The river Meuse has overflowed its banks near Liege. Some villages and part of Liege are inundated.

A report says a new shed constructed to hold four Zeppelins at Friederichafen has been partially destroyed by storm.

The last of the Serbian soldiers remaining in Albania have been safely landed at Corfu. The entire Serbian army is now out of danger.

Constantinople reports that the Allies have ordered the military occupation of all the Greek railroads in Thessalonik and Morea and that force will be used if necessary.

Nine women and two men were burned to death in a fire in the Colonial Resturant and lodging house in New York yesterday morning. It is believed they were actors and actresses.

The New York Herald's London cable intimates that Lord Derby is to be a member of the cabinet as Minister of Aviation. Also Lord Robert Cecil, in charge of the rigid enforcement of the naval blockade against the enemy.

A telephone message from Kingsport, about 25 miles from Bristol Tennesse reported part of the plant of the New Federal Dye Stuffs and Chemical Company destroyed by fire last Friday night. It was used for the manufacture of war munitions.

Including Viscount Weymouth, heir to Marquis of Bath, Killed in action in France on Sunday, 45 heirs to peerages have been killed or died of wounds or illness contracted on active service, showing the sacrifice which the peerage is paying the service of the country.

Premier William Morris Hughes of Australia is now a member of the Canadian privy council. He was sworn in on the 18th by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught and after the ceremony on the invitation of Sir Robert Borden he attended and participated in, a meeting of the Dominion cabinet.

France was swept by a gale a few days ago. There were many shipwrecks and the Channel service was delayed. The Chambly district was flooded when the local stream burst its bank. Reports from the front say that the last 48 hours had seen the worst weather since the war began. The gale was very severe in the Belgian district and a large section was flooded.

That the walls of Parliament buildings are intact, the whole west wing is practically undamaged by fire and only slightly by water, and that the Building as it stands today represents an asset in labour and material in position of fully $2,000,000, that can be used," is the report of architects Messrs John A. Pearson of Toronto and J. O. Marchand of Montreal, after an exmination of the burned structure.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture who was severely burned in the Parliament building fire is making good progress towards recovery, [illegible]e is still suffering badly [illegible]ck. As soon as he is able to move his doctors will likely order him to take a complete rest. It is improbable that he will take an active part in the work of this session. Hon J. D. Hazen in the meantime is the Acting Minister of Agriculture.

That many brands of salad dressing containing cotton seed oil are being sold as olive oil, contrary to the regulations governing the sale of this article, is the report of Dominion Analyst McGill in a bulletin just issued. Out of 78 samples of oil examined, 43 were found to contain cotton seed oil, while 35 samples contained the word "cotton" in very small type on the label, whereas the regulations require that they be abelled in conspicious characters. The bulletin describes this condition of things as unsatisfactory.
