POETRY, &c.

TO THE FIRST BIRDS OF SPRING.

Ye come, ye come, bright warbling things,
And joy is in your song;
Ye bear upon your dewy wings,
The spring's first breath along.

Ye herald in the happy morn,
That is the birth of flowers,
Ye tell that winter's chills have gone,
Its snow and icy towers.

Ye bide the earth in its carpet weave,
In Nature's matchless loom:
The warp for many a grassy leaf,
The wool from flowret's loom.

Ye bid the naked branches dress,
In all their proud array,
And all things don their loveliness,
To welcome back the day.

Ye bid the icy fetters fall
From many a prisoned rill;
And onward joyful at your call,
They gambol down the hill.

All nature wakes from sleep; the cloud
Shades not the sun's bright ray;
No more the storm-winds howling loud,
Disturb the zephyr's lay.

Pass on, pass on to other land,
Ye birds of merry note;
Sing there of spring, ye starry band,
From every tuneful throat.

And gladden every heart that hears
Your message from above,
Pass on, and dry up winter's tears,
Sweet harbingers of love.

Cod Fishery in Maine.

The following paragraph from a correspondent of the Bangor Whig shows how active our neighbours of the United States are in the prosecution of the Cod Fishery. It should infuse the spirit of emulation unto our own people:—

"The cod-fishing business is carried on from this place to an extent not generally known. In the Spring of 1845, about three hundred sail of vessels were fitted at this place for the bank and shore fisheries. These vessels were manned by crews amounting to 2 000 men and boys, who are supplied with all, or nearly all, their necessaries for a fishing voyage, such as glazed hats, oil clothes, fishing boots and clothing, nearly all of which are made in this town, thus giving employment to many poor women, as also to Mechanics.—An immense quantity of goods of various kinds are consumed by them, and more than two thousand tons of salt, which is imported direct from Liverpool and Cadiz, by ships owned here. These fishing vessels are principally owned by people living upon islands in Penobscot Bay, with the exception of the bankers, which are mostly owned here and on the Penobscot river. More than fifteen hundred barrels of mackerel were taken by these vessels, under mackerel papers, after their four months of cod-fishing had expired, and about fourteen hundred barrels were packed here. The value of these amounted to ten thousand dollars, and were shipped to New Orleans and other ports in the country. A vast quantity of cod and other fish are brought in, made, and shipped to other ports and sold. The vessels employed in the fishing business are from twenty to seventy-five tons, the large vessels being mostly bankers. All vessels employed in the fishing business, and who perform what is required by law, are entitled to a bounty of about four dollars per ton, payable on the 1st of January, at the custom-house."

INFANTRY.—23rd Royal Welsh Fusiliers—Depot, Isle of Wight. It has been the custom of this regiment, from time immemorial, to be preceded in all its marches and accompanied in all its parades by a mighty Goat, the emblem of old Cambria, whose venerable beard and grimly grave aspect might inspire the fanciful idea under the old superstition of the transmutation of souls, of being a fitting dwelling place for the departed spirit of one of those ancient bards, so famed in Cambrian story, and of whom the poet writes:—

——"His hoary beard and tangled hair
Stream'd like a meteor in the troubled air."

It is on record that the Goat of the regiment accompanied the Welsh Fusiliers into action at Bunker's-hill; and Cooper, the American novelist, in one of his interesting national narratives, relates that such was the sanguinary nature of the contest, that "the Welch Fusiliers had not a man left to saddle their goat." The last representative of this horned and bearded dynasty lately accompanied the regiment from Canada to Barbadoes, where his knowledge of his place at the head of the drums, his correct and soldier-like demeanor, his grave and patriarchal aspect, so struck the dusky race of Afric's blood, that, on watching his stately progress at the head of the corps, the exclamation has been heard, "He got tense (sense) same as Christian." Poor Billy! Whether the climate disagreed with him, or he missed his native mountains, or he found his coat too hot for our boiling regions, did never appear; but, alas! he died; and great was the lamentation throughout the regiment. This circumstance happened, not long ago, to be mentioned at the table of our gracious monarch. The death of poor Billy was duly lamented; and the Queen directed that two milk-white goats, of a magnificent Cashmere breed, peculiar in England to Windsor Park alone, and part of a flock sent to her Majesty as a present from the Persian Shah, be forthwith presented to the gallant 23rd, to replace poor Billy's loss. We understand that this mark of her Majesty's condescension has just been communicated to Colonel Torrens, and suitably acknowledged by his Excellency. This tribute of regard from the Sovereign to one of her brave regiments, strikes us as peculiarly interesting. To feel their services and value thought of in the Royal palace, when far away guarding the distant possessions of their mistress, will add, if possible, to the esprit du corps and devotion of this famous old regiment; and the gift sheds honor on her who gave and those who received.—St. Lucia Palladium, Jan. 23.

