NOTICE.

In response to the many inquiries of the friends and patrons of the MONITOR, the undersigned would hereby inform all those interested that she will continue its publication until further notice, and that it will be conducted on the same general principles as while under the management of her husband, the late H. S. Piper. Having secured the services of Mr. W. A. Calnek as editor and literary manager, she has no doubt it will be kept up to its full standard of interest and usefulness. The continuance of the liberal patronage hitherto accorded to the MONITOR is hereby respectfully solicited.

Springs and their Mineral Waters.

The virtues of the waters of certain mineral springs were recognized at a very early period in the world's history, and some of those which were most noted in Britain, during the rule of the Romans from 55 B. C. to 410 A. D., are still of great reputation. The remains of Roman baths, in which the chalybeate waters were used, still exist at Bath, and attest the medical properties of the springs in the neighborhood of that city in the Roman days. The some observation would apply with equal force and truthfulness to the waters of Germany, France and some other European countries. But perhaps in no period of the world's history have the merits of natural medicinal waters been held in so great esteem as they are to-day. As a proof of this take the sales of the German Apollinaris waters in America, where statistics prove that more than two million of dollars are yearly derived from their consumption. Every year has added to the long list of saline, alkaline, chalybeate and sulpher springs, found in recent years in various sections of this continent, which in turn have become popular and fashionable resorts for invalids and tourists, and every year continues still to add to the number.

We have been led to make these remarks from the perusal of an article in a late number of the Industrial Journal, a useful paper published in Bangor, Maine, in which reference is made to a chalybeate spring just now being boomed into notice. This spring, which is situated at the foot of the Blue Hills, and within two or three miles of the village of that name, was noticed as having mineral properties as early as 1839, fifty years ago, by Charles T. Jackson, M. D., who, if we mistake not, was associated with the late Mr. Alger, of Boston, in mining operations at Moose river, in this County, 1820—27. Of this spring Dr. Jackson said (in 1839): "In the course of time the mineral spring will become a place of resort for invalids and people of leisure, and there is no doubt that its use, combined with an occasional excursion to the mountains, would prove a sovereign remedy for dyspeptic complaints, and many other diseases common to sedentary people." These words have proved prophetic; to-day they are being fulfilled. A Blue Hill Mineral Spring Company has just been formed, who have purchased 50 acres of land, including the spring, and during this present season have erected a house at the spring, and secured the necessary apparatus for aerating and bottling the water. A road has been built to the spring, which has had a curbing of granite placed around it, and the lands surrounding it are rapidly being ornamented as a park, etc.

We now come to the point we wish to make. The waters of this spring have been analyzed and the analysis, made by Prof. Sharples, of Massachusetts, is before us. The professor says:—"The water is entirely free from any organic impurities, and is particularly valuable in all kidney troubles, also, as it contains the salts of the blood, it becomes a tonic of great value, and an aperient unsurpassed by any mineral water on the market." The analysis shows the presence of only 8.23 parts of mineral solids in 100,000 parts, consisting of silica 1.85, sodium chloride (common salt) .50, sodium sulphate 1.40, sodium carbonate .26, calcium carbonate (lime) 3.21, ferrous carbonate (iron) 1.01. Comparing this analysis with that of the Wilmot spring, now owned by Captain Hall, it will be found that the waters of the latter are immensely superior, as every 7000 grains contains no less than 140 grains of solids, over one-half of which, by Dr. Lawson's analysis, being sulphuric acid (sulphur and oxygen), potash and soda (as chlorides) and distinct traces of iodine, all of which except the soda is wanting in the Blue Hill Spa.

