Store closes to-day at 5 o'clock, as usual

No Dull Seasons:

We sometimes tell you that dull seasons belong to the past and that stores like this always have plenty to do. You may wonder at it, but this clipping from an American newspaper adds emphasis to what we say:

A year or two ago a number of the leading business houses in New York were interviewed on the subject of the dull season of business, and a majority of them testified that they had learned the lesson of overcoming the regulation dull summer season. Each had tried the common method of surrendering to the dull season but found it unprofitable, and every one attempting to create business during the dull summer had this same answer to make: "We have no dull season in our trade."

That's the case here. We anticipate midsummer by ordering vast quantities of new goods to sell at special prices. Take, for instance, the Furniture Sale, which represents an entire new stock and not a clark-down of old goods. Such movements demand no special pleading, apology, explanation, sophistry or justification. We arrange for special activity at such times as this and make it well worth your while to buy just when we say.

We're always busy because goods and prices are as you want them. Don't forget that.

Cheap Furniture:

Why so cheap? Because we buy just when the other dealers have stopped buying and sell just when everybody thinks there's no trade to be done.

Manufacturers like to be busy, same as you or we. By placing immense orders in their dull season and paying spot cash we always get inside prices. And, sure as daylight, you save money whenever we save.

Furniture is cheaper here now than it will be for a year to come. Accept that for a fact.

New Stationery:

People judge one another by the way they write and the Stationery they use. We'll help you give a good impression by selling elegant new writing paper at 25c. A BOX, including such novelties as —Pigskin Paper.

—The Golfers.
—Thistle Down.
—Queen of the May.

and others in cream, heliotrope' pink, green and blue. For 25c you get 24 sheets of paper and 24 envelopes nicely packed in a box. If you know of any better value for the money don't come here.

Housefurnishings:

You mustn't give you a chance to get them, even it it is August. Cheaper to buy these things than a month hence:

Window Shades, plain colorated, 36x70 inches, mounted on spring rollers complete, regular price 45c, for	$ .33
Nottingham Lace Curtains, per pair, ecru, 54 in. wide, 3 yards long; regular price $1.75 for	1.37
English All-wool Carpets, 1 yard wide; regular price $1.	75
Tapestry Carpet, new designs and colors, with 8 border to match; regular price 70c, for. . . .	50

Skip the second floor at any rate unless you've more money than you know what to do with. Maybe you'll be interested in some things that come and go in succession.

AGAIN THE SUNDAY QUESTION.

It is said The World is harping too much on the Sunday car question. No doubt we are running the hobby too much to please a certain portion of the public, but we take it that this question is the most important one now before the people of Toronto. Like the water supply problem, it pertains to the public health, and in this respect the institution of a Sunday street car service is as important to the residents of Toronto as the building of a tunnel to ensure a supply of pure water. The cars on Sunday will give the people a better supply of pure air, the new tunnel will afford them purer water. One is as important as the other. In addition to this, however, the Sunday car question involves an other issue, viz., that of the liberty of the individual. When our Puritanical bugaboo is finally swept away the restrictionists will perhaps realize the fact that bigotry and intolerance mean stagnation and retrogression. A victory in favor of Sunday cars means a victory for Liberty and Intelligence. Such a victory means progress, both material and intellectual. The cars will not have been running six months on Sundays before the whole city will exclaim: "What fools we have been, to be sure!" The World does not, therefore, think that it is giving too much attention to this important matter. If we pursued the subject in the same way as The Globe does that of free trade, very justly might an objection be raised. Almost every day our contemporary has a column or two full of arguments why the country should adopt a free trade policy, and it has kept it up for fifteen years and more. Several lives of considerable promise have been sacrificed to this hobby, and the young men who carry on the argument to-day stand a fair chance of becoming mentally incapacitated through paresis or monomania. And even if The Globe should convert Canada to free trade, would its victory mean as much for the people of Toronto as would the victory of personal freedom and the defeat of bigotry? We think not. We will, therefore devote a little space to considering the case of Robert Watt, the farmer who was recently arrested for working on Sunday. We do this at Mr. Watt's request.

"Mr. Watt, as will be seen from his letter in another column, belongs to the religious sect known as the Seventh-day Adventists. The people of this denomination believe in keeping holy the seventh day of the week, as directed in the Fourth Commandment, instead of the first day, or Sunday, which they claim is not recognized in any part of the Old or New Testaments as a religious or holy day.

The Jews form another denomination that recognizes Saturday as the Sabbath of the Old Testament.

The majority of Christians make Sunday the holy day, or day of worship, although it is generally admitted that there is no Biblical sanction for making the first day of the week a sacred day.

