Canadian Manufacturers Wait on the Government in Regard to Tariff Changes.

Ottawa, April 18.—(Special.)—Mr. Fielding, speaking of Trinidad free trade, said he could not bring down the correspondence, as much of it was confidential. He had cabled for permission to bring it down.

Mr. Sproule was told by Mr. Fisher that every precaution would be taken to prevent foot and mouth disease, now prevalent in the United States, from spreading to Canadian cattle.

The bill relating to the Ontario and Rainy River Railway Company was read a second time to-day and passed up to the Railway Committee.

A representative delegation of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association waited upon the Finance Minister this morning and asked for several tariff changes. They are opposed to the preferential tariff, especially as it affects the woolen industries of Canada. They asked that precautions be taken to prevent the tariff destroying the protection now enjoyed by those industries. It has been found that goods manufactured in European countries have been sent from England to Canada and received the preference. Numerous other complaints regarding other industries have been received by the association and will at a later time be brought to the attention of the Government. The complaints presented to-day and the redress asked were embodied in a resolution which appears in another column.

BURGLARS GOT SCARED.

The Cheques Stolen From St. Simon's Church on Easter Sunday Have Been Found.

No arrests as yet have been made in the St. Simon's Church robbery case, nor have the police succeeded in getting any trace of the money which was stolen. The cheques, valued at $865, have, however, been recovered by Detective Forrest. They were found in the cash box outside All Saints' Church, on Wilton-avenue. It is evident that the thieves thought that it would be unsafe to attempt to cash them.

D'ARCOS IS MOLLIFIED.

Mayor Harrison of Chicago Has Explained That Insulting Invitation Satisfactorily.

New York, April 18.—Concerning the unpleasant incident resulting from an invitation to attend the Dewey celebration in Chicago, the Duke D'Arcos, Spanish Minister in Washington, last night said that he had just received from Mayor Harrison a reply to his note of protest, says a Washington despatch. "I am fully satisfied with the explanation," said the Duke D'Arcos. "In fact, I knew from the first that a mistake had been made. I know the American people are too broadminded and upright to insult a defeated enemy. I have forgotten that I was invited to Chicago."

The Great Concert on Saturday.

A very excellent program, including selections from Thomas' Mignon, Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci," (the successful opera of the day), Gluck's "Orpheus," Verdi's "Rigoletto," Flotow's "Martha," Strauss' valses and Tosti's serenades, has been prepared for the concert to be given in Massey Hall on Saturday evening, as the last of the brilliant popular concert of the season, by the famous Scalchi Operatic Festival Company. Madame Salchi is the acknowledged queen of the world's contraltos, and the artists she has selected to support her are hardly second to her in European reputation. Madame De Pasquali, the soprano, for instance, is described as possessing a voice of brilliant quality, round, full, even, singularly clear and sweet; of Signor De Pasquali, the tenor, it is said he is one of the purest and most delightful of lyric tenors; of Signor A. Franceschetti, primo baritone, the critics have it that he has a beautiful voice and is a pastmaster of phrasing; of Chevalier Lo Verdi, the director, who is pianist to the Queen of Italy, altho a young man, it is stated that of artistic Paris he is the rage. And the entertainment, in spite of this extraordinary engagement, will combine all the customary popular features, including the cinematograph and stereopticon views of the battles and heroes of the nation. The sale of reserved seats at the usual popular concert prices commenced yesterday and will continue to-day.

S. Ackerman, commercial traveler, Belleville, writes: "Some years ago I used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for Inflammatory Rheumatism, and three bottles effected a complete cure. I was the whole of one summer unable to move without crutches, and every movement caused excruciating pains. I am now out on the road and exposed to all kinds of weather, but have never been troubled with rheumatism since. I, however, keep a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Oil on hand, and I always recommend it to others, as it did so much for me. ed

THE GOVERNMENT FELL DOWN

Mr. German Moved for a Committee to Inquire Into Charges of Fraud Against a Dead Man.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAID "LOST"

But the House Voted It Thru—A Commission to Consider "Scrap Iron" Legislation.

The Legislature did not sit last night. A great deal was, however, crowded into the proceedings up to 6 o'clock, including a defeat of the Government.

An attempt was made by Mr. Gibson to laugh off the effect of Mr. German's mutiny, but there were many signs visible during the taking of the division that the incident had its serious side and deeply chagrined the Government. A majority of 14 against the solid Cabinet upon a matter which the Attorney-General had made the subject of an earnest appeal for support and confidence, was quite a new sensation for the Legislature, and Mr. German pointed the moral by addressing Mr. Ross as "The late Premier."

