RELIURE TROP RIGIDE

CANADA:—Mr. Arthur Rankin, M. P. P. has been arrested in Toronto for an alleged breach of the Foreign Enlistment Act, passed 59th, Geo. III cap. 69. This is the Colonel Rankin who, it was said, was raising a regiment of lancers in Canada for the U. S. service. The "information" upon which he was arrested, is to this effect:

Complainant, upon his oath, aforesaid, saith that he has been informed, and believes that one Arthur Rankin, lately residing in the county of Essex, in the said Province, and being at the present in the said city of Toronto, Esq., the said Arthur Rankin being a natural born subject of her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain and its dependencies, has taken or accepted, or agreed to take or accept, a military commission and to enter into the service of a Foreign State, to wit, of the United States of America, without the leave or license of her said Majesty for that purpose had and obtained.

And further, that the said Arthur Rankin, within the Province of Canada aforesaid, to wit, in the city of Toronto and other places in said Province, has within the period of three months last past hired, retained, and engaged or procured, or attempted or endeavored to hire, retain, engage, or procure several persons, being natural born subjects of her said Majesty, to enlist, or engage to enlist, or to serve, or to be employed as officers or soldiers in the service of the foreign State aforesaid.

The said acts of the said Arthur Rankin being in violation of the laws of the land, and especially of the provisions of the Imperial statute, passed in the 59th year of his Majesty King George the Third, chapter 69, known as "The Foreign Enlistment Act."

It is said that the publishers of Lowell's Geography are preparing a second edition of that work. Upwards of 7,000 copies have been sold; and it is rapidly displacing American geographies in the schools of Canada.

The Montreal City Railroad will, when completed, be 16 miles long.

More than fifteen hundred Canadians have been thrown out of employment at Boston.—It is said they are on their way to Canada.

THE CHAUDIERE GOLD REGION.—A gentleman who returned to this city yesterday morning, after a "prospecting" tour of three weeks in the vicinity of the Chaudiere, reports that quite a number of persons are engaged in the task of seeking for veins of the precious metal. Our informant saw a gentleman of practical experience who stated that he had found gold-bearing quartz in considerable quantities; but we are not aware that any fresh discoveries of the precious metal itself have been made lately. The question of whether gold can be found in sufficient quantities to remunerate miners must, however, be solved before long.—Quebec Chron.

R. C. BISHOP OF RED RIVER.—Bishop Tache, of Red River, who has been some time in Lower Canada, obtaining subscriptions for the re building of the Roman Catholic Cathedral in that colony, lately destroyed by fire, is about to return to his see.

UNITED STATES.

The great event of the week has been the repulse of an expedition made by the Confederates against Hatteras. Their recent success in capturing the U. S. transport Fanny on that coast seems to have somewhat emboldened them. We give the following account of the affair from the N. Y. Herald:—

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9, 1861.

The following intelligence has been received here to-day from Fortress Monroe:

The United States steamer Susquehanna, from Hatteras, arrived at Hampton roads yesterday morning, with the intelligence of the entire defeat and destruction of some three or four regiments, numbering four thousand of the rebels, consisting of Georgians and Carolinians.

They had completely surrounded the Indiana regiment at Chicamacomico, when news was sent to the Monticello, lying off the light, Lieutenant Braine, of the United States Navy, commander, who ordered the Monticello under way. Being of light draught, she crossed the bar and commenced shelling the rebels. The slaughter is said to be terrific. They fell by hundreds. Those not wounded fled like so many sheep. The shrieks of the wounded were distinctly heard from the shore. They were completely entrapped, having but a narrow spit of land upon which they were situated. The steamer shelled them for four miles. The dead and wounded were strewn upon the beach in great profusion. They evidentally caught a tartar. One of the pickets of the Indiana regiment, who had been taken prisoner, the night before, made his escape after killing a rebel captain of one of the Georgia regiments. He reports that, whilst lying concealed in the chapparel, he counted over one hundred dead bodies within a short distance of him.

