UNIVERSAL SERVICE CARRIED IN SYNOD BY STANDING VOTE

Members Unanimous for Resolution Urging Government to Complete Measures for Mobilizing the Resources of Canada in Most Effective Way.

An immediate standing vote, shouts of "aye, aye" and the fervent, if many-keyed, singing of "God Save the King," indicated yesterday afternoon in no uncertain manner the attitude of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron towards universal service and its enforcement in Canada.

The resolution which evoked this demonstration, presented by Rev. Precentor Tucker, seconded by F. P. Betts, and declared unanimously carried by His Lordship the Bishop, was as follows: "That this synod do express to the Government of the Dominion of Canada its conviction:

A Supreme Duty.

"(a) That the duty of fighting for one's country in a righteous war in defence of the highest ideals of civilization, such as that in which we are now engaged, is the supreme duty cast upon all subjects of a nation, and furthermore.

"(b) That the burden of such service should, so far as practicable, having due regard to the requirements of our national life, be borne equally by all the properly qualified men of the nation, and this synod desires to express the approval of the Church of England in this diocese of any scheme, whether under the militia act or the defence of the realm act, or otherwise, for the complete and effectual mobilization of the entire resources of Canada, in men and materials, which, in the opinion of the synod, ought to be placed unreservedly at the disposal of the country and empire."

Religious Revival.

Immediately after the synod convened in the afternoon, discussion was resumed in regard to the notice of motion of Rev. E. C. Jennings of Blenheim, concerning the advisability of special efforts being directed towards a religious revival, so that the church may become better understood, and coupled with this, in view of the probable scarcity of men for holy orders in the next few years, the utilizing of the services of laymen.

Judge Barron of Stratford, raised the point that the motion was out of order from the phrasing "that the Synod of Huron authorize and direct, etc." This he designated a usurping of the prerogative of the bishop.

Canon Tucker stated that the synod included the bishop. While personally he was in sympathy with the intentions of the notice of motion, he didn't like the last two lines. Without them, the motion would go out from the synod with far greater dignity and with greater regard for the men who have passed away.

The lines referred to were: "So that there be not a repetition of what we lost in days past when Methodist local preachers covered the field, where we should have gone."

Anglicans Were Slow.

Mr. Jennings explained as soon as the opportunity presented itself that he wasn't taking exception to some certain denomination. What he had been trying to do was to show that the Anglicans had been foolish not to seize an opportunity which others were wise enough to see. "It's a reflection on ourselves, not on the Methodists," he declared. Moreover, he had no idea of attacking the veterans of the church, who were so few in the past they could not cover the ground. He was pleading for a revival movement and the utilizing of the services of laymen.

Rev. W. F. Brownlee expressed his conviction that while an educational revival may be good in itself, the immediate important matter is a revival on the spiritual side. "We are face to face with unprecedented conditions," he said. "If we lay the matter over until next synod we will be losing an opportunity we may never have again. This year is one of the grandest years the church will have for a century in the way of grasping opportunities. We cannot tell when the close of the war will be, but, following the close of the war, the church will have great opportunity. "Let us be prepared to advance when the word is given. If the church is to advance, not only as a church, but also in a spiritual uplift of the people, we must not leave off a definite movement until some distant period," was his warning given in regard to the impression which arose that action would be left over till another year, following the favorable reception accorded an amendment to an amendment to refer the motion to rural deaneries to the effect that a committee of six clergymen and five laymen be appointed to consider the motion with the bishop, the bishop to report to the next meeting of the synod.

Must Be Taken Up.

The bishop cleared up doubts by his statement. "This simply means that a report from the committee will be presented by the bishop at the next meeting of the synod. But why wait for the bishop if the matter is serious and urgent? Put your shoulders to the wheel yourselves. My opinion, expressed in my charge to the synod, is that the only way to make the revival effective is for the local clergy and people to take it up."

Mr. Jenkins' amendment to the amendment to refer the question to the rural deaneries carried and the following committee was appointed to act: Rev. Precentor Tucker, Canon Howard, Canon Davis, Rev. E. C. Jennings, A. B. Farney, J. B. Fotheringham, W. F. Brownlee and Messrs. C. Jenkins, Judge Holt, William Baird, Judge Ermatinger, W. F. Cockshutt and Dr. Moorhouse.