Mr. Marter's Objection.

At the opening of the House, Mr. Marter drew attention to the fact that no record is kept of questions by members answered in the House. The newspapers are the only record and they sometimes do not find space for the Government answers. In the Legislature of Quebec, the answers are printed in the votes and proceedings.

Premier Ross said the matter was deserving the attention of the Government.

The Scott Estate.

Mr. German moved: "That a select committee be appointed to enquire into the charges of fraud made against the late William A. Scott, by one John Chambers, in 1871, for illegal returns of pine and other timber cut by the said Scott during the years from 1865 to 1871, inclusive, with power to summon witnesses and take evidence under oath, and report its findings to this House."

In a very long speech, Mr. German told how an investigation had been held and how Mr. Johnston, a Government official, estimated the amount of the frauds at $26,000. This was paid to the Government under protest by the Scott estate. Mr. Scott went insane in 1871 and died some four years later. Afterwards the Government returned $6000 to the estate. Three different tribunals had investigated the matter and in every case a different finding was arrived at. Mr. German's idea was that any two members of the Legislature, coupled with a member of the Government, should investigate the whole matter over again.

Attorney-General Gibson replied that Sir Oliver Mowat had gone into this case with extreme carefulness and it was his opinion that much more than the result of the compromise was really due by the parties. Sir Oliver came to the conclusion that there was fraud to the amount of $27,000. The matter had been at rest for 20 years and should be suffered to continue so.

Mr. German refused to withdraw the motion.

Messrs. Blezard, Richardson, Whitney and Carscallen favored the appointment of the committee asked for.

Attorney-General Gibson said it would be unprecedented to investigate a money claim by a committee of the House. He strongly appealed to the House not to pass the resolution.

The Division.

After sitting down the Attorney-General asked Mr. German to allow the motion to "lost on a division," but the member for Welland would not, altho appealed to several times. The members were then called in. The division was as follows:

Yeas—Allen, Auld, Barr, Beatty (Leeds), Blezard, Brower, Carnegie, Carpenter, Carscallen, Crawford, Dempsey, Dickenson, Douglas, Duff, Eilber, Fallis, Foy, Fox, Gallagher, German, Hoyle, Jamieson, Jessop, Joyt, Kribs, Little, Lougheed, Lucas, Marter, Matheson, Miscampbell, Monteith, Morrison, Macdiarmid, McLaughlin, Powell, Pyne, Reid (Addington), Reid (Durham), Richardson, Russell, Thompson, Tucker, White, Whitney—45.

Nays—Aylsworth, Beatty (Parry Sound), Bowman, Bridgland, Brown, Burt, Clarke, Conmee, Davis, Dryden, Farwell, Ferguson, Gibson, Guilford, Harcourt, Harty, Hislop, Holmes, Latchford, Lumsden, Malcolm, Mutrie, McKay, Pardee, Pardo, Preston, Robson, Ross, Stratton, Taylor, Truax—31.

The result of the division was received with loud Opposition cheering.

Mr. Whitney expected to hear the Premier move the adjournment of the House.

Premier Ross Holds Out.

Premier Ross with a laugh said when he was ready to allow the Opposition to cross the floor of the House he would tell them. He was not yet ready, and he remembered also that the late Premier, Sir O. Mowat, had some experience similar to his own at the present moment.

Attorney-General Gibson suggested that they wait for 6 o'clock to adjourn.

Mr. German, with regard to the appointment of the committee, said he had no objection to hold a conference with the late Premier (Mr. Ross).

This crack was received with renewed Opposition applause, and there was no more fun on the Government side.

Returns Wanted.

Mr. Pyne moved for an order of the House for a return showing all lands held in fee simple, or under mining lease by: (1) the Canadian Copper Company, (2) the Anglo-American Iron Company, (3) the Orford Refining Company, (4) Mr. Emerson Burke, (5) Mr. H. P. Macintosh, (6) Mr. H. B. Payne, (7) Major R. G. Leckie, in the districts of Nipissing and Algoma, showing acreage and date of each grant or lease; and showing as well, options registered on or against lands held by other parties by any of the aforenamed companies or parties.

Mr. Davis said there was no objection to bringing down the return asked for.

A Syndicate Cutting Wood.

Mr. Lucas moved for an order of the House for a return of copies of all correspondence and papers in connection with the agreement, dated April 25, 1895, between the Government and Messrs. George Clavet and James Whalen of Port Arthur and Thomas Lyle Bray of Wolseley, Assiniboia. He said that this syndicate, or some members of it, that had obtained the concession and failed to carry out the agreement were still cutting pulpwood and shipping it to the United States.

