HOT X BUNS.—Mr. Davidson of the Vienna Bakery is preparing an unlimited supply of hot cross buns for Good Friday morning. Send in your orders without delay.

REDUCED FARES.—Those who wish to take a trip during the Easter holidays, can do so at a cheap rate on the G. W. R. A single fare and a third is announced.

G. T. U.—Dr. Philp is expected to deliver an address at the Gospel Temperance Union meeting, in the M. E. Church, on Monday evening next. The meeting will be open to the public.

RINK.—The skating rink has been kept open and has been pretty well patronized during the past week or so, the protracted reign of the frost king preserving the congealed element in good condition.

SCHOOL BOARD.—The public School Board will meet in the Council Chamber this (Friday) evening, to appoint a teacher for the lowest department of the school, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Martin.

FOR cut nails, paints and oils, and all descriptions of building hardware, go to S. Bricker and Co's., where complete supplies can be had at lowest figures. Parties about to build will find it to their interest to deal with us.—7

EASTER VESTRY.—The Easter Vestry meeting of Christ Church, for the appointment of Wardens and transacting other business, will be held on Monday next at 10 o'clock a. m. All the church members are invited to be present.

CONTRACTS are being let for the erection of a cotton factory in Hamilton, which is to furnish employment for 200 hands. The country cannot be going to the dogs after all, the croakers about the ruinous N. P. to the contrary notwithstanding.

ALTHOUGH we have crossed the division line twixt the seasons, the intensely cold wave of the present week would indicate that winter has not as yet given way altogether to his successor, gentle spring. The days of apple blossoms and roses are still in the distance.

BARK.—Parties having hemlock bark to dispose of are directed to the advertisement of Messrs. Towner & Campbell for information of a ready market. These gentlemen are prepared to pay the highest price in cash for 1,000 cords of that commodity.

EVERY Farmer who wishes to prosper, should take the Canadian Farmer, the only weekly Agricultural paper published in the Dominion. The crop reports, collected from various sources, are alone worth the money over and over again. See advertisement in another column.

THE Sabbath School festival held in Knox Church on Friday evening last eventuated quite successfully. There was a good turnout, and the gathering, largely made up of young folks of course, spent a pleasant evening. A considerable sum was realized in aid of the S. S. library.

CHESLEY has lost its barber. So says a northern contemporary. To prevent our readers from drawing wrong conclusions, we might state that this has no reference to the "shaving" institution opened in that embryo Chicago some little time ago by a couple of our speculative citizens.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.—The treasurer of the Mechanics' Institute not being present on Monday evening at the meeting called to consider the resuscitation of the Institute, it was decided to postpone the meeting until next Monday evening, when it is desired that all who take an interest in the matter will attend.

Counterfeit Dominion notes of one dollar issue of July 1st, 1870, are in circulation. They are calculated to deceive, except in the case of a very close scrutiny, and can be detected by the red ink numbers, which are ragged on the edges as though printed with poor ink; the word "one" on the lower side of the bill also looks daubed.

DOMINION HOUSE.—Mr. John C. Burt is to the fore this week with a special announcement, conveying information of the elaborate stock of spring goods opened out at the Dominion House. In addition to the numerous attractions of this well appointed establishment, Mr. Burt has opened a tailoring department, which will be under the management of Mr. Caldbeck, who has the reputation of being a first-class cutter.

OUR dry goods merchants have been all alive during the past few days receiving their spring stocks. The great piles of goods which they have been opening out indicate that they are anticipating a brisk spring trade. The want of snow has militated against their business during the latter portion of the winter season and a lively spring opening will be all the more welcome. We trust that their anticipations will be fully realized.

GOOD FRIDAY.—This day being a legal holiday, business generally will be suspended in town. As the day commemorates an event of vital importance to the Christians belief, it should be observed more in the spirit of solemnity, which the occasion calls forth than as a day surrendered to the indulgences which the modern acceptation of the term "holiday" suggests. Special services will be held in Christ Church this morning at 10.30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. H. Cooper.

FOR THE LADIES.—The ladies of Listowel and vicinity will no doubt be pleased to learn that Mrs. Leslie has again opened out a millinery and mantle wareroom in town. Her rooms are now located over Messrs. Climie, Hay & Co's store. Mrs. Leslie having personally selected from the best wholesale houses in Toronto a very complete stock, including all the latest novelties and fashions in millinery and mantle goods, the most fastidious of the gentle sex should have no difficulty in finding just what they desire at her rooms.

SCALDED.—Christopher Widenhimer, fireman at Hess Bros.' furniture manufactory, was severely scalded while on duty a few days ago. As he was descending a ladder into a hot water tank which he supposed to be empty, his support gave way, letting him down to the bottom very suddenly. To his dismay he found about three feet of water in the tank, the temperature of which was uncomfortably hot, though fortunately below boiling heat. He managed to make his way out by climbing up a hot pipe. His limbs were considerably scalded before he got out, and had he remained in the tank any length of time it might have been a very serious matter. He has since been laid up, but is now recovering from the effects of his hot bath.

