MORE BRANDON RESOLUTIONS

Brandon, Man., Jan. 12—Following a g discussion at this month's session the Manitoba Grain Growers' Convention, the following resolution on hog production was unanimously passed:

That, while we grain growers declare desire to do everything in our power furnish food for Britain and our Al-, even at a monetary loss to ourves, we would strongly urge upon the ernment that they take all possible e to secure that the results of our rifice shall not be absorbed by those rests which have hitherto fattened n the farmers on the one hand and consumers on the other hand."

The dominion government was commended for the stand taken against the manufacture of liquor. The government was asked to consider the possibility of briquetting lignite coal of western Canada. A protest was entered against the embargo on Canadian wools. The dominion government was urged to set standard dimensions for dressed lumber.

A dominion-wide convention of agriculture was urged, under the Canadian council on agriculture.

The ultimate consumer was permitted to make arrangements to dig his own potatoes, but unfortunate circumstances forbid his taking the same course with reference to coal.—Washington Star.

BASEBALL

Giants' History in Picture.

The walls of Secretary John Foster's sanctum in the offices of the Giants are hung with baseball pictures that comprise a collection impossible to duplicate.

One of the features of the display is a set of photographs of games of every world's series in which the Giants took part—that with the Athletics in 1905, with the Athletics in 1910 and 1911, with the Red Sox in 1912, the Athletics in 1913 and the White Sox in 1917.

The photographs present, for one thing, a most remarkable contrast in the size of the crowds and the appearance of the Polo Grounds in 1905 and in the present year.

The gem of the collection is a view of the Giants winning their twenty-sixth consecutive victory, the close of the great dash of 1916.

Cleghorn in Trouble.

Sprague Cleghorn, professional hockey player, of the Wanderer club, was arrested the other day in Montreal on a warrant sworn out by his wife on a charge of assault. Cleghorn has been going around with a crutch because of having a broken leg, and it is alleged that he hit his wife with the crutch.

THE RING.

Tate Was Former Ball Player.

Harry Tate, hailed as the newest "hope" in pugilistic circles, formerly was a minor league pitcher and achieved enough prominence to get a trial under Connie Mack along about 1910. Failing to advance in baseball he took up the boxing game, and is now in a fair way to achieve fame.

ATHLETIC.

Many Will Push Sports.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 9—Athletics are to boom at the Naval Academy this year, as far as war conditions will permit. Lieut. Commander Charles S. McWhorter, U. S. N., the new secretary of the Navy Athletic Association, states that every effort will be made to carry on the athletic work of the Naval Academy to the full extent of its former schedule. The midshipmen are, however, hampered by the haste of their hurried preparations for active service and by the buildings in progress at the academy. The tennis courts have nearly all been occupied by the improvements, and there will be few meets in this line.

The navy, however, will have full schedules in baseball, and arrangements are being made for three track meets. Baseball and track work are now tentative and the programmes of events are not yet completed. The navy has under consideration races for its crews in May or April, but nothing definite has developed. Training will proceed as usual, and there will be in any event contests

MAY SEND BALL TEAMS TO FRANCE AFTER THE WAR

Chicago, Jan. 11—Plans for sending to France the winners of the National and American league pennants, provided the war is ended at the close of the coming baseball season, were discussed Friday by a number of major league officials.

President C. A. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans; Pres. Charles Weeghman of the Chicago Nationals, and President James C. Dunn of the Cleveland Americans, expressed approval of such a trip, and B. B. Johnson, president of the American league, said he would use every endeavor to further it.

"Nothing would give me greater pleasure than to send the White Sox to France to play for the boys," said Mr. Comiskey. "Naturally, we would get no other return than the pleasure it would give to those who have risked their lives for us at home."

Captain Is Only Nineteen.

Norman Kingsley, 19 years old, the youngest man ever named captain of the University of Minnesota football team, is six feet tall and weighs more than 200 pounds. The captain-elect started his football career on the High school team at Spring Valley, Minn., his home, and last year was one of the mainstays of the Gophers' backfield.

THE ORIGIN AND DANGER OF CATARRH
— IF YOU SUFFER FROM —
Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Head Noises, Catarrh of the Stomach (which is often mistaken for Indigestion), Catarrh of the Bowels, Asthma, Bronchitis, Loss of Smell, Phlegm dropping in the back part of the Throat, or if you have a Cough
— YOU SHOULD NOT FAIL TO READ EVERY WORD OF THIS ARTICLE —
What Parmint, the wonderful English Formula has Done for others, it Should do for You

CATARRH, A LOATHSOME AND INSIDIOUS DISEASE

Catarrh is a very common name for a very common disease, so common that most people do not realize how fearful, dangerous and disgusting it is. A cold in the head, hawking, spitting, blowing of the nose, phlegm dropping in the throat, bad breath, dullness of mind, bad humour—this is the way it starts.

And where does it end? Frequently in Catarrh of the Stomach, Catarrh of the Bowels, Bronchitis, and often slight or total deafness results.

HOW CATARRH STARTS.

Catarrh usually begins with a cold in the head.

The Catarrh germs breathed in through the mouth or nostrils have settled upon the inflamed and delicate mucous membrane that lines the nose and throat. These germs are harmless to healthy tissues; when they lodge upon an irritated surface it means a more and more diseased condition of the membranes. They thus produce further inflammatory irritation, and in time even ulceration. The sufferer from catarrh often finds his sight and hearing failing. He suffers from an almost constant dull ache over the eyes and across the forehead. The mind becomes dull when the membranes of the nasal cavities are in a discharging condition.

