Johnston, in the lands described as follows, namely:

Lots nine (9) and ten (10) in block seventy (70), according to a plan of the City of Calgary, of record in the Land Titles Office of the South Alberta Land Registration District, as Plan A, Calgary.

By a judgment of the Supreme Court of Alberta, it is declared that the transfer of the above lots from the defendant to Katherine Johnstone is void, as against the plaintiff, and that the plaintiff is entitled to proceed to a sale of the said lands under the above mentioned execution, and that upon a sale of the said lands being made under the said execution the purchaser will upon the confirmation thereof and the production of a transfer from the Sheriff be entitled to have the existing certificate of title to the said lands cancelled and be registered as the owner of the said lands subject to the mortgage thereon, in favor of the said Katherine Johnston, formerly recorded against the same, which shall thereupon be restored to the registry. The mortgage referred to bears date on the 6th day of January, 1896, for $2154, with interest at 8 per cent. per annum, payable quarterly and compounded quarterly upon which the mortgagee claims there has no sum been paid.

The interest of the defendant, which is hereby advertised for sale is the interest defined in the above judgment and subject to the said mortgage.

I will therefore offer for sale the above mentioned lots, by public auction, at my office in the Court House in the City of Calgary, on Friday, the tenth day of June, A.D. 1910, at the hour of 11 o'clock a.m.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF AN ALBERTA INVENTOR

Calgary and is now on exhibition at room 524 in the Grain Exchange. Mr. W. B. McChesney, the patantee and principal stock-holder of The Hercules Rotary Engine Company, Limited, is explaining its mechanism to interested people. This week it will be shipped to an eastern iron works where a 600 h.p. test and demonstration engine will be built, and from the day steam is turned into this new giant the world of engines will certainly experience a real thrill of power. A new milestone will have been reached in the progress of this marvellous world.

Principle of the Engine

The principle of the rotary engine has been conceded by steam men since the days of Watt to be the right principle for working steam, combining, as it does, the perfect expansion of steam with full leverage, applying the power in a rotary movement to the shaft, thereby doing away with vibration caused by the intermittent power of a reciprocating engine, and eliminating the necessity of great weight in the flywheel and other parts to withstand the strain of an intermittent pressure. Haufman, an engine builder, has spent forty years in fruitless effort to combine the principles practically, but has never got beyond an unsuccessful model. Any man has only to study the successful model of the Hercules to be convinced of its wonderful newness and its vast possibilities.

What People Say

Professor Miller, professor of mechanism at the Strathcona University, went to Wetaskiwin to see the Hercules. He entered the engine room with assurance, expecting to finish his inspection in about five minutes. After he had looked it over casually he was asked what he thought. He pleaded for more time. At the end of a two-hour investigation he paused and said two things: "It is the greatest thing I ever saw," and "I expect to see the day when, on account of this, a reciprocating engine cannot be sold."

A marine engineer in charge of one of the great 20,000 h.p. turbines of one of the American ships that went on the around-the-world cruise, declared to the inventor, after an inspection, that he has the turbine beaten as far as a turbine beats a wheel barrow.

Looks Good to Price

Mr. A. Price, general superintendent of the C.P.R., last night declared to the writer that in his opinion this engine has accomplished the successful application of the principles striven for in a rotary engine and that it would possibly revolutionize steam-engine building. "It is a very ingenious affair, new and startling" he declared. "It overcomes vibration, being so perfectly balanced. I am not a practical mechanic, and can not pass an authorative opinion, but it looks good to me."

He said that the Winnipeg business men stopped over in Wetaskiwin to see it and were surprised and startled. Two of the forty were practical mechanics and they declared it possesses wonderful possibilities.

What Is Claimed For It

Mr. McChesney claims, and is able to demonstrate, that this engine will produce a horse power at about one-half the cost of the ordinary engine, as well be readily understood upon careful inspection of its wonderful construction. When you contemplate the thousands of vast industries using either patented or unpatented, lying alongside the land he buys, or separated therefrom only by a road allowance, in which case the residence duties may be performed by living on the homestead, pre-emption, or purchased homestead, as the case may be. When residence is so performed, however, the purchaser will be required to increase the area of breaking and cultivation on the lands so purchased in the same manner as required by a homesteader who performs residence in the vicinity of his homestead.

3. In no case will a larger area than one quarter-section be disposed of to one person.

4. The purchaser of any parcel of land will be required to pay the value of any improvements which may have been placed thereon prior to the time of sale. Such payment shall be made on demand.

5. The sale will only convey the surface rights, and will be subject to the usual reservations in favor of the Crown.

6. When any parcel offered is crossed by a highway or railway, the sale of such parcel shall be subject to the reservation of the land covered by such highway, or which may be required for the right of way or other purpose of the railway.

TERMS OF PAYMENT

One-quarter of the purchase price shall be paid in cash at date of sale, and balance in three equal annual instalments, with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum on the balance of the purchase money from time to time remaining unpaid.

Cheques will not be taken in payment unless marked "accepted" by the bank on which they are drawn, and made payable at par at place of sale.

