PURELY SECULAR SCHOOLS

MANITOBA MAY OFFER THIS AS AN ANSWER TO THE ORDER.

The Remedial Order Received in Winnipeg—Premier Greenway Hints at a Commission and Dissolution—The Order Will Be Discussed in the Legislature on Thursday.

Winnipeg, March 25.—The Remedial Order passed by the Dominion Privy Council on the Manitoba school question was received by Lieut.-Governor Schultz this morning. It will be transmitted to the Legislature during to-morrow's session, and will be then laid on the table, after being first read by the Speaker of the House. As 48 hours' notice must be given of intended action, it is at present likely that the discussion on the question will open on Thursday evening. It is said there is some likelihood of the matter being handed over to a commission, to report at the next session.

Premier Greenway, being interviewed as to what course would be followed, intimated, but did not say so positively, that action might be delayed, and the Provincial Government go to the country on the question. It is very generally believed that the Premier and his Cabinet contemplate dissolution.

An Option of Purely Secular Schools.

The Remedial Order continues to be the sole topic of conversation in Winnipeg. The papers continue to fill their columns with interviews with prominent public men on the important question. Some of these are fiery and declare there shall be no surrender, but others urge moderation, and appeal for compromise in order to avoid serious trouble. The appeals of such men as Hugh John Macdonald and E. L. Drewry for calm and dispassionate consideration are having good effect. To-day there was a hint from a supporter of the Government that the answer to be returned to Ottawa will contain an option of purely secular schools. An effort was made to ascertain if members of the Government authorized the statement, but all positively declined to speak till the matter was discussed in the House.

Comments on Patterson's Appointment

The appointment of Hon. Mr. Patterson as Governor of Manitoba is a great surprise to the people here, who were confident that Mr. Scarth or some other local man would get the position. The Free Press is the only Winnipeg paper, however, that editorially comments on the appointment. It urges the Government to reconsider the matter. The latest rumor in this connection is that Mr. Scarth will be appointed postoffice inspector or collector of customs at Winnipeg, the present collector, Col. Scott, to be superannuated.

The Future Entirely in Greenway's Hands

La Minerve, in its ecourse of an article on the autonomy of Manitoba, says:

The Order in Council has been passed; it has been published; the Manitoba Legislature would show great lack of comprehension not to recognize that the document contains not a single word derogatory to the dignity o fthe senders, or that of the receivers.

Whatever may be our apprehensions, we hope the Manitoba Legislature will conform to the obligations imposed by the rights of the minority, and not run the grave risk of causing the Canadian Parliament to interfer weith its interior affairs.

Eminent lawyers are of opinion that if remedial legislation were passed by the Federal legislature, it could only be abrogated by the revision of the constitution. The exercise of a power ad hoc having taken place, that power would disappear absolutely and without return, say the lawyers. Will Mr. Greenway venture thus to bind the future? And if the majority of Manitoba, badly advised, badly inspired, badly directed, refuses to do that which its own dignity, justice and sound politics demand, by what right could it aetfirwards accuse the general Government of encroachment and violation of its autonomy?

The Race Is Off, the Nags Are in the Barn.

The men who feel the meanest over the decision of the Government to hold a session are those candidates who were already in the field and conducting the campaign with all the vigor that is customary six or eight weeks previous to a struggle. For instance, Dr. Strange and William Mulock, M.P., have been out in North York for the last couple of weeks organizing as they never organized before. Mr. Willoughby has been stumping Cardwell for several days in the Conservative interest. Mr. Lionel Clarke moved his family up to North Wellington and busily engaged in his candidature and organizing against Mr. McMullen. So did Mr. MacLaren, the cheese king, leave Toronto and go back to his old home in North Perth. Dr. Wade and Mr. Pratt, two of the candidates in Muskoka, were also busy. In South Essex Mr. Cowan delivered a number of addresses and organized his committees. Now that the House is called all these gentlemen will probably suspend operations and wear a rather disappointed look when they come into the city.

