TWO MORE JOIN IN STRIKE AT TUCKETT COMPANY'S FACTORY

Pickets For Both Sides Argue With Men.

NO ONE WITHOUT WORK

Union Men Say There Is a Demand for Cigarmakers Here.

Two more men quit work at the Tuckett's cigar factory today at noon, making a total of about 35 cigarmakers taking part in the walkout at that factory, as a result of a refusal on Monday to unionize the shop and grant the employees higher wages. Pickets, for both the local cigarmakers' union and the company, are on duty today in the rain, outside of the factory, and the union men state that there are six hand workers in the factory whom they wish to join them in the walkout.

P. C. McCullough was on duty yesterday afternoon and today at the points where the pickets are posted, but up to the present his duties have not been very onerous, both sides in the strike maintaining a peaceful attitude. H. G. Ambrose, vice-president of the Tuckett Cigar Company, who was in this city yesterday regarding the local situation, left for Montreal last night. It is said, in an effort to avert a strike at the Tuckett factory in that city.

Money Talks.

It is claimed by the union men that the company is hiring youths to take the place of the strikers, and two lads employed with the above firm were last night induced to join in the walkout, but when they reported to the factory to obtain their tools last night, it is said, their wages were raised four dolars each per week by the Tuckett Company, and they remained on the job. H. Wheatcroft, secretary of the cigarmakers' local 278, here today informed The Advertiser that H. G. Ambrose of the Tuckett cigar factory told him that it was the intention of the firm to fight the union for one year. However, as the strike was originaly declared on July 1st, 1918, the year has almost expired, and an early agreement is expected. All men taking part in the walkout have joined the union, and positions have been secured for them in the local union shops.

No One Idle.

"We have no one walking the streets out of a job," said President Hevey of the local cigarmakers' union to The Advertiser today. "We have jobs for everybody. In fact we are sending out of town for union cigarmakers."

As each employee of the Tuckett company leaves the factory, he is accosted by the members of the union picket, who endeavor to induce him to join the ranks of the strikers. The superintendent of Tuckett's is also on picket duty, and a lively argument ensues between the two factions. Pickets for both parties were on duty until after 7 o'clock last night, and were also on duty early this morning in the pouring rain.

MISSING BOY SAFE AT CHATHAM; CAME THERE ON SATURDAY

How He Reached Border City Not Known.

While police and officials of Mount St. Joseph's Orphanage searched in vain for 10-year-old Peter Bykowy, who disappeared from the orphanage on Saturday afternoon, Peter had travelled to Chatham, where he lived before he was brought to the institution in this city, and since late last Saturday had made himself at home with friends there.

Word that their ward was quite safe and with friends in Chatham was received today by officials at Mount St. Joseph, who are relieved to learn that the youngster, whom they had almost decided had come to an untimely end, was still alive and evidently unconcerned about all the trouble and anxiety he had caused.

The father of the child is thought to be living in Windsor, but officials of the orphanage had not been able to locate him in their search for the child.

How the boy got to Chatham is not yet known, the information received at the institution where he was a ward merely being to the effect that the missing boy was safe with friends of his family.

CHARTERS GIVEN TO NEW STAR CHAPTERS AT MORNING SESSION

Presented by Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Robins.

GRAND BALL TONIGHT

Seven or Eight Hundred Expected To Attend Social Function.

The presentation of charters by the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Robina Robins, to the twenty-two new chapters of the Order of Eastern Stars, instituted during the past year, was an interesting ceremony in connection with the morning sitting today of the Grand Chapter, in session in the Masonic Temple. The worthy grand matron also presented each worthy matron with a small gift. The three local recipients were Mrs. A. E. Trick, W. M. of Ruth Chapter; Mrs. E. King, W. M. of Trinity Chapter, and Mrs. Tullett, W. M. of Forest City Chapter.

Revision of the constitution, which will be continued this afternoon, constituted the chief business.

The big social feature of the grand chapter session, a reception and ball to be held this evening in the Masonic Temple, is being anticipated with much interest both by the delegates and the local members of the Eastern Stars and their Mason relatives.

The stage, of which the central feature is the large illuminated star, will be left as it is for the function, while the altars will be removed from the floor of the house and seats shoved back to make room for the dancing. It is expected seven or eight hundred people will be in attendance.

FAN DISAPPEARS OFF COURT DESK

Attendants May Have To Seek Help of Defendant.

When Judge Talbot Macbeth ascended the bench this morning to try Mary Lane on a fortune telling charge, he reached forward to turn on the electric fan, which always is in front of him and which helps considerably to clear the atmosphere of the courtroom after the lawyers have been manufacturing a great quantity of hot air. Alas! It was not there. Where had it gone? It was there on the previous afternoon.

