Floorglaze

It does what paint can't do

Paint soaks into wood floors—and leaves a porous film a-top. But Floorglaze soaks in and leaves a glass-like, dust-proof, germ-proof, can't-wear-off surface. Just as good outdoors as indoors. Ask at the store—or ask us.

'It's a good idea to have something laid aside for a rainy day.'

'Yep,' answered Peter Corntossel, 'only that kind o' cash is a good deal like a reg'lar umbrell'. Some other feller is liable to walk off with it jest as the shower starts.'

Pain, anywhere, can be quickly stopped by one of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. Pain always means congestion—unnatural blood pressure. Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets simply coax congested blood away from pain centers. These Tablets—known by druggists as Dr Shoop's Headache Tablets—simply equalize the blood circulation and then pain always departs in 20 minutes. 20 Tablets 25 cents. Write Dr Shoop, Racine, Wis, for free package. Sold by A. V. Rand.

'Which do you prefer,' said the enthusiastic young lady—'music or poetry?' 'Poetry,' answered Miss Cayenne. 'You can keep poetry shut up in a book. You don't have to listen to it unless you choose.'

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

Mr. Thos. Stenton, postmaster of Pontypool, Ont., writes: 'For the past eight years I suffered from rheumatic pains, and during that time I used many different liniments and remedies for the cure of rheumatism. Last summer I procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and got more relief from it than anything I have ever used, and cheerfully recommend this liniment to all sufferers from rheumatic pains.' For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

An agent came in yesterday and offered to sell us a fireproof safe. He was like the man who asked an Irishman to buy a trunk. 'What for?' asked the latter. 'To keep your clothes in,' was the reply. 'And go naked, be jabers,' the Irishman retorted.

'Health Coffee' is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. This clever Coffee Substitute was recently produced by Dr Shoop of Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Dr Shoop's Health Coffee is made from pure toasted grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—who might drink it for Coffee. No 29 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. 'Made in a minute' says the doctor. Sold by T. L. Harvey.

The Rev. Dr. Fourthly was reading the evening lesson from the Book of Job.

'Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out—'

At this instant by one of those inexplicable accidents that sometimes happen, all the electric lights went out, leaving the church in total darkness.

'Brethern,' said Dr. Fourthly, without a moment's pause, 'in view of the sudden and startling fulfilment of this prophecy, we will spend a few minutes in silent praper—for the electric lighting company.'

Horsemen, Read This.

I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my stables for over a year, and consider it the VERY BEST for horse flesh I can get, and would strongly recommend it to all horsemen.

'I'm going over to comfort Mrs. Brown,' said Mrs. Jackson to her daughter Mary. 'Mr. Brown hanged himself in their attic last night.' 'Oh mother, don't go! You know you always say the wrong thing.' 'Yes, I'm going Mary. I'll just talk about the weather. That's a safe enough subject.' Mrs. Jackson went on her visit of condolence. 'We have had rainy weather, lately, haven't we, Mrs. Brown?' she said. 'Yes,' replied the widow. 'I haven't been able to get the week's washing dried.' 'Oh,' said Mrs. Jackson, 'I shouldn't think you could have any trouble. You have such a fine attic to hang things in.'

A tramp, walking down a city street one day, saw a little boy stoop and pick up something.

'You have made a find, my lad,' he said.

'Yes, sir,' said the boy. 'I have found a silver ring.'

'I thought so,' said the tramp; 'it's the one I just dropped. Now, ain't it lucky I had my name cut in it?'

'What is your name?' asked the boy, suspiciously.

'Sterling, lad.'

'Take it, then; it's yours,' said the boy, handing the ring over.

A Deserted Village.

Tom Plowman lived on a section farm
Not far from a prosperous village;
He worked late and early and calloused his palm,
But thrived by industrious tillage.
He saved up some money and stood very well,
His luck would have lasted for all we can tell
If he never had heard of Toronto.

