REV. MR. McCASKILL'S ACTIVITIES

To the Editor of The Standard:

Sir—According to the Telegraph of today's date the Rev. J. J. McCaskill is again associating himself actively with the campaigners. He spoke at Parrsboro, we are told, yesterday, and is to take a leading part tomorrow in the Black River school house. Perhaps the reverend gentleman has partly justified his activities by saying that he is doing the thing from a moral standpoint. I believe he endeavored to so justify them a little while ago.

It is not for me (a mere layman) some might say, to call Mr. McCaskill to order, but I would like, Mr. Editor, to observe that his excuse for butting in in the way he is doing is very nearly inexcusable, in my view.

I have read, not without interest, from time to time in the pages of the Telegraph, garbled reports of his sermons, or addresses, which have persuaded me that there is yet something for him to do in his own particular sphere which may be of real good, and that he is capable of doing the work. But is there none, just now within his ministerial jurisdiction, requiring his spiritual guidance and help (a sick person for instance) right on the spot where he receives, presumably, remuneration for his work?

I think the erring, though no doubt well-intentioned gentleman should drop politics at once. This is a good tip for him, for those favoring the Knox (and noxious) Fielding pact and for the Liberal party, which he has been lauding and proposes to laud. He is pretty sure to defeat his and their ends. Ne sutor ultra crepidam.

Your: truly,

LAYMAN.

St. John, Aug. 31.

TOLD IN ANOTHER WAY.

To the Editor of The Standard.

Sir:—As a great many farmers see the ninety million market across the border, and fail to see the competition of forty million farmers in that market as well as in our own if reciprocity carries, I think the following story would make it more clear to farmers:

Two farmers, Sam (U.S.) and John, (Can.) live on adjoining farms. John has three cows (three million farmers) and Sam has forty cows (forty million farmers). Sam has seventy acres (seventy million people) of pasture (home market) in good condition. John has five acres in poor condition. John sends his son Tory (Conservative) to see if Sam will agree to let down the line fence so as to let his cows into the good pasture. Sam refuses.

John, with the help of his sons Tory and Grit, commences to improve his pasture (home market) and by letting his cows in his father's pasture at times (English market) he get along very well. Sam makes an agreement with Grit in 1911 to lower the line fence and let their increased herds in together. Sam sees that John has a larger and better pasture especially for sheep (lumbermen) and he sees that his herd of forty cows (farmers) will soon chase John's five cows out and compel John to sell him the farm (annexation) which he covets. Tory advises John against the bargain as he thinks it will be hard to break without trouble with Sam. John is puzzled what to do, but he will decide on Sept. 21, 1911.

Yours,

Milkish, N. B. H. W. L.

CONCERNING FABLES.

To the Editor of The Standard:

Sir,—I saw in a recent number of the "Evening Times" an attempt at a fable.

One would have thought after thees many years of fable making by the party that the "Times" would have done better than that. However, it will be able after a time, if it perseveres, to construct a fable with a point to it. For this reason I enclose one which, if the "Times" appoves of it, may be added to the collection.

Once upon a time a little boy was setting a trap and baiting it with cheese. A mouse came along, as the boy was finishing his job. "Go in," said the boy, "and get the cheese. I will let you come out whenever you like." "I know," said the mouse, "that you will let me come out whenever I like, but the trap won't."

Moral—Reciprocity P. A. C. T. Postes Annexatio cum Tyranneo.

Yours,

AESOP.

August 30, 1911.

In case any Liberal should read this who would not understand Latin, I construe it as being in English, Reciprocity, afterwards annexation with those who will tyrannize over us.

Mr. Borden at Chatham read from the President's message to Congress, concluding with "Canada stands at the parting of the way." "I invite Sir Wilfrid Laurier," challenged Mr. Borden, "to tell us, and it is his duty to tell the people of Canada, his appreciation of those words."

GOOD OUTLOOK IN GLOUCESTER

Prospects for Conservative Victory Becoming Brighter Every Day—Mr. Burns Putting up Very Strong Fight.

Special to The Standard.

