MYSTERY SURROUNDS DISAPPEARANCE OF TORONTO BATTERYMAN

Toronto, Jan. 14.—Profound mystery attaches to the disappearance of Gunner Robert Hector Hamilton of the 24th Battery, 8th Army Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, whose parents reside in this city. He was severely wounded in the forehead by an exploding German shell, which instantly killed five of his comrades and fatally wounded another on August 8, 1918. He was passed through dressing stations of the Canadian Field Ambulance.

The last seen or heard of Gunner Hamilton was at the main dressing station of No. 1 Caandian Field Ambulance near Boyes. No trace of him since then has been obtainable, though exhaustive searches have been made, both officially and personally, through every branch of the military service, including French, American, British and colonial.

The friends of Gunner Hamilton have been assured that it would be impossible for a man to die and be buried in the organized hospital unit which it is known he reached, without a full record of his death and burial being made.

GREAT INTERNATIONAL FINANCE CONFAB TO STUDY WORLD CHAOS

Will Look For Remedy For Commercial Problems.

New York, Jan. 14.—A call for one of the greatest international conferences of commercial and financial figures ever assembled, in an effort to find a remedy for the financial and commercial chaos in which the world has been left by the war, was issued here today following the meeting of a coterie of nationally-known financiers.

The appeal was issued simultaneously with similar proclamations put forth in Great Britain, France, Holland, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway. In each case the documents were signed by business, financial, political and educational leaders in their respective countries.

"To sum up the document," says the official announcement of the conference, "it is a call of the people to return to pre-war standards of reason—an appeal to the reparations commission for wise moderation as to the best business policy for all concerned—an appeal to governments to arrest inflation and meet inevitable burdens by increasing their revenue rather than by increasing their debts, an appeal to the people to work and save, an appeal to leaders of commerce and finance to get together in order to study the problems dispassionately and take it up as a business proposition relying on independent action rather than Government intervention. Governments can be relied upon, however, to remove as rapidly as possible the obstacles that impede such a course."

EYES OF ALL CANADA ON PEOPLE'S PARTY, SAYS PREMIER DRURY

Addressed Large Gathering of Oxford Farmers At Woodstock Last Night.

WINNING TEAM HONORED

Watches Presented To Winners of Duff Trophy At Guelph.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 14.—More than 1,000 people filled the local armories when Premier Drury addressed the farmers of Oxford County tonight, on the occasion of a public meeting in honor of G. R. Green, district agricultural representative, and Messrs. Burns, McCorquodale, John Blair and MacButcher, winning team at the recent inter-county stock judging contest at Guelph. This team carried off the Duff trophy, which has now been won twice by Oxford County. Mr. Green was given a check and each of the boys a handsome gold watch. A tremendous ovation greeted Mr. Drury as he rose to speak.

Not Class Government.

"This is not and will not be a class government," declared Mr. Drury before proceeding to pay high tribute to his associates, who, he said, could trace their ancestry back to those fine pioneers who first settled in this country.

The apparent decadence in agricultural life, the premier said, he considered very grave, and that it was obvious that something was necessary for the betterment of rural conditions. He advocated higher standard of living and education as the line of action to take in this matter.

Back Roads Important.

Relative to good roads, he strongly emphasized their need in back townships rather than in localities through which the people wanted speedways. It was only consistent, he said, that these back roads should be fixed up, because it was on these roads that the rural people brought their produce to market. He suggested a method of surfacing for these roads rather than the building of brand new highways, for, he believed, they all had good rock foundations.

"What would be the good of asphalt roads?" he asked. The proper function of the road was to help commerce before promoting pleasure for motorists. To help in the provision of good roads, he thought the automobile license fees should be raised. Incidentally, he compared these licenses to the old toll roads.

Problem of Education.

In regard to rural schools, he said, it was a shame that so few of the young people received a real, full education. Ninety-three per cent go one-third of the way through a course from public school to the university, four per cent go two-thirds of the way, while only three out of one hundred go through the whole course. Hence the problem of education centered directly around taking care of that ninety-three per cent who did not get right to the top in education. The present system, he said, could go by the board so long as the boys and girls were taken care of by providing good sound education. He stated that in the near future a conference of all educationists would be held in Toronto and a new program would be instituted.

