CAPE COLONY MAY SECEDE

IF THE GOVERNMENT INTERFERES IN MATABELELAND.

Mr. Parnell's Superstitions—The Fabian Society's Influence in Political Life—Gladstone's Troubles Over the Intended Hanging Up of Home Rule—Parish Councils Bill Will Pass.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Tribune's special cable says:

LONDON, Nov. 4.—There seems very little likelihood of what may be called the military aspect of the Matabele question. Last week's fighting was a brilliant success for Mr. Rhodes' company, and though Lobengula retains two-thirds of his army intact, with another ally approaching to help him in the shape of the rainy season, all indications this morning point to the defeat of the Matabele power. Moreover, this morning's news leads to the belief that the surrounding tribes who have old scores to rub off with Lobengula will cut off all retreat across the Zambesi. The Berotz are closing the north bank of that stream for nearly 3 degrees of longitude. Hence, unless military events take a sudden change, there is an early likelihood of Lobengula's capture or submission.

What to Do With Matabeleland.

A more difficult issue than conquest is now coming into prominence. Having, to all appearances, conquered Matabeleland, the great question that now concerns the Government is what to do with it. The faddist Radicals, led by Mr. Labouchere, ignore all the benefit that may arise to humanity through stopping Lobengula's savage methods of warfare and refinements of cruelty. They see in recent incidents an opportunity of crushing the aspirations of a powerful and wealthy company managed by leading Tories, whose action, say they, is stimulated by objects of plunder. According to their view, the company desires to annex Matabeleland for the sake of its rich gold fields and agricultural uplands. The Radicals, therefore, are seeking to induce the Government to thwart the company's intentions, and either take over Matabeleland into its own hands as a Crown colony or to restore Lobengula as a British vassal under Imperial control. The opinions of Radicals are very much divided, for though they all agree in dividing the idea that the company shall have a determining voice in the future settlement they greatly differ as to what that settlement shall be. The Daily News, The Chronicle, The Manchester Guardian and The Westminster Gazette, each inspired by its own coterie of Radical politicians, darken counsel by their divergent recommendations. Mr. Rhodes' friends, on the other hand, insist that he shall be allowed to reap the reward of his own exertions. The company's forces were an active factor in the last war and the claims of the company for the week's victories, and at the Cape as well as in lion's share of spoils, are widely recognized.

Cape Colony May Secede.

In fact, the Cape Government, of which Mr. Rhodes is Prime Minister, has formally warned the Home authorities to limit their interference and public opinion throughout South Africa, still smarting under the disaster of Majuba Hill, is exceedingly hostile to anything which threatens to curb colonial aspirations. In truth, it is not too much to say that if the Imperial Government allowed itself to be influenced by such demands as suggested by Mr. Labouchere, large and powerful sections of the residents of South Africa, probably including the Cape Government, would avail themselves of this incident to bring about secession.

Mr. Gladstone will have no easy task to satisfy South Africa on the one hand and Radical faddist friends on the other. The bulk of English opinion, and certainly the opinion of religious bodies, who are largely influenced by missionary reports of Matabele horrors, will support the Cabinet in generously treating Mr. Rhodes and his company.

Parliamentarians in Ill-Humor.

The re-assembling of Parliament for the autumn session showed very little disposition on the part of the members for serious work. Both sides regret the necessity of devoting seven more weeks of parliamentary business, and everybody seems in ill-humor at the prospects of humdrum legislation which lie before them.

Next, Mr. Redmond will take measures to learn, if he can, what the Government intend to do with evicted tenants, and upon their answer will depend the amount of support to be given to Mr. Gladstone by the Parnellites. Efforts will also be made to discover, if possible, what Mr. Gladstone intends to do with the Home Rule bill. Any intention to hang up the subject next session, as indicated by Mr. Asquith, will lead to graver results than the secession of Mr. Redmond and his party of nine supporters.

Influence of the Fabian Society.