Options as to how the fan had disappeared were many. Some thought that it was a case of plain theft. Others remembered that on the day before Lady Jean Hooper had been tried. The room was full of spirits (not in liquid form), and it is thought that these had decided to stay for the night. They had probably something to do with the disappearance. How was the fan o be recovered? No one had a clue. Then someone had a happy thought. Why not ask Lady Jean to tell where the article had gone?

SENTENCE DEFERRED UNTIL END OF WEEK

Capt. Minard Appeared Before Judge Today.

Captain Asa Raymond Minard, who appeared before Judge Talbot Macbeth today for sentence, had his case adjourned until Saturday. He had previously pleaded guilty to forging three checks, which were all checks which had been sent by the Government to men who left the employ of the Dominion police previous to the issuing of them.

Altogether he had been in possession of sixteen checks. His counsel, W. R. Meredith, declared that he had made restitution for them, but J. B. McKillop, crown attorney, said that the receiver-general at Ottawa had not received any money from him. When the accused left the employ of the police he had become secretary of the G. W. V. A. at Windsor. Some money that had been collected as the costs of prosecuting some defaulters and which had been held by him had been returned.

Capt. Minard was born in Nova Scotia and then went to Boston, where he was in the engraving business for sixteen years. He had been naturalized, but on returning to Toronto had reaffirmed his allegiance. He had helped to organize the American battalion there, had been secretary of the American Club, which had been burned down, and had been in the real estate business. A son, Raymond, was killed at the front, while another one, Basil, was wounded. Another son was in training when the armistice was signed.

SHALL INCREASED FARES BE GRANTED STREET RAILWAY OR NOT? BALLOT QUESTION SIMPLE

If "Yes" Is the Popular Answer, Conditions of Agreement Will Be Framed—Demand For Restoration of Service To Go Forward.

Mayor C. R. Somerville, Ald. (Dr.) L. S. Holmes, F. R. Watkinson, O. I. Cunningham and City Clerk Baker held a conference this morning with City Solicitor T. G. Meredith in the latter's office, at which the question of submitting to the people a bylaw calling for increased fares on the street railway was discussed. The solicitor saw no objection to this course of action, and a meeting of No. 1 committee of the city council is being called for tomorrow to arrange for the drafting of a bylaw for submission to the eelctorate as quickly as possible.

Simple Question.

The question the ratepayers will be asked to decide is simple whether increased fares shall be granted. If their reply is negative that will end the matter, and only in the event of an affirmative reply will the committee go ahead with the preparation of an agreement setting forth the conditions on which the increases are granted and the amount of the increases.

In the meantime notice will be served on the company to restore immediately the service which is called for by the present bylaw, and which was in effect until a few weeks ago. If the company fails to comply with the demand the committee will endeavor to devise some means of compelling compliance. At present it has no definite plan in view for doing this, but Dr. Holmes, chairman of the special railway committee, stated today that the committee, having taken the proper legal measures to demand that the company live up to its agreement, will not permit noncompliance to pass without action.

Won't Lie Down.

"We are not going to let the street railway company run the city," declared Dr. Holmes. In response to a direct question as to how it was proposed to prevent such an eventuality, he replied that that remained to be seen, if and after the company refused to meet the demand for a restoration of the service.

In case of such a refusal the city has the power, under its bylaw, to cancel the company's franchise. Whether the bylaw also gives power to the city to operate the system, however, is a fine legal point on which the aldermen declare they would have to consult the solicitor.

BORN CLAIRVOYANT, DECLARES MRS. MARY LANE, CHARGED WITH OFFENCE OF FORTUNE TELLING

Evidence All Heard, But Arguments Will Be Made Saturday —Witnesses Tell of Paying $1 Fee.

Mrs. Mary Lane appeared before Judge Talbot Macbeth this morning on a charge of fortune-telling, but the case was not concluded. The evidence was taken but the arguing of the case will take place on Saturday.

Mrs. Jones declared that she had gone to her home accompanied by Mrs. White, for a reading. After being seated at a table she was asked what she wished to know. Mrs. Jones asked what occupation she would be the most successful in, and Mrs. Lane said, "By all means be a nurse." She was told that there was someone near to her who was ill and to whom her sympathy went out.

She thought that this person would recover. There was news also of a death. It wasn't the father of the witness, but a young man, and the news would come across water, possibly from the United States. The witness asked defendant if she could tell her where to locate a pewter teapot which had belonged to her mother and which had been sold. The accused said that she could see a white house in the country with roses around it. She was charged $1 for this information.