Why could not a company be formed here to do for the Wilmot Spring what is now in course of being done for that (inferior one) at Blue Hill? When we reflect that the Wilmot waters have been tested in use in hundreds of instances, and found not only salutary, but curative, that "it is not a nostrum compounded by the art of man, but in Nature's vast laboratory where potash, lime, sulphur, salt, soda, magnesia, iodine, and other ingredients, are mixed with unerring certainty and poured forth from an exhaustless reservoir to bless mankind by curing their ailments or relieving their sufferings, we cannot but think it the duty of those possessing the means, to unite together for the purpose of placing the waters of our superior spring upon the markets of the world, and creating a watering summer resort in one of the finest districts to be found on the continent.

—The International S. S. Company have a new advertisement in to-day's issue of our paper to which the attention of the reader is invited. It will be seen that on the 17th inst. they will commence running one of their steamers from St. John direct to Boston on Saturday nights, thus providing three trips per week from Annapolis to Boston. The City of Monticello will make the Saturday connection with the S. S. State of Maine. The public cannot fail to note the enterprise of the International company thus exhibited on their behalf.

—An evening or two ago, two of the young men of the country met on the piazza of the Grand Central. "Evening, Tom," said one of them; "How do," was the reply of the other, whom we shall call Sam. "Sam," said Tom, "how are you getting along with haying? cut the grass outside the dyke yet?" "No," said Sam, "plenty of time for that" "But the spring tides will soon be on us you know, they will be very high it is said, and I'm trying to secure mine before it comes on," was the reply. "I didn't think of that," said Sam, "but tell me how the pedigree of the moon is, and I can tell you whether the tides will be as high as they say or not;" but Tom did not know the moon's pedigree, and laughing, said "it was best to get the hay anyway, for fear of damage.

Granville Ferry Items.

Capt. Samuel Groves launched his new schooner, "Granville," of about 300 tons, Saturday, Aug. 10th, at Parker's Cove. She immediately made sail and came round to Granville Ferry the same day, sailing on this, her first trip, in a manner highly satisfactory to the owners. She is to load lumber sawed by the mill lately burned at the Ferry for River Platte, and will be sheathed with yellow metal at the same place before loading. The Methodist people of Parker's Cove improved the occasion by holding a tea-meeting on the same day in aid of their new meeting-house, and realized about $67.00.

Rev. W. L. Parker baptized one person at Goat Island, Granville, on Sunday, August 11th.

Launch on Bay Shore.

A large three masted schooner was successfully launched from the shipyard at Parker's Cove on Saturday, the 10th inst. She is built of first-class materials, is well fastened, and was full rigged when launched. She is owned by Capt. Groves, James Schafner, and others, and bears the name of "Granville." She will register something over three hundred tons, and will be employed by her owners in the carrying trade to Brazil or other South American ports. May her owners find her a profitable ship and reap a full reward of their enterprise.

The owners of the three master recently destroyed on the stocks at Granville Ferry by fire will at once proceed in the construction of another of similar rig and tonnage. To this end, we are informed, they have rented the yard belonging to the Mills estate to the west of the village. The frame timbers will soon be in the yard and the work of building commenced.

Town Improvements.

The Rev. Mr. Cassidy, who some time ago purchased the Marsden Foster property, situated near the railway station, in the lane, has nearly finished the work of remodelling the old dwelling. He has introduced new bay windows and substituted a well designed portico in place of the old closed porch once in use. The exterior has received a coating of paint of a greenish color which has so changed its appearance for the better that its best friends scarcely know it.

Mr. Legg has also begun the work of remodeling his house in the town, and it will soon present a much improved appearance.

We are glad to note the improvements in the course of being made at the railway station here. An addition of fifteen feet is to be placed on the west end of the present station building, and a bay window inserted in the north front. The old platform is to be modernized and renewed, and the cattle yard has already been shifted to the east of the station being placed on the north side of the track instead of on the south as before. These improvements will add considerable to the appearance and usefulness of the premises.

Messrs. William and Samuel Reed have just completed a series of alterations and improvements in the old Bohaker house, which now makes it one of the neatest dwellings in town. A new front has been put in with large bay windows; the rooms inside remodeled and the main hall enlarged. The whole has been newly painted, papered, etc., and now possesses every element of taste and comfort that could be desired. We cordially wish them every happiness in the new home they have thus created.