Caraquet, N. B., Aug. 31.—The prospects of a Conservative victory in Gloucester county look brighter every day. Mr. Burns has completed a canvass of all the bigger parishes, and everywhere he has been he was given a splendid reception. Mr. Burns is accompanied on his tour of the constituency by Councillor Hochey of Bathurst; Coun. DesBrisay, of Beresford, and D. T. Dangon, of Petit Rocher. All the meetings addressed by Mr. Burns and his friends have been well attended and very enthusiastic, showing beyond a doubt that feeling against the government is running strong in this constituency. Every day prominent Liberals are coming forward and endorsing the candidature of Mr. Burns.

In marked contrast to the warmth of the reception everywhere accorded Mr. Burns, is the attitude of the people to Mr. Turgeon. The government candidate is meeting with a cool reception everywhere, and some of his old time supporters are openly fighting against him.

Mr. Turgeon has been much discouraged by the results of his canvass so far, and it is freely said that he will retire from the contest if the Liberals are able to find another man to enter the lists before nomination day. Many of his strongest supporters who would be hard hit by reciprocity have come out in support of Mr. Burns, and the fishermen of the county are almost unanimously against the pact.

The situation from the Conservative standpoint could not look more favorable, and it is generally conceded that Mr. Burns will be elected by a majority of several hundreds.

CRAZED BY HEAT IN THE NEVADA DESERT

Reno, Nev., Aug. 30.—Suddenly becoming crazed, apparently by the heat, James Mahoney, a former New York policeman, said to be a relative of W. Bourke Cochran, either perished or is wandering naked on the Nevada desert, fifty miles from Reno. Mahoney left Reno three days ago to accept a position with a surveying party. Yesterday he appeared at the Eagle Salt Works, stripped himself of clothing and ran madly across the barren sands. Members of the surveying crew spent all the afternoon yesterday and last night searching for him, but without success. The search was resumed today, but it is feared the man has perished on the desert.

GRAFT CHARGE MADE AGAINST CONSTABLE.

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Provincial Constable W. A. Gunton was remanded for a week without electing or pleading in police court on charge of obtaining money by menace from Bertha Hall. Mrs. Hall had taken a young woman from a hospital to work for her. The girl had formerly been in a house of ill fame. Gunton is said to have told Mrs. Hall she was liable to 7 years in Kingston for harboring the girl. She offered to go to police department, but Gunton is said to have said $10 would settle the matter, and Mrs. Hall cashed up.

James McHale.

James McHale a well known resident of this city died early this morning at his residence 72 Forest street after a lingering illness. He is survived by two sons and two daughters. The sons are John T., of the I. C. R. and David, of Kansas City. The daughters are Mrs. J. J. Power and Miss Sarah F., both of this city. Mrs. Benjamin Moore, of this city is a sister of the deceased.

GRIT RALLY WAS NOT A SUCCESS

Campbellton, Aug. 31.—The Liberals held a mass meeting in the Opera House last night. Hon. Charles Marcil and Henry R. Emmerson were advertised to address the meeting. Hon. Mr. Marcil did not appear, leaving Mr. Emmerson to face a hostile audience alone. After Mr. Reid said his little piece, amounting to 23 words, and which he repeats on all public occasions, Mr. Emmerson began a labored address, but before he had gone very far the larger part of the audience deserted him, leaving the hall in large numbers.

GOTCH WANTS OLD RULES TO DECIDE MATCH

Humboldt, Iowa, Aug. 31.—Frank Gotch, in his forthcoming Labor Day match with Geo. Hackenschmidt at Chicago, will submit to no rules formulated especially for that occasion. He so informed Referee D. W. Smith at his camp here this afternoon. Gotch said that the old rules would be insisted upon particularly that which made hanging on the ropes a foul. The champion claimed that in the last match Hackenschmidt resorted much to that practice. According to Referee Smith, Hackenschmidt will pursue entirely new tactics on Labor Day in order as Smith quoted him, "To redeem himself" for having played the defensive in the last half hour of his last match with Gotch. Smith brought out the information that Hackenschmidt intends to rush the match instead of being on the defence.
