Poetry.

FOUR SEASONS.

[BY ALFRED WATTS.

When Life was Spring our wants were small,
The present hour the future scorning—
A stunning partner at a ball,
A place among her thoughts next morning;
No fears had we that she could lose
The varied charms our fancy lent her,
Terpsichore was then our Muse,
And Mr. Thomas Moore our Mentor.

Time passed till, though our wants were few,
Hopes rose, but 'twas not hard to span them—
An opera-box prille gloves a new
Rig out, or ten pounds more per annum
When deeper aspirations came,
We called in aid—Imagination,
And drew our Fancy for our Fame,
And for our Love—upon Flirtation.

Grown more sagacious, by and by,
The wants and hopes of Life advancing,
We learned to spell love with an i
And dining took the pas of dancing;
We smiled at Fancy; pitied youth;
In power began life's aim to centre;
Demurred at Faith; and doubted Truth;
Till self became both Muse and Mentor.

Another Season served to prove
Our false appraisement of Life's treasure,
We found in Trust, and Truth, and Love,
The very corner-stones of Pleasure;
That youth of heart shewed age of head;
That gaining was less sweet than giving;
That we might live, and yet be dead
To all the real joys of living.

Our dreams how shadowy and vain
We've found; and turn back truer hearted,
With humbler quest to seek again
The simple faith in which we started;
And deeper read in Wisdom's page,
Know now how we have been beguil'd, who'd
Suppose the objects that engage
The hopes of youth—the aims of age
Should find their end in second childhood.

THE OLD MAID'S STORY.

The night was fair, and all was still,
Young Ralph stood by my side,
And whisper'd me, the gay coquette,
To be his loving bride.

But though I loved him dearly then,
I yet preferr'd to reign
A Queen of Hearts, triumphant still,
Or'er many a sighing swain.

Ah! even now I see the glance
He gave of utter woe,
As I so cruelly return'd
The little answer "No."

My love became my punishment,
For soon the bitter pain
I caused him then, come back to me;
He never asked again!

Long years have flitted since that night,
And Ralph has loved once more;
He owns a wife, and children too,
That gambol round his door.

But I!—my beauty all has fled,
By lovers, too forgot—
I live alone in dreariness—
And Ralph he knows me not.

Yet oft I muse on other times,
And still his name I bless,
As thinking what I might have been—
I wish I had said "Yes."

HEALTH OR SICKNESS!

CHOOSE BETWEEN THEM.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS

The blood furnishes the material of every bone, muscle, gland and fibre in the human frame. When pure, it secures health to every organ it necessarily produces disease. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS operate directly upon the elements of the stream of life, neutralizing the principle of disease, and thus radically curing the malady, whether located in the nerves, the stomach, the liver, the bowels, the muscles, the skin, the brain, or any other part of the system.

USED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are equally efficacious in complaints common to the whole human race and in disorders peculiar to certain climates and localities.

ALARMING DISORDERS.

Dyspepsia, and derangement of the liver, the source of infirmity and suffering, and the cause of innumerable deaths, yield to these curatives, in all cases, however aggravated, acting as a mild purgative, alternative and tonic; they relieve the bowels, purify the fluids, and invigorate the system and the constitution at the same time.

GENERAL WEAKNESS—NERVOUS COMPLAINTS.

When all stimulants fail, the renovating and bracing properties of these Pills give firmness to the shaking nerves and enfeebled muscles of the victim of general debility.

DELICATE FEMALES.

All irregularities and ailments incident to the delicate and sensitive organs of the sex are removed or prevented by a few doses of these mild, but infallible alteratives. No mother who regards her own or her children's health should fil to have them within her reach.

SCIENTIFIC ENDORSEMENTS.

The London "Lancet," the London "Medical Review," and the most eminent of the faculty in Great Britain, France and Germany, have eulogized the Pills and their inventor.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Asthma	Female Complaints	Piles
Bowel Complaints		Stone and Gravel
Coughs	Heaches
Colds	Indigestion	Secondary Symptoms
Chest Diseases	Influenza
Costiveness	Inflammation	Venereal Affections