"The rural districts can be taken care of by consolidation," said Mr. Drury, "but we will not force any scheme on any section." He paid tribute to the minister of education, who, he said, would be backed up by educationists who had been hampered heretofore.

Patronage had received some attention, he said, and had already caused some trouble, but he felt sure that the people were behind the Government. Not a single letter had been received during the recent trouble from any farmer or farmers' club.

Higher Lumber Dues.

Speaking of the first program of the new cabinet, Premier Drury forecasted the raising of lumbermen's dues, expressing himself at the same time as expecting a strong protest from the interests. He stated that a policy of reforestation would be instituted, and that the young timber would be restored. "The people will get a fair shares of the revenue," he added.

The slogan for the next federal election, said the premier, will be "No man to Parliament that had ever been there before."

"The people's party of Ontario is in front of the eyes of all Canada, and the success or failure at Queen's Park will decide the fate of all the United Farmers in the Dominion along political lines," concluded Mr. Drury.

British Govt. Submits Report to Railwaymen

Union Workers Mum About Concessions Offered—No Abrupt Rejection.

LONDON, Jan. 14. — The Government's reply to the National Union of Railwaymen with regard to the union's protest against the recent proposals of the Government was submitted this afternoon. The executive committee, after deliberation and having arrived at no decision, adjourned until tomorrow.

The executive committee of the Union of Railwaymen throughout the present dispute has preserved what is considered a rather unwonted secrecy in the progress of the negotiations, secrecy which has provoked adverse comment as inconsistent with the modern desire for "open negotiations."

Official Account.

Only tonight is an official account available of last Friday's proceedings and the grounds on which the men rejected the Government's offers. Official reports show the men accepted the principle of standardization, but want it based on the highest rate of wages instead of the average rate. They rejected the sliding scale on the ground that other factors are involved besides the cost of living. They also demand increases retroactive to August and the inclusion of the Irish railwaymen in the settlement.

Likewise, nothing was divulged tonight as to the nature of the government's concessions, except that they concern details and do not affect the broad principles involved.

Negotiating Committee.

The negotiating committee of the railwaymen's union, together with members of the executive committee, discussed for four hours tonight their new positions. Some of the delegates were emphatic in declaring that mere modification of the details and the removal of some of the anomalies would not meet the demands of their branches and that any acceptance by the Government of the full terms would justify them in voting for a settlement. The fact, however, that there was no abrupt rejection of the Government's compromise was considered as a hopeful sign.

APPROVE BIGGS' PLANS FOR NEW ROAD-BUILDING

Dominion Commission Puts O. K. Upon Policy of Ontario Minister.

MAKE SOME PERMANENT

Where Traffic and Upkeep Justifies, Use Concrete For Construction.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(By Canadian Press.)—The new road policy of the Ontario Government as outlined by Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of highways, to the Dominion Good Roads Commission, has received the fullest approval of that body. The conference lasted all day today, and the entire personnel of the Dominion commission was present.

Soon after the conference rose at 6 o'clock this evening Hon. Mr. Biggs stated: "After a conference, which lasted all day with the Dominion Good Roads Commission, I am pleased to say that the board has approved of the new road policy of the Ontario Government in its entirety.

All Details of Plan.

"We have not yet, of course, submitted all the details of our plan, but on my return to Toronto immediate steps will be taken to furnish the board maps of our new proposed highways, and also to show the expenditure we propose to make during the present year and also for each of the next five years.

"We will also furnish details as to each public road work to be undertaken with estimates of the costs as fast as they can be prepared.

"The province has come to a complete understanding with the Dominion and is now in a position to avail itself of the Dominion road grant in its entirety."

Had Nothing To Say.

Mr. Biggs was asked if he had any statement to make in reply to criticisms which appeared in an Ottawa paper from Mayor Winter to the effect that a water-bound macadam road was not good enough for the Ottawa-Prescott highway.

Mr. Biggs said he had nothing to say in particular. When traffic and upkeep cost justified it, more permanent roads would be built. He cited at the conference, he added, that of the sixteen hundred miles of roads it was proposed to build, some 100 miles, would require concrete construction from the first on account of special condition governing these stretches along the provincial highway.

