Notes of Sport Gleaned and Gathered in Two Continents—Hanlan's Doings in Australia.

Wm. Beach, the Australian oarsman, now claims that Hanlan agreed to row no races before the match with him, and accordingly declares his match off, and challenges the winner of the Hanlan-Clifford race to row with him Feb. 21.

Mitchell and Burke are to come again together with gloves about the middle of November.

One of the racing shells ordered of Ruddock by Hanlan has been finished and will be sent to Australia.

It is said that old Bushwacker will have to be destroyed, as he dislocated his shoulder while timber topping at Brighton Beach recently.

At Bradford, Pa., Muldoon volunteered to throw Christol five times in an hour. He threw the Frenchman thrice, who could not come to time.

L. E. Meyers, the champion sprinter, has challenged Malcolm W. Ford to run him 100 yards, at the games of the Manhattan athletic club on election day for a medal valued at $50.

To-day the Toronto football club will practice with the Trinity fifteen, and Upper Canada will tackle the latter Friday. The inter-university match will take place next Tuesday.

McCoy of Sharpburg and McDonald of Pittsburg fought five rounds in the latter city Monday night. McDonald weighed 145 and McCoy 164 pounds. The betting was on the former's chances of knocking out the latter in six hours. After some fierce slugging the fight was awarded the Pittsburg man on a foul.

New York Sun: The heavy-weight pugilist, John F. Scholes of Toronto, Canada, wants to arrange a match to box Charles Mitchell, either four or six rounds, at Toronto, for $500 a side. Mitchell has notified Richard K. Fox that he will accept the offer, and is ready at any time.

One of the most interesting parades ever witnessed in New York took place Monday night. The affair was under the auspices of the Metropolitan baseball association and the amateur clubs of this city and vicinity, in honor of the Metropolitan team, who have the credit of being the first club that has won the baseball championship for the empire city since the national game was first played. There were fully 2500 uniformed ball tossers representing the different amateur clubs in line.

A CENT IN HER THROAT.

Sad Case in Which Doctors' Efforts to Save a Child's Life Seem Vain.

Swallowing a copper and enjoying good health after is a feat that has often been performed by children, but in the case cited below the performer is not likely to make the experiment with much success. On Sunday afternoon Rachel Superior, a 6 year old daughter of Samuel Superior, residing at 89 Queen street west was playing with an 8-year old brother, when she accidentally swallowed a cent she had in her mouth. Dr. McDonald was called in, and he gave the child castor oil to assist the passage of the copper through the intestines. On Monday the little girl complained of pains in her throat, and Superior decided to consult Dr. Oldright in the matter. Dr. Oldright examined the child, and found that the copper had lodged in the lower part of the gullet opposite the larynx, and could be felt by the fingers. As Superior wished to have the coin removed, if possible, Dr. Oldright suggested that Dr. Aikens be called in. This was assented to, and they then tried to remove the obstruction. After three hours' work, during which time the coin had been gradually slipping downwards, the attempt was given up, and the little girl taken home. Her throat began to swell, and in less than an hour she could not swallow anything, not even water or milk, and since Monday night at 9 o'clock she has not tasted a morsel of food of any kind, and it is feared that she will die.

St. Simon and Jude's Day at Trinity.

On Tuesday the undergraduates in residence of Trinity college celebrated this festival according to the traditions of the institution by the annual steeplechase in the morning, the course being from Bloor street, down the ravine, to the college grounds. The winners were W. A. H. Lewin, R. B. Holland and H. W. Church, who gained respectively for their task prizes of a marble clock, a seal ring and a tennis racket. In the evening the usual supper was held in the spacious dining-hall. About seventy-five sat down, the chair being taken by G. H. Broughall, B.A. Among those who responded to the toast were J. A. Worrell, M.A., C. G. D. Roberts, M.A., J. E. Collins, H. L. Ingles, B.A., A. S. Campbell, B.A., and other graduates. The proceedings were brought to a close shortly after 12. The supper was largely enjoyed by all present, and reflected much credit upon the exertions of the committee, Messrs. Broughall, A. C. Allan, E. C. Cayley, W. J. Rogers, C. Scadding, C. J. Loewer and H. K. Merritt.

My Watch Won't go.

I send per bearer, to you, Elton Harry,
A watch that is inclined to tarry;
Do what I can, she will not go,
Each day she trots an hour slow;
Sometimes she stops, in certain ways
Like the young ladies 'tis hard to please.
Its screw that keeps the balance tight,
If tighter screwed, might set all right;
Give it a shorter spring to play,
I hate it lagging half the day
An hour, and often rather more
It dallies in the (24) twenty-four.
It might as well, s r, never budge,
So here you have it, look and judge:
We can rely on your opinion,
Your "peer" is not in the dominion.
To deal with such a case as this,
So don't leave half a screw amiss.
Full ninety minutes in the day
She travels slow or goes astray;
To you I need no more explain,
Your skill will set all right again.

