EARL ROSEBERY SUMMONED.

GLADSTONE OFFERED A PEERAGE BUT DECLINED.

The Liberal Premier Makes a Formal Tender of His Resignation—Opposition to Lord Rosebery by the Radicals—The Press on the Situation.

WINSDOR, March 3.—Mr. Gladstone arose early Saturday and took a long walk in the grounds of Windsor Castle, where he had been the guest of the Queen over night. He was accompanied by the Queen's private secretary. Mr. Gladstone looked in the best of health and spirits. After the walk he visited his old friend, the Dean of Windsor, Very Rev. Philip Frank Eliot, D.D. During the morning the Prime Minister attended the religious services in St. George's chapel.

Numbers of telegraphic messages reached Mr. Gladstone during the morning, many of them being from Ireland asking him to reconsider his determination to retire from office, recording resolutions adopted at meetings last night expressing sympathy and urging him to continue at the head of the Liberal Party. Among the towns which sent such messages were Belfast, Londonderry, Cavan and Monaghan.

The Resignation Tendered.

Cabinet Ministers arrived here in the afternoon and were driven to the Castle, where a meeting of the Privy Council took place. Though no official announcement had been made up to the time this despatch was sent, it is the general belief that Mr. Gladstone officially tendered his resignation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone left Windsor at 3 o'clock, on the same train as the returning Cabinet Ministers. The route from the Castle to the railroad station was thronged with people, who heartily cheered Mr. Gladstone.

It is reported that he will soon leave for the Continent and remain abroad until the end of spring.

After the party had left Windsor it became known that the Queen had sent her private secretary, Sir Henry Ponsonby, to London, summoning Lord Rosebery to Windsor Castle, dispelling all doubt that Mr. Gladstone tendered his resignation.

The house of Lord Rosebery at No. 38 Berkeley-square W., where he arrived Friday evening, was surrounded during the morning by a crowd of curious people. Messengers with despatch boxes were constantly coming and going. During the morning Earl Spencer, Right Hon. Henry Asquith, Secretary of State for Home Affairs, and other ministers called upon him and remained in consultation some time.

Radicals Are Delighted.

Radicals, who have been making bitter opposition to the selection of a peer for the Premiership, are loud in their expressions of delight because Mr. Gladstone yesterday refused the Queen's offer of a peerage.

Praise for the Irish Party.

The newspapers praise the attitude of the Irish parliamentary party.

The Chronicle says it has been both uncompromising and strictly proper, adding: "They have made it quite plain that they regard the leadership of the Liberal party as a matter for the decision of the party alone. The Irish leaders have scrupulously declined urgent solicitations to join the Radical cave." McCarthyites do not take an active part in the agitation for the leadership, as pledges they have already received are emphatic, and they feel confident in the efficiency of their own voting strength."

The Labouchere section of Radicals, on the other hand, say unless extreme Irish demands are promptly satisfied, Parnellites may co-operate with them and imperil the "Peer-led" administration.

Business At the Council.

A message was conveyed to Lord Rosebery summoning him to Windsor and he left Paddington Station at 1 o'clock. Earl Kimberley, Earl Spencer, Sir William Harcourt and Sir Charles Lennox Peel, clerk of the Privy Council, arrived at Windsor at 1 o'clock, where they met Mr. Gladstone. The proceedings of the council at Windsor were of the ordinary character. The council arranged for the prorogation of Parliament and the opening of a new session.

No Necessity for the Resignation.

The Daily News says editorially this morning: "We most deeply and earnestly deplore that Mr. Gladstone should have felt it incumbent upon him to resign. No Liberal desired it, and nobody could see any necessity for it. The whole party would have preferred retaining him upon whatever terms he might have suggested to substituting any other man, however able and eminent."

Labby's Objections Refuted.

The News discusses piecemeal Mr. Labouchere's letter to Mr. Majoribanks, and refutes every objection of the Radical leader to the choice of a Premier from the House of Lords.

"The bulk of the Radicals are too sensible," says The News, "to reject a good Premier because he happens to be an Earl."

The News says it has information that there is no reason why Mr. Gladstone should not recover his eyesight entirely in a few months. Advanced age, it adds, is no hindrance to the cure of such a complaint as his.

Gladstone Declined a Peerage.

The Daily Chronicle says: "Mr. Gladstone informally resigned last evening. The formal procedure will follow immediately. The Queen offered him a peerage, which he declined. Lord Rosebery has received a formal summons to Windsor. He will have the loyal and enthusiastic support of the overwhelming majority of the Liberal party.

"The attitude of the Irish leaders has been strictly proper and scrupulous. They declined the urgent solicitations of the promoters of an abortive revolt, but at the same time they have given everybody to understand that their support will depend upon the attitude of the new leader, whoever he may be.

Labouchere a Strife-Maker.

The Daily Chronicle says of Mr. Labouchere: "He has alienated the confidence of every man who has a steady conception of Liberalism. He is doing his party an eminent disservice."

