INTERMEDIATES BOW TO WOODSTOCK CREW

Londoner's Patched-Up Crew Better Than Score Shows.

GILLIES SHOWS WELL

Burgess and Mowry Best of London Forwards.

Woodstock, Jan. 12.—On ice that was lightning fast, the London Intermediates were downed by the local crew tonight by 9 to 2. The game was not so one-sided as the score would appear, although the locals had the edge all throughout the game. In King and Douglas the local had two men who could outskate anything on the London team, and who were always able to get right down on Hynds for a shot. King especially was very effective tonight, and time and time again rushed from one end of the rink to the other for a score. Parker and Trump played a brilliant game also, while Childs in goal was just as reliable as ever.

The visitors, while they were good individually, made little or no attempt at combination, and showed no team-work at any stage of the game. Again, they were playing a number of new men, none of whom showed up to any advantage. Gillies was very good, and made a number of rushes, while Mowry and Burgess were the choice of the forwards. One great drawback to the Londoners tonight was the fact that they simply could not get the range on the nets. The big ice surface was another handicap to the visitors, and they were continually shooting from a long way off. Hindmarsh, the big Zurich player, working on the Forest City defence, played a good defensive game, but he was a slow skater, and frequently lost the puck before getting away very far. He managed to make the distance towards the close of the game, and notched London's scond score.

The Woodstock crew took to the fast ice and played some splendid combination in spots. In the first period the teams were well matched for the first half, but towards the end the Red and White got their combination going, and as their shooting was dead on, they ran in four goals in jig time. Trump and King combined for the first counter, the latter scoring. Pring evened the count for London when he went down the center and fired a long, low one that eluded Childs. King scored Woodstock's second on a rebound off his own shot. Ryan was cut over the eye at this stage when he came into contact with the point of a skate. Garvey and Douglas combined nicely for Woodstock's third, while Trump made it four before the bell rang, slamming in a rebound. Hynds replaced Baker in the net for London in the second period. Woodstock scored twelve minutes after play started, when Cohen combined with King, the latter scoring. London missed some nice chances in this session. In the third period Woodstock added four more, while London scored their second tally.

The line-ups:

London—Goal, Baker and Hynds; defence, Gillies and Hindmarsh; center, Mowry; right wing, Burgess; left wing, Pring; subs, Ryan and Harkness.

Referee—"Sky" Easson.

Girls' Hockey Opens Tonight

Locals Oppose St. Thomas in Novelty Attraction.

Ladies' hockey opens tonight at Westminster rink with the local girls opposing St. Thomas, and the "gemmen" fans may keep their hats on while they watch the fair sex in ice combat.

London has seen girls' hockey before—collegiate affairs—but never the L. O. H. A. brand, and the novelty is going to attract a big bunch of fans, judging by the advance seat sale.

Aside from the novelty feature, the fans are likely to see some good hockey as well, even though a little more gently played than the sort offered by the male of the species.

Coach Legg announced his line-up last night, and they demurely follow, in the procession from goal out: Wells, Fortune, M. Dawson, Reynolds, L. Milne, C. Dawson, R. Curnoe, Ram, Forsythe, Murray.

M'ALLISTER FEATURES IN SARNIA 8--0 WIN

Watford, Jan. 12.—Sarnia swamped Watford here tonight in an O. H. A. game by the score of 8 to 0. The ice was hard and the game fast, the Sarnia crowd going at top speed all the time. McAllister, in the nets, was a wonder, stopping almost impossible shots time after time. The best Watford could do was shoot at McAllister. The play outside of the nets was by no means as one-sided as the score, but McAllister made up the difference.

The line-ups:

Sarnia — Goal, McAllister; defence, McMillan and Perry; center, O'Brien; wings, Monaghan and L. Jackson; subs, D. Jackson and Crouchman.

Watford—Goal, Rogers; defence, Doolittle and Cowan; center, Bruce; wings, McKinnon and Greer; subs, Trenouth and Irwin.

Referee—John Greer, London.

OFF THE BOARDS

Barrett showed the fans one of the prettiest little demonstrations of stick-handling seen here for some time, when he nursed the rubber through the whole St. Thomas team, drew Billinghurst out and scored London's second counter in the last period.

