THE LI-QUOR TEA COMPANY.

The New Year's Prize Distribution—Who Won the Prizes, and Where They Live.

The eve of the New Year witnessed an interesting ceremony at the Li-Quor Tea Company's Warehouse on Yonge-street, being no less than the distribution of the 100 prizes to the customers of this firm who have been most successful in consuming the largest amounts of tea since last October. In the spacious warehouse attached to the store a very considerable number of anxious ladies and gentlemen were found at 5 p.m., at which hour proceedings commenced by a short speech from Mr. Geo. Mann, the Proprietor, who explained the object of the competition was solely to obtain an increase of the already large trade, saying that the name Li-Quor Tea was synonymous with square, upright, honest dealing, and referring to the intention of the company to maintain the reputation thus already had of giving to the public the highest value in books and tea by a strict adherence to the great American principle of "In God we trust, but to everyone else spot cash." Then followed the election from among anxious spectators of Mr. John St. Crawford as chairman, and Mr. G. Vennell and Mr. J. N. McKendry as scrutineers, who at once proceeded to the examination of the 500 envelopes that during the day had been dropped into the store by the competitors. This was carried out to the almost satisfaction of everyone present, the abandonment to the competitors themselves of the work of distribution being the best guarantee of the absolute honesty and fairness on the part of the proprietors. It would of course be impossible to please everyone, or to disabuse the mind of the incredulous that the distribution was absolutely honest and without a show of favor, but as far as the fallibility of man permitted this was done by the Li-Quor Tea Company.

The prizes, as will be observed from the list below, are well distributed over the entire city, and will prove an excellent advertisement for the firm. The different numbers and articles as they were announced were in several cases productive of much amusement, but general satisfaction. The 850 sewing machines in several cases found very suitable winners, and it is no stretch of imagination to say that 100 homes are made happier by this wild and generous company.