One day a big catalogue came through the mail
That told of a wonderful heater:
The figures were tempting, Tom swallowed the tale,
Says he, 'Mr. Merchant's a cheater.
His profit must be near a hundred per cent.,
I'll just call his bluff and unless he'll relent
I'll order a stove from Toronto.'

He drove to the village and entered the store
With an air that was lofty and knowing,
Says he, 'Mr. Merchant, please tell me once more
The price of that stove you were showing.'
'Thirty-five, cash or credit, the best one in town.'
Tom turned on his heel and went out with a frown,
And sent off a check to Toronto

He bragged to his neighbors and they in a trice
Sent away for whatever they needed;
They often were stuck, but they got a low price,
Which, of course was the thing they heeded.
The merchant soon failed and sold out his store,
And this was the notice he left on his door;
'Gone to look for a job in Toronto.'

Tom's mail order stove didn't work very long,
But no one in town could repair it.
At last he was forced to admit he was wrong,
His neighbors weren't slow to declare it.
With no stores there was none to buy or sell,
The drummers stopped coming, they closed the hotel,
'Twas surprising how quickly the town went to—well
A very long way from Toronto.

The lawyer, the doctor, the editor, too,
They all got cold feet very quickly;
The parson soon noticed the way the wind blew,
He left, for his children were sickly.
At last Tom decided to sell his old farm,
But no one, he found with the greatest alarm,
Would buy one so far from Toronto.

With blank desolation Tom stared in the face
His courage grew weaker and weaker,
Till he made up his mind to get out of the place
And go on a jaunt as a home seeker.
So he put on his overcoat, paked up his grip,
Says he, 'I'll be giving my neighbors the slip,
For I must be off to Toronto.'

When he got to the station to Tom's great surprise
He found it deserted and dusty,
Inhabited only by spiders and flies,
And the siding was crooked and rusty.
The train flew by whizzing, Tom waited in vain,—
Says he, 'Neither merchant nor doctor nor train
Will stop any place but Toronto.'

Spring Tiredness Cured By Harmless Remedy.

Many are using it and receiving benefits from its strength-giving power.

All winter long you worked hard. This took lots of nerve force. It lasted so far, but now it's all gone and you feel half dead.

Somehow you must get new vitality and more nerve force. The water in the blood must be turned into strength and building material. Your fretful appetite must be braced up. Some new power must be imparted to your weak body.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which is an instant blood maker, blood-enricher and nerve builder.

Ferrozone not only creates keen appetite, it goes further, improves digestion and assimilation, so that every particle of food is converted into nerve and muscle fibres.

By building up new nerve force and making each organ do the work that nature expects of it, Ferrozone quickly increases your weight and instils a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, spring debility or sickness of any kind.

To prove the enormous, strengthening power of Ferrozone we quote the following letter from Mrs. Cecil P. Gourmally, well known in Middleville: 'Last March I was very run down, and thin. I had no appetite and scarcely felt like eating at all. My face was palid and haggard and I had dark circles under my eyes. My weight was seven pounds under normal and day by day that awful spring weariness dragged me down. The change Ferrozone wrought was surprising. It must certainly contain wonderful building and strengthening properties because I gained strength, flesh and appetite from the day I started it. I speedily came back to vigorous bouyant health with Ferrozone and recommend it as the best medicine any person in weak health can take.'

Ferrozone strengthens the weak restores the anaemic, soothes the nervous, assists men, women and children to better health. Try it. 50c. per box or six for $2 50, at all dealers.

Customer (to grocer)—I wish you would not give me such short weight for my money. Grocer—I wish you would not give me such long wait for mine!

