THE DAY IN THE SENATE.

Bill Increasing the Quebec Judges Read a Second Time—Election Act Read a First Time.

Ottawa, July 9.—(Special.)—The bill relating to the increase of the number of judges in Quebec, tho objected to because it disturbed the proportion existing at present among provinces, was read a second time to-day in the Senate.

Most of the day was spent over the Criminal Code. Three amendments were considered. The first makes the bill come in force Jan. 1, instead of Sept. 1, and the second makes it criminal to obtain credit on false pretences. The third exempts trades unions from the combine laws. The first was accepted on division by the Speaker's casting vote.

Mr. Mills said that he did not agree with the second amendment, but he thought that the first and the third should go thru.

Some talk of a conference between the two Houses was held, and the bill was held over for consideration.

The Copyright Act was read a third time.

The Conciliation Act and the Election Act and Blair Railway Act were received and read a first time.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell drew attention to the fact that they had been in session more than five months and had four of the most important bills ever brought down. If they were to consider them intelligently they would be here a fortnight yet.

Hon. Mr. Mills said there were very few amendments in the election law.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said there were a number of amendments tending to the greater purity of elections, and he would move some if they were not in.

They were some matters concerning Prince Edward Island, too, to be considered.

M'CAMMON'S HORSE WAS KILLED.

A Collision of Rigs on Cataraqui Bridge, Kingston—Sir Richard Cartwright's Was One.

Kingston, July 9.—A horse and rig owned by James McCammon collided with another owned by Sir Richard J. Cartwright on Cataraqui bridge last night. The shafts on the rig driven by the latter named penetrated the lung of McCammon's horse, killing it.

Starter Ferguson Paralyzed.

Lexington, Ky., July 9.—James B. Ferguson, the famous race horse starter, was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital here yesterday in a precarious condition. Paralysis has set in and he has lost the use of hands and legs. The direct cause of his illness is recent operations which have been necessary to remove bullets from his body received in a shooting affray twenty years ago. Ferguson prevented Chappaqua, A. J. May of this city from striking an old man named George Wooley. May became enraged, procured a revolver, and, meeting Ferguson several hours later, opened fire, wounding him four times.

Ferguson began starting horses by accident at the old Kentucky Association track here twelve years ago. During the Civil War, when the members of the club took turns at starting, Ferguson asked to be allowed to handle the flag. He was a success and engagements followed. He has officiated at every prominent track in the east and middle west, at San Francisco and at New Orleans. His son Garnet, now with him, is a successful horseman at San Francisco, and his daughter Elsie married Phil T. Chinn, son of Jack Chinn, within the last year, and resides in New York.

This 'Lunge Weighed 28 Pounds.

Sporting Editor World. A week ago Saturday a very jolly party, consisting of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Tintzell, with their families and one or two friends, left Toronto, on a fishing excursion to Lake Scugog. The first two or three days proved very stormy, so there was very little fishing, but plenty of fun. Last Tuesday a steam yacht was engaged, and the whole party went on a fishing expedition thru the different lakes connected with Scugog Lake. I had no idea the scenery was so beautiful. After a most delightful time, with a good catch of muskalonge and bass, we returned to our quarters on Little Scugog. Our friend Tintzell took the honors, catching a muskalonge weighing 28 pounds. This lake abounts in fish, and the sport is excellent. After a most enjoyable week, we returned to Port Perry, where our old friend, Mr. Marshall, late of the Carlton House, Toronto, now proprietor of the St. Charles, right royally entertained us, after which we returned to Toronto, loaded down with fish and well pleased with our visit.

Boycott Plan Meets With Favor.

Cape Town, July 9.—The Afrikander movement to form separate racial trading concerns in Cape Colony, so as to boycott British importers, is progressing beyond the hopes of the originators of the scheme. In actual cash £215,000 ($1,075,000) has already been subscribed to the fund.

FLOATING CORPSES PASSED.

Schooner Birdsall, From Fall River, Brought Gruesome News to New York.

New York, July 9.—The bodies of a number of drowned seamen, still clad in their oil skins, were passed last Wednesday by the schooner E. E. Birdsall, which has arrived here from Fall River, says a Philadelphia special. Several of the bodies stood upright in the water, and at first sight the crew of the Birdsall thought they were alive. All the bodies were drifting seaward. There was nothing on their clothing to indicate what ship they had manned, and it is thought that the vessel broke up on the shoals between Shinnecock and Southampton, L.I.

Three Corpses From the Saale.

New York, July 9.—Up to noon to-day, three more bodies of persons burned in the North German Lloyd fire had been recovered. They were found in the second cabin of the Saale.
