CHOLERA MORBUS, CRAMPS and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruits, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

Rev. T. T. Shields, of Delhi, accepts the pastorate of Wentworth Street Baptist Church, Hamilton.

TRY IT.—It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. The Oil is, on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing, when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NO ONE NEED FEAR CHOLERA or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all the looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

In China

Still Another Imperial Edict Issued

Regarding Punishment of Guilty Officials.

The Situation at Pao Ting Fu—British Contingent Encamped Outside the City's Walls.

Paris, Oct. 26.—According to a Havas agency dispatch from Pekin, dated Oct. 24, Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang have communicated to the legations the imperial decree, in accordance with which the princes and ministers responsible for the recent troubles in China are to be punished. The emperor recognizes the fact that Gen. Tung Fuh Siang has committed serious offences, and he charges Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang to fix the penalties to be imposed upon those for whom the Europeans demand punishment. The decree states that Chinese plenipotentiaries have already inflicted punishment upon some princes. These plenipotentiaries assure the emperor of the death of Kang Yi. Prince Tuan and Prince Tchouang are not with the court.

These communications are not satisfactory to the legations.

AT PAO TING FU.

Tien Tsin, Oct. 25, via Shanghai, Oct. 26.—A runner who left Pao Ting Fu on Oct. 23, and arrived here today, reports that the allies are encamped there, the British contingent being outside the walls of the city. The situation is unchanged. Looting is forbidden, and all supplies used by the allies are purchased.

The Green family of missionaries are safe, except a 3-yer-old girl, who died Oct. 10. Mr. Green is seriously ill.

A PESSIMISTIC VIEW.

London, Oct. 26.—Sir Robert Hart, director-general of the Chinese imperial maritime customs, in an article in the November number of the Fortnightly Review, takes a pessimistic view of the Chinese situation. He frankly declares his opinion to be that the Boxer movement is national and patriotic, has taken hold of the Chinese imagination, and will spread like wildfire throughout the length and breadth of the empire. "There is not the slightest doubt," he says, "that fifty years hence there will be millions of Boxers at the call of the Chinese government." Discussing the alternative courses open to the powers, Sir Robert Hart sees a very real "yellow peril" ahead, and no hope of a permanent solution.

FROM THE BRITISH COMMANDER

London, Oct. 26.—The following dispatch from Gen. Gaselee, commander of the British troops at Pao Ting Fu, has been received by the secretary of state for India, Lord George Hamilton. It is dated Pao Ting Fu, Oct. 20, and reads: "The allied troops under my command arrived here yesterday. British, German, French and Italian guards have been posted at the gates. Today all the generals, with small escorts, went through the town, after which they arranged for the allotment of quarters for occupation. I shall keep most of the British in camp for the present. Am waiting orders from Waldersee regarding their future disposition."

PRISONERS DELIVERED.

The Havas agency at Paris has received the following dispatch from Pekin: "The French detachment has delivered the French and Belgian missionaries, and the French, Belgian and Italian engineers who were imprisoned by the Chinese at Ngan Kia Tchuang, Pao Ting Fu, Ting Cheou, and Tcheng Ting Fu, and all the Europeans between Pao Ting Fu and Tcheng Ting Fu."

TWO HUNDRED BOXERS KILLED.

Kiau Chau, Oct. 25. — A detachment of German marines in a battle near Kauml with Boxers killed two hundred of the latter.

The Germans also captured two walled villages. There were no casualties among the Germans.

The Chinese imperial troops are reported to be operating unmolested against the Boxers to the southward of Tien Tsin.

Skirmishes continue between the Russians and the Chinese at various points along the Manchurian Railway. The Amur Gazette asserts that the Chinese bank of the Amur River will be offered free to Russian settlers.

Advices received at Hong Kong from Lien Chu, on North River, say that American missionary property there is threatened with destruction by Boxers.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Minister Conger has been authorized by his government to begin negotiations at once with the Chinese envoys on the basis of those points in the German and French notes upon which all of the powers are agreed. It is understood that the representatives at Pekin for other powers have similar instructions.

REBELLION SPREADS.

Rebellion is spreading along East River and North River, in the province of Kwang St. It is supposed to be aimed at the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty, but the reports are so contradictory that it is next to impossible to form a lucid impression.

The Chinese officials have placarded the Shetom district, offering several hundred dollars for the heads of four foreigners who are supposed to be leading the rebels. The rice crop has failed in Kwang Si province and robbers are pillaging. Rebellion and famine there are certain.

POLICEMAN STOPPED A KING.