BRITISH GRAIN CONSUMED BY AMERICANS.—Besides what the operative eats in making the cotton, woollen, and other manufactures, vast quantities of flour are used up in starch pastes, calico printing, &c. in making the articles imported and consumed by us. It has often been said by those who advocate protection to American labor, that in wearing British cotton, woollens, &c. &c. we were consuming British wheat, beef, pork, &c. Mr. William Brown, of Liverpool, lately the Free Trade candidate for Parliament from the county of Lancaster, says:—'Paradoxical as it may appear, I think Great Britain is the largest grain exporting country in the world, although it is impossible to estimate accurately, what quantity of grain &c. is consumed in preparing £50 000 000 of exports, by which you are so greatly benefited. It is placed in the laboratory of that wonderful intellectual machine, man, which gives him the physical power, aided by steam, of converting it into broad cloth, calico, hardware, &c &c. and in these shapes your wheats find their way to every country in the world.' No country can consume the manufactures of England without consuming her wheat, and thus contributing to support her agricultural interests.

INDIAN CORN.—Bread made in two ways, from Indian corn or maize, and a pudding made of the same material, were submitted on Saturday last to the inspection and taste of a number of gentlemen at Glasgow, by Mr. Cowdin, the United States Consul. Two fourpound loaves were cut up into slices, the one composed entirely of Indian corn meal, the other a mixture of 2¾ lbs. of the meal and ¼ lb. of wheat flour. Both were pronounced good, but preference was given to the loaf made of the mixed material. The pudding, which was composed of meal, with a little suet and molasses, was reported upon as excellent.—Glasgow paper.

A NATURAL REMEDY

Suited to our Constitutions, and competent to the cure of every curable disease, will be found in

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

OF THE

NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

THESE extraordinary Pills are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil; and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions, than medicines concocted from foreign drugs, however well they may be compounded; and as the INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded upon the principle that the human body is in truth,

SUBJECT TO BUT ONE DISEASE,

viz: corrupt humors, and that the said medicine cures this disease on

NATURAL PRINCIPLES,

by cleansing and purifying the body; it will be manifest, that if the constitution be not entirely exhausted—a perseverance in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it of the superabundant waters; in like manner, if we wish to restore the body to health, we must cleanse it of impurity.

The Indian Vegetable Pills will be found one of the best, if not the very best, medicines in the world for carrying out the

GRAND PURIFYING PRINCIPLE,

because they expel from the body all morbid and corrupt humors, the cause of disease, in an easy and NATURAL MANNER, and while they every day

GIVE EASE AND PLEASURE,

disease of every name is radidly driven from the body.

CAUTION.

The citizens of New England are respectfully informed that in consequence of the great popularity which the above named Indian Vegetable Pills have earned by their astonishing goodness, a gang of counterfeiters are now industriously engaged in palming on the unsuspecting, a valueless and perhaps dangerous medicine, under the name of Indian Vegetable Pills.

This is to inform the public that all genuine medicine has on the boxes

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

(Indian Purgative.)

OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH

And also round the border of the label, will be found in small type, "Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by WM. WRIGHT, in the Clerk's office, of the District Court, of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania."

It will further be observed that the printed directions for using the medicines, which accompany each box, are also entered according to Act of Congress and the same form will be found at the bottom of the first page.

The public will also remember, that all who sell the genuine Indian Vegetable Pills are provided with a certificate of Agency, signed by

WILLIAM WRIGHT, VICE PRESIDENT
Of the North American College of Health,

and that pedlars are never in any case allowed to sell the genuine Medicine. All travelling agents will be provided with a certificate of agency as above described; and those who cannot show one will be known as base impostors.

☞ Persons in this city and vicinity will also be on their guard against purchasing medicine purporting to be the Indian Vegetable or Purgative Pills, of Apothecaries or Druggists, as they are not allowed to sell my medicine, and any composition which they may offer as such must of necessity be COUNTERFEIT and injurious; therefore never purchase of them.