Then, again, there are a large number of people who do not look upon any day as being sacred or holy.

The whole question as to the sacred day is a most perplexing one. It is decidedly muddled. It seems impossible for one to get on any sure and stable foundation. The most serious aspect of it is that Christians are so much at variance among themselves. There is not only a difference of opinion as to the day that should be esteemed holy, but there is equally wide difference of opinion as to what constitutes the proper observance of the day. Between the Roman Catholic, whose special observance of the day is limited to the hour or two he worships in the church, and the old-time Presbyterian, who would not like to be heard whistling at any time during the 24 sacred hours of Sunday, there is indeed a wide variation.

If there were no civil law to interfere and make a distinction of days, Mr. Watt would have nothing to complain of. He and his brethren could then worship on the day they preferred and work any or every day they please. But whether men are inclined to worship on a sacred day or not, the law steps in and forbids them from working on one day in the week. This is a good law, and it is a law that is almost universally respected in Canada. As a large majority of Christians regard Sunday as the Sabbath, it is fitting that the Government should have decided on that day as the day of cessation from work, the day of rest. It would not be right to make Saturday the legal rest day, because the balance of public convenience is opposed to that day. Nor would it be practicable to have a sliding rest day in virtue of which each individual could select the day he worships as his rest day. The result of such a law would be that the business of the world would go on for seven days a week, and few men would be secure in their right to one day's rest in the seven. The civil law is therefore right in selecting Sunday as the day of rest, and, with a few exceptions, in making it apply to all alike.

As far as Mr. Watt personally is concerned, we do not see that he has much to complain of. He is a farmer, and as such he is privileged by law to carry on his work every day in the week, including Sunday. But he is, no doubt, solicitous about other members of his denomination who are not farmers, and who therefore are not specially privileged. If Mr. Watt lived in Toronto his complaint would be more serious. He would then be forced to remain idle two days a week, one to satisfy his conscience, the other in compliance with the law. This is the case with the Jews, who have only five business days in the week. These people are, no doubt, entitled to some consideration, but we cannot jeopardize a most wholesome law by permitting the Jews and Second Adventists to keep their stores open and do business on Sunday.

But what we can do, and what we must do, is to eliminate every religious feature from the civil law respecting the Lord's Day, or, as it should be called, the Day of Rest. It is just neither to the Seventh Day Adventists nor to the Jews, nor to those who are called agnostics, nor to many Christian people, that they should be made to conform to certain religious enactments imposed upon them by an intolerant majority. This majority has an advantage over the rest of the community in that the Christian Sabbath has been selected by the law as the civil Day of Rest. This majority has perfect freedom to use the Day of Rest for the purposes of its worship, including freedom to engage ministers, to use vehicles, to employ coachmen, singers, organists and caretakers. They have all the freedom they desire. Why then should they demand more and force their religious views upon the rest of the community, and thereby curtail their freedom?

They vote against the use of the cars on Sunday because they think it is a violation of religion. The civil law is thus made the medium of enforcing religious observances; for no one will pretend to say that if the religious idea were eliminated from the Lord's Day Act the street cars would still be tied up. As few people as possible should be forced to work on the Day of Rest, but among those whose services must be demanded, if the people are to secure the rest and recreation that are so necessary after the labors of the week, are the street railway employes. This, for the present, is the solution of the Sunday question in Canada. Eliminate the religious idea altogether from the Lord's Day Act, as the Baptists propose, and make it purely and simply a day of rest and recreation, and permit only such work to be done as is necessary to secure this end. While such a reform will not remove the serious disability which the Jews and Seventh Day Adventists have to put up with, yet it will ameliorate their condition, and it certainly will be an immense boon to a large section of the community.

The Woodstock Sentinel Review treats its readers to a long tirade against the superannuation system, and emphasizes it by a list of ex-officials, accompanied by a statement of the amount they paid in contrast with the amount each has taken out. This is a dishonest attempt to mislead the Oxford farmer, who does not know that, whereas every civil servant is docked every month so much for the superannuation fund; not one in ten ever lives to get any money back. Men dying in harness forfeit all they have paid in, and in some cases this is a large sum that widows and orphans would only too gladly have the use of. Moreover the Woodstock paper should know that in the short Liberal regime there were proportionately quite as many superannuations as now. What, in fact, is to be done with old men who reach senile inefficiency, or break down physically or mentally, except superannuate them? What political capital is there to be made of men in the seventh decade of life being placed on the shelf; and human nature revolts against casting them off penniless when it would be hard to trace a single cent drawn by one of them to the pocket of any taxpayer in the land.

