The performers have, in the past, demonstrated their ability to do good work in this direction and will be greeted, as they deserve, with a bumper house. They present the drama tomorrow night also. It is well that home talent should be encouraged and the young ladies and gentlemen of this club merit generous patronage.

At her instance Officer Baxter arrested two suspected persons, a man and a woman, but a search failed to discover the missing articles. The purse contained $21 and some small change.

THE REGATTA AT DULUTH.

The regatta at Duluth, from July 21 to 26, promises to be one of the greatest meetings of its kind ever held. The races will be rowed on the St. Louis Bay, which for several seasons has been regarded as the best racing water in the West. The bay is a magnificent stretch of water at the extreme southwestern end of Lake Superior, and is well protected from roughwinds by the headlands on either side. The water is perfectly smooth, except in the stormiest weather. The Mississippi and Winnipeg Association will hold their regattas there during the coming carnival of rowing. In the two organizations are hundreds of amateurs from half-a dozen states. While the amateur races will be very interesting, the chief interest will centre in the professional matches. The first of these is for single scull, and will be rowed over a three-mile course, with a turn. There are four prizes in this race, the first being $500; second, $800; third, $400; fourth, $250. For this race are entered Edward Hanlan, Albert Hamm, Jake Gaudaur, John McKay, John Teemer, J. N. Ten Eyck, George Hosmer, Charles E. Courtney, Fred Plaisted, Wallace Ross, Peter Dempsey, Jerry Casey and Henry Wise. George W. Lee is also entered, but he is in Europe with Psotta, and may not be back to row. This will be a great race, and the first three prizes are expected to go to Hanlan, Teemer and Gaudaur, in just what order is not to be conjectured. The other men will probably have a grand struggle for fourth prize, and Charles Courtney, if in form, should make a good showing. Hosmer, McKay, Ross, Dempsey, Wise and Casey are all out for the purses, and the race promises to be one of the grandest ever seen in America or elsewhere.

The second professional race will be the double scull, over a mile and a half straightaway. The winners will receive $1,000; the second, $550; third, $350. The professionals will all make up good doubles for this race. Guadaur and McKay, Hanlan and Hosmer, Hamm and Courtney, Ross and Wise, Teemer and Casey are among the possibilities. The latter double should win. Teemer has rowed a very fast mile and a half, and Casey is an exceptionally fast man at this distance. The two men should make a new record. Both of the men are in good condition.

The professionals' next event will be the four-oared working boat race over a three-mile course with a turn. The prizes are: First, $250; second, $600; third, $300. The combinations for this race are difficult to speculate on. A strong crew has been formed at St. John, N. B., but the professionals will combine without doubt, to win the race. A strong four would be Casey (bow), Hamm, Teemer, and McKay (stroke). At any event, the professionals will make up fours which will probably pull off the race.

The last, but not the least, of the professional events is the quarter-mile dash open to all comers. The prizes for this race are: First, $250; second, $[illegible]0, third, $75; fourth $50. All the men will enter in this event. The majority of Boston experts give Casey a place in this race, while Hamm, who used to be known as the "Lightning Boy of Boston," is well thought of.

The party that left Boston for Duluth yesterday, consisted of John Teemer, John McKay, James Ten Eyck and Jerry Casey.

The N. B. League.

Yesterday at the Shamrock grounds the Shamrocks won from the Monctons after the fifth inning. The score stood:

Shamrocks	1	0	1	0	0	6	0	7	0	—5
Monctons	0	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	—6

Sullivan and Donovan were the home battery, while Roach, Farrell and Lake occupied the box at different times for the visitors.

At Fredericton, Capt. White pulled the game out, as he has done on previous occasions, by going into the box when our overpaid, poorly trained professional nine have failed to stand the trial. When White took the box the score stood 9 to 4 in favor of Fredericton, but the game was finished and in the end St. John came out ahead, the figures reading:—

St. John	1	1	0	1	1	0	5	2	x	—	11
Frederictons	1	1	2	0	5	0	1	0	0	—	10

Pierce, the St. Johns' new pitcher, was given a trial, and as far as yesterday's game goes, he had just as well not come.

Portland Methodist Church.

The painting of the interior of Portland Methodist church may be said to put the last finishing touch on that fine edifice, and now it presents a handsome appearance both inside and out. The walls of the interior of the church have been painted a soft warm tint something of a terra cotta color with an ornamental red border above the wainscotting. The ash and walnut pews have been nicely oiled and finished up and the same treatment has greatly improved the appearance of the pitch pine pillars and frame work of the roof. On the end wall behind the choir stand three gothic panels have been painted, the larger panel in the middle containing an open bible with a dove flying downward just above it. Each of the smaller panels contain a large scroll partially unrolled.