A touching ceremony of the afternoon was the presentation to the retiring secretary of the diocese, Ven. Archdeacon Young, with a testimonial from the synod, accompanied by an address from the bishop as follows:

To the Venerable Archdeacon Young:

The subscribers to the accompanying testimonial beg to address you on the occasion of your retirement from the duties of secretary-treasurer of the synod and the close of the active period of your life.

Your great services in the councils of the church and the readjustment and development of the material recources of the church, most efficiently helping the support of the ordained workers in the field, entitle you to an abiding place in the records of the church in this diocese, and in the memories of all who acted with you in the meritorious work.

As diocesan commissioner, your action was uniformly productive of the best results in the extension of the church and in adjusting the differences which beset our infirm human natures, and so bringing into governing force the law of Christ.

Therefore, recognizing the supreme devotion, loyalty and love that possessed you in discharging your ordination vows and the great benefit that has accrued to the church in the Diocese of Huron from your labors in it, the subscribers respectfully ask you to accept the accompanying testimonial with their prayers that you may still be enabled to serve the church of your love and that you and yours may be spared for a long season in this life together as our Heavenly Father may will.

Expresses Thanks.

Expressing his thanks Archdeacon Young referred to the occasion as one both of joy and sorrow. It was impossible to sever relations with the synod without a pang. "I have spent my whole life in this diocese. I was ordained by the first bishop and I have been under the jurisdiction of four bishops," he said, adding, "There are very few survivors of the early executive, just three or four left with myself. As we grow older we do not make very many new friends."

The fact that he had been retained still as an auditor had been a source of pleasure, in that he was still to be permitted to give his service, according to his strength.

A vote of thanks was moved to the bishop for his kindly, fatherly, wise and tactful ruling, A. H. Backus of Aylmer, in seconding it, referring with pride to the masterly manner in which his lordship had presided at the meeting of the General Synod in Toronto during the discussion on the prayer book.

Votes of thanks were also moved to Dr. Denison, Rev. R. H. A. Haslam, M.A., and J. M. McCormick, who delivered addresses before the synod; to Rev. Precentor Tucker, the churchwardens, organist and choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, and the press. Coupled with the thanks to the secretaries, Rev. R. J. M. Perkins and Wm. Baird, was the granting of an honorarium to each of $50.

Most Profitable.

Shortly before six o'clock the closing words of the 59th session of the synod were spoken by the bishop, who referred to the gathering of the synod as one of the most practical and profitable in years. His hope and prayer was that before the synod met again, the dawn of peace would be ushered in.

The results of the balloting of the forenoon were announced as follows:

WHAT IS URIC ACID?

THE CAUSE OF BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL AND SUDDEN DEATH.

Ever since the discovery of uric acid in the blood by Scheele, in 1775, and the bad effect it had upon the body, scientists and physicians have striven to rid the tissues and the blood of this poison. Because of its over-abundance in the system it causes backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, gravel neuralgia and sciatica. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric," which will throw out and completely eradicate this uric acid from the system. "Anuric" has proved to be 37 times more potent than lithia, and consequently you need no longer fear muscular or articular rheumatism or gout, or many other diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send to Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., for a pamphlet on "Anuric Tablets."

If you feel that tired, worn-out feeling, backache, neuralgia, or if your sleep is disturbed by too frequent urination, go to your best drug store and ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. They are put up in 50-cent packages.

Doctor Pierce's reputation is back of this medicine and you know that his "Golden Medical Discovery" for the blood and his "Favorite Prescription" for the ills of women have had a splendid reputation for the past fifty years.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequaled as a Liver Pill. One tiny sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cure Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels.

DANDRUFF GOES! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Save Your Hair! Double Its Beauty in a Few Moments Try This!

Hair Stops Coming Out and Every Particle of Dandruff Disappears.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

STREET CARS MAY RUN NEXT SUNDAY; COMPROMISE LIKELY

Pass Bylaw at Special Meeting on Saturday.

CITY HAS UPPER HAND

Four Points Out of Five Agreed to Already by Company.