Political Gossip.

A gentleman who came up from Montreal and Ottawa yesterday said that the Government was straightening out the various tangles in connection with Manitoba. For instance, it was settled that Mr. Patterson was to be Governor and Mr. A. W. Ross, M.P., was to retire and take the Winnipeg postoffice, and that Mr. Scarth was to have a position in connection with one of the public branches. He said further that he would not be surprised if strong efforts were made to induce Hugh John Macdonald to return to public life and take a position in the Government at Ottawa, which was open for him any day he chose to declare himself. His outspoken and courageous announcement in regard to the Manitoba school question has been widely commented upon.

A prominent Conservative was asked yesterday who would be likely to succeed Hon. J. C. Patterson as president of the Liberal-Conservative Union of Ontario should that gentleman go to Manitoba as Governor. He immediately replied that Colonel Tisdale, the member for Simcoe, would most likely be the man, if that gentleman would accept the position, as he is a thorough-going politician, popular with everybody, and who in his unostentatious way has been one of the mainstays of his party.

MAY BE CHARGED WITH MURDER

The Diamond Swindler Is Wanted for a More Serious Offence Than That Alleged Against Him.

Tobias Hutton, the alleged diamond thief of continental fame, appeared in Police Court yesterday morning to answer to the charge of fraud and false pretences which had been registered against him. Out of nearly a dozen aliases read over to him by Magistrate Denison from circulars which had been sent during last week, he chose the name of Hutton as the one he liked best. He declined to elect or plead until he had consulted his counsel, Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, who entered court as the prisoner's name was called.

An adjournment was asked and granted till Thursday. Mr. Johnston requested an order of the court for $157 found in the prisoner's possession at the time of his arrest. Sergeant Reburn objected to the order on the ground of it being the proceeds of stolen goods. It was represented that Hutton's wife and child were in the city devoid of means, and Col. Denison gave an order for one-half the money to be handed over to the prisoner's counsel, to be devoted to his defence and the provision of necesarie for his wife and child.

Inspector Stark was deluged yesterday with queries from American cities, asking for the prisoner. All doubt as to the prisoner being the party who swindled the Southern jewelers has been removed by the arrival of two photographs from Atlanta, Ga.

Macon, Atlanta, Savannah and Augusta, Ga.; Nashville, Tenn.; Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo., are some of the cities where his game was operated, and whose police yesterday wired Inspector Stark their willingness to deal with him. The Southern Express Company, the Wells, Fargo Express Company and the Pinkerton Detective Agency would also like possession of him. From the latter organization a brief outline of the man's previous career came. According to their despatches, his real name is Abraham Rothchild. His home is in Philadelphia, and before he entered upon his present course of life he was drummer for a leading firm of the Quaker City. The despatches also state that in the year 1880 Rothchild robbed and murdered his mistress, Bessie Moore, with whom he was then living at Marshall, Texas.

When in the police dock yesterday Rothchild said he thought the present charge was only a blind, and signified his intention of fighting to the last any extradition proceedings which might be taken.

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES.

Nearly Half a Million Required to Run the Schools This Year.

The estimates of the Finance and Supplies Committees of the Public School Board for 1895 amount to $476,555, and the board to-morrow will be asked to finally pass and submit these estimates to the council. The following are the particulars:

Supplies—Fuel, $20,500; kindergarten supplies, $2000; new school furniture, $6000; remodelling old furniture, $1500; printing, $4000; text books, $4000; blank books, $6500; school supplies, $2500; cupboards, $300; caretakers' supplies, $900; blinds, $350; medals and certificates, $200; total, $48,750.

School accommodation—Four rooms to Morse-street school, $9000; four room building and site at Rosedale, $16,500; six rooms to Borden-street, $14,000; four rooms to Palmerston-avenue, $10,000; four rooms to Queen Victoria school, $12,000; playground at McCaul-street, $6000; total, $67,500. Salaries, $330,243. Repairs, alterations and improvements, $18,000. Rents, etc., $9662. Miscellaneous, $2400.