Lists of lands to be sold may be obtained on application to the secretary of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, the Inspector of Ranches, at Calgary, or to the Agent of Dominion Lands at Calgary or at Lethbridge.

THREE MILLION DOLLARS ON THE DUNSMUIR MINES

McKenzie and Mann Will Pursue a Vigorous Policy There

(Vancouver Province)

Three million dollars are to be immediately expended on the development and re-equipment with modern machinery of the Dunsmuir collieries on Vancouver Island. This immense sum is to be put into the properties by the new owners, the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, according to announcement by William Mackenzie, president of the purchasing company. Mr. Mackenzie is also president of the Canadian Northern Railway and an officer and director of numerous other Canadian industrial and financial enterprises.

The expenditure planned to be made on the Vancouver Island collieries is to the end that the output may be largely increased and the cost of production reduced. Experts who have examined the properties on behalf of the new company declare that the profits per ton of coal mined can readily be increased 50 per cent. by the opening of additional mines, the installation of modern machinery in the present workings and the adoption of modern methods of management. It is recommended by these experts that four additional mines, each of a capacity of 1000 tons daily, be opened.

Following the acquisition by Messrs. William Mackenzie and D. D. Mann of the option of sale of the properties given by Mr. James Dunsmuir on Jan. 3, 1910, to Mr. R. T. Elliott of Victoria, an examination of the mines and coal areas was made by Mr. W. L. Coulson, a mining engineer and coal expert of Pittsburg, Penn., and also by Messrs. Forster, Brown & Rees, mining and colliery engineers of London, England, and Cardiff, Wales. Upon the receipt of the report of Mr. Coulson the following announcement was made by Mr. Mackenzie:

"It is the intention of the board to commence immediately to open up new mines and to improve handling facilities in accordance with the recommendations contained in Mr. Coulson's letter, and $3,000,000 will be provided for that purpose."

Some Coal Still on Hand.

In his report Mr. Coulson remarks that 600,000,000 tons is an ultra-conservative estimate of the amount of coal contained in the Wellington Colliery Company's property. He refers to the superior quality of the coal produced in the Dunsmuir mines as compared with that obtained at other collieries on the Pacific Coast. He also notes the tremendous increase in the consumption of coal in British Columbia and on the Pacific Coast generally during recent years, owing to the great development along all lines which has occurred throughout the area known as the Pacific Slope. He states that in 1909 75 per cent. of the output of the Coast collieries was exported, while in 1909 less than 25 per cent. of the much greater tonnage mined during the latter year found its way to foreign ports. Mr. Coulson further remarks in referring to the Dunsmuir mines:

Output of 2,000,000 Tons.

"Within two and a half years the annual output can readily be increased to 2,000,000 tons. This will necessitate the opening up of four additional mines with a daily capacity of 1000 tons each, the installation of modern machinery at the present mines, and railroad and dock improvements as the increased tonnage demands. For all this work $3,000,000 is an ample allowance. With skilled management and modern equipment coal can be mined and marketed at 50 cents per ton greater profit than now accrues to the company; hence on an annual output of 2,000,000 tons the profits would be approximately $3,060,000, less coal removed, interest charges and depreciation, or on the same basis practically $1.53 per ton on all coal sold."

This report was made by Mr. Coulson on April 23, 1910.

Where Ivory is Mined Like Coal

Islands of ivory hidden among the Arctic ice lying north of Siberia are described in an interesting paper by the Rev. P. D. Gath Whitley, of London.

These islands were discovered by Russian explorers at the end of the eighteenth century, and have been exploited by traders in fossil ivory ever since. As recently as 1898 some 80,000 pounds of fossil ivory were offered for sale at the fair of Yakutsk. To the earlier explorers it seemed that one islet, known as Liakoff's Island, was "actually composed of the bones and tusks of elephants, cemented together by icy sand. The horns of buffaloes (or rather of musk oxen) and rhinoceroses were also wonderfully abundant. The sandy shores and slopes were full of mammoths' tusks."

In 1886 a German, Dr. Bunge, visited Liakoff's Island. "The sand and gravel was found to rest in blocks of ice, and the alluvial beds were full of the bones of mammoths, rhinoceros and musk oxen"—this after a hundred years of visits from ivory hunters. Trawling showed that the bottom of the sea near the islands was strewn with tusks and bones.

The extraordinary discoveries are explained by the following theory:

In prehistoric times, as is shown by the remains of fossil forest and vegetation, Siberia enjoyed a comparatively mild climate, and a great tract of country, now under ice, stood at a considerable level above the sea. Vast herds of mammoths, rhinoceroses and buffaloes roamed over these plains. A great catastrophe at last overtook them. The land subsided, the sea rose, and the animals congregated in enormous numbers on the mountain tops. Even those were at last submerged, and the destruction was complete. After a time the waters subsided slowly and the islands, which had formed mountains in the land, rose above the sea. Why the climate changed after these upheavals is still a problem to be solved.

A man seems to think he isn't cross at home so long as he doesn't kick a hole through the door.
