THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., MAR. 22, 1907.

Pure Speech.

Mr. George Wright, of Halifax, has been for some time waging a very laudable warfare against the use of profane language. His zeal is certainly to be commended and all those who have the best interests of humanity at heart will join him in this righteous campaign. The use of profane language is becoming altogether too common, as all who have occasion to visit the streets and public places of any town can attest. There are stringent laws in most cities and towns throughout the United States and Canada against profanity, and if such laws had been enforced at the right time profane and bad language would not be in such common use among so many classes of men and small boys at the present time.

In a recent sermon the Bishop of Carlisle made a remark that is favorably commented on by the British press. 'Anyone who swears,' said the Bishop, 'manifests the beggarliness of his vocabulary.' Getting at the same idea in another way the [illegible] patriot says: 'People swear [illegible] know the [illegible] bilities of plain English, or have not the skill to manipulate it so that it will yield the amount of fire they want. . . . . The cure for profanity—reformers and educators please take note—is merely wit enough to handle your words so that swearing will seem like baby talk in comparison.' There is yet another view, that of an Englishman newly come to Canada, and shocked by the profanity he hears about him: 'Any man,' he remarked, 'who curses in that way is a cad.'

We presume that Wolfville is no worse in this regard than other towns, but certainly every citizen must have felt that a great improvement is possible in the language heard on our streets. An educational reform should be inaugurated, and the town authorities through the existing by-laws, or new ones, should put the machinery in operation in the direction of procuring a less objectionable speech.

Helping Mothers.

'I always tell my neighbors who have children how good I have found Baby's Own Tablets,' says Mrs. L. Reville, Gawas, Ont. Mrs. Reville further says:—'I would not be without the Tablets in the house for I know of no medicine that can equal them in curing the ills from which children so often suffer.' It is the enthusiastic praise of mothers who have used the Tablets that makes them the most popular childhood medicine in Canada. Any mother using Baby's Own Tablets has the guarantee of a goverment analyst that this medicine does not contain one particle of opiate or harmful drug. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dr. L. H. Morse, one of Digby's popular physicians, returned home from New York Wednesday, where he has been taking a special course of study in gynaecology and abdominal surgery at the Post Graduate Medical School in that city. He was accompanied home by his mother who had been the guest of the Doctor's brother, Rev. Dr. A. H. C. Morse, pastor of one of Brooklyn's (N. Y.) leading Baptist churches.—Courier.

Dr. Morse is a brother of Mrs. Hugh Fowler, of this town.

Sir Robert L. Weatherbe, chief justice of Nova Scotia, has retired from the bench, his resignation going into effect on Tuesday. Sir Robert is over seventy years of age and retires with the allowance which the Statute gives him. The opinion is expressed that his place on the bench will be filled by the appointment of Mr. W. E. Roscoe, of Kentville, and that Hon. Arthur Drysdale will succeed him in the chief justiceship.

We are glad to know that there is a prospect of street improvement in Wolfville during the coming season. Wolfville is in many respects an ideal town, and we have many things of which we may reasonably be proud. With improved streets our town will take second place to none. Every citizen should show his interest in the movement and do all in his power to help along the good work.

Does any person know what steps are being taken to secure a government building for Wolfville? It was supposed that some move was made a year or two ago, but whatever was done appears to have proved ineffectual. If we are to get what is due us in this direction some combined action must be taken. Won't the Board of Trade try and do something?

Several incorporated towns are considering the advisability of increasing the poll tax rate. Truro has raised the tax to four dollars. This refers only to those who do not have any real or personal property rates, and will come into force in that town during 1908. Moncton, Sydney, and several other towns have made the poll tax five dollars.

The health officers of Nova Scotia are now in session at Halifax, for the formation of a Public Health Association. Dr. DeWitt is in attendance, having been appointed to read a paper on Tuberculosis, the house and the workshop. The program includes a wide range of subjects, and the meeting should prove of great interest and profit.

Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

The annual report of this most excellent institution has been issued, and from its pages we cull the following facts:

The Principal reports that the total attendance for the year was 110, of whom 87 were from Nova Scotia, 9 from Newfoundland, 8 from New Brunswick, and 6 from P. E. Island.

On the subject of compulsory education Principal Fearon says:

This is not the first time that I have called attention in my report to the desirableness of a law making it compulsory for parents of deaf children to send them to school. Since my last report I have communicated with the superintendents of schools for the deaf in every State of the Union, and have obtained information regarding this matter from the British Isles and Europe. In some of the States in the Union a compulsory education law is in force and in every place where such is not the case the superintendents of schools for deaf deplore the fact, and declare how much it is needed. In England, Scotland and Wales the compulsory education of the deaf is enforced the same as with hearing children. In Ireland no provision has been made by the Imperi[illegible] parliament for the education of the deaf, and though the most interested and influential persons in the country have for the last fifteen years or more petitioned parliament annually to make provision for the education of the deaf nothing yet has been done, and the schools are still entirely dependent for support on charitable contributions. When provision is made by government, compulsory education will there be enforced also. We have at present pupils who were not sent to school until they were sixteen or seventeen years old and for whom but little can be done compared with what might have been accomplished if they had been placed under instruction at the proper age. I would respectfully urge you to seek this session to have the law so amended that it will not be possible for any deaf child of sound body and mind to grow up uneducated in the province of Nova Scotia.

