A BOOK THAT SHOULD BE IN EVERY AMERICAN HOME.

The Family Cyclopædia of Useful Knowledge.

This is unquestionably one of the most interesting, entertaining and instructive books ever published. It is a universal educator for every member of the family circle, filled with useful information from beginning to end, and this information is given in such an attractive and pleasing way that the book is quite as entertaining as it is instructive; it treats of hundreds of subjects of which no man, woman, or child who seeks to be well informed can afford to be ignorant, yet of which the masses of people are entirely unlearned. It contains the cream or substance of a dozen ordinary volumes, and is one of the most valuable and useful books a family can have in the house. No living man is so well informed that he may not learn from it. It is a book for the masses, for old and young, rich and poor, and will be read with pleasure and profit by all. It will likewise be found of great value as a work of reference. The book is profusely and elegantly illustrated, and is conveniently divided into departments, a partial summary of its contents being as follows:

Biography.—In this department are given interesting biographies, accompanied by handsome portraits, of George Washington, Napoleon Bonaparte, William Shakespeare, Lord Byron, William Penn, Benjamin Franklin, Patrick Henry, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, John Jacob Astor, Robert Fulton, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, George Peabody, Edward Everett, James Fenimore Cooper, Washington Irving, Abraham Lincoln, Horace Greeley, Thurlow Weed, Wendell Phillips, Henry Ward Beecher, Charles Dickens, William Cullen Bryant, H. W. Longfellow, Ralph Waldo Emerson, John G. Whittier, Alfred Tennyson, Herbert Spencer, Wm. E. Gladstone, Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Russell Lowell, Peter Cooper, James A. Garfield, Ulysses S. Grant, Samuel J. Tilden, Geo. P. Edmunds, Allen G. Thurman, John Sherman, William M. Evarts, Thomas F. Bayard, James G. Blaine, Wm. T. Sherman, Philip H. Sheridan, Grover Cleveland and Thomas A. Hendricks.

History.—This department contains graphic and interesting narratives of the Battle of Waterloo, the Massacre of St. Bartholomew, the Spanish Inquisition, the Reign of Terror in Paris, Braddock's Defeat, the Plague of London, the Burning of Moscow, and a chronological history of America from the year 325 to the present.

Natural History.—Under this heading is given interesting descriptions, accompanied by illustrations of numerous beasts, birds, reptiles, fishes and insects. Much curious information regarding their life and habits is given, and the department will be found one of the most entertaining and instructive in the book.

Travels, Manners and Customs, Etc.—In this department is given a description of the life, manners, customs, peculiar forms, rites and ceremonies of the Chinese, Japanese, the people of India, Africa, Madagascar, Palestine, Iceland, Borneo, Burmah, the Sandwich Islands, Servia, Kafferia, Tartary, Cashmere and Cuba, the Arabs, Turks, Mexicans, South Americans, American Indians, Egyptians, Siamese, Abyssinians, Swiss, Norwegians, Spaniards, Italians, Greeks, Russians, Siberians, Afghans, Persians, Moslems, Australians, Bulgarians, Sicilians, etc., etc.

The World Illustrated.—This department contains descriptions, accompanied by beautiful illustrations, of Niagara Falls, the Rapids of the St. Lawrence, the White Mountains, Watkins Glen, Catskill Mountains, Trenton Falls, Bartholdi Statue, Hudson River, Allegheny River, Natural Bridge, Mammoth Cave, Silver Springs (Fla.), St. Anthony's Falls, Grand Canon of the Colorado, Falls of the Missouri, Yellowstone Park, Yosemite Valley, Sierra Nevada Mountains, Loch Katrine, Edinburgh Castle, Melrose Abbey, the Alps, Paris, Vesuvius, Venice, etc.

Useful Arts and Manufactures.—This department describes and illustrates the arts and processes of printing, stereotyping, book-binding, wood engraving, copper-plate printing, lithography, photography, calico printing, watch-making, piano-making and paper-making, the manufacture of silk, iron, steel, glass, China, porcelain, spectacles, perfumery, soap, leather, starch, maple sugar, wall paper, turpentine, resin, tar, paper money, postal cards, postage stamps, envelopes, nails, lead pencils, steel pens, needles, kid gloves, tacks, brass, sulphur, slate pencils, rubber belts, bitumen, crackers, shoe pegs, lead pipe, sacques, matches, mirrors, combs, soda, bicycles, lace, amber, celluloid, clothes pins, screws, whalebone, moole, glue, musk, shot, gum arabic, putty, buttons, etc.

