Tait is returning to Canada.

Mr. Tait is a native of Quebec province. He was for some time in the audit office of the Grand Trunk Railway. Later he entered the service of the Canadian Pacific, and advanced steadily until he became manager of the lines east of Fort William, leaving the C. P. R. some years ago to go to Australia. Recently there was a serious collision between trains in the city of Melbourne, a number of people being killed and many injured. So far as had been ascertained by the Australian papers last to hand gross carelessness on the part of minor officials employed at the Melbourne terminus was the cause.

YOUNG LAWYER CAUGHT IN TRAP

Went to See Attractive Woman and "Husband" Appeared.

New York, Sept. 22. — Florence Burns Wildrick, who, eight years ago, was known as "beautiful Florence Burns," when she was tried and acquitted of the murder of Walter Brooks, her sweetheart, was arraigned today in Jefferson Market police court, charged with working the "Badger game." The alleged victim is Charles W. Hurlbert, a young lawyer in the employ of the Lawyer's Title Insurance and Trust Company.

The former beauty spent last night in a cell in police headquarters and looked worn and worried when arraigned in court. With her was arraigned Edward H. Brooks, who claims to be a real estate dealer, but who is charged by Hurlbert and the police as being an accomplice of Florence Burns. Another arrest was expected today.

According to the police story the woman rented a furnished room at 224 West Twenty-fourth street, a week ago. Hurlbert, who is 27 years old, and a lawyer, said he met the woman at her room Sunday night. Shortly afterward Brooks entered. Brooks essayed to the role of outraged husband and compelled the young lawyer to sign a "confession," admitting his relationship with the woman. Hurlbert was then relieved of $57 and compelled to write an order for $500 on a bank where he had an account, upon threats of death.

The lawyer says he was kept prisoner in the room until 6 o'clock Monday morning, when a taxi cab was called, and he was taken to Yonkers. In the meanwhile Brooks had been reinforced by another man who called himself Hall. Upon the return of the party to New York Hurlbert escaped and ran up to a policeman, begging protection.

The "confession" and order for $500 on the Greenwich Savings Bank were found upon Brooks. Both Florence Burns and her companion set up the plea in court that they were playing a "joke" on Hurlbert. Brooks claims to be engaged to the woman.

A PRIEST SUICIDES.

Madrid, Sept. 22.—Father Novedo, a professor in a Capuchin college, blew out his brains today when overtaken at Lorca by the uncle of a woman with whom the priest was said to have eloped.

THE TARIFF AND THE MANUFACTURER

Means of Conducting An Educational Campaign To Be Sought.

Vancouver, Sept. 21. — Protection versus free trade was the subject of an interesting debate at this morning's session of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, following a resolution by Mr. H. D. Waddle, of Hamilton, recommending that the tariff committee consider means of conducting an educational campaign among the residents of agricultural districts in the interests of protection.

In their trip across the continent, Mr. Waddle said, the delegates had missed a number of favorable opportunities for explaining to the people of the prairies what protection really means for the people of Canada. The free-trade germ had been started and was growing, and it would receive an added impetus from the free traders arriving from the old country. He was himself a free trader in the old country, but he found that free trade conditions would be irksome in Canada. The bulk of the people had not considered that Canada must have a larger revenue in proportion to population than was the case with an old established country. So long as there was a leakage from the United States branch industries would be established in Canada. He moved that it be a recommendation to the tariff committee to consider means by which a proper understanding of the Canadian tariff can be furnished to the general public, especially in the agricultural districts. He also suggested the appointment of a select committee representing the association to meet other representative bodies for the purpose of spreading information.

Mr. Robertson, of Hamilton, seconded the resolution. He, however, said he was not a high protectionist, and he thought the constant reiteration of protection to the people of the prairie provinces might be dangerous. He suggested that a more diplomatic method than that recently followed should be adopted. "If it is true that we want higher protection," he said, "for heaven's sake do not let us go into the agricultural districts and give the people the arguments in this unpalatable form. Why not show them the need for revenue?"

Another speaker did not see any ground for the last speaker's protest. Protection, he argued, was for the general interests of the people of Canada, not for a section.

Mr. Saunders thought the present would be a very ill-chosen time for the association to assert itself on the tariff question. They should give the farmer of the Northwest some credit for good common sense. The time for the association to deal with the matter was when it came before the Dominion Parliament. They could supply the necessary arguments to the cabinet.

Mr. Rogers, of Vancouver, agreed. Whenever the Government made a change in the tariff, manufacturers were given an opportunity of presenting their views.

Mr. McCullough questioned this.