The pupils in attendance from this county are: William Taylor, Parker Wood, Loran Taylor, Ethel Hodges and Vera Reid.

The "Come Into My Parlor" Story.

The invitation of the manufacturers of muddy, blotchy and adulterated package dyes to the ladies of Canada to use their poor colors for home coloring is as dangerous as the call of the spider to the fly. The invitation of the makers of common dyes if accepted, means loss of money and ruin of valuable clothing and materials; the acceptance by the fly of the spider's offer, is death.

To-day, many ladies know too well that in the past they have been victimized by the false stories told by makers of crude dyes, and have suffered serious losses.

The DIAMOND DYES, used all over the civilized world, have always done good and profitable work for our women and girls. No other package dyes are as strong, bright, full and as lasting as the DIAMOND DYES; old and young can use them with edual success and pleasure.

Ladies should see that the words 'DIAMOND DYES' appear on each package they purchase. Refuse all imitations and substitutes if you would avoid loss and trouble.

Lord Strathcona.

WILL HE RESIGN?

The Boston Transcript, a high class paper, usually well informed on Canadian affairs and enjoying the advantage of having access to information often difficult to procure, publishes a communication from London indicating that pressure is being exercised to induce Lord Strathcona to resign.

For a long time it has been known that certain statesmen at Ottawa have coveted the High Commissionership, and if Lord Strathcona were not so endeared to the Canadian people as he is some of the ambitious gentlemen referred to would have found a way to make the position untenable. The fact is the man who would put a slight on Lord Strathcona would offend the whole Canadian people. In the hands of an unscrupulous man, the High Commissionership has immense possibilities in the way of encouragement to schemers and grafters. The boomsters and promoters know that they cannot get Lord Strathcona to lend his aid to any project, knowing it to be dubious, and they yearn for the time when they will have a man in the position who is not above persuasion in these matters.

Sir Charles Tupper.

A few days ago the Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, M. D., G. C. M. G., was presented at the Westminster palace Hotel with a portrait of himself, painted by the late Mr. A. G. Turner, and subscribed for by friends of different political views, as a mark of their appreciation of his services to Canada. Among those present were the Agents-General for Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Prince Edward Island, and Mr. Henniker Heaten, M. P. The presentation was made by Lord Strathcona, who read an address setting forth the services which Sir C. Tupper had rendered Canada during the past sixty years, first in his native province of Nova Scotia, and later in the wider sphere of the Dominion. As Premier of Nova Scotia, Prime Minister of the Dominion and the High Commissioner in London, he had rendered valuable service, and his name would pass down to posterity as one who had done much to place Canada in the high position she now occupies in the Empire and among the nations of the world. Sir Charles Tupper, in returning thanks mentioned that he was the sole survivor of the sixteen representatives of Canada who met in the same room forty years ago in connection with the British North America Act. Sir Charles Tupper is one of the many men who, beginning their career as members of the medical profession, have achieved distinction as statesmen and administrators. Born in 1821, he studied medicine at the university of Edinburgh. He represented his native county in the Canadian Parliament for thirty one years, and at one time or another held nearly every office in the Government of Canada. He has been President of the Privy Council, Minister of Inland Revenue, Minister or Customs, Minister of Public Works, Minigter of Railways and Canals, Minister of Finance, and Prime Minister. He has been twice High Commissioner for Canada in England, and was one of Her Majesty's Plenipotentiaries on the Fishery Commission at Washington in 1887-8, and to negotiate a treaty between France and Canada in 1893. He was created a K. C. M. G. in 1879, a G. G. M. G. in 1886, and a Baronet in 1888.—British Medical Journal.

The Rhodes Scholarship for the State of Pennsylvania has this year been awarded to a colored man named Allan LeRoy Locke, a sophomore at Harvard University. Of the five who passed the examinations Locke was deemed the best fitted to receive the reward. Mr. Locke states that at the completion of his work in England he intends returning to his native land, to devote himself to the bettering of the condition and general education of his race.

Mass Temperance Meeting.

A Temperance meeting will be held next Sabbath evening (24th) in the Baptist church at 8.30 o'clock, immediately at the close of the regular services. An interesting program has been arranged. There will be short addresses by Rev. Mr. Wright; Mr. Knott, Pres. of the college Y. M. C. A., and Prof. E. W. Sawyer. The College Quartette, also a Ladies' Quartette, will assist with the music. Silver collection will be taken for the prohibition and anti-cigarette funds.

Constipation, Kidney Trouble

Mr. J. A. Buchner, Port Robinson, Ont., writes:—"For many years I was the unhappy victim of kidney trouble, rheumatism and constipation, which became so bad as to make life a burden. I was a constant sufferer and at times completely unfit for anything. The appetite was fickle, and I became thin and emaciated. I could not sleep and would arise languid and enfeebled.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I am thankful that they fell into my hands. The first box gave relief and hope and I continued to use these pills until the time came when I was enjoying my former good health and vigor. It took about eight boxes to make the cure complete, and I shall always recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills as an ideal medicine. I am giving this testimony for the benefit of others suffering as I did."
