OBITUARY

Wheelock—Mrs. Adelaide Wheelock, widow of John Wheelock, of Kingston, N.S., passed away from the home of her nephew, Colin McLean of Margaretville, June 8, aged 94 years. Very young he accepted Christ as her Saviour and Lord, and united with the Baptist Church at New Albany, Annapolis Co. As her place of residence changed she always united with the Baptist Church in the place to which she moved and manfested a lively interest in the prosperity of every good movement. Some years ago, she and her husband allied themselves with the Kingston Baptist Church, in which she remained a member until her death. The ministers of the Gospel found in her a faithful friend and supporter and were always assured of a genuine welcome to her home. She had an intense interest in the evangelization of lost souls and entered heartily into the work of the W.M.S. in her community. As the end approached, she longed for release into the heavenly home. Her funeral, on June 10th, was conducted by Rev. M. B. Whitman at the house of Mr. McLean in Margaretville, and by Rev. A. A. McLeod at North Kingston cemetery.—Maritime Baptist.

McKENZIE'S CREAMERY GOING STRONG

Seven hundred patrons are now enjoying the great privileges a local creamery affords. The steadily increase in the business of McKenzie's Creamery is ample proof of the splendid relations and fair dealings the numreous patrons receive.

The annual collection is being made through the creamery for the National Dairy Council and the Nova Scotia Dairymen's Association. The assessment is very small being only 50 cents per head—and the returns as all patrons know, is worth many times more .

The price paid for butter fat during June was one cent higher than that paid in February, which was 37 cent per pound.

65,157 lbs. of butter were manufactured in the month of June. This is sufficient to butter several slices of McGill's bread—and the two make a wonderful combination—fit for any person that knows quality when they meet it. If you want to see a busy spot, just wander down to the creamery, and you will find the busiest hive you ever stepped into. Every body works and they all seem to enjoy their work very much.

Five big cheques were given out last month, all over one hundred berries—just think of it. Seems to us it pays to feed cows and dispose of the cream. The lucky ones were: F. H. Bath of Bridgetown, $150.59; W. A. Curry of Wilmot, $148.37; A. L. Lee, Auburn, $120.33; V. B. Leonard, Clarence, $104.10; H. L. Forysthe, Middleton, $103.14. If you are not in the dairy business, just read the amounts of the cheques over again, and ponder a bit.

The high tests went to Rufus W. Connor, Digby, 55 per cent; Freeman Schofield, Canning, 52 per cent, and A. H. Harris, Nictaux Falls, 50 per cent.