Paris, Oct. 26.—The King of the Belgians, while riding in an autocar yesterday in the Bois de Boulogne, was pulled up by the police for exceeding the regulation speed. A policeman was about to take down King Leopold's name, when the driver of the autocar whispered an explanation.

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S MOTHER.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—Emperor William, who visited Bremen for the purpose of dedicating the Hall of Fame, in referring to his visit to the town, which had been delayed by the illness of Empress Frederick, his mother, said he was happy to state that her condition now allowed him to leave her bedside, but, though his heart was joyously beating, it still was troubled by the shadow over her.

THE ANGLO-GERMAN PACT.

London, Oct. 25.—The foreign office officials informed a press representative today that thus far only Italy and Austria had accepted the Anglo-German agreement, but the assent of the United States, Russia and France was confidently expected.

PRICE, $7,000,000.

Washington officials decline to discuss the reported dissatisfaction among the inhabitants of the Danish West Indies over the proposed sale of the islands to the United States. It is understood that the island press reflects the true sentiments of the people of the islands. Negotiations with the Danish government are likely to be carried on actively the coming winter, and possibly a treaty for the annexation of the islands will be submitted to the senate. The government, however, is not disposed to pay $7,000,000, the price asked by Denmark.

DIVIDED!

were his eulogistic remarks about the career of Sir Mackenzie Bowell. He denied the charge that it was he who divided the Conservative party. The man who was guilty of that was the late representative of the county by his course in public life.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

A HOT ROAST.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell was then presented with an address by Mr. McCue, and was enthusiastically received.

In opening his speech, the ex-premier expressed regret at the situation that compelled him to appear on a platform against Hon. John Haggart, whom he had at the risk of his own reputation defended on the platform and in the committee room in the past. Said Sir Mackenzie:

"I have studiously avoided doing anything that would injure the party, and were it not that the two candidates support the same policy I should not be here. Some months ago I promised without hesitation to go into the riding if the contest should frame itself as I find it today. If my appearanie will elect Dr. Preston and leave John Haggart at home I shall be glad to lend my aid, imbecile as they say I am. I am here simply as an individual member of the party, nor do I arrogate to myself, as does Hon. John Haggart, the title of one of the leaders of the party."

Sir Mackenzie dealt with his reasons for assuming the leadership in the senate at the written request of every Conservative senator, and said: "Whether my work in that position has proved me the weak old imbecile I have been called, the public will best be able to judge." He claimed as much the title of father of the N. P. as any other Conservative, having been minister of customs in the first government after 1878. Sir Mackenzie here warned the opposition press that he was still in hearty sympathy with the policy, and would never stab its supporters below the belt.

"No treatment that I could receive would change my views as to the principles inspiring the Conservative party," said he. "My former friend, I am sorry to say I cannot call him so now, claims to be a leader of the party. Why is he not, then, out with his chie? Why has his chief left him at home?

HAS NO USE FOR HAGGART.

"Nothing in the world would induce me, so long as I have any self-respect to be found on the same platform with this man and others I would name were they here, advocating the same cause as they. I have risen from the printer's devil, old fool as they say that I am, to the highest position, and I have not sought any of these positions. I am not, then, evidently the stupid old idiot that these gentlemen have represented me. There is no name that is held in greater contempt by Western Ontario than the names of Hon. John Haggart and one or two others. Such names are as a wet blanket to the enthusiasm of the Conservatives of Toronto and the West.

THE NEST OF TRAITORS.

"Whether I ever used the expression 'The Nest of Traitors' or not is immaterial, for I certainly should have used it. John Haggart may have brains but if he only had applicability, and above all, honesty, he might succeed."

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Sir Mackenzie related his record in the various cabinets up to the time these men caballed against him, and again stated that Sir Charles Tupper came to this country at his request as head of the government, to discuss questions with him, and not at the instigation of these men. Sir Mackenzie closed with the declaration that so long as he had a voice left, Hon. John Haggart and some others should never occupy a seat in the cabinet in this country.

Bayley's

Haggart's Defense.

Hon. John Haggart was received with marked favor by a fair proportion of the audience, and dealt, first, with the question of the convention. He declared himself now as a candidate, irrespective of a convention. He claimed the Tay Canal was built before he was a minister of the crown.

TUPPER SUPPORTS HAGGART.

The appearance of Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, said Mr. Haggart, surprises me, and on first learning of his coming I elegraphed to our leader, Sir Charles Tupper, fearing injury to the party. I have this reply:

"Have telegraphed Bowell, urging him not to go to Carleton Place. I wish you every success. (Signed) Charles Tupper."