London may have street cars next Sunday. At the combined meeting of the board of control and the finance committee last evening, on motion of Controller White, it was decided to open negotiations with the company for further discussion of the question and to prepare a bylaw giving the company permission to run their cars for the remaining Sundays in the month of June.

The bylaw will be drawn up at once and presented to the council at a special meeting to be held on Saturday afternoon.

This motion was passed only after a long discussion, Ald. Reynolds and Ashplant and Mayor H. A. Stevenson objecting strongly to making any motion to come to terms with the company, claiming that the company would suffer more than the city if the cars were not running.

Ald. Wilson declared that if something was not done, and the cars did not run next Sunday, the citizens would lose patience with the board and committee, and their desire for street cars would only strengthen the company's case.

Willing to Accede.

A deputation from the street car company met the committee and the board and declared its willingness to accede to four of the five clauses of the proposition made by the company. They agreed to the following clauses:

That Dundas street east be double-tracked to the interswitching line from Queen's Park.

That the company pave the track allowance on Hamilton road, Dundas street east, a portion of Rectory street, and other streets that may be required.

That the Hamilton road line be extended from Rectory to West street.

That a double switch be placed at Mamelon street.

The report of the company's decision was presented by its solicitor, C. H. Ivey, who stated that while he was not contending that the city was not justified according to its present population in asking for an extension of tracking, the Dominion census, which is taken once in ten years, and which governs all disputes of this kind, did not show that the city should have it. The next census will be taken in 1921, at which time the city may demand further extensions from the company.

Mr. Ivey stated that the company is willing to lay the extension desired on Hamilton road, about 2,200 feet.

He said that the company had no wish to lay a double switch at Mamelon or Rectory streets, but rather than hold of the negotiations by a small matter is willing to put one in at Mamelon street, but not at Rectory street. He said that the company must have the passing points of cars as near equal distances apart as possible, and that Mamelon street would be satisfactory, but that the one at Rectory street would be worse than useless.

North End Short.

Ald. Wilson declared himself to be strongly against making any extensions of the line in the south end of the city. He claimed that the service in the north end was not extensive enough to be of any aid to those living near Quebec street, and advocated a line being built there or up Ontario street. He declared that he would never favor the building of more extensions in the south end of the city.

Asked by Ald. Wilson if the company would be willing to lay 2,200 feet of track in the north end in place of Rectory street, Mr. Ivey stated that he was unable to say, and that the company would need to consider the matter.

Having presented its report the deputation from the street railway withdrew while the board considered it. In the company's reply to the city's demands no mention was made of Sunday cars, which caused some surprise among the aldermen, some of whom favored asking the deputation about the matter, but the majority preferred to play a waiting game and let the company speak first, which is exactly what it has not. The concessions having met with the approval of the aldermen, the company's representatives then left the meeting, after which the question of Sunday cars came up.

Hold Upper Hand.

His worship and Aldermen Reynolds and Ashplant claimed that the city held the upper hand, and that the company would be compelled to make terms. Ald. Wilson declared that the people would be disgusted with the action of the aldermen, and would refuse to support them in pressing the company if there were no cars next Sunday.

A long discussion followed, which was brought to a close by Controller White's motion that the company be permitted to run for the remaining Sundays in June, and that the city take action to bring about peace with the street car people. A meeting of the council will be called for Saturday at 1 o'clock to pass the necessary bylaw extending the franchise of the company over the next two Sundays.

The question of raising the salary of City Auditor F. G. Jewell $500, which was referred back to the committee by the board of control, was reaffirmed after much discussion.

MAGISTRATE DISMISSES SUNDAY SELLING CASE

Rules Out Charge Against Camp Booth Proprietor.

That a restaurant keeper who allows refreshments to be consumed on the premises and not permit them to be taken away, does not come under the meaning of the law as a merchant trader, and consequently not liable to a breach of the Lord's Day act for Sunday selling was the discrimination made by Magistrate Judd in giving his decision today in the case of Williams vs. Tucker. The case is one where John Tucker, who operates a booth on Oxford street, near the camp entrance, was charged by Chief Williams with a breach of the Lord's Day act in selling on Sunday. This point was admitted in the evidence, but the technical point as to whether the boothkeeper could be designated as a merchant trader was decided by the magistrate citing as a precedent a similar action decided some time ago by Justice Middleton.