CRIMINAL STATISTICS.—The first volume of criminal statistics for the Dominion of Canada is issued. It covers the years 1876, 1877 and 1878. The summaries for the Provinces are altogether too detailed for publication in abstract form. A glance at the returns, however, shows that the uneducated and elementarily educated classes are overwhelmingly in the majority among criminals. During 1878 the convictions in the county of York, Ont., make the following exhibit as to the educational status of criminals:—Unable to read, 378, unable to write, 386, of elementary education, 2,330, of superior or fair education, 38.

DIVISION COURT ACT.—The following is a synopsis of the Division Court Act:—"Claims for the recovery of debts or money on demand, the amount of which does not exceed $200, can be tried at the division court, but when the amount exceeds $200 there shall be an appeal as heretofore. The clerk shall place all suits in which the sum sought to be recovered exceeds $100 at the foot of the trial list and the other business of the court shall take precedence, unless the judge for special reasons decides otherwise. The judge shall require such additional security to be given by the clerk and bailiffs as shall afford sufficient security. There shall be paid to the clerk in the division court—in addition to all costs or jury fees now by law payable—on every suit entered where the claim exceeds $40, two cents, does not exceed $100, five cents; exceeds $100, ten cents. Each juror shall be paid the sum of $1.

THE APRIL ATLANTIC MONTHLY contains three new chapters of Mr. Howells' very striking story, "The Undiscovered Country," and the opening chapters of "The Stillwater Tragedy," a serrial story by T. B. Aldrich. This begins in a way to fascinate all readers, and though a tragedy is disclosed at once, the humor and narrative charm which all of Mr. Aldrich's stories possess are here in perfection. The ATLANTIC has, in addition, "Clary's Trial," a capital short story by Rose Terry Cooke; "A Canterbury Pilgrimage," one of the most engaging of Richard Grant White's English papers; "The Lost Occasion," a fine poem by Whittier; some "Verses of a Letter," by Miss Sarah O. Jewett, author of "Old Friends and New;" "Reminiscences of Washington," a chapter of anecdotes and recollections of Jackson's administration; and a large variety, besides, of poems, essays, reviews, and the Contributors' Club,—all making an exceptionally good number of what an English journal calls "the best of the monthlies." HOUGHTON, OSGOOD & CO., Boston.

INDECENT ASSAULT.—On Saturday last a case of indecent assault was heard before a bench of Listowel magistrates, composed of Mayor Scott, Reeve Hay and D. D. Campbell Esq. The complainant was Margaret Zubrig, of Trowbridge, and the defendant, George Jackson, a wealthy farmer of Elma. Both parties have resided in Elma for a number of years, and their social positions have been among the most prominent in the township. Mrs. Zubrig is relict of the late Peter Zubrig, who owned a farm and saw mills in the vicinity of Trowbridge. It appears that Jackson had held a mortgage on the farm, and that the property has ultimately came into his possession. The widow occupied the house up to within a few days ago. Jackson had made frequent calls at the house while transacting business on the farm. In her information, Mrs. Zubrig deposed that on Friday morning last Jackson came to her residence and made an indecent assault upon her. The evidence, which is unfit for publication, was considered sufficient to warrant a commitment of the defendant, and he was accordingly committed to await trial at a competent court. Bail was accepted for his appearance, himself in $1,000, and another surety in a like amount. Mr. Dingman conducted the prosecution, and Mr. Gearing appeared for the defendant. The case has created considerable interest in the neighborhood, owing to the positions of the parties.

Editor STANDARD,—Sir: As the editor of the Banner has made a statement in his paper last week which is false and calculated to do us an injury, permit us the use of your columns to correct him and set ourselves right before the public. In a paragraph in last week's Banner under the heading, "Leaving Town," he states that "Some ten or fifteen of the hands of Hess's chair factory have left for other parts, in consequence of a reduction." This statement is entirely false. In the first place, only five men left us, and in the second place, not a single one of them left in consequence of a reduction, as we did not reduce, or propose to reduce, their wages. The places of the five persons who left have already been filled—some of the new hands being married men with families, whereas those who left were young men—and at equally as large wages as we were paying the old hands. Where the editor of the Banner got his information we don't know, but would suggest that in future he be more particular in publishing statements calculated to injure both ourselves and the town's credit, and evidently for the sake of getting a fling at the National Policy. So far as the National Policy has effected our business, the fact that there were 53 hands on our pay roll a year ago, and now we have 97, is a good sign that our business is not being injured by it. Notwithstanding this large increase in the number of our hands, we have more orders in at the present time than we can possibly fill. Hoping that the editor of the Banner will confine himself to the truth when endeavoring to show the ruinous effects of the National Policy, and that he will exhibit a more patriotic interest in the prosperity of our town,

Yours, &c.,
HESS BROS.,
Furniture Manufacturers.

