City Police Court.

There were five infants (in law) in the dock this morning to answer different charges.

John Madigan has been up for almost every crime in the statutes, though only 13 years of age. He was charged with being drunk and collecting a large crowd round him in Dock street. This he confessed to and was fined $6 or two months in the penitentiary.

Miller Sinclair, 15, Gilbert Lanehner, 14, and Bartholemew Emery, 14 years of age, were charged with stealing a cash box from Mrs. S. Pickett's store in King street. The box contained about $10 in money, a part of which they returned by a boy named Gamble. The investigation into their case will be taken up this afternoon.

James W. Dawson confessed to an assault on Hugh McCready, a much smaller boy. McCready's face was dreadfully disfigured by the blows received. Dawson was sent to gaol for two months, there to be kept at hard labor and grow fat.

Peter Johnston went to the Station for protection and was let go.

The Ferguson Property Job—Tupper Pricks a Cabinet Fraud—The Deficit Lie Nailed—The Outrageous Conduct Shame Drives Mackenzie and his Colleagues into—Unblushing Partizanship of Speaker Anglin

OTTAWA, April 28.

Mr. Mitchell moved for papers respecting the transfer of Portage Island to the Dominion.

Mr. Palmer moved for the return of the amount expended on Railway extension, St. John. He opposed the Rankine wharf terminus as affording too little accommodation. The great strength of the current made it doubtful whether a good bridge could be built across the harbor there, while the cost of right of way would have to be paid, as the harbor belonged to the Corporation.

Mr. Ferris said the bridge should be built at the falls. He would oppose the attempt to build it anywhere else.

The motion was carried.

Dr. Tupper moved the resolution that, whereas the House is asked to increase taxation by three millions of dollars, the fullest information should be given of the receipts of revenue up to 20th April. He said he had asked, a few days ago, for what no Government ever refused to the humblest member, information in their possession respecting the financial condition of the country. This information the Government refused to grant. The Finance Minister stated there was a deficit in the current year, and that the outlook was so gloomy that three millions extra taxation must be raised. After that statement he (Tupper) felt that every information should be had. Were it given he could show that the Finance Minister was entirely in error; that nothing in the financial condition of the country justified his gloomy statements; and that on the first of July it would be found that there was no deficit in the revenue of the current year. Mr. Cartwright was mistaken, first, as to the commercial condition and prospects of the country; second, as to there being a deficit; and third, as to the necessity of asking for three millions additional taxation. The records of the country showed there had been a steady increase in trade and commerce. In exports there had been an increase in 1873 over 1872 of eleven millions of dollars. The Finance Minister informed them that in the first eight months of the current year there was a further increase of three millions. Did such a condition as that justify the Finance Minister in such gloomy statements? Cartwright had stated there was a falling off in imports. He (Tupper) showed that such falling off had not affected the revenue, as in the first nine months of the current year there was an increase of revenue of one million dollars. He then took up the second point, and was showing the impossibility of the alleged deficit when the Speaker rose and called him to order on the ground that he was anticipating a discussion on the tariff. Tupper thought he had the right of giving his reasons for making his motion. (Loud cries of "order" from Holton, Mackenzie and others.) Tupper thought it extraordinary that a member should be prevented speaking to a motion which was in order. He proceeded to speak, but Mackenzie, Blake and Holton, backed by Opposition shouts, drowned his voice, by yells of "order." Tupper said if he was not allowed to show why he made the motion he would withdraw it.

Mackenzie and Holton—You shall not withdraw it. (Much confusion.)

Mr. Cartwright moved an amendment that an humble address be presented to His Excellency for a statement showing the receipts of revenue to the 20th day of April, 1874, and also a comparative statement of receipts for the first twenty days of April for the years 1873 and 1874, together with the quantity of excisable goods in bond on the first 15 days of 1873 and 1874 and on the first day of July, 1873.

Mr. Tupper accepted the amendment and was grateful that the Government had yielded to the pressure of independent members behind them and now promised information they before refused.

There were more cries of "order," and some confusion.