Supreme Court.

Mr. Justice Weatherbe has filed decisions in the following cases reserved by him at the June term of the Supreme Court:—

Pease vs. Windsor & Annapolis Railway. Verdict for defendent with costs. Pltff's. counsel W. E. Roscoe and O. T. Daniels. Defdt.'s counsel Newcomb and Schafner.

Morse and Oswald vs. Morse. This was an action by the assignees of Bowlby, Balcom & Co. against the sheriff representing certain creditors of Bowlby, Balcom & Co., who disputed the validity of the assignment. The following is the full text of the Judge's decision:—

"If this case came within the Union Bank vs. Whitman case, I should as a matter of course give a judgment for the defendant, that being a binding authority, but the assignment there was different from that under which property is here claimed; and so far as I can understand the reasons for the decision there, a judgment for plaintiff here would not conflict with any principal of law established in that case. It was said that the clause under which the business might be continued vitiated the assignment, but I consider myself in trying this case concluded by the authority of Graham and Bell, 5, Russel and Geldert, 90, and the clause attacked, viz., that for employing solicitors, &c., is, it seems to me, supported by authority. I therefore find a verdict for plaintiffs with costs. Counsel for pltf.: Ervin and W. B. A. Ritchie. Counsel for defdt.: C. S. Harrington, T. D. Ruggles & Sons, W. E. Roscoe and O. T. Daniels.

—The readers attention is called to the Philadelphia letter printed in another column. It is well worthy of perusal; so also is that of our Boston correspondent.

—An anvil block was cast in the steel works at New Glasgow on the 7th inst., which weighed 35 tons. This is the heaviest casting ever made in Canada.

CURIOUS.—One day last week Dr. Bowles cut part of a small fish-hook out of the breast of Master Jack Heales, son of Mr. S. P. Heales, of this place. It is a mystery how it came there and Dr. B. says the hook, of which he was unable to get but a piece, may have been there for years. Jack stood the operation like a little hero, and is now none the worse for it.—Acadian.

—Some sixty or seventy gentlemen belonging to the religious body once known as Plymouth Brethren, but now simply as Brethren, will have arrived in town before the Lord's Day next. Some of them will hold services in the Court House, which has been secured for them for that purpose, on Sunday and the two following days. See adv. in another column. We have no doubt but that these services will be of considerable interest and attended by large audiences.

The Late H. S. Piper.

The following Resolution of Condolence was passed by Rothsay Lodge of F. & A. M., of which he was a member, at its last regular meeting and speaks for itself. We also append some press notices of the deceased, noted since our last issue, which will not fail to be of interest to those for whose welfare he labored for the past ten years:—

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Supreme Grand Master to remove from among us one dearly beloved in the person of Bro. Henry S. Piper, in the prime of life and in the midst of a useful and active career;

AND WHEREAS, Our deceased brother was actively identified with every movement that had for its object the advancement and well being of our community;

THEREFORE RESOLVED, That this Lodge takes this occasion to express its high appreciation of his character as a man and a Mason;

AND FURTHER RESOLVED, That the sympathy of this Lodge be extended to the widow and mother of the deceased in their sad bereavement;

AND FURTHER RESOLVED; That a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of our deceased brother and one to the WEEKLY MONITOR for publication.

NEWSPAPER MAN GONE.—The papers record the death of Henry S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Bridgetown MONITOR, who died on Sunday, 28th July. Under him the MONITOR had reached a foremost place in the ranks of provincial journalism, the paper being conducted with a good deal of ability. He had only reached the age of 37 years. He was a gentleman in the widest meaning of the term, and will be greatly missed in the county in which he displayed so great an interest. A correspondent of the Star says:—"He was the last man here of the Piper family. He was a Warden of St. James' Church, of which Parson Wilkins is Pastor, and will be much missed by the church and congregation, as he was an earnest worker in all things pertaining to the English Church at large. He will also be much missed by his brother Masons of Rothsay Lodge, No. 41, of which he was a member, and who followed him with bowed heads and sorrowful hearts to the house appointed for all living."—Hants Journal.