Had Sixth Sense.

Mrs. White had been told numerous things. One thing was that Mrs. Lane could see her brother, who had been missing for two years, in a New York hospital. "She told me I was gifted with a sixth sense," said the witness, who herself is a medium. She was told that her boy, who was in C. G. R., would get his discharge, but not immediately. When asked if she could locate a cameo ring for her, she said that she could not, but that Lady Jean Hooper could. She was then charged $1.

Mary Lane, the accused, who resides at 362 York street, stated that she came from Strathroy, but previous to that from England. She had five children with one was killed in action at the front. She had been brought up in the Church of England, but for the past twenty years had belonged to the Scientific Research Church. "I was born a clairvoyant and developed as a trance medium in England," she said. "I came from Exeter, where there were five spiritual churches. I have several spirit guides." The chief of these guides was "Stella, an educated Egyptian girl who had died about 500 years ago." A guide serves one person only.

The accused was of the opinion that neither witness was a very sympathetic subject, so she did not use clairvoyance or go into a trance. In commenting on the case, E. W. Flock, her counsel, said, "You can go on the stage like 'The Girl of a Thousand Eyes,' get $500 per week, and the police won't touch you."

She was bailed in the sum of $400, to appear on Saturday.

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Barker, St. Thomas, Ont., when Miss Elizabeth Isobel Hall and Mr. Sidney John Ponsford, both of London, were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. W. J. Andrews of Trinity Church, St. Thomas. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily gowned in white silk taffeta, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of carnations and roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Bessie Hendrie of Sarnia, who looked pretty in white brocaded silk and carried sweet peas. The groom was assisted by Mr. William Hendrie of Sarnia. After the wedding luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Ponsford left for Sarnia. They will reside in London.

WILSON—SALMON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the home of Levi Salmon, London Township, when his niece, Margaret May, daughter of J. W. Osborne of Thorndale, and the wedding march was played by the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. Rathburn.

After a dainty luncheon the happy young couple left for the west. The bride traveled in a navy blue tailored suit with hat to match. They were the recipients of many handsome presents.

POINCARE'S PEACE DINNER WILL BE HELD ON FRIDAY

Paris, June 25.—It was announced today that President Poincare's official dinner to the peace plenipotentiaries will take place on Friday night. It was originally planned to hold the dinner on the night of the signing of the treaty, but the uncertainty as to the date for the ceremony has caused Friday to be named definitely for the dinner irrespective of the time of the event at Versailles.

MOTORS COLLIDE AT CORNER; ONE LIMPS HOME UNASSISTED

Each Sustained Some Damage in the Clash.

Two automobiles disputed the right of way at the southwest corner of York and Ridout streets this forenoon about 11:30 o'clock, with somewhat disastrous results to both. Meeting fact to face, as it were, each stoutly refused to lie down and let the other walk over, or to give up the disputed paten of the highway. As a result, one car was run up on the sidewalk, and the other had a wheel knocked off, sustaining some other casualties.

It was stated that the lighter car was eventually able to proceed on its way under its own motive power, while a "wrecking crew" was called from the service station to salvage the other.

LATE EXAMINATIONS UNPOPULAR; PUPILS AND TEACHERS SORE

Departmental Tests Go Over Into July.

INFLUENZA TO BLAME

But It Is Debated Whether Students Have Gained by Delay.

The lengthening of the school term this summer, and revival of the practice of holding departmental examinations in July has not been welcomed exactly with open arms by teachers and students this year.

Years have elapsed since departmental examinations encroached upon the month of July for students, and teachers experienced a "hang-over" of work after Dominion Day. It has been so long that most of the teachers had forgotten all about any other conditions except examinations being completed during the month of June. The influenza epidemic and consequent closing of schools has been responsible for the fact that term exaxminations are just being brought to a close this week, and teachers will be kept busy reading papers for some days to come, while numbers of students are looking forward to the blight of departmental examinations falling in the month of July.

Weather Bad.

The fact that the lengthening of the school term has occurred in the year of the hottest June within recollection, has not materially added to the strength of department examination pupils to face the ordeal lying before them.

Some of the teachers have stated that the month of June has been scarcely an asset for preparation owing to the excessive heat, some even holding the view that, notwithstanding the longer time for preparation, the pupils were "let down" physically to the extent that they are really not in a better position to come through the examinations with flying colors than they would have been earlier.

Some teachers, on the other hand, are taking the optimistic view that there will probably be cooler weather in July, and that the students will be more wide awake than would have been possible in June, until within the past two or three days.