In this case the grounds were taken that in order for a boothkeeper to come under the law as a merchant trader it would be necessary to produce evidence showing he had permitted refreshments to be taken away from his booth for consumption at some other place. In Tucker's case it was shown that customers had procured their food and consumed it at the counter.

The magistrate pointed out the fact that the minute a boothkeeper permitted refreshments to be taken away at that same time he became a merchant trader and liable to a fine for violation of the Lord's Day act.

Based in the precedent cited from Justice Middleton's decision and the fact that the evidence in this case was similar, the case was dismissed without costs.

NEW DIOCESE OFFICIAL NATIVE-BORN LONDONER

Rev. W. J. Doherty, Secretary-Treasurer, Raised and Educated Here.

The choice of Rev. William James Doherty to fill a position such as that of secretary-treasurer of the diocese of Huron, to succeed Ven. Archdeacon Young, has been a matter for gratification to many friends in London.

Mr. Doherty, whose ability has won for him this recognition from the clergy and laymen of the communion to which he belongs, is a real London boy, born and educated in this city. His first school days were spent in the old Waterloo street school, where Chalmers Presbyterian Church now stands, and even then he revealed an exceptional brightness which marked him among the other pupils. He next attended the old union school, and from there went to the high school, where he took a high stand throughout his course, particularly in mathematics.

His undergraduate work was taken in Toronto University, and after some years of interruption his arts course completed in the Western University, where the degree of B. A. was conferred upon him in 1899. Each year of his theological course he carried off the highest honors in his class, graduating as medalist in 1899.

He was ordained a deacon by the late Bishop Baldwin, May 1, 1899, and the following year, May 24, 1900, a priest.

His first appointment was to Hensall and Staffa, December 26, 1899. With the exception of a few months in Thorndale and Nissouri, he has been rector of Hensall and Staffa up to the present time. Even during the months in which he has performed the duties of assistant secretary-treasurer of the diocese, he has gone up each week-end to conduct the Sunday services in his two parishes.

He was rural dean of Huron from 1911 to 1915, and now holds the position of honorary curate to the very reverend, the dean of Huron.

TRAIN BLIND SOLDIERS ACCORDING TO INTELLECT

Find Out Their Adaptability, Advises Blind Lecturer.

"War and the Blind" was the subject of an instructive illustrated lecture by Dr. Dixon, honorary president of the Canadian Free Library for the Blind, at the Normal School last evening.

The large audience displayed the greatest interest, and the information given by Dr. Dixon is expected to prove a stimulus to the movement recently launched by the Princess Patricia Chapter, I. O. D. E., to assist in the establishment of an institution for the care and education of blind soldiers.

Princess Patricia Chapter assumed the initiative, and to its efforts can be attributed the success that is being met with in raising funds for the purpose.

Dr. Dixon, who is a fluent and rapid speaker, outlined in detail the objects of the proposed institution in addition to the methods to be followed in the education of the blind.

"Find out the adaptability of each individual, and then let them be taught trades for which they display the greatest aptitude and by so doing reach the greatest state of proficiency in each case," was the keynote struck in Dr. Dixon's address.

Specialization along any particular line means efficiency, and this, Dr. Dixon showed, was the proper method of teaching the blind.

"Teach the blind, according to the intellect," was another of his statements.

The principal trades taught in the old country institutions were basket-weaving, salesmanship, poultry-raising, rug-weaving, etc., any of which could be mastered by the ordinary blind person with patience and time, declared the speaker.

Illustrated slides were introduced at intervals to more clearly convey the idea intended.

The first slide showed a Paris institution for blind sisters, of the order of grey nuns. In this picture could be seen a blind curator examining a bronze figure, the work of the blind sculptor, Vidal.

The methods of teaching the blind as employed in Russia were shown and demonstrated clearly the advanced state reached by Russia along this line of educating the blind. The great St. Dunstan's Hostel in London, Eng., was shown, and Lieut. Baker, a blinded soldier, was shown taking instructions in a course of salesmanship.