Mr. Henry S. Piper, editor, publisher and proprietor of the Bridgetown MONITOR died at his residence on Sunday morning, 28th ult. He became connected with the MONITOR in 1873 in company with Mr. John E. Sancton, and about 6 years afterwards bought out Mr. Sancton's interest in the business, from that time up to his death conducting the business himself and making a vast number of friends. He was only 36 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. The MONITOR under Mr. Piper's management became one of the best local newspapers in the Maritime Provinces, and the town of Bridgetown meets with a sad, sad loss in Mr. Piper's death. —Enterprise

The death of the late Henry S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Bridgetown MONITOR, has cast a gloom not only over the community in which he resided, but throughout the entire county. A number of the brethren of the "mystic tie" went from town to attend the funeral. It is the intention of Mrs. Piper to have the publication of the MONITOR continued.—St. John Telegraph.

Mr. Henry S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Bridgetown MONITOR, who has been for some time past in failing health, died at his home on Sunday last. Mr. Piper was but 37 years of age, and is spoken of as a man of exemplary character in all the relations of his life.—Windsor Tribune.

Wars and Rumors of Wars.

The proposed invasion of Egypt by the Soudanese has proved a fizzle. The Dervishes have had their forces badly beaten —some fifteen hundred of them being killed or wounded, and their prophet leader killed in the late battle, some notice of which we gave our readers last week.

The revolutionary war in progress in the island of Hayti is becoming marked by atrocities which are a disgrace to the leaders both of the assailed and the assailants. Prisoners are said to have been butchered without mercy and contrary to the customs of civilized warfare.

The island of Crete, in the east Mediterranean, which belongs to Turkey, is in a state of rebellion. Greece seems to be at the bottom of the revolt, which has its cause in religion, there being many Greek christians among the population of the island. A conflict has already been attended by bloodshed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The steamer Australia, from Honolulu, brings news dated July 30th. Two half white Hawaians, Robert W. Wilcox and Robert Boyd, with the aid of 150 natives, made an armed attempt to overthrow the government. The palace grounds and government house were taken possession of by the rioters. The Honolulu rifles were called out and a skirmish ensued. Seven Hawaians were killed and 12 wounded. The rioters were at last compelled to surrender.

Sunday Services.

St. James' Church pulpit was filled, as usual, by the rector, Rev. L. M. Wilkins. His evening sermon was based on Matthew, ch. 18, v. 21 and 22, from which he delivered a fine discourse on "The Duty of Forgiveness."

The Baptist Church pulpit was occupied morning and evening by the Rev. Sidney Welton, whose morning text was from 1st Cor., 15 chap., v. 3 and 4, from which he noted the stress laid by St. Paul upon the Death and Resurrection of Jesus as the essence of the Christian doctrine. His discourse exhibited a breadth of thought, couched in a smooth and well cadenced rhetoric, which is not often heard in our country pulpits, marred only by a few grammatical slips almost unavoidable in extemporaneous sermons. Mr. Welton is a son of the late Sidney Welton, of South Kingston, who was the grandson of a loyalist of 1783, and is a brother of Prof. Welton, of McMaster.

The Presbyterian pulpit was filled, in the afternoon, by Rev. Mr. Fraser—the pastor. His subject was "The Son, the second Person in the Trinity," from the text 1st Timothy, 3, 16. He admitted that the Divinity of Jesus was not dogmatically affirmed before A. D. 325, at the Council of Nicea, and that the controversy concerning it was continued for several centuries afterward. Some of his points were very convincing and well made. The whole discourse was a thoughtful and logical effort from the premises from which he reasoned. His manner is excellent, his voice and delivery good, and his earnestness unmistakable. It is a matter of regret that we could not have the manuscript for private perusal.

