A New PROFESTANT SECT.-A new sect has been established in Michigan, who call themselves Wynobanarians. The feature which principally distinguishes them, is that of washing each other's feet; and it is done in this wise. After an extempore prayer, the elder of the congregation strips off his coat, or peels, according to the new vocahulary, gi-ds on a towel, and proceeds to wash the feet of the member nearest to him, who, in his turn, washes the feet of his neighbor, and so on. The sisters perform a like service for each other. The cleun feet feature of this sect is to be commended, and we hope is will triumph over the other sect to which it is in opposition, whose principal feature consists in never washing hands or feet. A distinguished sister of the unwashed, when accosted with,—" Why, how dirty your hands are," replied with evident satisfaction,— What would you say if you could see my feet?"—No! no! if we must choose between the two sects we prefer the Wynobanarians.—Boston Pilot.

A few months since (says the late T. Hood, I was applied to myself to contribute to a new journal, not exactly gratuitously, but at a very small advance upon nothing, and avowedly because the work had been planned according to that estimate. However, I accepted the terms conditionally; that is to say, provided the principle could be properly carried out. Accordingly I wrote to my butcher, baker, and other tradesmen, informing them that it was necessary, for the sake of cheap literature and the interests of the reading public, that they should furnish me with their several commodities at a very trifling per centage above cost price. It will be sufficient to quote the answer of the butcher.

"Sir, Respecting your note. Cheap literator be blowed. Butchers must live as well as other pepel. And if so he you or the reedin publick wants to have meet at prime cost, you must buy your own beastesses, and kill yourselves .- I remanes, &c.,

ONE WAY TO ESCAPE A LECTURE. - One night, after having kept up a frolic until a late hour, Colonel Jones reached home, when he found his wife waiting for him with a countenance that foretold a storm .-The Colonel, whose face never blanched before an ememy, quailed before the just indignation of his better-half. Instead of going to bed, he took a sent, and resting his elbows on his knees, with his face in his hands, seemed to become completely absorbed in grief, sighing heavily, and uttering such exclama-tions as 'poor Smith' poor fellow! His wife kept silent as long as possible, but at last, overcome by curiosity and auxiety, she inquired in a sharp tone; What's the matter with Smith?' 'Ah!' said the Colonel, 'his wife is giving him fits just now!' Mrs. Jones was mollified by the joke, and her wrath dis-

THE PAIN KILLER. - Rev. T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, Jan. 5th, 1857, says: within the past four years I have used and disposed of above live hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply (through the Mission Rooms) as soon as you can, say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasions to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayate, I was a woke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On my examination, I found that I had been bitten by a Centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than one hour I was

Among the many restoratives which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medical gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; out however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve, and to cure, is enhanced ten fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

HOME TESTIMONY.

Boston, April 18, 1852. }

No. 48 Union Str. 5 Ma Sern W. Fowne. - Dear Sir : - Your invaluable medicine, I can truly say, has literally snatched me from the grave. Last July I was attacked by a sudden Cold, which resulted in a very severe Cough, with violent pains in the Side and Chest. I became 8) much reduced, that my friends frankly told me that I must die. At this crisis, I heard of Wistar's liotsum of Wild Cherry, and immediately sent for a lottle. The effect produced was indeed wonderful. My physician, one of the most respectable in Boston, who had previously told me that a cure was hopeless came in, and I informed him what I had taken. He examined the Balsam, and advised me to continue the use of it, since which time I have continued to improve daily; and the same physician who had given me up, told me, a few days since, that I might Tel live many years.

Respectfully,
MARY ROWE. We can cheerfully testify to the truth of the above Catement, Mrs. Rowe having been an inmate of our