The panels and the ornamental painting was done by Mr. F. H. C. Miles, and is paid for by the Young People's Society of the church.

Mr. James Boyd did the painting of the church, and it speaks well for his good judgment.

The halls and vestibule have also been painted, and the ceilings whitened. The building presents an inviting and comfortable appearance. While the painting was being done the services have been held in the Sunday school room. Next Sunday however, the church will be reopened and on that occasion the services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Townsend of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States, a minister widely known for his talent both as a speaker and an author. He will preach morning and evening, and on Monday the 14th will deliver a lecture.

The history of Portland Methodist church since the present building was commenced about 12 years ago has been of steady progress, and to-day the fine church building stands completely finished at a total cost of nearly $23,000 and paid for with the exception of a small mortgage which will no doubt be wiped out soon.

Fire Bricks.

Some parties are now making arrangements to commence the manufacture of fire bricks at Little River, Grand Lake. The move will no doubt be a profitable one if the parties understand how to make the bricks properly for the fire clay in that vicinity is of excellent quality and can be obtained in abundance at small cost. There is a nice little harbor opening on Grand Lake at Little River, which is only a few miles below the Newcastle coal region, giving good chances for cheap shipment. About 15 or 20 years ago Messrs. Temply & Annett engaged in the making of fire bricks at Little River, but owing to several causes they were not successful in the business. Their bricks, however, were good for some them which have recently been put in a furnace have, even after being exposed to the weather for 15 or 20 years, stood the test as well as the imported article. A large quantity of fire bricks is imported to the provinces every year, from England and Scotland which sell at prices ranging from $25 to $40 a thousand. About 100 tons of the Grand Lake fire clay is used in St. John every year in repairing furnaces. The clay generally sells at about $3 a ton, so that if the bricks are made so as to answer as well as the imported article it will be seen that the making of good fire brick ought to be a profitable industry.

The Soochow Tea Co.

One week ago today the store at No 179 Charlotte street was occupied as a confectionery establishment; today it is entirely changed, as on walking into the place it is not the sweets that are seen but a full and complete stock of teas, coffee &c. with a large assortment of china ware and dishes of almost every kind which are given away as presents with every pound of tea or coffee purchased.

Special attention is given to the mixing of teas and only those are used that are known to blend well. The stock at present includes the following fine brands, Japan, Ceylon, Gunpowder, Orange Pekoe, Oolong and English breakfast teas. The stock of coffee is also very choice, only some of the best brands being kept there. A light line of groceries will be kept always on hand and will be sold very low. The store is very neat and nicely finished and arranged, and Messrs Jenkins & Corbet, the proprietors, deserve success which they will no doubt receive.

Among the Shipping.

THE CARRIER DOVE.—Bark Carrier Dove which was abandoned while on a voyage from this port to Glasgow, was passed June 27, in lat 51 N, lon 30 W.

HARKINS' FIFTH AVENUE Co., which opens at the Institute next Monday evening, left New York to-day by the steamer Valencia. "The Black Flag," a powerful melo-drama will be the opening play and has been selected owing to the great popularity which it attained in New York where it was brought out at the Union Square theatre. There has been some misconception as to the nature of the piece, some thinking that it has something to do with pirates. But one of the great scenes is the quarry at Portsmouth (England) prison. When a prisoner escapes from that prison they always hoist a black flag and from this the drama takes its name. Mr. Melville, the comedian will have a great part, that of Sim Lazarus, a Jew, while Miss West will enact the role of Ned. The company will have special scenery from New York, for the piece but the additional scenic effects for the other pieces will be got up here.

GORTON'S MINSTRELS.—This company played to a crowded house last night at the Institute and every favorable anticipation that had been formed was nearly realized. The vocal quartette is a good one but the voices do not appear to such good advantage as soloists. The accompaniments by the band—all brass instruments—indicated a well trained combination whose work throughout was surprisingly good and afforded a real musical treat. The clog dancing was about the finest ever seen here and the specialties of the other performers were well rendered. Messrs. Welby, Hank, Goodman and Henry J. Yorkey, were instantly popular and provoked uncontrollable merriment. The company which plays to-night again is by all odds the best seen here for many years, and they should revisit St. John again.

The red spar buoy, No 4, marking the fifteen foot shoal in Nantasket Roads, about three-eights of a mile south of the Narrows Lighthouse, Boston Harbor, has been moved to a soft lump with about fifteen feet over it at low water. The change was rendered necessary by a newly developed eighteen foot spot upon which a steamer lately grounded. It is not shown on the chart, but is near a spot marked eight and one-quarter fathoms. The buoy is now on the following bearings: Boston Lighthouse N 57 E, true; Narrows Lighthouse N 20 W, true; False Spit Beacon N 13 true.
