South American Markets for Canada.

The Ottawa Government is putting forth most commendable efforts to extend the foreign trade of Canada. Statements prepared by Government Statistician Johnson are sent out at intervals showing the directions in which there are openings for the expansion of Canadian commerce.

The United States now export many million dollars' worth of products to Central and South America and the West Indies. In several lines the exports of Canada are almost nil, lines, too, in which it should be possible for the Dominion to successfully compete with the United States.

Our neighbors export one and a half million dollars' worth of agricultural implements to the other American states to the south, over a million dollars' worth going to the Argentine Republic alone. Canada's exports in this line only total $81,000, yet Canadian implements are quite as good and could be produced as cheap. Since the Dominion was able last year to send $109,000 worth to Australia, it should make a better showing in a market nearer home.

The exports of the Republic in live animals last year amounted to a million and a quarter dollars, while Canada's was nil. The biggest item in these exports of the United States was to Mexico—half a million. This year, however, a start has been made in shipping horses from Quebec to South America and the West Indies.

The Yankees last year sold over $18,000,000 worth of wheat and flour to the other American states; of this $4,000,000 worth went to Brazil. The extent of the market here offered for Canadian farm produce shows the desirability of meeting their offers in a liberal spirit.

Canada, with the best iron mines in the world, exports practically none of this metal, either in its raw or manufactured state. The exports of the United States in this line to the rest of the continent—exclusive of Canada—were valued at nearly $10,000,000 in 1889.

The United States sends nearly $10,000,000 worth of meat products to South America and the West Indies annually, while Canada sends none at all. Why should not Canadians have a share in this magnificent trade?

Of lumber and other products of the forest the United States last year sent to the West Indies and South and Central America $7,000,000, while Canada only sent $1,100,000 worth. Why should Canada make wasteful concessions to get free admission for its lumber products to the United States when this other market is open?

There is a big market to the south of us—aside from the United States—and to that market attention should be directed as well as to the West Indies.

Cattle Disease Scare.

John Bull does well to be careful lest diseased cattle from any quarter of the globe find their way into his tight little island. By and by, however, it will come to be accepted as a fact of nature that pleuro-pneumonia cannot exist in Canada. The climatic conditions are dead against it. Nevertheless, as Ald. Frankland remarked to The World on Monday, considering how slight a thing will disturb this great ocean cattle trade, every care should be taken to prevent anything approaching suspicion being shipped. Old cows are not as strong as young cattle, and are therefore more or less susceptible to disease.

They are apt to contract inflammatory diseases on the passage and become the occasion of detaining a whole cargo. The lungs of perhaps only a single suspected animal have to be sent to the veterinary department in London. This was done in the case of the steamship Corean, because a disease, suspected to be pleuro-pneumonia, had attacked one of the cattle. After a careful examination, however, the animal was pronounced free from contagious disease.

Mr. Chaplin, the first Minister of Agriculture in connection with the home Parliament, is fully awake to the dire evil of admitting contagious disease into the Mother Country from abroad. New brooms are said to sweep clean, and he may be a little too much disposed to magnify his office. But he is the stubborn fact we have to deal with, and Canadian cattlemen must make up their minds to encounter a strict investigation on the other side.

Health Office Candidates.

The city is in danger, in matters of sanitation, of becoming known as "Darkest Toronto," and evidently needs some General Booth to show it "The Way Out."

What is the matter that the experts appointed to select a candidate must pluck every medical feather submitted to them? The position no doubt requires an all-round medical man of more than ordinary ability. Is it that such a man cannot be tempted to present himself? The committee would seem to imply something of the kind, for with their report they present a number of considerations, the first of which is that they are "of the opinion that the onerous character of the duties of the medical officer of health and the grave responsibility devolving upon him entitle the position to consideration in the matter of facilities for carrying on the work equal to that afforded to other branches of the civic service and to a remuneration on a commensurate scale."

