WHAT SEASON COST IN LIVES AND PROPERTY

Cyprus Disaster Was Worst of the Season—Property Loss $2,598,000.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—Marine insurance ran out Thursday and as a consequence few boats are tempting the elements.

Therefore, it is quite probable that there will be few or no more serious accidents on the lakes from now until the ice forces the last boat to lay up.

From the beginning of navigation until Dec. 5 there were 135 lives lost on the lakes, and the principal monetary losses aggregate $2,598,000. Eight small steamers have burned since Oct. 7, the City of Cleveland and Naomi were destroyed earlier in the season. The loss of the Cyprus caused the greatest loss of life, only one of a crew of 23 escaping, when she went down in a Lake Superior gale on Oct. 12. The Arcadia with 14 lives lost is the second largest disaster.

THROWN FROM HIS WAGON.

Injured Man Died While Being Hurried on Train to Hospital in Peterboro.

GARDEN HILL, Dec. 6.—(Special.)—John Hunter, a farmer living between Garden Hill and Millbrook, was thrown from his wagon in a runaway at Garden Hill this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He died an hour later on the train, while being hurried to Nicholls' Hospital, at Peterboro.

Hunter, who was a bachelor, 60 years of age, living with his sister on his farm, was driving his team past Gray's Mill, in Garden Hill. The horses took fright and soon became unmanageable. While passing over a bridge a short distance from the mill, Hunter was thrown out. His head struck the upper works of the structure, and his skull was severely fractured.

Dr. A. B. Beatty was called and hurried the injured man to the station, where he was put upon a train for Peterboro. Dr. Beatty accompanied him, but he died before reaching Millbrook, where the body was removed to an undertaking establishment. There it was viewed by Coroner Montgomery, who decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

The team continued on their way, returning to the Hunter farm.

STEEPLEJACK'S ESCAPE.

Caught High in Air, Was Slowly Freezing.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6.—For three hours to-day, Arthur O'Donnell, a steeplejack of New Rochelle, N.Y., faced death in a swaying seat, suspended from the spire of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes, 190 feet above the ground. The rope had caught in a cornice when he started to descend after four hours' work in the air. After all expedients had failed to reach him, firemen burst a hole in the steeple's side and loosened the rope. O'Donnell's hands and face were frozen, and he collapsed as the seat touched the ground before a crowd of a thousand.

REPUBLICS TO ARBITRATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A practical agreement on the outlines of an arbitration treaty, with an international court for the arbitration of differences arising between them, it is said authoritatively, has been reached by the delegates to the Central American peace conference, which is in session here.

His Picture Haunts Him.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 6.—Alfred Walmsley, aged 28, of Toronto, was observed by Detectives Cotter and Williamson, strolling along Michigan-avenue this morning. The detectives recognized him as a man who had his picture in police literature, and asked him if he had not done time in Canada as a pickpocket. Walmsley at first denied, but later is said to have owned up that he was the man. He will have his picture taken and then be requested to leave town.