SUFFRAGETTES HEARD

Two of Them Appear Before Technical Education Commission.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—Piquancy was lent to the proceedings of the technical education commission at this afternoon's meeting by the appearance of two "suffragettes," who complained to Dr. Robertson and his fellow-commissioners that women had no representatives on that body. Other grievances aired were that women were to be excluded from the classes of the new technical school now being built. Mrs. Hammond Bullock, who said she was a delegate from the Women's Suffrage Association of Quebec Province, proved herself to be quite an orator. Dr. Robertson said the membership of the commission was in the hands of the Government, but that he would gladly welcome women to lay their views before them.

"But men have not the same viewpoint as women," continued Mrs. Bullock. "I have sat here all the afternoon and not once have I heard the word woman mentioned."

The commission left tonight for Quebec.

THE BLUFFTON HORROR.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 22.—A. A. Shane, of the Indiana Railroad commission, has arrived here to investigate the interurban collision which resulted in a large loss of life here yesterday.

The motorman and conductor of the northbound car are said to have believed they had a clear right of way to Fort Wayne. The men of the southbound car were ordered, it is said, to "clear for all regulars," and to meet the other car at the Kingsland switch. The southbound car, hurrying to Bluffton to load with passengers for the fair at Fort Wayne, passed stop number 108 and it is supposed the motorman thought he could reach stop number 107. Before he reached it the crash came.

So many prominent inhabitants of Bluffton were killed that the town is staggered by the blow. It is probable that no business will be transacted for several days. Every inhabitant through relationship or friendship will be concerned in the preparations for the funerals.

COSTLY FIRE.

Worcester, Mass., Sept. 22.—A property loss ranging from $75,000 to $100,000, resulted from a fire which broke out early today in the Chase building, a ten-story structure on Front street. Two firemen were temporarily overcome by smoke and three others were badly cut by falling glass.

The fire originated from some unknown cause in the rooms of the Worcester Automobile Club on the seventh floor of the building. The flames burned out the fifth and sixth floors, and the tenants on the lower floors suffered a heavy loss from water. Surrounding property was threatened for a time, but after a hard fight of three hours the fire was brought under control.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Greenwich, Conn., Sept. 22.—Joseph Christopher, a porter, was burned to death, and Sarah Stewart, another employee, was injured in a fire here early today, which destroyed the servants' annex of the Elms Hotel. The fire is supposed to have started on the third floor in the room occupied by Christopher. His charred body was found in the ruins after the fire. The Stewart woman jumped from a second-story window.

The guests in the hotel proper left the building with whatever clothing they could catch up at the moment, and thus attired, joined the servants and firemen in fighting the flames, keeping them back from the main building.

CRIPPEN AND GIRL HELD FOR TRIAL

Magistrate Formally Commits Couple After Hearing the Crown's Evidence.

London, Sept. 22.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and his typist, Ethel Clara Leneve, yesterday were formally committed for trial for the killing of the former's wife, Cora Belle Crippen, the American actress, who was known on the stage as Belle Elmore. The doctor is charged as the principal and his companion as an accessory after the fact.

For some time the magistrate in the Bow street police court has been hearing the evidence offered by the crown, and at the conclusion of these preliminary proceedings yesterday announced that he would hold Crippen on the capital charge and, without expressing an opinion on the evidence against Miss Leneve, added that he felt that it was sufficient for him to commit her for trial as an accessory after the fact.

When the prosecution had concluded the magistrate proposed to set aside another day upon which Solicitor Arthur Newton, who is representing both of the accused, might make any statement he wished on behalf of the defence. Mr. Newton, however, after saying a few words in favor of Miss Leneve, who, he contended, had not been proven guilty, said that he would reserve his defence of Crippen until the trial proper was held.

SOCIETY GIRL GETS IN MIX-UP WITH PHONE

"Line Busy" Shouted Central Repeatedly—Then Fair Subscriber Started in to Investigate.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 22. — Incensed over the continual repetition of the phrase "line's busy," while she and her guests were delayed at bridge whist because of an absent friend, Miss Hazel Gillen, daughter of John Gillen, prominent horseman and ice manufacturer of Payette City, Pa., last night left her home, and her guests to investigate the local Bell Telephone Exchange and learn the reason why she could not get telephone connections with a young woman she wanted to "fill in."

Trouble was found, and plenty of it, when Miss Gillen reached the head of the first flight of stairs at the exchange. A whirlwind in the form of the much-abused "Central," Miss Lillian Usher, enveloped her and a second later both young women were rolling down the stairs and on to the sidewalk in each other's arms.

With their skirts wrapped about their shoulders the young women took a "death grip" on the sidewalk when they stopped rolling, and to the amusement of a number of men and boys proceeded to pull hair and attempt to choke each other, until one man stepped forward, righted their skirts and separated the fighters. Hair "rats," side combs and barrettes and one switch, the ownership of which neither of the young women will acknowledge, littered the sidewalk.

KAY WHIPPED COLONEL

An Exciting Scene at the Windsor Dock Yesterday Morning.