WHAT "ECONOMY" COSTS.

Editor STANDARD,—Sir: Having observed the action of "Economy," alias W. G. Hay, and his obedient followers during the last three months, it is only just that all the good and economical doings of those men should be shown to our fellow citizens. As the School Board has undertaken to economize, and that for the best interests of the town, let us see how it works. First, the promotions from one room to another should have been made in January last so as to allow the children to advance in their several studies, without any time being lost. Instead of this being done at the proper time, three months of the children's time have been thrown away in going over lessons which it is said they had by rote. I find on examination of the school accounts that the aggregate salaries of all the Public School Teachers of this town is about $2,700. One-fourth of this, then, is lost to the town through diriliction of duty on the part of the Board, the school having been kept at a stand-still awaiting the promotions. This is what is termed by the present School Board "Economy." The next thing I would wish to bring before your notice is, that although Mr. W. G. Hay is styled an "apostle," I am quite certain he is not a "prophet," as he invariably predicted prior to his initiation into the School Board, that our present staff of teachers were getting more than they could in other places, and that equally as good teachers could be got to fill the positions for less salary. This having been tried, it is only necessary to direct attention to the department already supplied to convince any intelligent person that this prophesy has not been fulfilled. Those who left are getting equally as good, and in one instance a higher salary. Mr. Hay, if a prophet, is evidently a false one. I can see no other way for the present School Board to set this political bungling right than to have it fairly represented at the next meeting of the Ontario Legislature, and have a special act of Parliament legalizing the whole action of the Board, not forgetting to have a clause inserted to suit the Inspectorship. Yours,

A PARENT.

COMING EVENTS.

As the cold and bleak winter winds pass away, and the warm and exhilirating influences of spring-time come to gladden the hearts of the millions who inhabit our lake-bound domain, so comes annually a diversity of sports, pastimes and entertainments in their proper season, to lift the clouds of care and despondency, and let in a little sunshine athwart the pathway of our busy life. And as journalists, we are pleased to announce, that at no very distant day, we are to be visited with a superb tent exhibition, known as Pullman & Hamilton's Great London Confederation, embracing in its catalogue of attractions, everything pleasing, novel and attractive. From the funny antics of the clowns, to the artistic feats of the gymnasium, and from the perilous adventures of cloud-walking bipeds, to the marvelous manœuvres of the canine and equine quadrupeds, a mirth-provoking carnival of Humpty Dumpty, and prolific street pageants. The whole crowned with a master-mark of managerial perseverance, by the introduction into the Dominion, of the wonderful "Electric Light," with which the immense new pavilions are to be illuminated. Messrs. Pullman & Hamilton being the first to introduce this greatest of inventions to our people, prove beyond question, that they are "live managers," and determined that nothing in the way of attractions shall escape their notice. We read in the reports, that the Electric Light produces the effect of a thousand jets of gas burners, or that one single light is equal to the blaze of ten thousand candles, or even more brilliant than the rays of a dozen concentrated suns. A 30 horse-power engine and 20,000 yards of insulated wire is used to produce the light, which our citizens will be on the qui vive to see, when the Great Electric Light Show arrives. We might add, and with pleasure too, that these gentlemen are quite well and favorably known to many of our business men throughout the Dominion. As, for two winters past, they have kept their entire stock within our borders and expended many thousands of dollars in refitting and beautifying their popular exhibition paraphernalia, we feel more free to extend to them the right hand of fellowship than we should to some foreign enterprise, who merely drop in and take what money they can get, and then, during the winter, hunt their homes across the river, to expend their surplus there—Ex.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam has a tonic affect on the stomach and the digestive organs, without any injurious effect on the system. It allays irritation of the bronchial tubes and stomach, removing the phlegm from the air cells to the lungs; at the same time healing the inflamed or irritated parts. We have never known it to fail in giving satisfaction, when used according to directions, for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, or any other affection of the throat or lungs leading to consumption. For sale by all dealers at 25 cents per bottle.

"No! You Must not."

Perhaps the strongest anomaly in human nature is to see little children crying for medicine. But so it is when they have partaken of Scott & Bowne's Palatable Castor Oil. These gentlemen by their pharmaceutical skill have made this hitherto noxious drug a positive delight, and one that is a pleasure, not a nauseating effort, to partake. All admit the beneficial effects of Castor oil, but are restrained from taking it by the revolting taste. This, thanks to science, has been overcome. Price 25 cents.