Every little adds. It is pleasing, therefore, to note in The N.Y. Herald of Friday that the supply of gold in Gotham has been reduced by $100,000 on Canadian account. Perhaps, if our banks tried hard they could find safe and profitable outlets for capital in Canada. If enterprise is for the moment dead, there is nothing so likely to enliven the corpse as the knowledge that banks have money to lend at 5 per cent.

"America's Greatest Railroad."

At the recent meeting of the Institution of Engineers at Cleveland, Jeremiah Head of Middlesboro read a paper on the comparison of English and American railroads, and, in referring to the New York Central, Mr. Head said:

"An American Railway, the New York Central, holds the palm at present for the quickest and most frequent service of any long-distance railway in the world. Between New York and Buffalo, 440 miles, there are 22 trains per day each way. The northbound Empire State Express, which is one of them, runs the entire distance at 50 3-4 miles per hour, including stoppages, or 52 1-2 miles per hour excluding them. Our West Coast Scotch Express achieves respectively only 47 and 51 miles per hour between Edinburgh and London, which is just 400 miles. The New York Central is also the only railway which has four tracks over the whole of its main line, an arrangement which enables the goods and passenger traffic to be kept entirely separate."—Buffalo Enquirer. ed

Conner's Show

Every preparation has been completed for the opening of the Toronto Ferry Company's amusements at Hanlan's Point to-night. A stage 40 feet square has been constructed just inside of the bicycle track, in front of the grand stand, within the sight and hearing of everybody. The noted English artists, the Sisters Don: Messrs. McPhee and Hill, bar experts; Willie Edwards, the wonderful tumbler, and the great acrobatic contortionists, the Sexton Bros., will all unite in presenting a great performance. The entertainment will open promptly at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Celesto Coon, Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "For years I could not eat many kinds of food without producing a burning, excruciating pain in my stomach. I took Parmelee's Pills, according to directions under the head of Dyspepsia or Indigestion. One box entirely cured me. I can now eat anything I choose, without distressing me in the least." These pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required.

Lithographers' Annual Outing.

Over 500, representing the different lithographing houses in Toronto, held their annual picnic and games at Lorne Park on Saturday per steamer Tymon. Nothing would satisfy the committee until Capt. Tymon promised to compete in the old man's race, which he won easily, carrying off a handsome swinging lamp for first honors.

Sleepless [illegible] excitement. The delicately constituted, the financier, the business man, and those whose occupation necessitates great mental strain or worry, all suffer less or more from it. Sleep is the great restorer of a worried brain, and to get sleep cleanse the stomach from all impurities with a few doses of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, gelatine coated, containing no mercury, and are guaranteed to give satisfaction or the money will be refunded.

East Toronto Notes.

The name borne by the village—East Toronto—which was strenuously opposed by some at the time it was given, has been the topic of conversation for the past few days. Business men and residents of the village say they object to a name which is constantly confused by visitors and city tradespeople with the east end of the city of Toronto. A street car passenger now asking for East Toronto stands a chance of being let off at Leslieville, and letters and parcels are continually delayed in their transit here. As an example of many, an invoice of goods addressed in the city to one of the largest business firms, care of Main-st., East Toronto, the other day, took a whole week to reach it, the postmen in the Queen-street east division having declared themselves unable to find such an address! It is suggested that a far better name, and one made appropriate by the elevation of the village above the city, would be Toronto Heights. For further examples of name-confusion in the neighborhood, the G.T.R. Station, lying between East Toronto and Little York, is called York, and the postoffice at Little York is Coleman postoffice.

At Victoria Park on Saturday were picnic parties got up by the ladies of the Methodist Bookroom and the choir of the Queen-street Methodist Church.

There were more dancers in the Pavilion than on any Saturday this season.

Some plastering and cleaning are going on at the Roman Catholic Industrial school building, Blantyre Park. The architect has received orders to have everything in readiness by the time the Archbishop returns from England, that is, Aug. 22.

Mr. H. Sybesna, an assistant of Mr. Cobley's, and who gave such capable aid to the wounded of the Scarboro collision disaster, has been installed as night-watchman at a medical establishment in Guelph.

Along the Wharves.

These are busy days with the yachtsmen and owners of small craft, many of whom are cruising around the lake and others are preparing to do so. Tom Riley's Dido and also the Swan of the Royal Toronto S.S.C. left on Saturday for a fortnight's cruise among the Thousand Islands, and the Mollie of the same fleet started on a cruise down the south shore to the Islands, returning by way of the Bay of Quinte. The Mirage of the Royal Canadians is making a similar trip.