After good reasons had been shown these increases were made in salaries: The junior inspector from $1700 to $1800; bookkeeper in secretary's office, from $800 to $900; assistant in secretary's office, from $286 to $390.

As originally drawn the estimate for school accommodation was $115,500, but this was reduced by $48,000.

The natural uncontrollable increase in salaries is $10,000.

THOSE CHEAP FURS.

Cheap Only in Price—Quality and Style of the Most Excellent

Yesterday's drop in the temperature was evidence that summer is not yet here, and the ladies who had laid aside their furs were glad to resume them before venturing outdoors. As fur garments will be necessary for some time yet it will pay one and all to remember that Dineens' stock is being slaughtered.

Slaughter is the only word that fitly applies to the sale, for the new and stylish furs which provoke the admiration of every visitor are being sold at an actual sacrifice, in preference to the inconvenience of packing them away until next season.

These goods are the finest in Canada, being made by Dineens' own work people, in the newest styles, and fully guaranteed.

No citizen should neglect to inspect Dineens' new hat stock—all the new blocks are in.

Newfoundland Sends Official Notification of the Departure of Her Delegates—The Question of Improved Waterways—Australian Steamships Indemnified by the Hawaiian Government.

Ottawa, March 25.—His Excellency today received a cablegram from Sir Terence O'Brien, Governor of Newfoundland, intimating that Messrs. Bond, Morris, Ellison and Harwood, members of the Executive Council of the colony, will leave for Ottawa to-morrow.

Evidently Promoter Huddart's company is going to escape any trouble arising out of the Hawaiian rebellion. According to advices which have reached the Department of Trade and Commerce Judge Advocate Kenny of Honolulu has arrived at Vancouver, to negotiate with Messrs. Johnston, Miller and Cranston, who are suing the Canadian-Australian Steamship Company for $50,000 each for their forcible deportation from Honolulu. Before the ship's captain would allow the three men on board he secured a guarantee from the Hawaiian Government that they would be responsible for the consequences, and the Government is now anxious to settle with the three men.

Utilization of Fish Offal.

Mr. McLeod Stewart of this city is interested in the organization of a company for the purpose of utilizing the waste fish and offal from the canneries on the Fraser River in British Columbia, and a company has just been organized by Mr. Pears, a friend of Mr. Stewart, in London for the purpose of raising the necessary capital. Competent authorities state that 400 tons of guano and 145 tons of fish oil can be derived from 1000 tons of residual matter and waste fish. Supposing the company were to start out with the object of utilizing this quantity of waste in one year, and to procure the product stated, it would realize in value £8775. The cost of manufacture would amount to £2100, leaving a net profit of £1675. The company is asking the Dominion for a grant of land on Lulu Island, at the mouth of the Fraser, for the purpose of erecting their factory thereupon.

Improvements of the Waterways.

Mr. A. L. Crocker, president of the Minneapolis Board of Trade, and chairman of the Deep Waterways' Convention, is in the city gathering information with regard to the Canadian canal system. He had an interview with Sir Mackenzie Bowell and other Ministers to-day. Mr. Crocker says that since the Toronto convention he has spent considerable time in looking into the transportation question. It is the great problem which the Northwest has to solve, and he believes the solution lies in the improvement of the waterways on the great lakes and the St. Lawrence.

Supreme Court Cases.

Argument before the Supreme Court in Bathell v. Scotten was concluded to-day. Judgment was reserved.

The next case taken up was Wigle v. Williams, in which the respondent seeks to make the appellant liable as a member of the firm of S. Wigle & Son on notes given by his son in the firm name for the amount due respondent on deposits with the firm. The partnership had been dissolved in 1882, but prior to that the son, who managed the business, used to receive money on deposit, agreeing to pay 8 per cent. for it, and the respondent was one of the depositors. Appellant's counsel argued that, as the business carried on by the firm was only that of a country store, the son could not bind his partner by entering into what was really a banking business and never contemplated by the terms of partnership. He also relied on the Statute of Limitations. Argument was proceeding when court adjourned at 4 o'clock. McCarthy, Q.C., and Fleming for appellant; Hanna for respondent.