* * *

At that he might have been inclined to give the honor to one of his teammates, if anyone had been able to get up there with him, as he showed a tendency to combine frequently, but the whole thing happened so quickly, he just had to do it all himself.

* * *

Billinghurst exemplified the "Squatter's Rites" degree as it is done in St. Thomas so often when mixups occurred in front of goal that even the referee "got wise," and he was treated to a rest in the penalty box for falling on the puck. If it was later in the year, he might have demonstrated some new swimming strokes.

* * *

The homesters, at the start of the fray, gave some promise of combination, but after McGeoch took Billinghurst's measure for London's first, soon after the opening of the first period, they were content to batter the boards behind the St. Thomas goal individually.

* * *

It may have been cocksureness that London had, or maybe it was just lucky they got away with it, but for the greater part of the game the London lads were four strong on the forward line, with only one defence, and the goalie guarding the inner works.

* * *

However, they might even have been able to get away with only Tupholme back there for McGeoch, Barrett and Blackwell and McKay, while he was on the ice, did such effective back-checking that the St. Thomas outfit couldn't seem to get anywhere, when they did get the disc.

* * *

Tupholme had few shots to stop, and they were far between; but then he was there when he was needed. His stop of a long shot from centre ice in the first spasm was a nice save.

* * *

One thing the fans liked about the youngsters was the way they went down into the corners.

* * *

And this same boring into the corners, instead of letting the other fellow nurse it out for a good start, might have resulted in a bigger score had the pass out been more accurate. Even at that McGeoch's second score, the last one of the game was on a nice pass from Wilcox, who chased in behind the St. Thomas goal after the puck.

* * *

The St. Thomas boys looked young, but showed several nice flashes of speed. As explained above, however, they were helpless, when they were up against a six-man defence, which seemed to form instantly every time the London kids lost the puck.

* * *

With some more practice, and then some continually keeping at it, London has what looks like a formidable sextet. The talent is there, and the only thing that looks like a drawback is their comparatively small size. Speed and combination will more than make up the difference.

* * *

St. Thomas had seven men on the ice at one time, and the play traveled from the St. Thomas end to centre ice before the error was discovered.

* * *

And no penalty was handed out for this infringment other than to lighten the railroaders to a six-man strength. The fans called Richardson several times for decisions, and lack of decisions, but then Richardson was officiating, and the game always looks different from the boards.

INGERSOLL YOUTHS TRIM GLENCOE 2--1

Winners Pessimistic At First, But Gain Confidence.

Ingersoll, Jan. 12.—Glencoe's good juniors had a crimp put in their championship aspirations here tonight when they got the short end of a 2 to 1 score.

After what happened to the London aggregation in Glencoe the other night there was not any pronounced optimism among the local fans, so all things considered the victory was doubly pleasing. Back-checking, a constant, relentless system of staying with the opposing players at every turn, coupled with brilliant combination at times, tells the story of the victory.

The visitors were checked at every turn, sometimes there were three locals on an opposing player, and this system was maintained throughout the entire game. It was a game of good hockey and plenty of thrills.

Saunders, the big, rangy defence player of the visitors, uncorked speed to burn, but he soldom could get close in on the goal. In the closing minutes of the game, when the visitors realized they were defeated, they sent all the players with the exception of their goaler on the offensive, and they were fighting like demons in Ingersoll territory when the bell sounded.

There was no scoring in the opening period. In the second session McMillan put the homsters in the lead by a well-directed shot from the wing, and the period ended 1 to 0.

In the final session Smith counted one more for the locals, but Glencoe retaliated, Saunders making the shot. The last ten minutes witnessed strenuous hockey, with Glencoe pressing hard, and always dangerous.

The teams:

Ingersoll—Goal, Noe; defence Jackson and Weaver; center, Vallee; wings, McMillan and Munroe; subs, Smith and Dunn.

Glencoe—Goal, Leitch; defence, Hutt and Saunders; center, McMillen; wings, McLean and Law; subs, Halliday and McAlpine.

Referee—Sandercock, Woodstock.