On the other hand, English Radicals are demanding more loudly than ever that the leading points of the Newcastle program be no longer delayed. The Fabian society is not a body of much importance, but owing to the control which some of its members possess over certain newspapers and magazines, and to the undoubted cleverness of one or two of its writers that body is not without influence. In The Fortnightly Review "they have raised their heel against their friends," the Government. Their indictment is couched in a wealth of adjectives, which show the warmth of their conviction, and their chief grievance is that ministers are wasting their efforts to satisfy the Irish. The English wage-workers, say the Fabians, do not care a dump either way about Irish Home Rule.

The Fortnightly Manifesto.

"The Fortnightly" manifesto seeks to show that the solidarity of the Government is a hollow sham, made up of factions who have no sympathy with each other. The Fabians declare that a general election at the present time would undoubtedly return a Unionist majority to power. They did their best to put this Government in office on the Newcastle program, and in hope that Mr. Gladstone's Ministry would accomplish great social reforms. In this they have been disappointed. They do not propose to join the Conservative party, although their manifesto admits that a large measure of social reform was adopted by the last Tory Government. These gentlemen prefer to retire into their own camp. The Fabian society does not count for much in serious politics, but this manifesto is a significant straw to indicate the way the wind is blowing.

Parish Councils Bill Will Pass.

We have no official information of any further Government business during the autumn session than the Parish Councils and Employers' Liability bills. In regard to the former the Conservative and Church party have been carrying on an active campaign in the provinces with the object of keeping control of their schools and charities out of the hands of the village barber and blacksmith, who will be elected to the parish councils. Mr. Fowler, who explained the measure on Thursday evening, gave strong re-assurances which have disarmed much of the opposition. Mr. Fowler's speech all through was exceedingly fair and temperate, and if the later stages of the bill carry out his promises the measure will pass through Parliament very rapidly.

Parnell's Superstitions.

Mr. T. M. Healy has contributed to The Westminster Gazette a remarkable study of his late chieftain, Mr. Parnell. Considering how little Mr. Healy loved his leader, and how deep was Mr. Parnell's contempt for the "Gutter Sparrow," one cannot but admit the absence of any unfairness in Mr. Healy's writing. The chief object of Mr. Healy in producing this sketch seems to have been to show up the superstitious side of Mr. Parnell's character. Very small, indeed, must be the number of educated men who are swayed by the strange notions that appear to have influenced not only the ordinary, but the greater actions of Parnell's life. Mr. Healy attributes all this to an old nurse named Mrs. Tuppeny, who seems to have instilled into the mind of the young patriot all the details and terrors of Irish superstition. For instance so unlucky did Mr. Parnell consider the number 13 that when drafting one of his greatest measures he was horrified to find it included 13 clauses and he insisted on the number being increased to 14.

He objected to the spirit decanter circulating in the wrong direction, snarled at one of his best friends for offering to assist him to salt, and showed something like a feeling of horror when he witnessed three candles burning on his bedroom tables. Most people know his dislike to the color green, but this is the first time we have heard of Mr. Parnell's pitching out of a railway carriage window the green handkerchiefs and smoking caps presented to him by admiring audiences who wished to honor him, the national color.

RENOUNCED THE WORLD.

Six Young Ladies Enter the Novitiate at Loretto Abbey.

Loretto Abbey was the scene of a most impressive ceremony Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, when six young ladies were received into the novitiate while three novices took their final vows. The abbey chapel was decorated with beautiful flowers and many hundred burning tapers, and was filled with the immediate relations of the ladies who were about to renounce the world for ever. His Grace the Most Reverend Archbishop Walsh presided, assisted by Rev. Fr. Teefy, Rev. Fr. Walsh, Rev. Fr. Redeu, Rev. Fr. Coyle, Rev. Fr. La Marche and Rev. Dean Cassidy. Full choral service was rendered by the nuns and students, and as the six young ladies, dressed in ivory white satin with long tulle veils and wreaths of orange blossoms, entered the chapel the organ pealed forth the wedding march. Each of the young ladies' trains was borne by two little maids dressed in white silk with tulle veils covering their sunny brown hair. Immediately after they entered the chapel the Rev. Father Teefy of St. Michael's College preached a most eloquent sermon on the duties and obligations of the life they were about to enter. After the ceremony of asking permission of the Archbishop to enter the Loretto Order the ladies retired and on their re-appearance were clothed in the convent garb. The Archbishop then proceeded with the ceremony of investing them with the ring, girdle and rosary, after which High Mass was celebrated. The young ladies who were received in the order were Miss B. Devine of Renfrew, now Sister Auxiliam; Miss F. Devine of Renfrew, in religion Sister Felix; Miss Reden of Whitby, now Sister Anselm; Miss B. Cushin of Lindsay, now Sister Chrystha; Miss O'Leary of Toronto, now Sister Anacletia, and Miss O'Brien of Ottawa, now Sister Prudentia.

