FOUR MEALS A DAY ON THE FARM.

There were too many sick people on the Canadian farm. The Canadian farmer's wife was in many cases a sickly woman, by reason of three things, viz., child-bearing, working over a cook stove in our most oppressive summer climate, and not having sufficient rest; and, besides all this, she was not properly nourished. He agreed with Goldwin Smith, who had said that the frying pan and teapot had driven many a Canadian woman into the asylum. There was any amount of good food on the Canadian farm, but our people did not use enough vegetables, and did not cook things properly. There was too much pie and cake, and, as a result, too much constipation. Fresh meat was a necessity to those who live on the farm, and he was glad to notice that beef rings were growing in number, and, as a consequence, more fresh meat was available. But the great thing about fresh meat was its cooking, and many and many a farmer's wife had yet to learn how to roast beef, and not overdo it. A large roast of beef could be used hot one day and better cold the next. The merits of cold roast beef were not appreciated by the great bulk of the Canadian people. It was the best form of animal food that could be used during the hot summer months. Questioned as to the suggestion that the principal meal of the day should be at 5 p.m., he supposed that it was all right. Mrs. Rorer's menu, however, was somewhat out, in that she suggested vegetables that can be had earlier in the United States than in Canada, but he had no doubt there were excellent substitutes. He was down on all pies and cakes and food of that class, and believed in milk, bread and butter, eggs and cheese, porridge of various kinds and fresh hot and cold beef, bacon and ham.

If the farmers would stop drinking tea, and would use sound beer with their meals, it would be to the benefit of their health, but he was afraid that the temperance element was too strong on this point to have the people go in for it. Enough of grapes could be grown in the Niagara country to give every man, woman and child on the rest of the farms in Canada a mug of claret with the main meal every day in the year, and not cost above a cent a glass. Imagine, said he, the improvement that would be noticed in the condition of the Canadian women on our farms if they ate a cut of roast beef and drank a cup of claret once every day in the year.

One remedy that suggested itself to him was some kind of education in regard to the preparation of wholesome food in Canadian homes being a feature of all our country school houses. An instructor, male or female, should be appointed to go from school to school in a certain district, giving practical advice and demonstrations on the subject.

FROM A FARMER'S WIFE.

Editor World: I think we women of the farm all owe a debt to Mrs. Rorer for her article on cooking on the farm. It is the hardest work there is to do on a farm to make and cook for a household of seven to ten people, as many a woman has to do. Our men forget this, and help us little.

I agree with Mrs. Rorer about simple breakfasts. You can now get oat or wheat or other cereal food that has been steam cooked in the factory, that is easily prepared and that makes a wholesome and appetizing meal with good milk. Or you can make enough oatmeal porridge one day to last for three mornings, with warming. The great point in Mrs. Rorer's article is in doing a lot of cooking at once, especially in the hot weather. Lots of things will keep. Three years ago our men folks built an ice house, and put in 70 loads of ice each winter. This has been my greatest blessing. It has cooled our milk and kept our butter hard, and made the keeping of meat easy, compared with former times. But what is wanted is advice and information that will help out the ordinary farmer's wife, who has no ice, who has limited means and food supply, how to feed her family on nourishing food. Bread and butter one day, currant loaf buttered another day, ginger-bread a third, with plenty of milk to drink, is a good luncheon for men in the field. Cold roast beef sandwiches are better. Hard-boiled egg sandwiches and cheese sandwiches are also good, and make a change. Liver (when it is to be had) and bacon make a good noonday dish. Vegetables are hard to get. Deep-dish pies are all right, but the girls hereabouts are all for plate pies. I learnt how to make deep-dish pies from my English mother, and our men will have no other. Potatoes and cold boiled ham make a good dinner. Cornmeal bread and maple syrup make a change on ordinary bread. Since the trolley cars came up the street, we can always get strawberries and other fresh fruit. Mrs. W.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 4.—At to-day's session of the Reformed Presbyterian Synod of North America, Rev. C. R. C. Allen presented the report of the special committee appointed by the Synod to enquire into the evils of the United States army system. The committee devoted itself more especially to the social evil, as it exists in Hawaii and the Philippines. It is alleged that the evil is legalized and protected by military regulations, and the committee demands that this system, protected by our military rules, be uprooted.