Trees, Plants, Fruits, Etc.—In this department are described and illustrated the culture, growth, and preparation for market of tea, coffee, chocolate, cocoa, cotton, flax, hemp, sugar, tobacco, peppermint, cinnamon, rice, nutmegs, cloves, ginger, cinnamon, allspice, pepper, almonds, apricots, cocoanuts, pineapples, bananas, dates, raisins, figs, prunes, oranges, lemons, olives and limes, and descriptions are also given of the India rubber, gutta percha, cork, camphor, bread-fruit, beef-nut, palm and bamboo trees, the castor oil, tapioca and ivory plants, the big-trees of California, the cow tree, soap plant, laughing plant, fountain tree, sensitive tree, whitetree, banyan tree, tallow tree, paper tree, stinging tree, mahogany, rosewood, etc., etc.

Great Inventions.—Under this heading is given a description, together with a history of the invention of the Steam Engine, the Telegraph, the Printing Press, the Electric Light, the Sewing Machine, the Telephone, the Microphone, the Cotton Gin, the Spinning Jenny, the Type-Setting Machine, the Type-Writer, the Mower and Reaper, the Sand Blast, etc., etc.

Mining.—In this department is described and illustrated the mining of gold, silver, diamonds, coal, salt, copper, lead, zinc, tin and quicksilver.

Wonders of the Sea.—Herein are described and illustrated the many wonderful and beautiful things found at the bottom of the ocean, the plants, flowers, shells, fishes, etc., likewise pearl diving, coral fishing, etc., etc.

Familiar Science.—In this department is given the theory of the laws and phenomena of the earth, the sun, the moon, the planets, the stars, comets, the aurora borealis, sound, light, heat, electricity, air, water, wind, whirlwinds, water-spouts, rain, snow, hail, dew, the tides, earthquakes and whirlpools, with much other useful information regarding these important subjects.

Law for the Masses.—This department gives full information regarding bonds, mortgages, liens, promissory notes, bank checks, payment and tender, guaranty, warranty, receipts, releases, debts, deeds, delivery, acknowledgments, contracts, consideration, assignments, bills of sale, power of attorney, wills, executors and administrators, partition, trusts and trustees, marriage, dower, husband and wife, parent and child, divorce, minors, servants, real and personal property, landlord and tenant, leases, partnerships, highways, trespass, easement, libel and slander, etc.

Statistical and Miscellaneous.—Herein is given a vast amount of useful and interesting information, some of which is the population of American cities, area and population of the continents, of the States and Territories, and of the principal countries of the world, length of the principal rivers, Presidential vote for sixty years, Presidential statistics, area and depth of seas, lakes and oceans, height of mountains, locomotion of animals and velocity of bodies, height of monuments, towers and structures, distances from Washington also from New York, to important points, chronological history of discovery and progress, popular subriquets of American States, cities, etc., common grammatical errors; rules for spelling; pronunciation and use of capitals, Wall Street phrases, commerce of the world, curious facts in name history, longevity of animals, origin of the names of states, and of capitals, of great works, popular fables, familiar quotations, of genius and of plants, flying words of famous persons, fate of the Apostles, statistics of the globe, leading governments of the world, etc., etc.

Only a small portion of the contents of this truly valuable work are enumerated above. It is a vast storehouse of useful and entertaining knowledge—unquestionably one of the most valuable books ever published in any land or language. No cyclopædia ever heretofore published at twice the cost is to be compared with this book in point of artistic make-up, beauty and excellence of illustration, and quality of contents. As a holiday or birthday present for any one nothing more opportune or acceptable could possibly be selected.

THE FAMILY CYCLOPÆDIA OF USEFUL KNOWLEDGE is a large and handsome book of 511 pages, 12mo, printed upon fine paper, and elegantly bound in cloth, embellished with artistic designs in black and gold. It contains Two Hundred and Seventy-three Beautiful Illustrations, the original cost of which was over $5,000. The book will be sent by mail post-paid upon receipt of price, only One Dollar. It is as large and as handsomely gotten up as books usually sold at $1.50 and $2.00, and in the quality of its contents is worth a dozen ordinary volumes.

Will be given as a Premium to NEW Subscribers to this Journal, for $1.25.