THE CANADIAN INSTITUTE.

A Large Gathering at the Opening Reception of the Season.

There was a large number of intellectual people of Toronto at the opening lecture of the Canadian Institute Saturday evening. President Ramsay Wright, M.A., B.Sc., delivered the opening address. His subject was "The Progress of the Lacustrine Biology." The lecture was most instructive. Rev. A. G. Morice, O.M.I., delivered some interesting archæological, industrial and sociological remarks. Following are some of those who were present:

Drs. W. T. Aikens, R. A. Pyne, F. Grasett, A. A. Macdonald, G. Acheson, R. Hearn, C. O. Reilly, Thorburn, W. P. Caven, J. E. Graham, W. E. Gelkie, O. A. Temple, T. S. Covernton, W. H. Stuart, C. Sheard, L. Teskey, J. L. Davidson, A. Y. Scott, N. A. Powell, E. A. Spilsbury, A. Baines, Gibb Wishart, G. Gordon, C. Cowan, R. J. Strathy, J. T. Duncan, Mrs. A. Stowe Gullen, J. T. W. Ross, T. F. MacMahon, A. B. Athertson, B. E. Mackenzie, Shaw, Tyrell, L. M. Sweetnam, H. T. Machell, Miss Jennie Gray, J. J. Cassidy, G. Chambers, L. Macfarlane, A. H. Wright, P. Constantinides, C. Hodgetts, A. J. Johnson, Ogden Jones, Inglis Lough, E. W. Spragge, Norman Walker, Holford Walker, Fred. Knapp, F. J. and Mrs. Wilkie, W. A. Sherwood, John Morrison, William Morrison, John Kyles, W. Oldright, A. J. R. Snow, David Blain, E. J. Jarvis, A. T. McLeod, Hon. S. H. Blake, George S. Holmsted, James Boddy, George Pears, Rev. John Neil, Geer, Barron, W. B. McMurrich, J. Kelly, Shirley Denison, Frank Turner, W. Miller, P. Ryan, G. T. Ferguson; Misses Johnston, Hughes and Barron, Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Gordon Mackay, Dr. James Thorburn, J. E. Thompson.

Dyspepsia or indigestion is occasioned by the want of action in the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices, without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, taken before going to bed for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown, Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

"A most readable paper and a superb advertising medium," said a Toronto merchant of the Toronto Sunday World one day last week.

Had La Grippe.—Mr. A. Nickerson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

Sport in Parry Sound District.

Messrs. John Fisher, mayor of North Toronto, Henry Godson, W. Clarke, James Manuel returned Saturday from a hunting tour in the vicinity of Jack's Lake, Parry Sound district. They brought home eight deer, five of which aggregated 1210 pounds. They also bagged some partridges, but they are not very plentiful this year. Large numbers of wolves are to be found in the district, but bears are scarce.

There is no truth in the report that Mr. Isaac Dollery of North Toronto had been shot. Word was received to this effect Saturday from Callender, where he is hunting.

Tied Down —the woman who doesn't use Pearline. She's tied to her work, and tired with it, too. Pearline makes another woman of her. It washes and cleans in half the time, with half the work. Nothing can be hurt by it, and every thing is saved with it. Pearline does away with the Rub, Rub, Rub. Pearline does more than soap; soap gives you more to do.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 289 JAMES PYLE, New York.

THE WORLD OF COMMERCE.

THE BEARS STILL CONTINUE TO HAVE CONTROL.

Provisions and Wheat Depressed in Chicago—Wall-street Lower, With Gas and Sugar Depressed—Cotton Weak at New York—Local Grain Market Quiet.