BOARD OF WORKS BUSINESS

Dispute Between the T., H. & B. Railway and the City Will Be Settled Amicably.

FASHIONABLE WEDDING TO-DAY

T. H. Lawry and Wife Said to Have Made Up Friends and Gone Together—General News.

Hamilton, June 4.—(Special.)—The Board of Works met this evening, and disposed of a lot of small business. The dispute between the T., H. & B. Co. and the city over some North End property will be settled by the city accepting the company's price. The City Solicitor will be instructed to collect the money coming to the city from the Mitchell and Homewood cases in the High Court.

Alleged Pickpocket Arrested.

Harry Fay of Toronto was arrested at the race track this afternoon by P. C. Barrett on a charge of attempting to pick the pocket of G. Riesenger.

Hendrie-Brown Nuptials.

The wedding of William Hendrie, jr., and Miss Lilly Brown at the Church of Ascension to-morrow afternoon promises to be one of the most fashionable weddings seen here for a long time. The contracting parties are very popular in Hamilton society.

All's Well That Ends Well.

It is reported in the city to-day that all the troubles between T. Harry Lawry and his wife, Mrs. Edna Lawry, have been settled. It is said that Mr. Lawry came to the city last Saturday, called on his wife, and the two for-some-time-separated souls were reunited, thus casting aside all the legal technicalities that had arisen. It is also said that Mr. and Mrs. Lawry and their children have gone to Chicago.

Objected to the Flogging.

Norman Stewart, turnkey at the jail, has handed in his resignation, which has been accepted by Sheriff Middleton. The turnkey gives as his reason that he was asked to flog a young boy who was sentenced to undergo 14 lashes. The flogging was not very atrocious, and is described by the sheriff, "as an ordinary schoolboy's flogging on the ordinary place," and the turnkey was not asked specially to do it.

Died in the Street.

Death came with awful suddenness to Mr. William Nixon, No. 34 Cathcart-street, about 11 o'clock this morning at the corner of Main and Walnut-streets. Mr. Nixon, who was employed by Mr. Charles Hunt, contractor, was driving a team, to which was attached a wagon loaded with trestles. One of the trestles fell off the rig, and he got off to put it on again. When he stepped to the ground he fell unconscious. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of death.

Many Crooks Here.

The city is full of thugs and blacklegs, who are here for the races, and during the week householders should guard their valuables. Reports of burglaries, attempted burglaries and robberies were made at police headquarters this morning, and more are expected.

Police Points.

At the Police Court this morning Robert Stokes of the York County Loan was charged with wilfully annoying W. G. Slater of a rival loan company. It was stated that Stokes has followed Slater for three days. The case was enlarged for a week, with the understanding that Stokes must not repeat the offence.

The assault case, in which D. McCormick, MacNab-street, was the defendant, and William Gassett the complainant, was adjourned, as Gassett's witnesses did not appear.

Upheld the Police.

George Reid, whose home is near the cemetery, and who was charged with interfering with the police in the discharge of their duty on the night of the tent-burning up there, was before Judge Snider this morning. Reid was fined $5, with costs.

Minor Matters.

George E. Heming, a prominent citizen, passed away at his home, 32 South Hess-street, last night. He was a native of Guelph, but had lived here since 1880, where he had conducted a coal and wood business.

Ward's restaurant, 6 York-street, open day and night; beds: 10c. 15c. 25c. 36

The Builders' Laborers' strike is over. The men asked for 21 cents an hour, but accepted 20 cents.

W. T. Armour and Miss Louisa Palm were married this afternoon at the Lutheran Church.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL SALARIES.

Scale Adopted After a Lengthy and Stormy Debate by a Majority of One Vote.

By a vote of 7 to 6, after a stormy debate, the Collegiate Institute Board last night adopted an increased scale of salaries, to count from September next. The scale starts principals at $2000 a year, increasing to $3000 after $15 years' of service; specialists, $1400, increasing to $2000; assistants, $1000, rising to $1600.

Principal Manley of Jarvis-street Collegiate will have his present salary of $2600 counted as his initial salary under the new scale.

On motion of Trustee J. Wilson, the Militia Department will be requested to furnish uniforms for the cadet corps.

Trustee Fraser raised the question of abolishing first form fees. It was referred to a special meeting on June 17.

