Poetry.

THE LONGING OF GENIUS

BY GERTRUDE.

It is a sacred privilege, to lofty natures given,
Even while in mortal guise to walk midway 'twixt earth and heaven;
To own all gentle sympathies that bind the human race,
Yet rise, in pure and earnest aim, a brighter course to trace!
Creation teems with poetry—above, beneath, around;
Thought, fancy, feeling lie enshrined in simplest sight and sound:
Mysterious meaning clothes whate'er we hear, or touch, or view;
And still the soul aspires to grasp the beautiful and true!—
O Genius! thou hast high desires, and longings wild and vain,
Which never in this darken'd world their bright fulfilment gain!

Within a lonely chamber burn'd a single sickly lamp;
Around the watcher's brows the dews of night hung cold and damp:
The page, yet wet, before him lay that faithful record bore
Of many a high heroic thought he in his bosom wore;—
But though the strain his muse had coin'd would soon in cadence deep
Cause manly hearts to thrill response, and gentle eyes to weep,
The pen dropp'd sadly from his hand, his head lean'd on his breast—
Alas, how feebly had his song the the burning soul express'd!—
O Genius! thou hast high desires, and longings wild and vain,
Which never in this darken'd world their bright fulfilment gain!

In breathless admiration held, the crowd delighted stand
Before a lovely sculptured group, fresh wrought by classic hand:
How soft the drapery's flowing fold! how rich in tender grace
This bending form—that arm upraised—this meek, imploring face!
How strong in truthful majesty the patriarch's features be!
How rife of health and innocence the child that clasps his knee!
Go call the sculptor! crown him now the monarch of his art!
He faintly smiles—ye have not known the visions of his heart!—
O Genius! thou hast high desires, and longings wild and vain,
Which never in this darken'd world their bright fulfilment gain!

It was a gorgeous landscape on the ample canvas lay—
Wood, valley, mountain, lake, and river stretching far away—
In some sweet southern clime of earth where skies are blue and warm,
And seldom Nature's smiling face is marr'd by gloom and storm:
So fresh the sod whence blushing peep'd the softly cradled flowers;
So rich the radiance mantling round the ruin's rived towers.
This is no picture!—on my cheek I feel the balmy breeze;
I hear murmur of the stream, the song-birds in the trees;—
Thanks, great magician painter! thanks: whose mind and hand unite
To steep the dreaming senses thus in silent deep delight;
Well may st thou now the lofty mien and flush of triumph wear—
Ah! why instead the sunken eye, these looks of pallid care?—
O Genius! thou hast high desires, and longings wild and vain,
Which never in this darken'd world their bright fulfilment gain!

'Tis ever thus! The souls that prove their source and end divine,
Must ceaseless strive, yet never win the prize for which they pine,
Whate'er is purest, loveliest, best, floats on their tide of thought;
But, like the rainbows fleeting form dissolves ere it is caught!
And why is this? if not to teach that beauty, truth, and love
Have but one birth-place and one goal—the land of light above;
Where, far beyond our highest dreams of poetry or art,
Inviolate perfection reigns serene through every part!—
O Genius! there, and there alone, thy longings wild and vain,
Expanding still, shall all at last their bright fulfilment gain!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Copy of a Letter from HIS GRACE THE DUKE OF PORTLAND to MR. ANN MELLISH, (one of his Tenants,) whom His Grace was pleased to send as a Patient to the Proprietor of this Extraordinary Medicine.
MADAM,
If Mr. HOLLOWAY will undertake to cure you perfectly, when the Cure is complete I will undertake to pay him £2 10s. You may show him this Letter.
(Signed) SCOTT PORTLAND.
Welbeck Abbey, May 31, 1842.
Copy of a Letter from the Most honorable the MARQUIS OF WESTMINSTER, K. G.
LORD WESTMINSTER has just received Mr. HOLLOWAY's Medicine, for which he returns him his best thanks.
Eaton Hall, Cheshire, Feb. 12, 1842.
This inestimable Medicine being composed entirely of medicinal Herbs, does not contain any mercurial, mineral, or deleterious substance. Benign to the tender infant, or to the weakest constitution, prompt and sure in eradicating disease from the most robust frame, it is perfectly harmless in its operations and effects, while it searches out and removes Complaints of every character, and at every stage, however long standing or deeply rooted.
Of the Thousands cured by its agency, many who were on the verge of the grave for a considerable period (by perseevering in its use) have been RESTORED TO HEALTH AND STRENGTH, after every other means failed.
All Diseases (and whatever may be their symptoms, however they may declare themselves, yet one cause is common to them all, viz., a want of purity in the blood and fluids) are cured by this wonderful Medicine, which cleanses the stomach and bowels, while its Balsamic qualities clear the blood, give tone and energy to the nerves and muscles, invigorate the system, and strength to bone and sinew.
The Afflicted need not give himself up to despair, as one without hope, but let him make a proper trial of the MIGHTY POWERS of this astonishing Medicine, and he will soon be restored to the blessings of Health.
Time should not be lost in taking this Remedy for any of the following Diseases:—