The amendment was unanimously carried, presenting the spectacle of a Government asking themselves to bring down information!

The House adjourned at midnight.

The County Court.

The County Court opened at 11 o'clock this forenoon. The following answered to their names as Grand Jurors and were duly sworn: Thos. Dale, Foreman, John Chaloner, James Duffy, Peter Cormack, Robt. Culbert, E. J. Everitt, Robert Hunter, T. C. Earle, Alex. Duff, Robert Thompson, John Mullin, William Emery, Edward Moore, W. C. Gibson, Thomas Likely, W. H. Smith, W. W. McFetters, Solomon Allingham. His Honor Judge Watters made a few remarks, calling the attention of the Grand Jury to the criminal cases before the Court. There were four of them: First, the Queen vs. Brown, charged with committing an assault with intent to do greivous bodily harm. It was for the jury to consider the circumstances attending the assault, the instrument used, and the degree of violence, as well as the parts of the body that were wounded. This offence was formerly one of the highest in the criminal code, ranking next to homicide, but now it has been reduced so that it is merely a misdemeanor. The next case was the Queen vs. Euphemia H. Brown, who is charged with concealing the body of a dead child, in order to hide its birth. The law provides that any person who conceals a birth, whether the mother or not, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and if they found that the woman had hid the body with a view to conceal the birth they must bring in a bill against her.

The next case was one of larceny. A man is charged with breaking and entering a building, and stealing therefrom certain property. The case was one in which they required no direction.

The last case is that of Thomas Hunter, charged with perjury in the Town of Portland on election day.

The jury retired and the witnesses in the several cases were sent before them. The following is the docket entered before the court:

CRIMINAL.

The Queen vs. Isaiah Brown.

14. F. T. C. Burpee vs. John Collins—Harrison & Burbidge.
15. L. H. Young vs. Henry W. Beckwith—C. A. Stockton.

George Blatch, Esq., filed the papers and certificates of Ernest Ronea Kersten, a native of Sweden, who has taken the oath of allegiance and asks for naturalization papers. The papers will remain until the last day of the Court, when Mr. Blatch will move that they be recorded under 31st Victoria chap. 66.

F. P. Robinson, Esq., moved that in the suit, Crowe & White vs. John Goddard, a rule absolute be entered for the defendant. It was opposed by Silas Alward, Esq., and the Judge reserved his decision until to-morrow.

In the cases Nos. 2, 3 and 4, S. R. Thomson, Esq., moved to strike out the notice of defence. These are cases in which the plaintiffs bring an action for trespass against the defendants, who are the trustees of schools for the Parish of Simonds. The trustees issued warrants and levied on the goods of the plaintiffs. They bring this action of trespass. Mr Thomson claimed that the notice of defence was insufficient; that said notice did not state who authorized the assessment; that there is no notice of an assessment; and that there was not one single defence. The mere fact that two of the defendants were trustees was not enough to warrant the issue.

The Attorney General opposed the motion, and cited authority to show that the notice was sufficient and that the statutes gave him power to amend or add to such notice. He asked, therefore, the privilege of amending the notice.

Mr. Thomson again urged his point and said that the last session of the Legislature had passed an Act having this case in view.

Mr. King denied this.

Mr. Thomson said he knew what law ment when it was passed it he did not know how they make them.

Mr. King retorted that he tried to get his finger in the pie and learn how to make laws.

Mr. Thomson said he only wanted to get to the Legislature to watch others make laws.

Mr. King did not see why that, every time the Legislature was spoken of, so much bile came out of Mr. Thomson. It must have been because he tried so often to get there and failed. He would advise him to go through a course of medicine—purging medicine.

After some arguing the notices were withdrawn and the date of place changed so that the suit is brought under the new Act.

An information in Bastardy was read by the Clerk of the Peace, on complaint of Emma Sprague against John McAnealy. The defendant appeared and denied the charge. It was stated that the complainant had died in childbirth. The case will come up to-morrow.

The case of W. Alden Trueman vs. W. Wilber et al then came up. The court was largely attended by legal gentlemen, and a large number of citizens were present.