That languid, lifeless feeling that comes with spring and early summer, can be quickly changed to a feeling of buoyancy and energy by the judicious use of Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

The Restorative is a genuine tonic to tired, run-down nerves, and but a few doses is needed to satisfy the user that Dr. Shoop's Restorative is actually reaching that tired spot. The indoor life of winter nearly always leads to sluggish bowels, and to sluggish circulation in general. The customary lack of exercise and outdoor air ties up the liver, stagnates the kidneys, and oft-times weakens the Heart's action. Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative a few weeks and all will be changed. A few days test will tell you that you are using the right remedy. You will easily and surely note the change from day to day. Sold by A. V. Rand.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardstown, Ky., writes:

"I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

"Sunshine" Furnace

Where Shaking is Respectable

A Draft off furnace dome, with no other assistance, is powerless to overcome the dust nuisance in shaking time. Only surplus dust rises of itself above the fire. Great bulk descends into ash-pit, and unless legitimate outlet is therein provided, dust will escape through ash-door slits and into operator's face.

In "Sunshine" Furnace the legitimate dust outlet is provided. It's a great big dust-pipe running straight from ash-pit to dome, thence to chimney. When big pipe damper is opened, all dust in ash-pit ascends to dome; then, when direct drafts are opened, all dust passes up chimney.

Always the clean and quick dust route in "Sunshine" Furnace — via grate, to pan, to dust-pipe, to dome, to chimney, to open air.

"One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by Rand's Drug Store.

Temperance Progress.

The Quebec Prohibitory Alliance held the most encouraging annual meeting in its history a few days ago.

The principal speaker of the evening was Hon. George E. Foster. The Montreal Witness' report says he 'made an inspiring speech dealing with the questions of temperance and prohibition.' He spoke of the moral awakening now becoming so apparent in every part of the world, and presented a graphic picture of the wide-spread movement for the closing of the drink shop. In the United States fully thirty-five per cent. of the population are living under prohibitory laws, adopted by the people themselves. 'And,' he said, what an ideal is opened up to us when a level-headed man such as the Chancellor of Great Britain stood up in parliament and proposed a measure that would strike out 35,000 licenses at one fell swoop in Great Britain and Ireland. That measure was not yet law, but it was an indication of the power that was behind the proposer of it. In Germany the best scientific men of the day are devoting their energies to a study of the effects of alcohol on the human body. In France the best men are similarly studying its effects on national life. And in Canada on every hand there are signs that we are sharing in the spirit of this revival. All this gladdened the hearts of the old workers in the cause like himself and Mr. Dougall and many others, and made them feel that their lives had not been spent in vain.' Speaking of the causes of the wave of temperance reform sweeping over the world, he said, 'Whence did it come? It certainly is not a sudden outburst of new ideas. It is really the outcome of many years of patient and self-sacrificing work. It is the fruit of the activities and the educational work of bodies like the Sons of Temperance, the White Ribbon Army and many other numerous temperance organizations—bodies not now so much in evidence as once they were, a fact that he much regretted.' He dwelt in a clear, strong way with the economic feature of the temperance movement. It is and always will be a great moral question, and so recognized now as never before. But it is to-day widely recognized as also an economic question. The business interests of the country are beginning to question what the saloons mean to their own progress and status in the community. The railways, the manufacturing interests, and the great employing corporations, are taking a hand in stamping out the drink evil by refusing to employ drinking men because they cannot be relied upon. These are powerful factors in making for sobriety and the restriction of the liquor traffic. He wondered if the people gave as much consideration as they should to the fact that a man saved in Canada is as good as a man gained.