SETTLEMENT OF SEALERS' CLAIMS.

Sir C. H. Tupper to Visit Washington and Consult Sir Julian Pauncefote Re Arbitration.

Washington, March 25.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, the Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and the other gentlemen who will accompany him to Washington will probably not arrive until the middle of next month. The purpose of their visit, as has been announced, is that they may be consulted by the British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, in the preparation of a treaty looking to the formation of a commission to consider the claims of the Canadian sealers against the United States under the findings of the Paris Tribunal. The Canadians will take no part in the drawing of the treaty, but in view of the direct interest which Canada has in the matter it was thought well by Her Majesty's Government that they should be consulted as to the phraseology and spirit of the treaty, which result could be more expeditiously gained by Sir Charles H. Tupper being in Washington than if the conclusions reached were subject to a correspondence between himself and Sir Julian. The Canadians will remain about one week, at the end of which time it is thought the treaty will have been agreed upon by Secretary Gresham and the British Ambassador.

Meanwhile the British Government is still hopeful that when Congress meets the appropriation of $425,000 will be speedily passed with a view to compensating the Canadian sealers for the losses sustained by them. If not, then the treaty will be sent to the Senate for ratification. The British Government argues that these claims are not for prospective profits and ought not to be so considered. The vessels, they contend, represented a certain earning capacity and when they were seized or driven out of the only business for which they were adapted the result was a distinct loss to their owners. It is known that the claim originally aggregated $700,000, but that, agreeably to an understanding between Secretary Gresham and Sir Julian, a compromise of $425,000 was reached.

Some doubt is expressed here as to the correctness of the report that Lord Rosebery has promised the Canadians that the British Government will advance this amount to its Canadian subjects and look to the United States for a reimbursement. No such information has reached here.

THAT YONGE-STREET SHOE STORE.

We Mean the Triplet Stock Shoe Co. Who Bought Out West & Co.

Out of all the funny questioning as to who is the purchaser of any stock, the Triplet shoe stock is the funniest of them all, and Howell is the funny fellow who did it. Queen-street is too slow, and he has concluded to hold forth in Yonge-street. After wasting many years at the wholesale trade, and finding that the citizens do not relish the goods in Queen-street, he purchases one of the largest stocks money can buy in Yonge-street, and has also bought the stock, which, with spring goods, has just arrived, all at a small rate on the dollar; says he does not care who comes first or last, but the early bird catches the worm. Now if you know what is good for you don't you be too late, the sale is a chance of a lifetime. The address is 246 Yonge-street, West & Co.'s old stand.

A BONUS TO DAIRIES.

Manitoba to Follow the Lead of the Dominion Government.

Winnipeg, March 25.—The Government has in contemplation the introduction of a bill to bonus the private creameries or cheese factories operating or to be operated in the province dollar to dollar to the amount of the capital invested up to $500. This bonus will be in the form of a loan, repayable at a low rate of interest, and the measure, when it becomes law, will no doubt have the effect desired of stimulating the energies of the farmers in the direction of properly equipping themselves with the most modern aids to successful dairying.

WYCLIFFE COLLEGE SCORED

ARCHBISHOP LEWIS OF KINGSTON EXPLAINS HIS OBJECTIONS.

The Chairman of Trinity Corporation Thinks That the Teaching at Wycliffe Begets Bigotry—Text Books Characterized As Gross Perversion of the Objects Sought to Be Attained.