Mr. Biggs left for Toronto tonight.

TAKE RUSSELL CASE TO SUPREME COURT IF TRIAL REFUSED

WINNIPEG, Jan. 14. — R. B. Russell's conviction on a seditious conspiracy charge will be carried to the supreme court of Canada if the Manitoba court of appeals refuses to grant a new trial, and if even one of the Manitoba justices gives a dissenting opinion, the defence committee announced tonight. One dissenting opinion would be ground for appeal, James Law, secretary, said.

MAKES NO MOVE TO RESTRICT SPECULATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Rumors current in Wall Street that the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank had taken further steps at the weekly meeting today to restrict speculation in stock market proved to be without foundation. Officials of the bank stated that the meeting was chiefly of a routine character, although existing financial conditions formed a basis of discussion.

Apprehension that the bank might deem is advisable to raise its interest and discount rates contributed to the day's weak stock market.

LIBERAL LEADER IS GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION IN HIS OWN CONSTITUENCY

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Announces Intention To Run in N. York.

(Canadian Press.)

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Jan. 14.—In the double capacity of leader of the Liberal party and representative by acclamation of the constituency of Prince, Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King had a strenuous time at the hands of demonstrative, enthusiastic and hospitable Prince Edward Islanders during his present visit. The reception tendered him last October on his first visit to Summerside was repeated on his present tour. Tonight he addressed two crowded meetings in the Prince Edward and Strand Theatres in this city, where he appeared for the first time, speaking with much vigor.

His speeches in the main, apart from his special reference to conditions in this province, were along the lines of those delivered at Newmarket and Halifax. He ran the changes in stability and unity as the great needs of Canada, and on Liberalism as the solution of the problems confronting Canada. He was frequently interrupted by applause and prolonged cheering.

Went to Summerside.

On arriving at the Island last night he proceeded to Summerside, where he held an informal conference with several hundred constituents, whom he thanked for returning him by acclamation.

He was than presented with bouquets in the form of an armful of memorandums from various delegations regarding freight rates, erecting cold storage plants, branch lines of railways, etc. Immediately after reaching Charlottetown he was tendered a luncheon at which 100 representatives, including the premier and members of the Legislature were present, and at which he delivered an address. He announced that he intended to contest North York at the general elections, as he had been invited there before receiving the invitation from Prince, and he did not wish to stand in the way of local aspirants of the latter constituency.

LaPointe Also Spoke.

Mr. LaPointe also spoke at the luncheon, which lasted three and a half hours. A public reception in the legislative assembly chamber followed, after which Mr. King received a delegation from the Great War Veterans' Association, who handed his a long list of questions. His replies seemed quite satisfactory to the members of the delegation.

Mr. LaPointe, who also delivered two speeches here tonight, was warmly received, making a most favorable impression. This forenoon he was honored with an invitation to sit with the judges on the bench of the supreme court, and upon the invitation of the chief justice addressed the court.

The party leaves tomorrow for St. John.

WANTS CHILDREN'S WELFARE BUREAU FOR WHOLE DOMINION

Montreal, Jan. 14.—At the congress of the Social Service Council of Canada, which opened here today, Professor McMillan of Toronto advocated the establishment of a federal children's welfare bureau in the course of an address on standards in child welfare work. He held that there should be compulsory school attendance up to 16 years with continuation schools up to 18 years, study to be reckoned in the 44-hour week.

At the evening session, J. N. Barss, superintendent of the boys' farm and training school, Shawbridge, said that prison cells and specific sentences of a given term for adults were "criminally stupid and barbarously atrocious." Professor MacMillan of Toronto, also addressed the congress.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—Benjamin Evensky, convicted of receiving during a game of poker $6,000, which he knew was part of $10,000 stolen by Alexander Gray from the Walker House, where Gray was bookkeeper, was sentenced today in the sessions here to the penitentiary for five years. Gray was sentenced for three years recently, but the judge held that Evensky's crime was the greater, as he had encouraged Gray to steal.

SHOW FARMERS HOW TO MAKE MONEY THEY WILL DO THE REST

Declared Hon. Manning Doherty in Address To Corn Growers At Chatham.