The rout and defeat of the traitors was complete.

Having accomplished thus much, and perceiving a steamer and two schooners a short distance up the sound, the Monticello turned her destructive fire of shot and shell in that direction. The result was the total destruction of the two schooners, the disabling of the steamer Fanny, recently captured by the rebels, and the sinking of a large yawlboat filled with troops.

Col. Brown of the Indiana regiment reported a loss of fifty of his men as prisoners to the Confederates, comprising his sick and wounded and twenty who were on picket duty. The total loss of Confederates, grossly exaggerated at first, is now stated at between 200 and 300 killed and wounded.

For some time the Confederate Government have been making great exertions to procure a navy. All they needed was "the ships." They had among them some of the best officers of the federal navy; men who had served all their lives under the stars and stripes, and had from principle joined the South when the separation occurred. They had, too, the Norfolk Navy Yard, ample workshops, and skilled machines.

The result of their exertions is now becoming unpleasantly manifest to the North. The Herald says:

Our readers were made aware yesterday that the Merrimack—one of the ships sunk at Norfolk, and subsequently raised by the rebels—is now in a state of complete repair, with armament on board and clothed with steel armor, having actually made a trial trip down near to Fortress Monroe. The iron-plated steamers Jamestown and Yorktown are waiting for her assistance up the James river and no doubt the three vessels, with others, will very soon make an attack upon the squadron at Newport News, combined with a land assault upon the federal force there; and, if they are successful, the next thing we shall hear of is an attack on the blockading squadron at Fortress Monroe, and, last of all, on the fortress itself, in concert with a large force upon the land side.

In addition to these the Confederates have been able, it seems, to purchase abroad several large iron steamers, to be used as privateers or to act in conjunction against the federal vessels now blockading their ports. Report says the "Bermuda" has succeeded in conveying a valuable cargo into Savannah. Two others are on their way, it is supposed for the same destination. These vessels under Commodore Tatnall will give the Northern navy some trouble. The following description is given of the "Bermuda" and her cargo:—

This vessel, which recently run the blockade, had a most valuable cargo. She is an iron vessel of 1500 tons burden. She had on board 18 rifled cannon, 32 and 42 pounders; two Lancaster guns of 168 pounds, and powder, shot and shells for this ordinance; 6,500 Enfield rifles; from 200,000 to 300,000 cartridges; 6000 pairs of army shoes; 20,000 blankets; 180 barrels of gunpowder; a large quantity of morphine, quinnine, and other medical stores. Her cargo is said to have cost $1,000,000.

Her own armament is represented as two twelve-pounder rifled guns; but she is described as iron-clad; and when she shall be put into active service, as she will be very soon, her armament will be increased.

The news from Missouri does not indicate any important movement of a decisive character. Colonel Mathews, who was in command of the Union troops at Henman, had been compelled to retire from that position by the advance of an immensely superior body of rebels. General Price is reported to be marching southward.

Affairs along the line of the Potomac continue unchanged. The great battle seems to have been indefinitely postponed. The Federal lines have advanced several miles into Virginia.

Mrs. President Lincoln is studying the French language "with a view to qualify herself for the more delicate exigencies of her exalted station."

Capt. Louis Philippe 'd Orleans and Capt. Rubert d'Orleans are henceforth the designations of Comte de Paris and Duc de Chartres. They will be Aids to Gen. McClellan.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The Committee of the Seminary have resolved to secure the services of an Assistant Teacher to take charge of the English Department, and exercise a general supervision over the lads boarding in the house.

The Rev. J. C. Hurd, and the Principal have been appointed a Committee to enquire for a suitable person to fill this office, to either of whom application may be made.

The requisite qualifications are a good knowledge of English, aptitude to teach, some experience in tuition, and a disposition mild and conciliatory, yet firm and decided.