The Standard says: "Such a farewell as Mr. Gladstone is bidding to-day appeals with singular force to general sympathy. One of the greatest and most interesting figures of the century is passing away from public life. His opponents, with unfeigned cordiality, wish him the peaceful enjoyment of honorable repose."

A Turning Point in British History.

The Times says: "Mr. Gladstone's disappearance from political life is in some sense a turning point in the history of the United Kingdom. The Commons will be profoundly changed by the withdrawal of his leadership. The House will sadly miss his restraining influence, which is more than ever required when manners are degenerating and respect for authority is regarded by many as a mark of weakness."

Majoribanks Replies.

Edward Majoribanks this morning sent a reply to the letter addressed to him by Mr. Labouchere yesterday, in which the latter stoutly protested against the selection of a peer as the successor of Mr. Gladstone. As yet the character of the reply has not been made public.

Left the Fight to One More Willing.

Concerning the retirement of Mr. Gladstone, The Speaker, a weekly organ of the Liberal party, to-day says: "It is a legacy of effort and stubborn conflict which Gladstone leaves to those who are to come after him, and that Thursday's speech in the House of Commons will be notable on the pages of history as marking not only the close of a matchless career, but the opening of a new era in the national story. The fact of this coming battle is the real secret of Gladstone's resignation. The habit of his life and thought has been against a battle with the hereditary legislators or the hereditary throne, and although he bowed to the will of his party and the inexorable logic of events in making his last speech a call to that great battle, he preferred to commit the leadership to a more willing as well as a younger spirit."

Read With Avidity.

If the eagerness with which the paper was bought is a criterion then The Toronto Sunday World that was published before 9 o'clock on Saturday night was read with the greatest avidity. Mr. Joab Scales of Toronto writes: "A short time ago I was suffering from Kidney Complaint and Dyspepsia, sour stomach and lame back; in fact I was completely prostrated and suffering intense pain. While in this state a friend recommended me to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery. I used one bottle, and the permanent manner in which it has cured and made a new man of me is such that I cannot withhold from the proprietors this expression of my gratitude."

Death of a Priest.

Word has been received by friends in Toronto of the death in St. Joseph's Hospital, St. Paul, of Rev. J. P. Cassidy, who, since his departure from Toronto about three years ago, has labored in Michigan City, Dakota. Deceased was for some time stationed at Barrie, and afterwards in Toronto, where he was connected with St. Paul's parish. Father Cassidy was a native of Galway, and was 47 years of age at the time of his death.

So rapidly does lung irritation spread and deepen, that often in a few weeks a simple cough culminates in tubercular consumption. Give heed to a cough, there is always danger in delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and cure yourself. It is a medicine unsurpassed for all throat and lung troubles. It is compounded from several herbs, each one of which stands at the head of the list as exerting a wonderful influence in curing consumption and all lung diseases.

Provincial Appointment.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has been pleased to make the following appointment:

Matthew Munsell Brown of the town of Brockville, to be County Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, pro tempore, for the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, in the room of Jacob Dockstader Buell, deceased.

MINISTERS ENDORSE IT.

MRS. STIMPSON.

Donnoha, Forsyth Co., N. C.
DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—For some six or seven years my wife had been an invalid. Becoming convinced that it was her only hope, we bought six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and "Golden Medical Discovery." To the surprise of the community and the joy of myself and family, in one week my wife commenced to improve, and long before she had taken the last bottle she was able to do her own work (she had not been able to do it before for seven years), and when she had taken the last of the medicine she was soundly cured.
Yours truly, Rev. T. H. STIMPSON.

For women suffering from any chronic "female complaint" or weakness; for women who are run-down or overworked; at the change from girlhood to womanhood; and, later, at the critical "change of life"—"Favorite Prescription" is a medicine that safely and certainly builds up, strengthens, regulates, and cures.

Ryan & Co.'s gossip: The belief is general that Drexel, Morgan & Co. and their friends are under the market. Attention is drawn to the fact that the comparative strength of G.E., C.C.C. and those other properties this house are interested in is evidence that their sympathies are on the bull side. The mild weather is unfavorable to coal stocks; further curtailment of output would put Reading in bad shape. The refiners are confident of ⅛c per pound protection in sugar.

Schwartz, Dupee & Co. wired Dixon: The crowd began as a buyer of wheat on the cold wave theory, but was met by influential selling, which filled the demand with the exception of large clearances for the week, almost 3,000,000, against less than 2,000,000 the week before. The news from both directions, west and east, was bearish. Clearances were light for the day. Northwestern receipts, 302 cars, were as large as last year. Duluth promised an increase there of 250,000 bushels. Kansas City arrivals were liberal, and very large receipts are predicted for Monday. Cables were all lower. The weather map indicated a mild, cold wave. The low temperatures were so far up in the Northwest the crowd was not much disturbed by them. Just how the trade will be affected Monday when it sees freezing weather through Missouri, Kansas and Illinois is uncertain. Principal cash handlers who had become bull converts are getting bearish again. Provisions rallied a little. There was more short covering in lard