Or is it that the committee have set up an altogether impracticable ideal? That the standard should be high is right enough. But who takes every mark in a medical examination? "None of them," it is said, "had come up to the required standard." But how far did they reach towards it? Let the committee give us the "marks." That none of the candidates came up to the required standard is no good reason why the experts should have felt themselves debarred from giving a report in the order of merit. Only set the standard high enough and we may wait till doomsday for the man who shall come up to it.

Dr. Nesbitt sent a letter, in which he says: "If the council persisted in the requirements contained in the instructions to our committee, it is my deliberate opinion that no practitioner in this city or in the province at large will be found to attain to this high standard. In fact, I doubt if any would excel these three gentlemen on more prominently mentioned in this connection."

Meanwhile, the sanitary situation, as The World pointed out yesterday, is bad and in danger of becoming worse.

A new invention is that of a collapsible railway car in which the principle of air cushions is applied to prevent danger on accidents in case of collisions. The car will be in two compartments, one larger than the other and empty, so that when a collision occurs the smaller section will be forced into the larger, the air in which will act as a cushion and relieve the occupied section of the sudden shock.

Major McKinley's own state, Ohio, is looking for potatoes in Canada. Commission merchants have received enquiries yesterday for round lots of choice Canadian potatoes for shipment to Columbus, Ohio. As the Canadian price will be paid, evidently American farmers will not pay the duty this time.

The Bermuda Cable.

The Bermuda cable now completed, could carry no finer tidings than that Burdock Blood Bitters excels all other remedies in curing diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. Known everywhere as the perfect blood purifier, curing even the worst cases when all else fails.

THE CLUB HOUSE SITE.

The University Senate Will Offer a $40,000 Lot—The Toronto Club Committee Favors the Idea—Other Sports.

The location of the proposed Toronto Athletic Club House will in all probability be in College-avenue. The Provisional Committee have not made a definite offer for the Jones property, but for a long time have had their eyes on it.

As stated Monday, the Varsity Athletic Association may join in the Toronto scheme. If the Provisional Committee purchase the Jones lot or any other private property would the University Association take enough stock to secure sufficient interest and representation of the directorate?

A special Student and Graduate Committee found it very difficult to raise funds for the same purpose three years ago and endeavored to secure the co-operation of the Senate.

Many members of that body are now willing to assist the student athletes to the extent of a $40,000 donation in the shape of a site for the proposed Toronto Athletic Club House. And the necessary majority should favor this donation. A prominent member of the Senate yesterday averred that a site could be secured in the vicinity of the College Y.M.C.A. and Wycliffe. The gentlemen of the Provisional Committee spoken to also favored the idea. Thus the University Association would secure representation on the directorate, and also sufficient accommodation for gymnasium and training purposes for their 1000 shares, and the Provisional Committee would have admirably disposed of a big bulk of their stock.

The Provisional Committee announce that they will not chose their site until the general January meeting, and that in the meantime Secretary Harston will give any information desired to those who will call at his office, 9 Toronto-street, any day from 12½ to 2 p.m.

A GOOD TRACK AT THE GUT.

Four Favorites Floored—Capulin's Handicap—Ida Girl's Second.

GUTTENBURG, Dec. 9.—A good track and large entries with few withdrawals contributed to an interesting day's racing. Of the six events only two were captured by favorites.

First race, 1 mile—Brussels 1, Macauley 2, Sir Rae 3. Time 1.45¾.

Second race, ¾ mile—Ethel S 1, Little Fred 2, Leveller 3. Time 1.18.

Third race, 11-16 mile—Sallie Harper 1, Mohican 2, Iceberg 3. Time 1.53¾.

Fourth race, handicap, 6½ furlongs—Capulin 1, Iago 2, Kenwood 3. Time 1.22¾.

Fifth race, 5½ furlongs—Red Elm 1, Peril 2, Salisbury 3. Time 1.09¾.