P. S.—Harry: The little watch beyond a joke
Has got some spring or lever broke;
Broke, did I say, why that's bad grammar,
I should say broken, how I stammer.—Advt

Preparing for War.

Rumors are afloat that a corps of picked men at the new fort are being held in readiness to proceed to the scene of the whisky riots at Michipicoten harbor in the event of adverse news from that quarter.

A Scrap of Ancient History.

—Biblical history tells us that Absolom, the wayward son of King David, met his death by being caught by the hair while riding through a dense forest. We are not told if it was the fashion in those days for kings and princes to take their daily equestrian exercise bareheaded, but Absolom at any rate seems to have done so and being without a hat at the time evidently cost him his life. Had he lived in modern times no doubt he would have gone to Dineen—the hatter—corner of King and Yonge streets, and purchased a new style fall hat.—Advt.

HAMILTON NEWS.

What the Little City has to Tell Its Big Sister About Local Affairs.

A couple of gentlemen living at the east end of the town have rented fifteen acres of land adjoining Wentworth street for five years, with the intention of making them into a park. Operations have been commenced in the way of building a dancing pavilion, refreshment booths, boat house, etc., etc. No liquor will be sold on the ground. It is expected that the tramway company will extend their lines in the direction of the proposed park, and arrangements are being made by which all trains on the Hamilton and Northwestern railway to and from the beach will stop there. The projects which it is possible to undertake in connection with this park are almost unlimited in number and variety.

Joseph Kendall was fined $100 yesterday for criminally assaulting Minnie Barlow.

General Middleton inspects the 13th battalion on Nov. 6, Thanksgiving day.

Bread has not been so cheap in Hamilton as it is now for a good many years. Several reductions have been made during the summer and fall and the price has been lowered again this week. Large loaves—4 pound ones—sell for 10 cents each, and the small ones of course for 5 cents.

An event, which has created a good deal of interest lately in social circles, took place at noon to-day in All Saint's church, being the marriage of Thomas H. Lawry (son of Thomas Lawry, warden of Wentworth), and Miss Adeline Myrle, daughter of Ald. Geo. E. Tuckett. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lectock DesBrisay, and the edifice was filled with spectators. The bride was attended at the altar by Miss Murdoch of Hamilton, and Miss Maggie Abraham of Stratford, cousin to the bride. The groomsmen were Walder Parke and William Somerville, jr. The bride looked beautiful. She was attired in a brocaded white satin, Honiton lace, pearl front; magnificent diamonds, the gift of the groom. The bride and groom left on the 2 05 train for the east. The presents which Mrs. Lawry received were numerous and handsome.

The sons of England, who are getting up a benefit for the sufferers of the Cumminsville explosion, have arranged to hold the performance in the Grand opera house, the manager granting its use gratis. The entertainment will come off Nov. 17.

The fire insurance sale now in full blast at the Bon Marche. Immense value.

The Milk Question Again.

EDITOR WORLD: As an interested party in the consumption of milk, I have read with considerable interest the articles that have appeared from time to time in The World on the question of reducing the price of this most necessary article. Cheap milk to my mind means poor milk.

Quality, not cheapness, should be the first consideration in such an important article.

Many families in our city to-day are making milk the chief article of diet for their children and invalids. How important it is, therefore, that none but the very best quality should be offered for sale. Fancy an invalid being supplied with milk by a dealer who procures his supply from a party who feeds his cows on distillery slop. That milk so produced is largely consumed the evidence of our eyes amply testifies. You have only to look about you to see wagon loads of this poisonous and dirty stuff being carted along our streets daily, the smell from it being enough to sicken one, let alone the knowledge that we are consuming it. Why, sir, it is horrible to think that the refuse from the manufacture of whisky is thought by some dealers to be good enough to feed our children and invalids upon, and that many are being fed with it is the case beyond doubt. It is a well known fact that cows inhaling bad odors the taint will be taken into the circulation, and from thence goes into the milk; how much worse then will the milk be when such stuff as this slop is actually fed them. There are two grades of milk being sold in the city to-day—one is produced from well fed, the other from distillery slop-fed cows. How and where am I to get first-class milk some householder may ask? Buy from a dealer who has a reputation at stake and dare not run the risk of ruining his business by selling a poor article; not from "cheap Jacks" but from those who have been in the business for years and deal exclusively in it. Consumers should consider well the matter for themselves. They should know how and where the milk is kept after reaching the dealer; if his premises are adapted for it; is he solely in that line of business; can he give his whole attention to it; does he understand the business? Take a case in point; personally I have nothing against Mr. Chapman, but as he advertises for my support I have a right to criticize his action on the milk question. I claim that he has no right to bring milk in contact with the class of goods he deals in. There is no one in his line of business who does not have more or less tainted meat, decayed vegetables and fruit, not mentioning fish, and to bring milk in contact with such leaves the person liable to the severest censure. On what grounds does Mr. Chapman ask for support; is it because his business is leaving him, that he has not enough to do in his own line? I fancy not as his line of business is a good one; then is must be from a selfish motive that he would endeavor to take the business out of the hands of the legitimate dealer. It may be he wishes to pose as a public benefactor in reducing the price of milk to six cents, but this cannot be the case as he has the fullest opportunity of being considered a benefactor by first commencing the reduction in prices in his own line of business. I am of the opinion that there is just as much room for a reduction in the price of meat and vegetables as in milk; as a matter of fact, I believe there is more. I am satisfied that good milk at 7 cents for the winter months is cheap. I must conclude, therefore, that it is selfishness that leads Mr. Chapman to meddle in a line of business in which the public are being well served, and have made no complaints about price.