Mr. Lucas also said the parties named in the agreement were men of straw.

Mr. Davis denied that the parties had cut any pulpwood. Permits had been issued for the cutting of pulpwood on the payment of the usual dues. Exportation was allowed because there were no mills in that section.

Mr. Conmee said Mr. Lucas dare not call the parties in the agreement "men of straw" outside the House.

Mr. Davis said there would be no objection to bringing down the return.

A "Scrap" Iron Commission.

Before the House adjourned Premier Ross rose to announce the decision of the Government with regard to the assessment bills now before the House. The Government had considered the fact that for many years the Assessment Act had been growing cumbrous, and there had gradually grown into it an abundance of anomalies. It was the duty of the Government to consider these facts, and it had been decided that the best mode of giving proper consideration to so important a subject was by the appointment of a royal commission, composed of five or seven capable men, men of municipal experience, men capable of dealing with large questions in a judicious and practical way. There was an Assessment Act in each province of the Dominion, and something might be learned by Ontario from her sister provinces. Something might also be learned from the neighboring States of the union. It was in the interest of the whole province that the Government should deal with this question in a comprehensive way. He, therefore, proposed that the different bills looking to amendment of the Assessment Act now before the House be allowed to stand until the report of the Royal Commission should be brought down. The Government fully expected to be able during the next session to deal with the Assessment Act with the advantages of wide information and a large view of the situation. It was to be hoped that in this way the vexed question of assessment would be permanently settled.

The Government is Afraid.

Mr. Whitney: The information of the Premier does not surprise us. It only confirms the suggestion made yesterday by the Commissioner of Crown Lands before the Municipal Committee. It is another instance of the Government refusing to deal with any question of importance, and the reason is that the Government feels so insecure that it dare not take the responsibility which by right and duty devolves upon a responsible Ministry under our system of Government. Why do they stand in fear if they have the confidence of their own opinion? They have dealt for many years with this question of assessment. What do they fear now? Oh, sir, they know how much danger there is in a piece of scrap iron. [Laughter and applause.] Between the upper millstone of the corporations and the nether millstone of public opinion they dare not deal with their own arrangement entered into with the corporations. They did not know what a boomerang it was going to turn out. The people of the Province have been led to believe that their rights were interfered with by "scrap iron" legislation. But, sir, there is no one to blame for it except hon. gentlemen themselves, if to-day the people of the Province have a strong idea of irregularity of that proceeding. It is the Government themselves have led the people in that direction. The people are convinced, as the House is convinced, that the "scrap iron" legislation wants a remedy. Hon. gentlemen need not disguise, or attempt to disguise, the fact that it is solely because the Government are afraid now to deal with this question, that they intend to shift the responsibility to the shoulders of a Royal Commission.

Now, sir, without desiring to go any further with this question, I would like to ask the Premier whether to-morrow we shall have every Government measure, including railway and other grants, before the House.

The Railway Grants.

Premier Ross replied that all the Government measures except the railway grants would be before the House this week.

Mr. Whitney: Then, sir, the Opposition will consider it their duty to take the course outlined already, that never more, on no other occasion, while we are here, will we allow the same course to be pursued by the Government in regard to these grants that has been pursued by the Government in the past. [Applause from the Opposition.] The Premier might have brought down his railway resolutions a month ago. There was nothing on this round earth to prevent him. I warn him that he will fail in his intention to bring this session to a close if there is a single proposition held back after this week.

Premier Ross: My hon. friend worries himself unnecessarily about the Government measures. If they remain here until August, we will stay with him. [Government applause.] We are in no hurry to get away from the embrace of the hon. gentleman. Does he think he has the Government by the throat?

Mr. Whitney: Pretty nearly.

Premier Ross: My hon. friend is less powerful to-day than he was at the beginning of the session. His influence is waning. I can see it in his face. I defy him to do anything within the rules of parliamentary procedure. We will stay here as long as hon. gentlemen please. From the time the leader of the Opposition entered the House until now he has not brought down a single substantial measure that would be of the slightest value to anyone in the Province.

The House adjourned.

Evening Session.

For the first time in the history of the association a woman has been elected to the important position of president. This honor belongs to Mrs. A. M. Hughes of the kindergarten section. Both the secretary, Mr. Robert Doan, principal of Dufferin School, and the treasurer, Mr. W. J. Hendry, were re-elected for the ensuing year. Col. Farewell of Whitby, the retiring president, delivered his address, which dealt with the work of the association in its different phases, and suggested improvements in the educational system.