Sixth race, 1¼ mile—Tom Daly 1, Ida Girl 2, Neptunus 3. Time 1.31¾.

And Only Two Favorites at Gloucester.

GLOUCESTER, Dec. 9.—Favorites succeeded in winning only two of the five races.

First race, 4½ furlongs—Millerton and Masher d. h., Iverno 3. Time .57½. Millerton won the run off in .56¾.

Second race, ¾ mile—Lucky Clover 1, Gildero 2, Hibernia gelding 3. Time 1.19½.

Third race, 6½ furlongs—Sterling 1, Jim Worson 2, Carline 3. Time 1.23.

Fourth race, 1⅛ furlongs—Gilmer 1, Sir William 2, Harwood 3. Time 1.58½.

Fifth race, 1 1-16 miles—Quotation 1, Glendale 2, Edward F. 3. Time 1.53½.

Brooklyn's Big Stake.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The Brooklyn Jockey Club sees the Coney Island Club's offer of $15,000 for the Suburban and goes it $5000 better for the Brooklyn Handicap. In other words, in deference to the tendency of the times, both these jockey clubs have made these two great handicaps much more valuable than ever before.

The last Suburban was for a guarantee stake of $10,000. Next June's race will be for a guaranteed stake of $15,000.

The last race for the Brooklyn Handicap was for a guaranteed stake of $10,000. Next May the race will be for a stake of $20,000. At this rate, when in a single year a stake is doubled in value, who can predict the limit? And this only just and proper that such races as the Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps, drawing cards of the first magnitude, should be peculiarly well-worth winning.

The Brooklyn Jockey Club also announces a new race called the Maturity Handicap, for 4-year-olds, one mile and a furlong.

Other stakes now open for the spring meeting of the club are the Great American, the Clover, Bedford, May and Seaside, for 2-year-olds; the Fort Hamilton Handicap and Falcon Stakes, for 3-year-olds, and the Brookdale, Parkway, St. James Hotel, Brooklyn Cup and Myrtle Stakes, for 3-year-olds and upwards, all closing on Jan. 2 next.

An important item in connection with the $20,000 Great American Stakes is that none of Mr. Belmont's yearlings are disqualified from this stake, which has conditions similar to the Futurity and Realization Stakes.

Lindsay Curlers to Visit Gotham.

LINDSAY, Dec. 9.—A challenge has been received by Mr. J. D. Flavelle from the American Curling Club for a one or two rink match to be played in New York or its vicinity this season. The Lindsay club will accept and send two rinks to Gotham about the last of January.

Harrison Will Wrestle Johnston.

Sporting Editor World: I see a challenge in your paper to me from Mr. E. W. Johnston to wrestle me a mixed style of wrestling for a stake. Mr. E. W. Johnston knows perfectly well that I will not wrestle for money owing to the position I hold. I have been waiting for a reply from Mr. Gallagher for three weeks and I thought the match had fallen through until yesterday, when it was too late, for I had made arrangements for a match with Mr. Richardson of London and Mr. Perrie of Brussels. I am going under a course of training to get myself in shape for the gentleman. I will give Mr. E. W. Johnston a chance. I will wrestle him catch-as-catch-can and Graeco-Roman and the one winning the quickest fall to have the choice of the third at any date between Dec. 15 and 20, winner to take full receipts after expenses, the match to take place at any suitable place outside of the Olympic Gymnasium or in public free, as I want to see how I can wrestle with the other gentleman. No further heed will be taken of Mr. E. W. Johnston, only on the conditions of this challenge. R. N. HARRISON.

If Joe beats Norseng it is his intention to issue a general challenge at once to Fredericksen and any other skater in Norway.

HOW THEY LOSE GROUND.

A Two Days' Missionary Conference in Central Presbyterian Church.

