Eifty-Four Houses Erected at the Junction at Valuation of Over $150,000.

NORTH TORONTO CONSERVATIVES

A. E. Ames Addressed North Toronto Electors at Deer Park Last Night.

Toronto Junction, Dec. 13.—The progress which Toronto Junction has made during the year 1901 may be largely summed up in the 54 new buildings, which have been erected during the past twelve months at a valuation of between $150,000 and $160,000.

In addition to the new houses which have been erected, there has been considerable activity in the real estate market, and many valuable improved properties have been transferred from mortgage companies to private individuals. The great demand for houses to rent, noticeable last year, and which gave a stimulus to the building trade, has been more pronounced this year, and the completion of fifty new residences has in no sense begun to meet the demand. Indeed the only way to get a house in Toronto Junction of late has been to purchase it. This has been done in a great many instances, and as a result tenants have been moving out of houses during the past few weeks at a rapid rate, their places being taken by the purchasers, who have had to buy in order to get a roof over their heads. Many of the families so turned out have gone to the city for want of houses here, but in some instances two or three families crowd into one house, awaiting the possibility of a house becoming vacant some time. Land agents are besieged daily for houses to rent, and there are thirty applicants for every house as soon as it is idle. The outlook for 1902 is even more promising. Mr. J. Hall is digging the foundation for two houses at the corner of Keele and Annette-streets, and in various parts of the town are foundations for houses to be erected in the spring. The Dodge Manufacturing Company are doubling their staff of hands, and there are not houses enough to accommodate the new comers. The Canada Foundry Works at the north-east corner of the town are going ahead rapidly, and by the end of next year the vicinity of the works is certain to be stimulated by this large industry. The Union Stock Yards, too, are making progress and will soon be ready to accommodate stock. This and other projected enterprise makes the outlook most promising. Among the buildings erected this year, with their approximate values, are: High Park-avenue, G. Gable's residence, $4000; A. Ward's residence, $4000; Mr. Coates' two frame houses,($1500 each; E. McConnell, residence, $2000; S. Martin, residence, $3000; J. Shultz, residence, $3000; J. Paterson, residence, $3000; J. Robinson, residence, $2000.

On Quebec-avenue six houses have been built, all of which are detached. They are C. M. Hall, $1800; Mr. Masecar, $1800; Mr. Boucher, $1800; Mr. W. Powell, $1800; Mr. Card, $2000.

On Clendenan-avenue Mr. J. A. Ellis has built a home for himself at a valuation of $3200, and Mr. Mabley has built a home costing $1800. Evelyn-crescent has two new houses, those erected by O. C. Going, $1600, and P. Ellis, $2000. On Law-street Mr. W. Gilchrist purchased a new cottage for $1800, and Mr. J. Howson has built a house valued at $2500. Fairview-avenue has one new house, that of W. T. Joy, valued at $2000. The Tovell syndicate has built two houses on Dundas-street, worth $1600 each, and J. Rowntree has erected a store at the corner of Maystreet at a cost of $4000. On Annette-street Mr. I. L. Beattie's new house cost $3000, and J. Marr has built a residence worth $4000. There have been eight new houses built on Pacific-avenue, among which are two built by Charles Proctor, costing $1500 each; J. McDevitt, $2200, and Mr. McTaggart's cottage $1000, and J. Marr's house $1500. McMurray-avenue has three new houses, two built by Mr. Hall, worth $1500 each, and a cottage costing $1300. Rev. Mr. Hisson has also built on this street at a cost of $1500. Mr. J. Hall has built three houses on Mulock-avenue, worth $5100; G. Murch has a house on the same street worth $1700. J. Hall has also built a house on Keele-street, valued at $1700. A blacksmith shop has been built on Keele-street by T. A. Rhodes at a cost of $1500; a new school has been built on Western-avenue at a cost of $9000; the Dodge Co. have erected three buildings worth $40,000. A new church has been built on Dundas-street, and new houses have been built by Mrs. Wilson on Louisa-street worth $2000; Mr. Stirrett on Conduit-street worth $1000; D. Kennedy on D'Arcy-street worth $3000; Mr. Jackson two houses on Pelham-avenue $3000, and Mr. Atkinson at the corner of Humberside-avenue and Western-avenue $2000.
