FRIENDSHIP.

Can it be so, that friendship can decay—
That greatest blessing heaven e'er sent to earth?
Can it be so, these waters waste away,
And still the fountain be of heavenly birth?
Can it be so, two souls are formed,
In friendship's bond to fondly meet?
Each taste and feeling with same fire is warmed
And every thought proclaims the bond complete,
And yet that bond grow weak and break
These souls so changing all the while,
That now these friends no pleasure take
In the kind greeting, or fond smile!
Or the quick sympathy no longer stir the heart,
That quickly caught each pain, each grief and joy,
And each to each from each would take a part,
And ere the lips could speak give the smile or sigh.
It cannot be, yet we a friend might find,
Still coldly turning from a much loved friend,
And cruel seem but only to be kind
Let kindness cease, though friendship never end.

Ross, Oct. 9, 1873.

OCTOBER.

There comes a month in the weary year—
A month of leisure and healthful rest;
When the ripe leaves fall, and the air is clear;
October: the brown, the crisp, the blest.
My life has little enough of bliss:
I drag the days of the odd eleven,
Counting the time that shall lead to this—
The month that opens the hunter's heaven.
And oh! for the mornings crisp and white,
With the sweep of the hounds upon the track;
The lark-roofed cabin, the camp-fire's light,
The break of the deer and the rifle's crack.
Do you call this trifling? I tell you, friend,
A life in the forest is past all praise,
Give me a dozen such months on end—
You may take my balance of years and days.
For brick and mortar breed filth and crime,
And a pulse of evil that throbs and beats;
And men grow withered before their prime
With the curse paved in on the lanes and streets.
And lungs are choked, and shoulders are bowed
In the smothering reek of mill and mine;
And Death stalks in on the struggling crowd,
But he shuns the shadow of oak and pine.
And of all to which the memory clings,
There is naught so sweet as the sunny spots
Where our shanties stood by the crystal springs,
The vanished hounds and the lucky shots.

A Texan town was recently visited by a clergyman for the first time in its history, and the hospitable inhabitants proposed getting up a horse-race for his entertainment.

A New Orleans juryman was asked by the Judge if he ever read the papers. He replied: "Yes, your honor; but if you'll let me go this time, I'll never do so any more."

Enthusiastic Pedestrian—"Am I on the right road for Stratford—Shakespeare's town you know? You've often heard of Shakespeare?" Intelligent British rustic—"Yees; be you he?"

"If you don't want the soot, don't go up the chimney," was the reply of an editor to "respectable" parties who requested him not to mention the fact that they had been arraigned in the police court.

A Narcotic.—Doctor—"Look here, Mrs. MacCawdle, don't give him any more physic. A sound sleep will do him more good than anything." Gudewife—"E-h, Doothor, if we could only get him tae the kirk."

Only last week a beloved and gracious Princess-Marchioness attended at Wimbledon—so says a daily paper—to "witness the shooting of her husband!" And they have been married but little more than a year.

The gentleman who asserted that his friend never opened his mouth without putting his foot in it, being called upon to apologize, said he was very sorry, but when he made the assertion he did not see the size of his friend's foot.

"The University Press at Madison, Wis., in publishing the course of study at the State University, printed "comic lectures" in the list of studies for the first term of the Sophomore year, where the Professor had written "conic sections."

"Yes, take her and welcome," responded an Illinois farmer, when a young man asked for his blushing daughter. "She's run away with a school-master, eloped with a showman, shot a wildcat, and whipped her mother, and the sooner you take her the better."

Two Milesians were standing at the Fairmount water-works in Philadelphia, watching the big wheels splashing the water in every direction, when one of them remarked: "Mike, isn't this a quare country, where they have to grind their water before they can use it?"

A Brooklyn girl has applied to Wise for passage in his balloon, and the professor declares himself willing to take her if she will take a parasol, and wear a full hoop skirt, so that she may be safely dropped out, if it becomes necessary to communicate with the land any where between here and Europe.

We believe that it is not generally known what driveling nonsense and forlorn absurdity most Mormon sermons are made up of. It is usually supposed that Brigham Young is a man of ability, and so he may be in a certain way; but reports of his sermons made under his own eye or by his own stenographers, do not leave an impression of pulpit greatness. In a sermon preached at Franklin, Cache County, last month, Brigham expatiated on "Sealing" in the following way: "Suppose that the father of a dead son wishes to have a wife sealed to his son; if the young woman desired as a wife is dead, and have a mother or other female relative in the Church, such mother is the heir, and she can act in the sealing ordinances in the stead of the daughter. But if the young woman desired as a wife have no relative in the Church to act in her behalf, then the young man can be baptized for her and act as proxy for her in the sealing ordinances." It seems from this that Brigham's jurisdiction is a good deal more extensive than is usually supposed, and that he makes laws for heaven as well as earth.

LAND FOR SALE. Lot No. 38, in the 6th concession township of Osgoode, County Carleton, containing two hundred acres, one-half cleared and under good cultivation, the balance is good hardwood bush. There are on the premises a good stone dwelling house and kitchen, two barns, two sheds, two stables and other outhouses, and a never-failing spring; is fronting the leading road between Ottawa and Morrisburg; is convenient to saw mill, shingle factory, Post Office and store. Also Lots 34 and 35, third concession of said township, containing 400 acres of choice land, clay loam, a large portion is partly cleared and under pasture. ST. ANN'S, Bout de l'Isle.—"I was for several years suffering from Cough, Expectoration and Night Sweats, attended with extreme Nervous and Physical prostration. My body was greatly emaciated, and the general impression was that I had not long to live. I began taking Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, and improvement took place immediately. I gained in weight and strength. My cough and my Night Sweats disappeared, and I am now in the enjoyment of excellent health. Many of my friends to whom I have recommended the Elixir have experienced equally remarkable results."