The Rev. Father Grace held services in the Roman Catholic Church morning and afternoon. Our necessary absence is regretted, because Rev. Mr. GRACE may be fairly ranked among the most eloquent of our preachers, and we always derive both pleasure and profit from his discourses.

The Methodist pulpit was filled by the present incumbent—Rev. Mr. Wright—to whose powers as a preacher we have before made reference. We understand his sermon in the evening in Providence church was much admired.

—The Rev. W. B. Bradshaw of Nictaux, is absent on a vacation.

—Mr. Allison, inspector of weights and measures for the Western Counties, was in town yesterday on official business.

—The weather was fairly favorable for the farmer's work last week, and a large quantity of hay and grain were garnered. So far this week the weather has been all it could be desired, and if it continues so to the end the great bulk of those crops will be secured in good order.

—Our returned Carnival visitors all agree that it was a magnificent spectacle from beginning to end, far exceeding their greatest expectations. The 20,000 strangers who visited the city during the week probably left nearly a quarter of a million of dollars in the province before finally leaving it. It was a great success.

Jesuits' Estates Act.

The following is the text of the reply of the governor-general to the petitions of the equal rights association in re the Jesuit matter. The Jesuits' Estates Act is now the law of the land, the eighth instant having come and passed without disallowance.

"The very best authority to which I have had access makes it clear to my mind that the Jesuits' Estates Act was not ultra vires of the legislature of Quebec, and derogatory in any way to the supremacy of the Queen. As to the moral claims involved this I have to say: The recognition of this measure by the federal government is upheld by many parliamentary precedents, and is quite in the usual way of a wise and liberal administration of public affairs. Let us be fair minded and sane in our judgements and not hurrid away by prejudices. I cannot find that in this 19th century the Society of Jesus have been less law abiding or less loyal citizens than the others. The legal status of the society was settled by the act of incorporation in 1887, and the Jesuits' Estates Act has left their rights as it found them. I venture with all due deference, gentlemen, to you, to maintain that the vote in parliament is nothing to be made little of. The house of commons represents the Canadian people. Let me urge, respectfully, all possible tolerance for the opinions and convictions of every class of our citizens. I am unable to hold out to you, gentlemen, any hope that the act will be disallowed, and I can't conceal the danger I apprehend that might be made by a con-course of such deputations as yours, a court of appeals, as it were, against the constitutional powers. Let me repeat it again: I cannot hold out the slightest hope to you that the Jesuits' Estates Act will be barred from becoming law."

A Chapter of Accidents.

DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING.—On Thursday afternoon last a son of Mr. Jacob Fitch at Conquerall went down to the lake in front of his father's house for the purpose of having his usual bath, and after undressing himself plunged into the water and swam out into the lake; when about two or three hundred yards from the shore a shout was given by him and his sister who was on the shore of the lake at the time looked across to ascertain the cause, as also did his father who was standing in front of his house, but at that time he was seen to come to the surface and then disappear while both the father and sister were unable to render any assistance whatever, and Mr. Fitch was obliged to witness the drowning of his son from his own door. A searching party was soon organized and spent all the afternoon in searching for the body, which they were not successful in finding until the next morning. When found the eyebrows were completely eaten off by eels, and one leg was drawn up as if by rheumatism. He was 24 years of age and a very amiable young man.—Enterprise

RUPTURED A BLOOD VESSEL.—A little daughter of Sir John Thompson, who, with several others of the family were stopping at the Grand Narrows hotel in Cape Breton become ill with whooping-cough and while coughing ruptured a blood vessel. She was taken to Halifax Saturday night, for medical treatment. Sir John and Lady Thompson set out at once on their way to Halifax from Ottawa.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn of a sad accident which occurred at Hantsport on Tuesday evening last. A lad of 14 years, named Arthur Dalton, a brother of Conductor Dalton, of St. John, went into the water to bathe, and was drowned. An inquest was held by Dr. Gossip, Coroner, on Wednesday morning. Young Dalton was at Hantsport on a visit. —Tribune.