While the influenza epidemic was an important determining factor in deciding to lengthen the school term this year, it is stated that the boys and girls who suffered from the disease have scarcely regained strength to the point where the longer school term has been beneficial to them, particularly in view of the weather.

PARLIAMENT HAS SEVERAL MEASURES YET TO CONSIDER

House of Commons Is Awaiting Report of Committees.

COMPLAINTS OF SOLDIERS

Members of Siberian Force Alleged To Have Been Ill-Treated.

Ottawa, June 25.—Sir Robert Borden in the House this morning announced the government program for the remainder of the session. There would, he said, be a bill to amend the dominion tax acts; a bill to amend the criminal code for the purpose of putting into effect some of the recommendations of the committee on sedition, and a bill to enable Indians who had served in the C. E. F. and wished to go on the land to be provided with land on Indian reserves. A committee of the House, which had been investigating the high cost of living, might also make certain recommendations, Sir Robert went on, in the course of a few days; and if the recommendations were made it would be necessary for the government to consider them and possibly to present a measure for the consideration of the House.

Awaiting Report.

Sir Robert added that his remarks in regard to the legislation based on the forthcoming report of the industrial relations commission were quite conjectural, as that body had not yet made a report. He said that while the list of bills still to be brought down was quite a lengthy one the majority of them were of a minor character. He asked the members of the House to economize time so that prorogation might be reached as soon as possible.

Mr. Joseph Archambault stated that he had been informed by a member of the Canadian Siberian expeditionary force, who had just returned, that members of this force were subjected to ill-treatment by the military authorities. According to his information, said Mr. Archambault, some of these soldiers were forced to go on board the boat for Siberia at the point of the bayonet. Some of the men had been given two years hard labor by the military authorities, and were still in Siberia. He wished to know if the minister knew of this state of affairs.

Gen. Mewburn Replies.

Gen. Mewburn replied that he had no such information. Gen. Elmsley, the commander of the Siberian expeditionary force, would be in Ottawa shortly, and the minister promised to ask him about the matter. All Siberian troops had been returned to Canada, with the exception of a few details, which had volunteered to stay with the British forces. He knew of no troops being forced to board vessels for Siberia at the point of the bayonet.

GRAIN.

Chicago, June 25.—The corn market was unsettled today, varying crop conditions and a general opinion that peace had been amply discounted in advance contributing to the initial weakness. The July option was relatively firmer than the more distant months. Selling orders induced a break today in the session. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower, with July $1 79¾; September, $1 75@1 74¼, and December, $1 52¼@1 52, were followed by slight declines. Later the market crept away from the low levels.

Oats sagged with corn. After opening unchanged to ⅛c down, with September at 68⅜@68¾, the market sagged on all deliveries, but later advanced fractionally with corn.

WALL STREET.

1:30 p.m.—Trading continued very light during the midday session, although the market broadened and hardened, motors and oils leading at overnight gains of 1 to 3 points. Shippings also improved, but the list fell back again on fresh pressure against steels and equipments.

SHE HAD SUFFERED FOR THIRTY YEARS

"Tanlac Is Grandest Medicine on Earth," Says Kansas City Woman.

"For the first time in thirty years," said Mrs. M. Buckingham, residing at 2438 Kensington avenue, Kansas City, Missouri, in an interview, recently, "I am able to eat without suffering afterwards and I can't sit down to the table without feeling thankful for what Tanlac has done for me."

Mrs. Buckingham is the wife of W. G. Buckingham, the well-known carriage and auto maker. He has been with the Russell Carriage Company for twenty-three years. Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham have lived in Kansas City for more than thirty years and are highly respected by all who know them.

"What I would eat caused me pain," she continued, "and if I went without eating there was an awful gnawing sensation in my stomach, so I just suffered nearly all the time. The gas in my stomach affected me so that I could hardly breathe and my heart acted in a peculiar manner that I became alarmed for fear I had heart trouble. I could not rest and would get so nervous I did not know what to do. At times I was so bad off that I should have been in bed and just dragged around at my work. I was so dizzy I could scarcely keep my balance and couldn't stoop over without falling.

"Well, nothing ever helped me except just for the time being, until I began taking Tanlac, and that's saying a good deal, for it seems to me I have tried everything. For a while I thought Tanlac was going to disappoint me, too, for I never felt much better until I had finished my third bottle, but since that time I have improved rapidly. I can eat just anything now and since my food digests properly and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach, I never have palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath or a pain. My nerves are almost normal and my housework is no longer a burden, but a pleasure to me. Really, I am feeling better than I have since my troubles began and I just think Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth."