75 AND 32 MARRY.

A Charivari Enlivened McGee St. Last Night After a Wedding.

A charivari enlivened McGee-street last night. Mr. Timothy Killacky, a widower, aged 75, and Mrs. Rebecca Jones, a young widow of 32, were married at St. Matthew's Church by Rev. Scott Howard. The bridegroom drove to the church in a carriage drawn by a pair of white horses. The wedding was witnessed by a few friends. Miss May Lewis was bridesmaid, and Mr. William Wagner best man. On driving to McGee-street, the wedding party found the street almost blocked by a crowd of several hundred persons. Tooting of horns, beating of tin cans, discharging firecrackers, throwing mud, and even breaking some of the windows with stones, was indulged in by the crowd. The advent of a policeman, sent for by the bridegroom, caused the throng to disperse.

FUNERALS IN THE EAST END.

The remains of the late Daniel Corin of 952 East Queen-street were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Necropolis. Numerous floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which deceased was held. Rev. Mr. Magee, pastor of East Queen-street Methodist Church, officiated.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Maria J. Smith took place yesterday afternoon from her late residence on De Grassi-street to Norway Cemetery. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. F. C. Heathcote, pastor of St. Clement's Church. A large number of friends of deceased were in attendance.

All that was mortal of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Gibbons of 35 Napier-street was interred yesterday afternoon in the Necropolis. Rev. Scott Howard, pastor of St. Matthew's Church, officiated at the house and grave. A large number of friends of deceased followed the remains to their last resting place.

A West End Wedding.

A pretty June wedding took yesterday afternoon was that of Mr. A. B. McColl to Miss M. A. Dudgeon. Rev. C. O. Johnston officiated, the ceremony taking place at the residence of Mrs. H. Dudgeon, aunt of the bride, on Cameron-street. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and palms, while Glionna's Orchestra furnished the music. The bride wore white silk and diamond ornaments. The bridesmaid, Miss Maggie Dudgeon, cousin of the bride, wore pale blue organdie over blue silk. The bridal bouquets were of pink and white roses. Many beautiful presents were received from friends in various places. The groom was attended by Mr. Victor Odlum. Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McColl left on a wedding trip to the States. Over 50 guests were present.

Rev. J. M. Sawers, who was prosecuted and acquitted on a charge of assaulting a bailiff, has entered a second suit against the city, claiming $20,000 damages for alleged illegal distraint and seizure for taxes of $45 and costs for 1900.

WHERE'S THE USE?

Drugging With Coffee and Keeping Sick All the Time.

A coffee drinker is liable to a smash almost any time and without much warning. A New York man, C. W. Bedford, 1065 Lex-avenue, says that when he was in apparently perfect health, weighing about 185 pounds, with good appetite, he suddenly had a severe attack of gastritis. He lost his appetite and the doctor put him on a rigid diet and gave him remedies, but all to no purpose. He says: "Everybody I met had a cure and I tried a lot of them. I lost weight until I reached 144 pounds. I had those nasty gastric staggers.

"About the middle of the summer, when on a vacation, a friend asked whether I drank coffee or not. Being told that I did, he suggested that I quit it and take Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts breakfast food. I laughed at him and told him that I was through with special articles of diet.

"One day the nerves had another bad smash, and I concluded to quit coffee and see if that was really the cause of the trouble.

Next morning I had Postum for breakfast and it was well made, and tasted good. I also had Grape-Nuts for breakfast, and from that day my troubles began to fade away.

"I am steadily gaining in flesh, can sleep naturally, and can eat whatever I want. What is the use of a man's drinking an article like coffee that poisons him and causes such troubles as I have had when you can have a delicious Food Coffee like Postum that builds up instead of tearing down." Health is worth more than all the coffee on earth.

It was decided to appoint the following the Board of Management of the Deaconesses' Home about to be established in Hamilton:

Rev. Mr. Salton brought up the question of ordination of the first deaconess to come to Hamilton, Mrs. Whitfield Day, and the conference appeared to be at sea as to what its powers were in the matter. Miss Scott, the head of the deaconesses in Toronto, addressed the conference on the question, and it was finally decided to allow the Toronto Conference to ordain Mrs. Day for her work and ask for her formal transfer to Hamilton Conference.