Excursionists turned out in large numbers on Saturday, all of the afternoon boats being taxed to their utmost capacity. Probably the largest excursion party of the season was that of the employes of Christie, Brown & Co. and their friends, who went on the Garden City to Wilson Park, N.Y. The band of the Working Boys Home, in charge of Joseph Scott, accompanied them. The party did not leave the city till nearly 10 o'clock, owing to the boat having been delayed coming from Port Hope by the fog, but the crowd that waited a couple of hours on the wharf was a good-natured one.

A large excursion party from the United States spent Saturday in the city. They came by what is known as the "Big Four," the Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railways.

Centre Island was the scene of many picnic parties, among them being Schomberg L. O. L. 212, Enniskillen L.O.L. 887, Earnest Helpers, Circle of King's Sons, Court Dovercourt A.O.F., and Juvenile Branch 28, Toronto Silver Plate Company's employes, Agnes-street Methodist Church, Berean Methodist Church, the Good Templars and a large number of private parties.

Half the fun of life is lost by many people through their neglect of one of Nature's most rigid laws. Nature insists on regularity. People who allow the continuance of any irregularity in their digestive organs soon have to pay the penalty. Free and regular movement of the bowels is the surest sign of good health.

The first question the doctor asks is: "Are your bowels regular?" If not, he gives something to make them so and quite often that is all he needs to do.

Assist Nature occasionally in removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels and you need never be very sick. Remember that assistance don't mean violence. What is needed is a gentle but efficient helper that will work so easily and so naturally that there will be no shock to the system.

Of all the remedies that have been prepared, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets best fill all the requirements. They are made of refined, concentrated vegetable extracts. One is a laxative—two a mild cathartic. They cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, distress after eating, sour stomach, "heart-burn," dizziness, foul breath and all disorders due to imperfect digestion. Each little vial holds from forty-two to forty-four Pellets, and sells at the same price as the more common and cheaper made pills. A free sample package (4 to 7 doses) will be sent on request. Once used, they are always in favor. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

East End Items.

A splendid specimen of the Datura Stramonium or thorn apple is to be seen in the garden of Albert Sergeant, Elmer-avenue. One of the funnel-shaped flowers measures eight inches in length and is two inches across the head. The plant is a rare one and is but little known in Canada.

Alfred Henderson, a bicyclist, came into collision with a farmer's rig in the upper part of Broadview-avenue Saturday afternoon. Henderson was thrown to the ground and badly shaken and his wheel considerably damaged. He managed after a little while to go on his way.

Special services were held yesterday in Wood Green Church, Rev. W. J. Barkwell occupying the pulpit. There were good congregations morning and evening.

James Boddy, branch postoffice, Queen-street east, writes: I, James Boddy, challenge James Widdifield of Norway to run a race of 100 yards for $25 a side, on any recognized track, and at any date Widdifield may select.

Dear Sir,—It is now about three months ago since I first ntoiticed that a cure of my rupture was being effected by the use of one of your Wilkinson Trusses, and now I am fully convinced that the cure is both complete and effectual. I have on several occasions within the last few weeks taken long walks without truss or support of any kind, and have every confidence that my rupture, which, as you are aware, was of a very severe description, is now permanently healed, and I can assure you that I feel deeply thankful for the beneficial results. I have already recommended your appliances to several of my friends similarly affected.

Yours very sincerely,

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

TRENT CANAL.

Notice to Manufacturers of and Dealers in Portland Cement.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tenders for Portland Cement," will be received at this office up to noon on Friday, 16th August, 1895, for the supply and delivery of 2500 barrels, or any portion thereof, of Portland Cement.

Specifications and forms of tender can be obtained by the parties tendering at the Office of the Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, Ottawa.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque of 5 per cent. of the total amount tendered for must accompany the tender. This accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into Contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept lowest or any tender.

By Order,
J. H. BALDERSON,
Secretary.

Department of Railways & Canals,
Ottawa, 26th July, 1895.

Coal
$3.50

That's our price for a ton of first-class Steam Lump Coal, delivered anywhere in Toronto. If we lost money by bad debts, as most other dealers do, the price would be $4. But we think it better to sell for spot cash, make a small profit and give our customers the benefit of the very lowest prices. If you are a cash buyer we ask a sample order. It will tell you why our business increases year by year.

By the way, Hard Coal is selling at the lowest price known since 1869. You will make no mistake in buying now, for the present price won't last much longer. We're getting in some exceptionally good Hard Coal at present. It's clean, bright and there's not an ounce of slate to the ton.