Kingston, March 25.—To-day being the 33rd anniversary of the consecration of Archbishop Lewis as bishop he was presented with an address signed by the clergy of the diocese of Ontario. In the address, reference being made to the Wycliffe College difficulty His Grace, in his reply said:

It may be well to make plain to you my attitude towards Wycliffe College. Up to the present time I have never made any public statement on the subject nor exhibited the least hostility to the college, though I never viewed its establishment with favor. Ever since I could reason on such subjects I disliked the multiplication of small theological seminaries. I believe that they beget narrowness, which ends in bigotry. This is inevitable when young men of a certain theological stripe are hived together in order to be moulded to order by professors as narrow as themselves. The policy of the first bishops of Canada, like Bishops Mountain and Strachan, was to concentrate the strength of the Church on the establishment of one or two great universities where theological students should be educated in the same building with students in arts, as in the great universities in England and Ireland. Thus I have been identified with Trinity College, from the day of its foundation. I know its full history, I have fought its battles, and by virtue of seniority of consecration am now the Chairman of its Corporation. Is it not, then, too much to ask of even archiepiscopal good nature that I should view with equal esteem and favor a college intended to spring into popularity out of the ruins of Trinity College?

But this is not the only ground for my dislike to Wycliffe College. I seriously object to some of the text books used there, notably, and as a specimen, Hatch's Bampton Lectures, a book characterized by my dear friend the late Bishop of Lincoln, in my hearing, as a gross perversion of the objects sought to be attained by the founder of these lectures, the Rev. John Bampton, I also object to it as an authorized "Book of Reference" for candidates for holy orders.

Further, I disagree with a great deal of the theological teaching given in Wycliffe College. I give as an illustration the following passage taken from the calendar of the college: Among the "distinctive principles" of this college is an "historical episcopate traceable to apostolic direction as conducive to the well-being, but not necessary to the being of the Church." This I believe to be a fiction without a particle of support from the New Testament, primitive authority, or the Book of Common Prayer.

London, March 25.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Francis S. Stevenson called the attention of the Government to the fact that there were three thousand Armenians confined in Turkish prisons.

Sir Edward Grey, Under Foreign Secretary, said there was no reason to suppose that the number was anywhere near so large. Essential to the success of those functions is a really good tea. Half a pound of the Golden Pekoe Tips which Michie & Co. offer at one dollar a pound will convince you that it is a perfect afternoon tea, and, in use, is as cheap as any ordinary 60c tea, so little makes a good cup.

ATTEMPTED MURDER BY FIRE.

Deliberate Attempt to Burn Alive a Weal thy Kansan.

Wichita, Kas., March 25.—An attempt was made yesterday morning to burn alive Fritz Schenitzler, one of the wealthiest men in this city. Mr. Schenitzler's family is away visiting, and he was alone in the house and slept upstairs. Every hallway leading from his room was saturated with coal oil and set on fire. The keyhole of the fire alarm box for that precinct was plugged, so that no alarm could be turned in. Fortunately a railroad man saw the fire, broke open the alarm box and brought out the fire department, Schenitzler, who weighs more than 400 pounds, was not able to escape, but two of the firemen ran through the blaze and carried him out. All three men were badly burned.

SLAUGHTER OF TRIPLETS.

A Business Sensational Sale Now Going On.

Among the many startling business developments which are heralding the opening season, that of Mr. George Howell's of 246 Yonge-street, shoe dealer, is exciting the greatest public interest. Mr. Howell has gained possession of William West & Co.'s late store and stock in trade. With this he is consolidating the large stocks at 112 Queen-street east and 541 Queen-street west, totaling in value $20,000, and which are to be sold at the greatest sacrifice. The store possesses the widest frontage of any Yonge-street shoe store, and after the contemplated extensive alterations are completed will, with its three stories, be one of the most commodious in Toronto. Mr. Howell, however, does not content himself with having a huge store. Working upon 12 years' experience with the largest wholesale shoe house in Canada, he obtains his supplies direct from the fountain head of production, and saves to his patrons three profits which would otherwise go to middlemen. He sells genuine leather goods for the price that other dealers charge for trash. The throngs of customers which already fill his store indicate this quite sufficiently. It is Mr. Howell's intention to make his new premises a complete emporium of the shoe trade and its adjuncts. A heavy shipment of spring goods of the latest designs is now on hand, and must be got rid of.