Ague,	Indigestion,
Asthma,	Inflammation,
Bilious Complaints,	Jaundice,

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life.
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.

THE most celebrated and infallible remedy for Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and every form of Pulmonary Consumption, is the HUNGARIAN BALSAM OF LIFE, discovered by that eminent medical chemist, Dr. Buchan, of London, England, and extensively known as the "Great English Remedy."
It has been tested for upwards of seven years in Great Britain and on the continent of Europe, where it is universally considered the great, and only remedy for this awful malady, and now introduced, to the public under the immediate superintendence of the inventor. Within three years it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, and from Canada to Wisconsin, and its effects are every where alike ASTONISHING AND TRIUMPHANT.
As a preventive medicine, and an antidote to the consumptive tendencies of the climate, it is invaluable. As a remedy for severe and obstinate cough, inflammation of the Lungs, croup, &c. it is unrivaled. But the Proprietors so confident of the merit of this great remedy, in the worst forms of consumption, that he prefers to have it used by the DYING INVALID, rather than by persons afflicted with some simple and less dangerous disorder of the throat and lungs:—this may seem strong language, but it is the result of experience in thousands of cases, sustained by the most intelligent and unimpeachable testimony. It is not pronounced an infallible remedy in all cases, but it is THE MOST INFALLIBLE remedy known to the civilized world. It is the best preventive of hereditary consumption—it is the best defender against the influences of climate—it is the best remedy for incipient consumption—and it is the great and only remedy for that fearful softening of the lungs—inflammation of the membrane, and tuberculous decay, which are the last effects of that dreadful scourge, and which are erroneously supposed to be beyond the reach of medical aid:—the agent or proprietors of other medicines dare not claim for their preparations a power like this: they know that in no case have such effects been produced:—the grand object and purpose of the common 'remedies' is simply to give relief—not to cure: this is easily done by an intelligent Physician or Druggist; but while dallying with these deluive compounds, the patient rapidly declines, and every day places him farther and farther beyond the reach of hope.
Such is not the case with the Hungarian Balsam It is always salutary in its effects—never injurious. It is not an opiate—it is not a tonic—it is not a mere expectorant. It is not intended to lull the invalid into a fatal security. It is a great remedy—a grand healing and curative compound: the great and only remedy which medical science and skill has yet produced for the treatment of this hitherto unconquerable malady. It is in fact the best remedy in the world!
[From the John Bull, newspaper, London.
There is certainly some mysterious and occult virtue in the famous "Hungarian Balsam of Life which the medical faculty are unable to discover Dr. Buchan would not be permitted for so many years to enjoy the magnificent monopoly of the treatment and cure of Consumption in Great Britain. No satisfactory analysis of this famous compound has ever, to our knowledge, been offered to the public.