'We spend over a million a year in bringing into this country people from all over the world to add to the population, while all the time thousands and thousands of native born citizens are being destroyed through the drink habit, and the curse attaching to it. Yet each one of these citizens, if saved to Canada, would be of more value than a man just brought into the country, because he would know the genius of the people and belong to the atmosphere of the country. When the C. P. R., or another great corporation goes to London and raises $25,000,000 or $30,000 000 to spend for development in this country, everybody says that it is a good work. And it is. But what a fine thing it would be if we would take the twenty or thirty or forty millions that is worse than wasted in Canada every year and use that as Canadian capital to expend in the development of the country. Then we would not only save the waste, but also the interest that otherwise went to the foreign country from which we borrowed. Every proper business,' he continued, 'is one in which both parties have some good done them—both the buyer and the seller. Apply that test to the liquor business. Are both parties benefited? They are not, for in proportion as the saloon thrives, the individual, the home and the social life decline. It is a business which is deadly in its effects upon the community.' Referring to the scheme in which Earl Grey and some others in England are interested, of buying up licensed houses and conducting them on what are called model lines,—with special restrictions—he suggested that the plan was probably worth considering where licenses must still exist and so long as they exist. He closed with words of cheer to the temperance workers. At the very root of prohibition is restriction, and as a prohibitionist himself, he believed that the policy of prohibitionists should be to take all they can get in the way of restrictions and constantly ask for more.

Sir Frederic Treves, physician to King Edward, declares that alcohol is an insiduous poison, and should be subject to the same strict limitation as opium, morphia or strychnine, that its supposed stimulating effects are delusive.

Aggravated Piles

ITCHING, BLEEDING.

Women are particularly subject to piles or hemorrhoids before and after child-birth, because of pressure on the portal vein which interferes with the circulation of the blood. Many thousands of women have proven the efficacy of Dr. Chase's Ointment under such circumstances.

The torture of piles is almost beyond endurance, but it matters not whether they are of the itching, bleeding or protruding variety, they can be cured by

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

From almost the first application this treatment, by its marvelous soothing power, brings relief and comfort. Persistent and regular use will heal the ulcers and bring about thorough and lasting cure. 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mrs. Geo. H. Simser, Grant, Simcoe Co., Ont., writes:

"I suffered the keen distress of itching, bleeding and protruding piles for eleven years, and through failure of doctor's treatment lost all hope of cure. Dr. Chase's Ointment brought relief at once, and soon healed the ulcers. That was five years ago and I have never been troubled since."

Chamberlain's Has the Preference.

Mr Fred C. Hanrahan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: 'For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market. I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customer so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him, that I give it the preference.' For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

The following answer was recently given in a geography examination, in reply to the question: 'From what direction do most of our rains come?'

Most of our rains comes straight down, but some of them come sideways.

Miss Elderleigh—Doctor, do you believe that bleaching the hair leads to softening of the brain?

Doctor—No; but I believe that softening of the brain sometimes leads to bleaching the hair.

A Healing Salve for Burns, Chapped Hands and Sore Nipples.

As a healing salve for burns, sores, sore nipples and chapped hands Chamberlain's Salve is most excellent. It allays the pain of a burn almost instantly, and unless the injury is very severe, heals the parts without leaving a scar. Price, 25 cents. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

'That dress is becoming, my dear,' said the man who thinks he is a diplomat.' She looked at him coldly for a moment, and then replied: 'Yes. It is becoming threadbare.

Indescribable Torture of Piles.

Mrs. George H. Simser, Grant, Russel Co., Ont., writes: "For eleven years I doctored for bleeding, itching and protruding piles without success. The torture I suffered at times was beyond description. A friend told me about Dr. Chase's Ointment. It brought relief at once and cured me permanently five years ago.

'They tell tell me that poor Jolly is a victim of his own good fellowship.'

'That's so. He lost his own health in drinking other people's.'

For Constipation.

Mr. L. H. Farnham, a prominent druggist of Spirit Lake, Iowa, says: 'Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are certainly the best thing on the market for constipation.' Give these tablets a trial. The most sought for breeds of sheep are those combining mutton and wool production in the highest degree.

Protect the Lungs.

By using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at the first indication of throat irritation, you overcome the cold before it gets a hold on the bronchial tubes or lungs. No treatment has ever proved so successful as a cure for chronic bronchitis, asthma, croup and severe chest colds. This is why Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a standby in most homes.