NECESSITY FOR A CHANGE.

Mr. Haggart claimed that at the time of the crisis in the party he went directly to Sir Mackenzie himself and stated his views, and had not gone behind his back. He related some of the kind and helpful words the ex-premier had spoken on his behalf. "There was at that time, in my opinion," said Mr. Haggart, "necessity for a change. I understood the honorable gentleman agreed, and I understood he was to hand in his resignation. But he delayed from day to day, so that we were forced to send in ours to get rid of him.

"I sought no advancement, I sought but the interests of the party, and do so still. When Sir Mackenzie says that my name stinks from one end of the country to the other, you need only think that someone has been stuffing the old gentleman, for I have, as I have just read you, the indorsation of the leader of the party."

CHARGES OF DISHONESTY.

Senator McLaren's relations with Dr. Preston were then dealt with. As to charges of dishonesty, Mr. Haggart asked for specific charges, and challenged Sir Mackenzie to give any particulars, for he knew himself to be perfectly blameless and free from any reproach on that score. "I was overpersuaded when I entered the cabinet of Sir Mackenzie Bowell," said Mr. Haggart, "but I will not now discuss it. Has not the honorable gentleman himself condoned our course in resigning by again taking us back, for I myself only went back with the solemn assurance that he (Sir Mackenzie) would resign within four months."

HISTORY OF THE DEBACLE.

The ex-minister said the party was in desperate straits, and was losing all the bye-elections under Sir Mackenzie, and something had to be done. Others had agreed with him at that time and had acted with him. Why had Sir Mackenzie singled him out for his abuse. Why not go after Mr. Foster, Sir Hibbert Tupper and the others? Everybody knew Mr. Foster would be taken into Sir Charles Tupper's cabinet. "How much worse am I?" said Mr. Haggart. He concluded with a discusssion of the four years of Liberal rule, but the audience was not much interested after the excitement of the personal discussion, and time was frequently called at the end of an hour, though Mr. Haggart was discussing Mr. Tarte's Paris speeches.

Mr. Bowell's Reply.

Sir Mackenzie replied that he would leave the issue of his word as against Mr. Haggart's to those who knew them. The honesty he referred to, he said, was political honesty, and instanced as a weakness of Mr. Haggart on that point the statement that Mr. Haggart understood he (Sir Mackenzie) was to resign in January, 1896. No foundation whatever in fact had existed for such an understanding. They waylaid Sir George Kirkpatrick, said Sir Mackenzie, when he came to Ottawa. They stated that the Right Hon. Jos. Chamberlain had cabled Lord Aberdeen to call on Sir Charles Tupper. In other ways he said those men showed their surprise that their resignations had been accepted. "They not only deceived me, but they tried to deceive everyone that might assist me."

THE INDORSATION OF SIR CHARLES.

As to Mr. Haggart's indorsation by Sir Charles Tupper, the speaker said: "I have reason to know that Sir Charles Tupper sent the telegram this afternoon under the wrong impression that a convention had indorsed Mr. Haggart; nor would I be here if a convention had indorsed him. Sir Charles wired me: 'You must not go to Carleton Place. I think it will do harm,' to which I replied: 'I must go; I have promised.'"

In talking of the return of the traitors Sir Mackenzie described the beaming countenances with which they again occupied positions that gave them a much largr salary. "If the (Mr. Haggart) is taken int othe cabinet, with one or two others whom I will not mention," said Sir Mackenzie, in concluding, "it will do more harm t othe Conservative party than anything else possible."

Dr. Preston wound up the meeting with an appeal for support, after which cheers were given for the Queen, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Dr. Preston.

Carleton Junction, Oct. 25.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell will speak next in Glengarry.

A WORD OF WARNING ABOUT CANCER PLASTERS.

They Will Cause You Untold Agony and Aggravate the Disease.

Plasters cannot cure cancer, because it is a constitutional disease, in the blood, and must be treated by a constitutional remedy. Our constitutional treatment for this disease has been wonderfully successful, even after plasters had been used and the cancer had returned. Here is an extract from a letter we have on file: "I had cancer of the breast, and hearing of a man who drew out cancers by plasters, I decided to try them. I suffered something dreadful, and after suffering all the agony, the cancer came back again as bad as ever." This lady, whose name and address you can have on application, goes on to say that by the time she had finished the third bottle of our constitutional remedy, the lump had all gone. This is only a sample case of hundreds we might cite. Anyone suffering from cancer should send two stamps to Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., at once, for full particulars of their new and painless method of treating cancer and all malignant growths.