Windsor, Sept 22 -- Excitement reigned for a short time yesterday morning at the ferry dock when Douglas Kay, one of the best known athletes in Ontario, and winner of medals and trophies that would fill a bushel basket, gave Col. Lattimer, of Detroit, a demonstration of his pugilistic prowess

Lattimer is one of Detroit's most prominent citizens, and lives on the Canadian river-front above Walkerville. He came down to the ferry dock in his auto yesterday, just as the gates closed. Kay is acting as gateman at the ferry during the summer vacation. Words were exchanged between Lattimer and Kay and the former said he would thrash the young man. He received an invitation to come ahead. Lattimer jumped out of his auto and was promptly felled by a well-directed blow from Kay's fist.

Kay is a Toronto University student and holds an amateur record as shot-putter. He is also a disc thrower of renown.

BALLINGER TURNS

Says That He Intends To Show Up Some of His Traducers.

Denver, Sept. 22.—"When I get footloose from public office, I intend to devote a part of my time to giving to the American people some idea of the purity of the lives of my traducers," said Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger this afternoon at a banquet by the Denver Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Exchange.

"The public is entitled to know the hidden springs of inspiration which gush in torrents of 'uplift' patriotism from the self-appointed moralists, and I shall heartily enjoy using the 'searchlight' when the proper season comes.

"I have no apologies to make to the American people for any act during my public career, or in any private capacity. Standing securely upon my conscious rectitude, I defy all my critics and all my enemies and with the deliberate purpose of fighting out the battle to the end, I propose to administer the interior department within the constitution and the law as I conceive it to be under my oath of office."

MOTOR-BOAT RACE.

New York, Sept. 21.—Twenty-five high-power motor-boats of speed and cruiser classes started away this morning on a 115-mile race to Poughkeepsie and return. The contest was the first of a series under the auspices of the National Motor-Boat Association. There were ten speed boats in the contest, together with 15 of the cruising type of motor craft, eight of which were over 40 feet on the water line. The start was made off One Hundred and Fifty-eighth street on the Hudson River

FOUL PLAY FEARED HUSBAND DISAPPEARS

London Lady Cannot Account For the Absence of Her Life Partner.

The disappearance of Mr. W. Murton, of Racine, Wis., whose wife is a former London lady, is causing the family a great deal of uneasiness, and it is feared that he has been the victim of foul play, or has met with an accident.

Some time ago Mrs. Murton, who is a daughter Mr. Abram Marsh, of 966 Hackett street, this city, came to London to pay a visit. When she went back home Mr. Murton was not there. He had left on a business trip and has not been seen since.

Mr. Marsh was sent for and started on his way. In Chicago, however, he met with an accident, that resulted in such injuries to his back and arm that he had to return home. Mrs. Murton followed shortly after.

No cause of the disappearance of Mr. Murton can be given. The domestic life of the couple was very happy, and it is feared that something has happened Mr. Murton.

HAMILTON THINKS THAT M'ARTHUR WILL ACCEPT

Ambitious City Is Very Anxious to Secure a Deputy Police Chief.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Hamilton, Sept. 22.—Daniel McArthur, of London, may not accept the position of deputy chief of police of this city. Monday night Mayor McLaren called McArthur over the long distance telephone and notified him that the police commissioners had decided to appoint him to the position of deputy chief. McArthur declined the offer, but was informed that the commissioners would not accept a negative answer, and asked him to reconsider his decision.

Mr. McArthur said that he applied for the position some time ago. At a later date, however, he wrote to the Hamilton commissioners, withdrawing his application. He received no reply until Monday night, when he was notified that he was the commissioners' choice for the deputy chiefship. He would not state positively that he would or would not accept the position.

"I wish to get out of the police work," he said, "as I have had over eleven years of it in the west." Friends of the London man are of the opinion, though, that he may come to Hamilton.

AN INSURANCE CASE ECHO OF LATE WAR

Merchant Ship Fell Into Jap Hands But Owners Can't Collect.

[Associated Press.]

Washington, Sept. 22.—An ordered tale of adventure, including as an essential part an unusual insurance risk, is to be laid before the supreme court of the United States next month, when that tribunal will be asked to decide whether an insurance company is liable on a policy taken up on a steamer against the perils of capture on a voyage from San Francisco to Vladivostok during the Russo-Japanese war.

The vessel in question was the British ship M. S. Dollar. Late in 1904 it was decided to send the steamer to Vladivostok with a cargo, and in order to protect the owners from loss by capture, they took out a policy against this peril with the Maritime Insurance Company, Limited, a British institution. The vessel was seized off the coast of Japan, about four days' sail from Vladivostok, and subsequently condemned.

It is contended by the insurance company that it is not liable, because the vessel, not only carried papers showing Vladivostok as her real destination, but also another set of papers showing Moji, Japan, as the destination.