Chesley, Jan. 12.—Wiarton defeated Chesley in an Intermediate O. H. A. game here tonight by a score of 10 to 2. By periods: 1—1, 6—1.

The line-ups:

Feferee—Steve Vair.

LOCAL JUNIORS TURN IN WIN AS OPENER

Trim St. Thomas 3--0 and Show Edge All Way.

NO COMBINATION

Locals Show Lack of Practice, But Are Much Improved Lot.

The local junior O. H. A. entry took ample revenge for their last week's defeat at Glencoe, by trimming the St. Thomas outfit 3 goals to 0 in the opening home game of the season at Westminster Rink last night. The homesters had it all over the kids from the Railroad City, and after notching the first counter in the opening period, rested their laurels as far as goals were concerned until the last section, when they poked in two more just for exercise and good measure.

Some 300 fans turned out, and saw a good game, and went home pleased. The locals look good, and will show to better advantage a little later in the season. They showed lots of confidence last night, and the results turned in to prove that they were not missing any guesses.

While the St. Thomas lads displayed considerable loafing, and were frequently caught offside, the Forest City kids played the game cleanly at all stages of the mix. They were not backward in their checking at all, and showed an ability to give as much, and more, than they took, but their checking was clean, and London offsides were rare.

The first period started off with a "whizz, and a bang," and for a few moments Tupholme was forced on the defensive for stray shots, as the railroaders showed a tendency to take pot shots from away out, but as the game progressed the local goalie had a comparatively easy time.

Pete McGeough displayed some nice hockey in this round, and several times had the puck within a few yards of the Saints' net through his clever and elusive skating. His persistent efforts were rewarded when the period was about half through, and on a lone rush he drew Billinghurst out a few feet and hooked the rubber in the corner for the first goal.

Blackwell, Barrett and McGeough all took a hand and played combination whenever possible, but Billinghurst's clever tactics outwitted them and held them at bay during the first period. At one time a goal from a nice piece of team work from the sticks of Barrett and Wilcox seemed imminent, but Billinghurst sprawled to save.

In the second period the Saints loosened up a bit and displayed a semblance of hockey, but they were still unable to solve the Forest City defence. The fans became a little riled at Richardson for allowing the Railroad City crew to get away with a seven-man team for about forty seconds without at least chiding them for it, and on a few more occasions he might have censored for tripping and stick wielding. Wilcox and Milne showed some pretty work in this period, and the latter was rudely cheated out of a tally when he took three successive shots at the net. Renaud, the Saints' centre player, tried hard to score, but the unwillingness or inability of his comrades to support him kept him back.

Neither team scored in the second and the bell rang with the puck in almost centre ice.

Wilcox started the third with a pretty rush down the centre which mussed up the St. Thomas defence. Barrett speeded up in the last frame, and his checking as well as his rushes was effective. The visitors' goalie again displayed his affection for the ice in the last period, and threw a wrench in the machinery a few times by his well-rehearsed "flop."

Hard luck tagged him once, however, and he made a mistake and fell on the puck. Richardson penalized him for a minute.

With about seven minutes to go, Barrett hustled the puck along the boards, bumped past Renaud, eluded the defence men and shot in a well-timed goal. About three minutes afterwards Wilcox got the better of an argument behind the St. Thomas goal, shot the rubber to McGeouch, and Pete right smartly tallied for the third and last goal.

The line up:

London—Tupholme, goal; Milne and Wilcox, defence; McGeough, centre; Barrett and Blackwell, wings; McKay and Taylor, spares.

St. Thomas—Billinghurst, goal; H. Love and Walters, defence; Renaud, centre; Smuck and Martin, wings; Sutherland and L. Love, spares.

STRATFORD APPRENTICES DEBUT.

Stratford, Jan. 12.—Tomorrow afternoon the local Grand Trunk apprentices will make their debut before the home fans, when they meet Allandale in the second scheduled apprentice league game of the season. This team is said to be one of the fastest and snappiest sextets in the league, and carry about three O. H. A. players.