Dr. Dixon, throughout his lecture, showed the need of an institution in Canada for the education of the blind, at the present there being nothing along that line.

The movement has been indorsed by the National Council of Women, Social Service Commission, and by the Duchess of Connaught, who, in letters read, all sanctioned action along the line contemplated.

The amount necessary to fully cover the expenses of erection of the memorial to the blind soldiers would be about $500,000, which will be raised, it is hoped, through the instrumentality of various patriotic organizations and societies.

At present a third class is under instruction at the Toronto library to act as teachers to the blind as the occasion arises.

The funds at present raised by the Princess Patricia Chapter amount to nearly $2,000, and the presentation of the operetta, "All On a Summer's Day," by Stanley Meredith and company at Belvidere, on June 24, will greatly augment this amount, it is hoped.

The funds from the Princess Patricia Chapter are to be devoted exclusively for the maintenance and care of soldiers from No. 1 Military district wounded in action who may be confined in this proposed or any other institution for that purpose. Col. L. W. Shannon acted as chairman.

OBEY TRAFFIC LAW

Magistrate Declares Breaches of It Must Cease.

That Magistrate Judd is determined to stamp out the constantly recurring practice of driving by standing street cars was shown at today's police court session, when several fines were imposed for infractions of the bylaw.

"Women and children have got to be protected," said his worship in imposing a fine of $2 on George Hodgins, who pleaded guilty to the charge, but who claimed it as being unavoidable.

Charles Scales appeared on the same charge for the second time, and was given another privilege to donate $2 to the city treasury.

Morris Bawden, an elderly man, admitted the charge, but said he could not dodge the street cars and automobiles at the same time and keep his eyes on both, and had driven by the standing car without his knowledge. Fined $1.

James Davis also paid in $2 for the same offence.

$350 Value For $265

To Introduce Our "Victor" Piano

(Terms: $15 Cash and $7 a Month)

Many people, appreciative of all that the name Nordheimer signifies in the piano business, have inquired whether we could not supply an instrument somewhat lower in price than the Nordheimer itself.

These are people who do not wish so expensive a piano, yet desire to buy from a house whose reputation is their guarantee of Safety and Satisfaction.

To satisfy this demand, we searched for a manufacturer who could produce such an instrument, according to our standard.

In the "Victor" we present an instrument that answers even our exacting requirements.

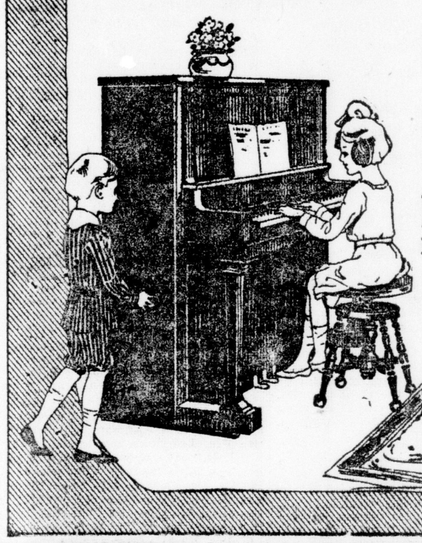
While not of Nordheimer manufacture, the Nordheimer guarantee backs it—absolutely.

The result is something to be proud of—a distinct achievement in piano value. We do not claim for it the finer shadings of tone that a Nordheimer reveals. It would be impossible to duplicate the Nordheimer at anything less than the Nordheimer price. But we do assert that the "Victor" is the most tuneful, the most durable, and the most beautiful instrument ever built to sell at a price less than $350.00.

Now—Note Our Great Offer

To introduce the "Victor" we are making a special price of $265 for a limited period. And even at this special price we are prepared to accept time payments—$15.00 cash and $7.00 a month.

This is a most unusual opportunity. It simply means that we are handing over a portion of our profit to the public in order that the outstanding merits of the "Victor" may quickly become known. This offer is our way of advertising it—and will be promptly discontinued once a fair number of these instruments are sold and the demand for them well established.



A Few of This Week's Specials in Used Pianos.