ONTARIO'S GREAT FUTURE

Prof. Moore of Wisconsin Foretells Great Expansion in Agriculture.

CHATHAM, Jan. 14.—To Cohoe of Woodslee goes the honor of winning the first Ontario Corn Growers' Association trophy for the best 60 ears of corn in the show. The variety shown was Wisconsin No. 7. The result was announced this afternoon, and Mr. Cohoe was kept busy receiving congratulations on winning the cup on its initial appearance. The trophy must be won three times before becoming the permanent property of the winner.

Large Attendance.

Despite the fact that the roads leading to Chatham are drifted worse than they have been in years, there was a large attendance today at the corn show in the armories, while a bigger attendance than ever is promised for tomorrow. Other special winners announced today were: The John Deere special for the best ten ears in the show, John Parks, Amherstburg; best ten ears of Dent corn in Kent County, R. B. Cummings, Turnerville, while the Royal Bank trophy for the premier ten ears of Flint corn in Kent County went to R. J. Johnston, Chatham.

Finest Single Ear.

The Merchants Bank trophy was won by J. Hammond of Essex, who had the best ten ears of White Cap Yellow Dent corn on exhibition.

Charles Warnock of Tilbury won the Royal Bank Comber trophy for the best ten ears of corn grown in the townships of Tilbury North and West and Mersea. John Broughton of Merlin had the finest single ear of Dent corn, while R. J. Johnston of Chatham won the prize for the best single ear of Flint corn. O. G. Gagnier of Tilbury took the Canadian Flour Mills prize for ten ears of Bailey corn grown in either Tilbury North or West, as well as the best 30 ears of corn.

F. A. Smith of Aylmer took the Kent Canning Company prizes for the best ten ears of Stowell's Evergreen and Early Evergreen.

Minister of Agriculture.

Although today's storm had filled the roads into Chatham with bad drifts, St. Andrew's Hall was crowded to capacity this afternoon, when the corn show was opened officially by the Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, in the Drury Government.

Mr. Doherty received an enthusiastic reception when he arose to speak. He appreciated deeply the welcome given him, he said. He had come to the corn show to see the exhibition that had done so much to help out the seed corn industry of Ontario. He congratulated the corn show officials, but especially the exhibitors, who had made the show such a success. He congratulated all of them, winners and losers alike.

"I want to learn your problems here," said Mr. Doherty. "You have developed along special lines which have brought with them their special problems.

"The newspaper world intimate that these were not all the reasons that brought me to Chatham, but I am in the same position as the old Irishman, who was brought into court. He would not say whether he was 'guilty' or 'not guilty' until he heard the evidence. I have no further statement to make as regards the rumor that I would run in East Kent.

Ontario Seed Best.

"I have long been aware of the splendid seed corn grown here. The only times I have had failures on my farm was when I had to accept seed corn not grown in our own province. One of the greatest problems facing you is that of distribution. We are frequently besieged with agents selling imported seed. I have always felt that the farmers knew how to produce the crop, but that in the marketing end the Government should help As long as I am minister of agriculture your marketing problems will receive my serious attention."

Favors Small Fairs.

Touching on the matter of a winter fair in this district, Mr. Doherty said that while a large national show was a good thing, he thought such a show could not make good unless smaller shows were held earlier, and in other parts of the province.

"I shall be very pleased to listen to any plans your committee may have, and a decision will be given in a short time."

Speaking of Canada's financial obligations, Mr. Doherty said they would be discharged almost entirely out of the top six inches of the soil. There were many more laborers engaged in agriculture than in other industries, a great many more.

The production of grain alone was diminishing, and livestock was coming into its own, and in his opinion the province of Ontario would be the breeding ground of the livestock industry in Canada.

An Important Duty.

"It would be impossible for us to go on increasing our livestock without silos," said Mr. Doherty. "Therefore we are largely dependent on ensilage to feed our stock. There is no food of the same value that can compare with it. Some 400,000 acres of ensilage are grown annually in Ontario. This requires a terrific amount of seed corn, and you in this district of the country must produce the seed corn. Therefore the seed corn industry is of vast national importance, and the growers of Western Ontario are filling an important duty."