SPORT SNAP-SHOTS

Mr. Kid Beebe speaking:

"As Jesse Livermore says about playing the market, a man playing the races must keep his position and know when to follow his leads. A few years ago I lost $10,000 when Trial by Jury was disqualified at Saratoga. I should have stopped dead right then. But I didn't, and I lost $100,000.

"On the other hand, on June 1, 1921, I went to Belmont Park with a ten-dollar note. I bet the ten at 7 to 1 on Beverly Belle in the first race and won. I bet the $80 on the Reddist and Ormead stable in the jumping race, and won $160. Fair Mac finished first in that race, but was disqualified, giving me the break. I felt then that it was my day.

"I bet $200 on Elected II. in the third race at 8 to 1, and won $1,600. I put it all on Audacious at 2 to 1, and, believe me, when Audacious broke the American record it gave me the finest thrill I had ever known. Playfellow looked good to me in the fourth race, and I bet $5,000 at 4 to 5.

"Abe Hallow gave me a tip on Wishbone in the last race. I bet $4,000 at 2 to 1, and when the price went to 3½ I bet $5,000 more. I won $33,500 on the race. It was some day!. With a sawbuck I had picked up $34,940."

"How much did you have at the end of the week?" asked Sammy Kelly.

"I think I had a thin dime," said the Kid. "But that is the way to play 'em. When you feel the break is yours, step on it. I had $200 against $300 on Excelsis the day Rebuke and Leghorn were disqualified. My horse had finished third. I bet the $500 on Messenger and won. I didn't know what to play in the last race, but I saw a horse in there called Great Luck. That was my middle name that day, and I bet $2,000 against $10,000 on Great Luck. And I had great luck and won."

PAISLEY'S FASTEST SEXTET.

Paisley team gave a good account of themselves last year, but started this season with a bad defeat by Chesley. They, however, turned the tables in the next mix. They are playing in the Northern League this year.

Just Between Us

By C. S. S.

As well as dipping into the O. B. A. baseball field, the L. A. A. A. will in the next few weeks have to consider entering the provincial soccer field as well, either the year-old provincial league or the several cup competitions which are open to the whole of Ontario. Soccer would probably be a precarious undertaking for any of the present organizations involved in the game under present conditions, but with the prestige the L. A. A. A. could bring to bear, either a berth in the provincial league or maintenance of a representative city team for the various competitions and for exhibition games seems a perfectly feasible plan. It's a matter, anyway, it is understood, that will be put before the L. A. A. A. within a week or so, and as soccer borders on the major sport line, there seems no reason why the new body should side-step the proposition.

London football officials govern over 20 teams, and experts can easily pick a representative team from this material which could enter any competition in the Dominion. Several teams quit this season with comfortable balances in the treasury, even in such a season of over-organization as the one just closed proved good football should draw big gates and prove its right to be listed under the city's major sports, and a paying one to boot.

With the London team including St. Thomas players, as it most assuredly would to the extent of a couple anyway, the box office end of the proposition is thrown into a still more favorable light, for the bustling city to the south has a big soccer following and a most consistent one.

Grounds present a problem, but it might be found possible to make more use of Tecumseh Park this year in view of the fact that the schedule makers of the new professional baseball loop will probably give the London Club longer stays in Michigan. An entry in the provincial soccer league would mean at the most one game each week, and with the games away out of this schedule, the dates which the amateur ball tossers are almost sure to get at the west side ball grounds could be made to dovetail in with the soccer dates satisfactorily. However, some arrangements would have to be made to lay out a field for soccer alone, as a diamond will not stand up under what the dribbling code does to the field, and it would cost very little to lay out. It could also be used for lacrosse.

Pucklets.

Montreal, Jan. 12.—That Jimmy Roy, who at one time tried out with the Wanderers professional hockey team of the N. H. L., must remain out of amateur hockey was decided at a meeting of the registration committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada held here last night. Roy had been refused an amateur card during last summer, and this winter was given a card by the Quebec City subcommittee of the Quebec Amateur Association. As no official warning had not reached the Sons of Ireland team when they played Roy, the players were placed in good amateur standing here last night. Harry Fontaine of the Quebec City registration committee was in attendance at the meeting, and said that the ruling of the A. A. U. of Canada would be upheld by his board.