The circuit court of appeals for the ninth circuit decided that the company was liable. On account of the conflict of law on the subject the supreme court will be asked to direct the circuit court of appeals to send the case to it for review.

DISCUSSED CHURCH UNION

Principal Gordon Approves of the Basis Submitted by the Assembly.

Belleville, Sept. 22.—At an open session of the Kingston Presbytery, Principal Gordon, of Queen's, moved that the Presbytery approve of the basis of union submitted by the general assembly. He said that, though at first he considered it unpractical, the spirit shown in the committee had changed his views. Rev. Dr. Mackie, Kingston, said he was not prepared to pay the price proposed. Rev. Dr. Buchanan, a missionary from the Bheel country, India, told of the success of his work. The afternoon session was devoted to routine matters.

ABUNDANCE OF ORE

Supply for the Big Canadian Company Is Inexhaustible.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 21.—A party of directors of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, and officials of the company arrived at New Glasgow tonight, after visiting the Wabana mines and Sydney mines plant. Among them were: Robert E. Harris, of Halifax, president of the company; Senator Jaffray, of Toronto; Senator McGregor, of New Glasgow; Messrs. G. S. Campbell, of Halifax; Thomas Cantley, general manager Frank Stanfield, of Truro, all directors. The latter was elected to the directorate only a few days ago, in place of Mr. McNab. Mr. T. G. McMullen, of Truro, one of the largest shareholders, is also with the party. They were at Sydney mines throughout yesterday, and will spend the day at the New Glasgow plant.

"There are hundreds of millions of tons of ore there," said President Harris, "all that we could possibly take out in a thousand years. After that we don't care. I am speaking, too, only of the deposits which can be said so far to have been developed. The directors, several of whom have never visited our main source of supply before, were, to put it mildly, extremely well pleased with what they saw and learned."

Mr. Harris said that the company was going ahead with its policy of spending money at Wabana. Large hoisting engines were being installed, and the other

JUDGMENT FIVE YEARS AFTER JUDGE'S DEATH

Mr. Justice Street Passed Away Before He Issued Decision.

Toronto, Sept. 22.—There was a somewhat unusual proceeding at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when a judgment delivered by the late Mr. Justice Street on Oct. 19, 1905, was issued by the senior registrar. His lordship had not issued the judgment at his death, and no application for its issue was made until this morning, when J. E. Jones, acting for one of the defendants, took out the judgment.

The case is out of the ordinary in more ways than one. Mrs. Robena Berry, who kept a boarding and lodging house, claimed $5,000 damages for wrongful entry, trespass, etc., against Andrew Berry, her landlord, Edward Gegg, and Gegg's men, Coltson and Playter.

The jury gave Mrs. Berry $25 damages, but as an offset the judge awarded the defendants their costs. These costs exceeded the damage award by about $100, and Mrs. Berry, after beginning an appeal and dropping it, did not take out the judgment, though it allowed her $25. McFarren and his co-defendants will now enforce the collection of the costs granted by the late Mr. Justice Street in 1905.

HAZING IS ENDED

board bearing the declaration which reads below:

"I hereby declare that while I am a student in the Western University Medical School, I shall not take part in the 'initiation' or 'hazing' of other students, or any similar proceeding, by whatever name it may be called, on the college premises. I engage to attend the said college on the distinct understanding, that if I am found guilty of voluntary participation in the kind of misconduct above referred to, or of intentional disturbance of lecture, demonstration, or convocation connected with the college, or of deliberate breakage or other serious injury of the property of the college, that I shall forfeit my standing in the college and any fees that I may have paid."

It is expected that this pledge will result in taming to a great extent the high spirits common to students of both the first and second years.

The Good Old Days.

One hazing some years ago stands out strongly in the memory of certain of the college faculty.

On this occasion, the sophs came down looking for blood. Each had his coat laced about him with shoe laces so that it could not afford a hold for an antagonist.

With a series of war whoops, the attack began on the luckless freshmen. One of the latter, being particularly strong, he tore out the banisters of the stairs as he was being dragged to the morgue. There, amongst the "material," he was soaked with a garden hose, and later was compelled to carry a body upstairs on his shoulder.

Afterward, with one hand on the body and the other in a pail of water, he was compelled to take the oath to treat the freshmen of next year as he himself had been treated.

As he was blindfolded he could not see that an electric battery was in the water, and when the current was turned on he was almost jerked off the floor.

At the finish the freshy was compelled to crawl through a barrel, on the bottom of which was a body. This latter stunt usually proved too much for the freshman, and as a rule those who were thus hazed were sick for a week or so.

But all this has come to an end, and the opening of the Western Medical College now, and henceforth is, and will be, as tame as the circulation of a round robin.