On Saturday morning last the body of Capt. Duncan McDermott, the master of a schooner from Prince Edward Island, was found in Sidney Harbor. An inquest found a verdict of accidental drowning. Captain McDermott was an old man, his vessel was in the stream, and in looking for his boat at the wharf he fell over, nobody being present to render assistance.—Pres. Witness.

At Yarmouth a remarkable fatal accident occurred on Wednesday night, an old cannon in the drill shed was discharged and the shot killed a man named Cosman, in a stable in the next street. An obstruction was found in one of the guns. A shot was jammed in tightly near the breach. Capt. Jolly tried to blow the shot out by putting in powder at the touchhole and firing. A small quantity of rifle powder was put in the friction tube and exploded. But there was no effect until the third attempt when there was a startling report, the shot tore through a heavy folded up gymnasium mattress, through the end of the wall of a building, and entered the back of a stable, where Cosman was cleaning a horse, it struck him a glancing blow, breaking his neck, and then passed through four heavy board partitions before it was spent.—P. Witness.

Arthur Aikens had the top taken off one of his fingers at the Steel works Monday morning. On the same day a seven-year-old son of Mr. Forroster's fell from the hatch of the elevator outlet in the Norfolk House sample room. He landed on his feet but received severe injuries.—E. Chronicle.

A telegram says that the schooner Festina Lente, of Lockport, Capt. Hugh McAlpine, has been wrecked on Bryon Island of the Magdalen group. No further particulars. She is owned by W. A. McDonald, the captain, and others, and is insured in the Nova Scotia Insurance company for $3,000, with outfits and returns in the Boston Marine for $2,500.

Mr. A. S. Boyle of Brooklyn St., while trimming a tree on Tuesday last inflicted a severe cut on his leg just below the knee.

On Saturday last a child of 4 years of age, belonging to Edward Wambold, of North Alton, jumped upon a wagon returning from Kentville to Dodge's mill, and, falling off, its head was run over by the wheel and it was taken up insensible. A little girl, belonging to Morton Beach, who jumped upon the wagon at the same time, also fell off and had her leg jammed by the wheel.—New Star.

THE MARY LANDSON LOST.—Word was received on Saturday that the barque Mary Landson, from New York for Halifax, with general cargo was run into by the steamer Cadiz on Thursday and totally destroyed. The barque was cut amidships, the steamer going completely through her. One of the sailors, George Ansen, was killed. The remainder of the crew were taken to New York. The captain's wife had a narrow escape from being drowned. She was rescued after being in the water fifteen minutes.

—Rev. Howard Barss will preach next Lord's day in the morning, at 11 o'clock, at the Baptist Church, in Bridgetown.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.—On Wednesday last, at 11 a. m., a happy event occurred at the residence of J. P. Edwards, conductor on the W. & A. railway, namely, the marriage of Miss Mamie Edwards to Robert A. Gardiner, of Indiantown, N. B. In the afternoon the newly married couple took their departure on a short wedding tour to the United States, accompanied by the best wishes of Miss Edwards' numerous friends. On their return they will settle for the present at Indiantown. On Tuesday evening we had the pleasure of having a look over the grand display of wedding presents, numbering some seventy odd, comprising costly and useful articles towards the fitting up of the new homehold. In looking over the same we could not help thinking that Miss Edwards and her parents must feel proud of the very evident high esteem in which she is held by her friends, as evinced by the tokens shown us. By her departure Annapolis loses one of her accomplished and most amiable daughters and who will be long missed.—Annapolis Spectator.