Principal Grant Speaks.

Principal Grant of Queen's University, Kingston, made a stirring address, in which he showed the many defects in the system of educating the young. He took for his subject, "What We Lack." Education, he said, was as much complexed as life; it deals with the development of the child and should go to make character and citizenship. The necessary driving power was lacking all along the line, and to make this power useful it must be applied in the right direction. Teachers were only in the service to remain because they have no hope of bettering themselves. In referring to the salary question, he said that men and women should not work for money only; they should possess and be inspired by higher thoughts. He favored overlapping in studies, and declared that if the High School could not stand against the Common School the quicker it goes to the wall the better. He advocated more freedom for the teachers. Speaking of the universities, he said that the object of these institutions was not to turn out professional men, but to educate the men who will constitute the country. In reference to technical schools, he thought their work should commence after a pupil had received a general education, and did not believe in making a farmer out of a child. A good general education fits a person for technical training. In conclusion, Principal Grant said the blame for the small salaries paid teachers lay not with any one man, but with the community. A remedy will only come with the gradual elevation of the people. He hoped the profession would be honored, as there was none other like it, and many great men had once been teachers.

Rev. Father Ryan, who was present as the representative of the High School Board, endorsed Principal Grant's ideas, but was strongly in favor of manual training. According to a census he had made, the majority of prominent professional men had been imported into Canada. He thought Canada ought to turn out her own prominent men. The report of the Committee on the Preparation of Teachers was again laid over till the next annual meeting.

Several of the sections that have not yet concluded their business will meet again to-day.

The Evangeline Home.

On account of the unpropitious condition of the weather on Tuesday many citizens were deprived of the opportunity of inspecting the new Children's Home of the Salvation Army. The premises will be open for inspection to-morrow from 2 to 5 p.m. Lieut.-Col. Mrs. Read, Dominion superintendent of the social work among the women and children, invites all interested in the work among destitute children to call in and see the bright new home at 68 Farley-avenue (close to Esther).

We learn from the Rev. Dr. Warden, Presbyterian Offices, Toronto, that he has received toward the India Famine Fund since the beginning of this month in the neighborhood of $10,000. Among the contributions thus received is one of $30.04 given by the Mission Union Sabbath School, which meets at the corner of Mission-avenue and Hayter-street. This is the first time that the children of this school have ever helped others, and it is encouraging to know that their sympathies have gone out so strongly upon behalf of the famine-stricken in the distant part of the British Empire.

VICTORY AT SHELBURNE.

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills for Weak People Win Again.

Mr. H. Backus, Proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Tells the Story of the Struggle—Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills Cure Indigestion.

No human being can be perfectly healthy all the time. Something goes wrong with all of us at some time or another, though this need not be the case. Some suffer more than others; thousands die premature deaths every year.

Why is this?

The reason is simple.

The disease in every case is caused by germs that have made their way into the system, and whose ravages cause pain, suffering and death.

What is the remedy?

There is only one, so there can be no mistake made about it. That one is Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills for Weak People, the only known medicine that destroys the germs of disease, counteracts the poisons (toxins) they have created in the blood, repairs the damages they have done; cleanses the blood; braces the nerves, and thoroughly revitalizes the whole system. Every person without exception who has used Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills states freely that they have effected a thorough cure.

No other medicine acts as Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills act. They cure disease by destroying the germs that cause disease. This is the only unfailing way to cure disease. Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills—and no other medicine—do this.

Following you will find the story of how they cured Mr. H. Backus, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, Shelburne, Ont.:

"I have been cured of a most severe and obstinate case of indigestion and sour stomach by Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills. I had tried various so-called remedies without benefit. When I began using Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills I found relief. My stomach is now in perfect order, and my digestive system does its work promptly and properly. Have gained 30 pounds in weight in four weeks since I began using Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills, and I feel stronger and better every way than for 20 years before."

Dr. Arnold's English Toxin Pills for Weak People are sold by all druggists; large box, 75c; small box, 25c; or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, by The Arnold Chemical Co., Limited, Canada Life Building, 44 King-street west, Toronto.

Friday's Amazing Values.

Our Easter trade has been the largest in the history of this progressive business. In appreciation of your patronage the aftermath of Easter will yield on Friday an array of real bargains which we believe to be entirely unrivalled. Real bargains can be had only at somebody's very real loss. In some instances the loss is ours, in others the maker's—in every case your gain. Most of these articles are in quantities sufficiently large to ensure the filling of mail orders.