Under the auspices of the Toronto Presbytery a two days' missionary conference is being held in Central Presbyterian Church. The conference opened yesterday at 2½. It will be continued in the evening from 8 to 10 and will occupy to-day from 9½ to 12½ and from 3½ to 6. Rev. William Frizzell, the moderator, presided.

The first topic for discussion, "Continuous Supply of Home Mission Stations," was introduced by Rev. D. J. Macdonnell. He said Presbyterians were losing ground through inactivity. He suggested that young licentiates be compelled to devote a year to mission work before settling in a pastorate.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane of Brantford said money had been wasted on random missions in the Northwest.

Rev. Dr. Reid thought such a regulation would be a dead letter.

Rev. J. A. R. Martin suggested that the extra year for missions be added to the regular course.

Rev. Dr. Laidlaw of Hamilton said it was a case of the right man for the right place.

Mr. Macdonnell moved a resolution that in the opinion of the conference for one year after the completion of his course of study each licentiate should be compelled to labor on a mission field.

Rev. G. M. Milligan said the law proposed could not be enforced any more than the faith cure.

The resolution was carried.

In the evening the first hour was spent in hearing ministers explain how they endeavored to develop missionary interest in their churches.

The question of how a higher standard of interest in missions could be attained was introduced by Rev. Alfred Gandier of Brampton. He thought missions should be preached up, that frequent meetings should be held and missionary literature circulated.

Rev. J. H. McDonald, editor of The Knox College Monthly, also favored the circulation of mission literature.

Rev. Dr. McTavish advocated more method in missionary preaching and study.

The conference adjourned till 9½ to-day.

At the Police Court.

The charge against Assessor Playter of York township, of falsely assessing the Davies property, was withdrawn. It was assessed for only $25,500, while the owner values it at $100,000. For theft of an overcoat, Henry Membrey was sent to jail for 30 days. Thomas Foley, an Ulster-lane wife-beater, was sent to the Central for four months. No evidence was offered on the charge entered against William McGolpin of stealing a diamond pin, and the case was dismissed. Moses Rosenberg was committed for trial on the charge of conveying his lands to certain parties for the purpose of defrauding his creditors.

About Dry Goods Bargains.

Nearly every reader of ordinary advertisements is made tired with the frequent repetitions of the word bargain, a word more abused than any we know of. Some stores have the good sense not to advertise goods which they cannot produce. One of the most successful advertising stores is McKendry's, 278 Yong-street. Why? Because the dry goods they advertise are always on hand, and those who go come again. 36

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: "I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to ulcers, causing entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflammation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, &c., in fact it is our family medicine.

What Some Prominent Public Men Say
--ABOUT THE--
CHRISTMAS NUMBER
--OF THE--
DOMINION ILLUSTRATED

To the Publisher Dominion Illustrated:
The Xmas number of The Dominion Illustrated is a credit to Canadian art. Every Canadian should buy copies to send to friends abroad. This number avoids the fault of many similar publications. It does not represent us as in perpetual winter garb. J. ENOCH THOMPSON.

LIEUT.-COL. GEORGE A. SHAW says:
I am very much pleased with the Xmas number of The Dominion Illustrated and consider it a credit to the publishers. When such work is done at home we should certainly not go abroad for it.

MR. E. M. COX:
I have had all the Xmas numbers. I consider The Dominion Illustrated far ahead of any of them.

MR. HENRY WADE, Secretary of the Agricultural & Art Society, considers the Christmas number of The Dominion Illustrated a credit to the country and congratulates the Sabiston Lith. & Pub. Co. upon their success.

ALD. MAUGHAN has been very much pleased with the artistic excellence of The Dominion Illustrated and considers it equal to any of the English numbers.

MR. E. M. CHADWICK said:
It is a very nice number and reflects credit upon its publishers. Being a Canadian effort throughout we should all feel justly proud of it.

MR. IRVING, of the Toronto News Co., says:
The paper is a great success and the demand is far ahead of the supply.

MR. PELLATT was very pleased with the number and bought several copies to send abroad.
