ed by a knowledge of the fact that the Government had actually sold as mining locations a tract of land whereon they had farms, and good substantial log houses, &c., besides cattle. In the month of June last a deputation of chiefs went to Montreal and pleaded again for justice. They received again promises similar to many already broken. They returned to their homes discontented and unhappy; they drew comparisons between the reception accorded them there by great father, the representative of England's sovereign, and the treatment bestowed upon their brethren on the American side of the river, when upon deputation to their great father at Washington—the former returning empty handed and with empty promises, the latter flattered and delighted with a bounteous reception, and the justice they demanded promptly accorded them. The discontent and dissatisfaction increased to such a degree among the bands upon the British side that their chiefs spoke openly of resorting to force. The Government hearing this, declared their intention of speedily treating. With this pledge they were delighted, and confidence was restored.

Late in autumn, two commissioners arrived at the Sault Ste Marie, who it was understood had come to treat with the Indians—but instead of summoning the Indians at some fixed time and place, and making proposals to them at a general council as is usual upon all occasions, they ran round the lake, meeting an Indian here another there, and not having had one single Indian council, they endeavoured to make bargains with individual Indians in this way, until they arrived again at the Soult; here a number of chiefs had assembled to meet them. The council, we hear, was dissolved upon the chiefs ascertaining that the commissioners were not authorized to offer even one shilling for their lands—the whole proceeding was but a trick to deceive the simple minded people, in the hope that by taking them in detail they might obtain a rich territory at little cost. The government sold some 37 locations upon Lake Superior—some 27 on Lake Huron, for the sum of $400,000, payable in five years—upon which there has been already paid in cash to the Canadian Government upwards of $60,000, not one shilling of which has been paid to the Indians.

Recently there arrived among the Indians a Mr. McDonell, who has had some difficulty with the mining companies. He has collected the discontents and excited them to revenge.

Saturday, we were informed by a gentleman who left Sault Ste Marie on Monday last, that a band of Indians and half-breeds, to the number of about 150, headed by McDonell, who has formerly been a sheriff in some part of the lower province, left the opposite side of the river, on Saturday, armed with small arms and one cannon, a six pounder, stolen from the Hudson Bay Company, provisions, &c., to attack the Quebec Mining Company, at Point Ma Maine. Mr. Wilson, the collector of customs on the Canada side, left the Sault in the evening, with a party of six men, in a light bark canoe, in hopes of reaching the mines before the Indians, and apprising the workmen of their situation, so that they could meet the enemy with a strong force. There were believed to be nearly 200 miners in the vicinity, and should Mr. W. and party arrive before the marauders, they will no doubt give them a reception little anticipated.

Our informant came as far as Mackinac on the British steamer Gore. He says that vessel would immediately proceed for a Company of British regulars, and return as soon as possible. It was thought at the Sault that the disturbance would become general between the Indians and the miners.

The Franklin arrived here on Saturday evening having left the Sault on Thursday, but at that time nothing had been heard from the scene of action. There was considerable anxiety felt at the Sault to learn the fate of the expedition and the result of the attack. The next boat will probably bring the particulars.

QUEBEC, Dec. 12.—We are happy to state that a telegraphic despatch has been received stating that the McDonells, two Chiefs, and two half-breeds, were in custody, having been arrested at the Sault Ste Marie. No positive account, however, has yet been received of the troops retaking the Mines; but this, we apprehend, is now reduced to a matter of certainty, as the weather continued open.

DEC. 14.—The Pilot says—the steamer Gore, conveying a detachment of the Rifle Brigade to the scene of disturbances on Lake Superior, encountered a storm, and was driven back to Penetanguishene. She started again on Tuesday week, and was again driven back to Christian Island. The Church says, that she was discovered imbedded in the ice, and that four of the soldiers had perished in consequence of the severity of the cold.

FIRE.—The building known as the College, in Sussex Vale, owned by Mrs. Longmaid, of this city, and occupied by Mr. Stewart, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. The property was not insured.

☞We are requested to state that the Rev. Mr. Thompson has received from a friend to the cause of Christ, from New York, the magnificent donation of $500 in aid of the building fund of the Free Church in this City.—News.

☞We recommend Public attention to Mr. Glass's Advertisement in this paper. Those who have put up at his Inn, represent the fare and accommodations every thing a traveller could desire.

From the Buffalo Courier.

MOST MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE AT NIAGARA FALLS.—We are indebted to a gentleman at Niagara falls for the following particulars of a most melancholy suicide committed at that place on Monday evening last.