Mr. Doherty promised that his department would place the tobacco growers in touch with men in Europe who were interested in their crop.

The speaker said he had accepted the portfolio of agriculture in the hope that he would be able to help the farmers in the solution of their problems.

Struck Keynote.

"I told the president of the agricultural college 25 years ago that the farmers would solve their ordinary problems if the college would show them how to make it prosperous. Show them how to make money, and they would do the rest. I still believe this." This remark was vociferously applauded by the farmers, who felt that the speaker had struck the keynote.

"If I cannot help solve some of the farm problems my exit from public life will be rapid and silent. I hope that in a year or two (some say that the Government will not last that long) we will be able to say that we have done something. I hope your corn show will have an increased and continued success," concluded the minister of agriculture.

President Lester Gregory, who followed Mr. Doherty, said he would like to draw his attention to the great need of an experimental station to carry out experiments. Mr. Doherty, speaking from the audience, told Mr. Gregory that he had taken up the matter several weeks ago, as he realized the necessity of some such work. He had approached Ottawa in the matter as to whether a regular Dominion Federal breeding station should be established for vegetables, tobacco and corn, or if Ontario should carry out the work. Mr. Doherty declared he would be pleased to be advised on the subject by the men of this section.

Official Welcome.

Mayor Fred Brisco welcomed the corn show to Chatham once more. It was a credit to Chatham and Ontario, and to President Leslie Gregory and his capable staff of officials. He hoped Hon. Manning Doherty would run in Kent County, the finest in Ontario. The mayor declared he would like to impress on Mr. Doherty the need of a winter fair in Chatham and the importance of an experimental station to meet the needs of the corn growers and others.

Prof. R. A. Moore of Wisconsin State College, and recognized as one of the foremost corn experts on the continent, gave an illuminating and comprehensive address on the breeding, growing, curing and dissemination of pure live strains of seed corn at the afternoon session.

Exceptional Quality.

Prof. Moore declared that Canadian corn last year had been of exceptionally fine quality, but that Flint corn in Canada was being replaced by the Dent varieties, just as it was in the States.

Wisconsin, said the speaker, had profited greatly by the Marquis spring wheat developed at the O. A. C. and the pedigree Oderbrucker barley.

The work of bringing Wisconsin to the top of the heap as a corn growing state had taken twenty years and a large expenditure of money, as well as the hearty co-operation of thousands of people, among whom were 27,500 boys, who had assisted wonderfully. It was only through such an organization as the Ontario Corn Growers' Association that great things could be accomplished in Ontario. Seed corn production was growing in importance, as the great livestock industries of Canada and the United States were supported largely by the corn crop. "Therefore, it is no wonder that the problem which you corn growers have on your hands is of vast economic importance.

Encourage the Bay.

"If we are going to encourage the boy on the farm we have got to put him in a position to make some money," said Prof. Moore, who went on to tell of a young man in Wisconsin who took over the old farm with a mortgage on it and is now selling $3,500 worth of seed corn a year. "You couldn't get this young man to come to town to be a street car motorman or a policeman.

"There is no reason why you in Ontario can't raise high in the seed corn market. We are buying seed corn here right now, even although $1,500,000 is coming into Wisconsin annually for seed corn, not to two or three big seed men, but to four or five thousand young men who had sense enough to stay on the farm.

Ontario a Leader.

"From the experience I have gained in Wisconsin I would naturally suspect that your great country from Lake Erie on the south extending northward would be so similar to Wisconsin that I am inclined to think the methods of breeding, growing the crop, establishment of seed grain centres, and the proper curing of the corn would be problems that would be identical with those of Wisconsin. Already great work has been accomplished in the province of Ontario and greater work is still before you. There is no doubt in my mind with the persistency of effort which is being displayed by your Corn Growers' Association that Ontario will take her place with the best of our corn growing states and be a leader in this line of effort," Prof. Moore concluded.

John Richardson, a farmer of the vicinity, got up at the conclusion of Prof. Moore's address and told the audience that he had lost a roll of $500 in the building. There was much scraping of chairs and a close search was made for the elusive roll, held together by an elastic band. It was not found.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty, and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Advt.
