CIGARETTE SALE RAPIDLY GROWING,

Has Doubled Here Within Three Years.

Law Against Sale to Minors Openly Violated Every Day---Small Combination Stores the Chief Offenders.

The question of the sale of cigarettes has been brought very prominently before the public by the verdict of the jury in the case of the young suicide, Louis Kinsella.

There can be no doubt that, notwithstanding the law, cigarettes are being purchased every day by minors. Some of the dealers, however, lay the greater part of the blame upon older boys or men, who go in and buy the cigarettes for the youngsters. Most of the large dealers at least follow strictly the law in this respect.

At one of the large King street stores this morning a Star reporter was shown a file of orders for cigarettes and tobacco of all kinds. It is only with such an order that a minor can ever purchase tobacco of any kind from them.

There is no doubt, however, that some of the smaller shops have no such scruples. Particularly is this so where the cigarettes are sold as a side line in a grocery or confectionery business. Very often the packages are broken up and are retailed singly, thus giving every youngster an opportunity to purchase. A cigarette is sold, in some of these stores, to the young boy with as little hesitation as a cent's worth of taffy would be to a young girl.

Not only this, but it is said that some shopkeepers particularly have for sale the American brand of a well known cigarette, selling in the United States at five cents a package. These goods, which are apparently smuggled across the border, are sold here at ten cents a package, or singly at one cent apiece.

Speaking about the sale of cigarettes this morning, the merchants generally said that the sale in late years has rapidly increased. One merchant thought that the sale had doubled during the last three years. The number of merchants who have them for sale is also largely increased. A short time ago one of the Halifax papers, after a census of the city, found that in that city also the sale had also doubled in two years.

TWO FAKIRS WITH THE SAME FAKE.

A shabby genteel character with a gin breath called at a Germain street store this forenoon, and told a pitiful yarn about a broken ankle, the hospital and insufficient funds.

He was greeted with a broad smile from a half dozen clerks, which increased to a loud laugh.

"I believe you've got the same broken ankle, the other fellow has," said the boss of the shop, at which remark the alleged cripple feigned confusion and asked; "What fellow?"

"Why the fakir who was just in here a half minute ago," continued the employer; "there's a whole bunch of you, now get out."

The visitor struggled to be calm, and was about to give a demonstration of his infirmity when a burly bale-handler strenuously escorted him to the free and open out-of-doors.

"I'll see who this imposter is, who is imitating my misfortune!" whined the beggar, as he landed on the sidewalk.

"Well there he is, right over there," pointed the irate store man, "he's leaning against that bar-room."

A moment or so later the two fake cripples went shambling towards King street.

This is a tip for the police.

POLICE COURT.

Two drunks faced Magistrate Ritchie this morning at the police court. One was fined $8 or 30 days whilst the other was remanded for the attendance of the officer who arrested him.

John Davis who was arrested on a warrant for assaulting Mrs. Sarah Oram, deposited $20 for his appearance this morning, but the case did not come up, nor did the defendant put in an appearance. It appears Davis was ill-treating a horse he was driving on Pond street and when spoken to by Mrs. Oram, it is alleged he struck her over the wrist inflicting injuries which caused blood to flow from them.

TRADE WITH BERMUDA.

W. T. James, a prominent shipping man of Bermuda, is at the Royal, having arrived here yesterday on the Orinoco.

Mr. James says the people of Bermuda are in favor of closer trade relations with Canada and would like to give Canada the preference, but the chief difficulty is the fact that while goods coming into Bermuda are only subject to a duty of five per cent. Canada imposes a duty of twenty per cent. on the products of Bermuda. Mr. James thinks that if their exports were admitted at a rate of duty not higher than Bermuda imposes on Canadian products there is no doubt that Canadian products would be taken in larger quantities and the exports from Bermuda destined for the United States, would be routed via St. John.

DONALDSON LINE.

The "Indrani" left Glasgow at six o'clock last evening for St. John direct, with about 14,000 bags of anthracite coals and a considerable quantity of general cargo on board. The next steamer will leave Glasgow about 19th August.

The "Concordia" is being rapidly loaded here with deals for Greenock and Glasgow, and she will probably sail on Monday next with a full cargo.