"Our village was this morning thrown into deep gloom by a report that a young lady had probably committed suicide here, during some time last night, which is undoubtedly too true. The circumstances are as follows:

The train of cars yesterday morning brought hither a young woman of fine personal appearance, and about twenty-five years of age, having with her two bright looking boys, four and six years old—After taking rooms at the Eagle Hotel, she called for writing materials and nothing more was known of her until this morning. Between seven and eight o'clock, the bell of the rooms she had occupied was rung by the little boys. They were inquiring for their mother.

Upon the table were three letters—one directed to Major Miller, U. S. A., and one to Hon. John Norvell, Detroit, Mich., and one to the proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, (a copy of which I send you)—also the ringlets of one side of her head, her gold watch, two trunks of clothing, a silk purse containing some gold and silver coins and a wedding ring.

The children state that their mother had bid them good bye and kissed them after they had gone to bed—that they had come last from Winchester, Virginia; and that their father was in Florida. No cause can be assigned for the act.—She appeared perfectly rational throughout yesterday and not the least symptom of insanity was noticed. Nothing has yet been found to throw the least light upon the matter.

P.S.—½ o'clock, A. M.

Enough has been found to warrant the belief that the unfortunate lady leaped from the bridge that leads to Goat Island and was swept over the falls. Upon the second pier was found her bonnet which had been trodden upon. Her black crape shawl was found tied to the railing of the bridge to let her down upon the pier which is some six feet below the railing. She undoubtedly did this to indicate to those who should look for her, that her mind was made up for the fearful leap into the yawning chasm below.

Her father has been telegraphed, and the children have been kindly taken charge of, by the August S. Potter."

[The following is a copy of the letter addressed by Mrs. Miller to Mr. White, of the eagle Hotel:]

"To the proprietors of the Eagle Hotel.

My mind is made up. I have no wish to live any longer. I shall go where my body will never be recovered. No one shall gaze on my mangled remains. Please take care of my two little boys till they can be sent to Detroit where their grand parents reside. They are the sons of Major Miller of the Army, now in Florida, and grandsons of Hon. John Norvell, Detroit, Michigan.—Please forward my letters and protect my children till some of their relatives can come for them.

MRS. J. G. MILLER."

Referring to the above we find the following in the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser:

It is reported that a lady here, answering to the description of Mrs. Miller, left this city for the East in the Express train this morning, and that there are circumstance leading to the belief that the apparent evidences of suicide are only apparent.—Her friends will undoubtedly investigate the matter, and until they ascertain something which they desire to be communicated to the public, we shall do, as we would have others do if we were similarly situated, say nothing on the subject.

WATERFORD, Nov. 24.

MEETING OF THE GRAND ORANGE LODGE OF IRELAND.

On Tuesday last the above body met in Dublin, for the purpose of taking into consideration the conduct of Lord Clarendon with respect to that body. The fullest report will be given to every thing that occurred relative to the Orange armament of last year, and the part which Lord Clarendon took in the matter. The subject will prove anything but palatable to the Lord Lieutenant, who certainly does not lie on a bed of roses. He has, however, prepared his own couch, and he must be satisfied. The Dublin Evening Mail of Wednesday, in reference to the meeting of the Grand Lodge, says:

"Much anxiety prevails to know the proceedings of the Orange body at the meeting held yesterday at the Leitrim Hotel. We understand that the matter was not quite brought to a close at that sitting—that it remains under consideration this day—nor will the final result of their deliberations be made known to the public before Friday. We are happy to announce, however, that this delay does not arise from any doubt, difficulty, or difference of opinion amongst the Orange Body respecting the propriety of a full disclosure of the negociations carried on between that body and the recognised agents of Lord Clarendon. The opinion is unanimous, we understand, for a complete exposure of the whole affair. But as the report is likely to be a standing document of no little importance, it is resolved that it shall be carefully, clearly, and accurately drawn up; and for this purpose time and deliberation are requisite."

☞The Grand Jury Presentment, December Sessions, will be published in the Chronicle next week.

Opinion of Dr. J. B. Randall on the merit of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

We have been induced, in consequence of the benefits received from this medicine, to add our testimony in favour of its extraordinary healing properties. We take great pleasure in stating, that we have frequently used it ourself and administed it to others during the past year, in cases of obstinate coughs, colds, soreness of the chest, &c., and always with the most happy result. We therefore cheerfully recommend to all afflicted with the above diseases, to try the Balsam of Wild Cherry.—Meriotta Helicon.