SATURDAY EVENING, Nov. 4.

The dealings on the local Stock Exchange continue light, but in spite of this fact bank shares are very strong.

Canadian Pacific sold in New York to-day at 73 and closed in London at 75⅝.

Consols are unchanged at 97⅞ for money and 98 for account.

Bar silver in London is 1-8d higher at 32 1-8d per ounce.

There is a probability of cheaper money before long, and local stocks are strong in consequence.

Money Markets.

At Toronto the rate for call loans is 7 per cent. At New York the closing rate to-day was 2 per cent. The Bank of England discount rate is 3 per cent. and the open market rate ⅛ easier at 2⅝ per cent.

Tips From Wall-street.

The stock market closed heavy, with the greatest declines in sugar and Chicago Gas.

Wabash earnings for October decreased $4000.

London houses bought Louisville and Nashville.

Many speculative bond issues are selling comparatively lower than stocks and offered a basis for a material advance.

The bears bought C.B. & Q. on the semi-official assurance that the full dividend of 1¼ per cent. for the quarter will be declared.

R. Cochran received the following from Kennett, Hopkins & Co.:

New York, Nov. 4.—The market opened very dull with very few stocks offering. A few traders bid up such stocks as B. & Q., W. U. and sugar one per cent., and in selling put them down again to the opening price. The only noticeable weakness developed was in Chicago Gas and sugar. The sellers of Chicago Gas are confident of their position, basing it upon the decreased consumption to follow closing of the fair. There is no doubt that a large amount of long stock has been sold this week by parties closely connected with the trustees, and it looks as if they had once more milked the public. Sugar seems to be unprotected at the moment probably because insiders know how poor trade is, and also fear unfavorable tariff legislation. The sugar business has yielded enormous profits this year, and its managers can fairly be called the ablest merchants in the world in that business. The fact that they are apparently uninterested in the stock's fluctuations at present is, to say the least, suggestive. The action of the market to-day foreshadows lower prices early next week. Sales 93,017 shares.

R. Cochran received the following from Kennett, Hopkins & Co.:

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Local traders and a few outsiders loaded up with wheat yesterday on the oft-repeated promise and long-deferred fulfilment that receipts in the northwest would fall off snarply. This and other news of like character has done duty for some weeks in sustaining the market, but as its unsubstantial character becomes apparent and our stocks go on increasing at a rapid rate with a falling off in the export demand, hard facts are again receiving some attention. The price is so low and speculative treatment leans so strongly to the long side, that traders buy on the slightest encouragement and hold on as long as their margins last. The idea is slowly taking possession of the speculative public that prices are low, not without some cause, and the closer this cause is enquired into the less reason one sees for buying. It is a hard lesson and it has caused many millions to learn it, that a thing can be very low and yet considerably higher than it should be.

Corn and oats cut loose from wheat and stand on their merits. Receiving houses have been covering short sales because country offerings are letting up. Corn is worth 15c a bushel to put into hogs at current prices, and the heavy average weight of hogs now being marketed shows that they are being liberally fed.

John J. Dixon & Co. received the following from Schwartz, Dupee and McCormick: Wheat weak to-day in absence of any support and influenced by a lot of realizing on long wheat. Receipts continue unusually heavy, notwithstanding representations from Northwest they are soon likely to decrease materially. The visible is expected to show an increase on Monday of 1,500,000 bushels to 3,000,000 bushels, or lower. It looks as if the December liquidation, and it is likely to last for some time. There is nothing encouraging to buy wheat on, except prices a great deal that is discouraging. May to-day got on to new ground, selling under 70 cents, a price which a short time ago the bear interest thought would be bottom, but the situation is still against the long side. Corn started in firm with considerable buying by shipping houses, but gradually weakened in sympathy with wheat, declining ⅝c to 1½c from the highest prices. Cables better and there was considerable export demand, which resulted in some business being worked. Provisions gradually sold off to-day under moderate selling by local holders and packers and in sympathy with wheat, grain markets. Lard suffered most because it was most freely offered. The trade are expecting an increased run of business next week and there was less cash demand for product.