Ottawa, Jan. 12. — The Ottawa and District Hockey Association, through its executive, has been conducting a tour of several of Ottawa's best-known puck-chasers, and, according to information received here within the past few days, their suspicions have been confirmed. The first to receive the ban is Fred Long, star defence man of the Ottawa College team, who has been playing with the Quebec Bulldogs down in the ancient capital.

* * *

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—Harold Darraugh, well-known local amateur, is barred from amateur hockey for the rest of this season by a ruling of the Dominion registration board. Along with two others, Darragh went to Pittsburg to play in exhibition games for Pittsburg A. C. Later he played for an amateur team here. Not feeling that they could handle the situation, as it was of an international aspect, and acting upon a request received from the secretary of the Dominion board, the Ottawa committee referred the matter to the latter council, and the decision has been given that Darragh canot compete in amateur hockey contests either in Canada or in the States. Darragh is a brother of Jack Darragh of the Ottawa Senators.

Denies Sale of Windsor Club

Detroit, Jan. 12.—T. W. Gorman, interested with George M. Hendrie in the Windsor Jockey Club, said today that he had not heard anything of the reported deal for the sale of the jockey club. He characterized it as "idle gossip."

Gorman says that George M. Hendrie is in Maples, Florida, and has been there since November 26.

Gorman stated the jockey club officials, like all other race track owners in Canada, are waiting to see what the government is going to do about the taxation problem before making any plans for the 1923 season.

CARPENTIER MAY MEET BECKETT MAY 14 NEXT

Paris, Jan. 12. — A match between Georges Carpentier, former French heavyweight champion, and Joe Beckett, the British champion, was announced today as tentatively settled to take place in the Olympia, London, on May 14 next. The contract for the bout is being sent to Major A. J. Wilson, British promoter, tonight. Carpentier makes the condition that a return fight with Battling Siki would take precedence, but there now seems slight chance of this affair taking place in the near future.

G. MORROW, VANCOUVER SPORTSMAN, DISAPPEARS

Vancouver, Jan. 12.—George Morrow, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Baseball Association and of the Intermediate Lacrosse Association, has disappeared. On Sept. 15 he left the city, telling friends he was going to visit a sister. He has not been heard from since.

"THE MAJOR AND DR. CONNER EXPLAIN"

TERRIERS GET REVENGE ON KITCHENER ICE

Green Shirts Outchecked by Tenacious Galt Crew.

WILKINSON STARS

Galt Goalie Broke Kitchener Morale With Good Work.

Kitchener, Jan. 12.—Playing hard hockey of the tenacious back-checking variety, the Galt Terriers tonight handed the Kitchener intermediates a 3 to 1 defeat on their own ice. It is the first time in two years that the Green Shirts have lost a game at the Auditorium, and they deserved to lose it, for the better team won on the night's play.

The Terriers stuck to their men all the time, and by judicious subbing, were able to stay with them and pester the life out of them, and as a result the Kitchener team's combination was broken up, and finally the locals quit playing it.

It was what Galt wanted, and they went after the puck-carrier, and usually got him before he became very dangerous. Wilkinson played a star game for the winners, while Schell was the best of the Kitchener team, with Sherk also doing good work. The Galt wings, Hoffman and W. George, did much useful work for the winners, and played their positions well.

Eight minutes of play had elapsed in the first period when Hoffman counted for the visitors on a nice pass from N. Himes. Al Sherk evened the count three minutes later, when he hooked the puck away from G. Himes in the goal-mouth and drove the rubber past Wilkinson. That ended the scoring for the first period.

Three-quarters of the way through the second period N. Himes put his team in the lead, when he scored on a neat shot from the wing, but no more scoring resulted in the period.

In a little less than seven minutes in the final period Galt against tallied when Hoffman soaked a flying pass from W. George into the net from close quarters. Kitchener tried hard to get them back, but the fierce checking of the Galt team and the good net minding of Wilkinson held them at bay.

The teams:

Galt—Goal, Wilkinson; defence, A. Watts and G. Himes; center, N. Himes; wings, Hoffman and W. George; subs, Oliver and F. George.