It is the pus and decaying matter oozing from these sores that causes the offensive breath so common to victims of catarrh. You may not notice it yourself. You probably do not. But your friends do, though they are too careful of your feelings to tell you so.

NASAL CATARRH.

This form of Catarrh is, to say the least, sickening and disgusting, besides being most common and highly dangerous. The changes of weather render the delicate musous membranes in the nose and throat very susceptible to inflammation, and thus encourage the birth and growth of catarrhal germs.

The nose and throat are what might be called the highway of life.

The throat itself is divided into two main passages; one the Oesophagus, or gullet, going to the stomach, the other the respiratory tract, or Trachea, going to the bronchial tubes and lungs. Through the lungs the blood passes with every heart beat, and there comes in contact with the air. If the air breathed in is pure, and if nose, throat and lungs are sound, the dark blood is at once purified and passes out of the lungs in a bright red stream, carrying life and strength to all the body. If, however, the air breathed in is bad, or if the nose, throat or lungs are diseased in any way, then the blood, (instead of being purified by its passage through the lungs) is, on the contrary, still further poisoned and goes on its way carrying the disease to all parts of the system.

That nasal catarrh is a nauseating disease at any one knows who has had to sit close to, or talk face to face with a person reeking with purulent catarrh. Have you ever had to endure in sickening silence the hawking and gagging of a catarrh victim, or had to sit close to such a person and experience a disgusting, appetite-losing, foul odor, which you could not explain, and did not know what it was? That is catarrh, and there are many people who have it and don't know it.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH
(Often mistaken for Dyspepsia or Indigestion)

Many cases of indigestion and dyspepsia are simply the result of catarrh of the throat and stomach. At night as you lie asleep, the mucus drops down from the throat and head and is swallowed into the stomach. In the morning you awake feeling heavy and tired; there is a bad taste in your mouth, you are in a bad humour; you wonder what ails you. You have catarrh, catarrh of the stomach, and your whole system is poisoned and is reeking with the disease. Your stomach has become clogged and the delicate membrane is coated with a vile sticky substance. The catarrh mucus refuses to be digested and only passes out of the stomach with great difficulty. Little by little, the mucus with the catarrh germs which it has carried settles permanently on the mucous membrane which lines the stomach.

Real dyspepsia and indigestion are caused by a lack of digestive juices. But here we have a condition where the membrane is able and ready to do its work, but it is prevented by foreign matter which has dropped down from the head and coated it. How then, can the usual treatment for indigestion be of use? Since catarrh is the cause of the trouble, it is the catarrh that must be treated. If you have catarrh of the stomach we believe that if taken faithfully for a reasonable length of time Parmint will bring you an amount of relief that will fully compensate you for the cost and time expended.

CAUSE OF DEAFNESS.

A cause which is responsible for a great many cases of deafness is catarrh.

The whole trouble generally begins in a simple cold in the head. During such a cold almost every person experiences that feeling of stuffiness which tells of inflammation extending into the post-nasal space where the openings of the Eustachian Tubes are located, and which is accompanied by catarrhal secretions, collected in the post-nasal space, where it is difficult to blow it out of the nose or hawk it up. When such conditions have become chronic, as in catarrh, the danger is grave.

The mucus, carrying the germs, drops into the throat. The glue-like nauseating mass sticks for a time to the sides of the throat. The germs are quick to take advantage of the opportunity. They invade the Eustachian Tubes. Their presence and irritation it causes produce more and more mucus. Gradually this fills up the ear tube so that sounds can only pass through with difficulty. The patient finds his hearing slowly going. When the tubes are completely filled total deafness may result.

In deafness from nasal catarrh, which affects the middle ear, it often happens that crackling sounds are present which distress and confuse the patient. These are due to the fact that the mucus which fills the upper part and back of the throat, is covering the opening of the Eustachian Tubes and the bursting of bubbles or the movement of mucus causes the sounds, which come from the altered resonance of the ear. After a crackling report the head may seem clearer and the hearing better for a time. Later on in the case there may be crackling sounds when swallowing, which come from the effort of a stiffened muscle to open the tubes which yield with a jerk.

The above explanation of a most common cause of deafness should make it clear how absurd and useless it is to attempt to overcome such deafness by ear-drums or devices of a similar sort.

Let it be understood, however, that Parmint is not for ear troubles other than those caused by catarrh. If your trouble is caused by scarlet fever or any disease apart from catarrh, or if caused by an injury, Parmint is not for you, and you should consult your own family physician regarding your case.

DON'T NEGLECT A COUGH.

If you have a cold and it has left you with a cough, no matter how slight—you ought not to neglect it.

A cough is generally an indication that there is inflammation in a dangerous place, and proper treatment should be secured at once. Delaying treatment may mean that the cough may settle, develop and stay. Even the slightest cough indicates a danger and should receive prompt attention. Unless your cough has become extremely deep seated or has hung onto you for a long time, we believe that you will find a quick relief from your trouble by the use of Parmint.

WHAT PARMINT IS.

Parmint is an English formula put on the market in England about 10 years ago. It is a combination of ingredients having values in the treatment of catarrhal conditions, bronchial affections, etc., compounded from the best grade of material it is possible to obtain. Parmint is put up in one-ounce bottles in concentrated form which are labeled "Parmint-Double Strength." These one-ounce bottles can be obtained at a small cost and the one-ounce is sufficient to make a full half-pint of Parmint ready to take when mixed with water and a little sugar as directed in each package.