I would suggest, therefore, to Mr. Chapman, that he removes the sign from over his door, which reads: "Live and let live."

Economy.

—The secret of economy lies in the buying of upholstering, such a parlor or drawing-room suites, in the purchaser going to an establishment where they make it a specialty of manufacturing first-class goods. T. F. Cummings, 356 Yonge street, has the reputation of being an experienced workman, who thoroughly understands his business. You can rest fully assured of getting what you want, and at reasonable figures.

—The reason why "Nonpareil Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First, It is perfectly harmless. Second, It saves more than half the labor. Third, it is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. Lowden & Co., Wholesale, Agents for Toronto. 2-4-6.

Watchman Bluett Speaks.

EDITOR WORLD: I beg to state that the paragraph which appeared in your issue of Tuesday last, referring to me, was erroneous in every particular. I was never in Jamieson's hotel on Tuesday night, and consequently could not have been thrown out. I was not disorderly on Yonge street. But I was illegally arrested by Constable McClelland. I have retained counsel, and the whole affair will be ventilated before the police magistrate on Friday next, when I shall be able to show that it was only a piece of spite on the part of the policeman who arrested me.

You will please, in fair play to me, publish this correction in your next issue.—CHARLES BLUETT.

A Suspected Satchel Thief.

Patrick Dunleary, an old soldier, went into a second hand shop on York street yesterday evening with a valise and several articles of ladies' apparel. He offered them for sale, and parted with his incumbrance for $2. Shortly after, P. C. Mitchell noticed Mr. Dunleary walking up street with a second satchel under his arm, with which he proceeded to a store farther up street. While he was endeavoring to dispose of this to the proprietor the constable stepped in and requested Dunleary to prove his ownership. This he essayed to do, but in a manner which did not satisfy P. C. Mitchell, and man and satchel were conveyed to police headquarters. On the satchel was found a label with the words, "New York Transport Co." It is supposed that Dunleary has been having a hand in some of the recent satchel thefts about Union station.

The Jubilee Singers.

The original company of Fisk jubilee singers give three concerts in Shaftesbury hall, one to night, one Friday night, and Saturday matinee. The New York Tribune says: The continued popularity of the Fisk jubilee singers was attested by the gathering of a numerous audience in Chickering hall last night and by the delighted manner in which the applause was given after nearly every piece in the program. This, after the organization and dozens of its imitators have been giving public entertainments for ten years is strong evidence of the fascination which the matter and the manner of their singing exert.

Exemptions Must Go.

From the Irish Canadian.

We believe in fairly distributing the burden of taxation; and that no property yielding a return should escape impost. We admire equality in all things—equal rights, equality before the law, equality in honors and emolument—and equality in taxation, in proportion to the taxable value, is a right that cannot be denied, save at a cost of justice and fair play. Exemptions from taxation may be looked upon as near the end of the tether. It will be a great gain to all parties when they are wiped out altogether.

DAY'S BUSINESS COLLEGE,

Established 1862, will be REOPENED on MONDAY, Sept. 1st next. This College is a thoroughly practical business school. A large number of its graduates and members are occupying responsible positions in Canada and the United States on their own as well as on others account, and by the satisfactory manner in which they discharge their duties, plainly evince the great benefit to be derived by pursuing a systematic course of instruction in accounts and business practice, under the supervision of a practical accountant and a man of business experience, before entering into mercantile life; and to which all, both principals and employees, give their unqualified assent and endorsement. All who require business training are requested to make inquiries as to the high reputation the Principal of this College has established, and still maintains by the thoroughness of his work. For terms address JAMES E. DAY, accountant, College Rooms, opposite Royal Opera House site, Toronto. 46

NOTES ON INGERSOLL—BY REV. L. A. LAMBERT—Opinions of the Press.—"As acceptable to any good methodist or baptist as it is to any good catholic. Its logic is cold and incisive. * * * Successful beyond any of the efforts in that direction heretofore made."—Rochester Union. The pamphlet should have many readers."—New York Herald. "Full of sharp criticisms of Ingersoll."—Christian Secretary (Protestant).