Kitchener — Goal, Zuber; defence, Karges and Hearn; center, Sherk; wings, Schell and Soloman; subs, Krug and Erb.

Wills Is Ready For Some Work

Jack Sharkey's Bid Brave, But He's Gone Too Far.

By FAIR PLAY.
(Copyright.)

New York, Jan. 12.—Harry Wills was hanging around Madison Square Garden gym today, receiving considerable attention from the onlookers, and apparently not at all worried by Willard's presence in the city. Yet it appears as though the dangerous Harry will be sidetracked in favor of Jess. Harry says his hands are now in first-class shape, and that he will shortly enter the ring against some fighters of his own shade. He had nothing to say about Dempsey and Willard.

Jack Sharkey made a brave bid to come back, and his battle against Irish Johnny Curtin showed how earnestly he had worked. But he has gone too far downhill to return all the way to the top again. There was a time when Jack seemed certain to climb to the bantam throne, but he did not have the good sense to keep himself in proper condition. The time came when Joe Lynch knocked him out in a crucial battle, and Sharkey's sun had set. It was understood that the winner of the Curtin-Sharkey fight last week was to have the chance to meet Joe Lynch for the bantamweight championship. If that was true, Irish Johnny gets the coveted chance, and there are a lot of wise ones who believe that he has more than an even chance of sehding the champion back to Daddy Lynch's truck business.

Keep your eye on Steve Ratzo, a welterweight, who originally hailed from Hazelton, Pa. When the writer first saw him he was one of Jack Dempsey's stablemates at Freddy Welch's farm at Summit, N. J. Up there he attracted the attention of shrewd judges who were camping upon Dempsey's trail. Some day he will battle with Mickey Walker for the welter crown, and it will be a real fight.

One-Time Hockey Star Comes Back

In a Garrison Hockey League fixture the other night between C. O. T. C. and Westminster Hospital, a big defence player by the name of Dr. Young, rather took the eyes of the fans. He looked as if somewhere in the dark past he had twinkled as an ice star—perhaps in leaner years, for he's now portly and professional looking. The fans were right. He did twinkle a good many years ago, when he wasn't very lean either. In fact he showed signs of coming portliness even in those old Trolley League days when he performed with Kitchener as Rolly Young, after he had graduated in medicine and out of senior O. H. A. hockey. He has been reinstated since as an amateur, and will probably continue to perform at the Barracks affairs.

Throughout the war he served as a medical office being badly wounded in Egypt.

FLOYD JOHNSON BEATS BRENNAN ON POINTS

Young Sensation Carried Fight Furiously To Veteran.

PUTS HIM IN LINE

Victory Gives Young Iowan Claim As Future Contender For Dempsey's Title.

New York, Jan. 12.—Floyd Johnson, sensational Iowa heavyweight, decisively defeated Bill Brennan, Chicago veteran, tonight in a 15-round contest at Madison Square Garden. Johnson received the judges' decision after outfighting and out-boxing Brennan all the way. The weights were announced as Johnson 194 pounds; Brennan 200½ pounds.

It was the acid test for Johnson, who has come rapidly to the fore in the last few months, and his victory over the battle-scarred Chicagoan put him in the front rank of contenders for the title held by Jack Dempsey.

Ring critics were agreed that the form shown by the young Iowan was the most impressive of any pugilist who has appeared in the heavyweight horizon in some time.

Johnson, realizing that his championship aspirations were at stake, set a furious pace from the start. He directed a smashing attack to the head and body, and had Brennan in distress in several rounds, notably the 12th and 15th. His eagerness cost him several chances to put over what might have been a decisive blow.

Brennan weathered the storm of his young opponent's attack largely because of his ring generalship and apparent good condition. He was totally unable, however, to carry on any kind of an offensive.

A galaxy of notables in past and present heavyweight history witnessed the bout, including three former champions—Jess Willard, Jack Johnson and James J. Corbett.

Willard, who is seeking a return match with Dempsey, was given a tumultuous greeting.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight knocked out Joe McCann of Newark, N. J., in the first round of the 12-round semi-final match. Renault weighed 192½ and McCann 205½ pounds.
