HUMOROUS.

—Young gent: "Might I ask you, miss—ah—" Miss: "Very sorry, sir, but, I'm engaged for the next three dances." Y. G.: "It is not dancing—ah it is—it's—beg your pardon, miss; you are sitting on my hat."

"Once upon a time," a man met an old woman in an old English town driving several asses, "Adieu, mother of asses," said he, "Adieu, my son!" was the old woman's reply.

Don't invite a "self-educated" man to address a school. He will be sure to tell the pupils that he never went to school and yet knows as much as anybody.—Philadelphia News.

"The world is the book of women." A disreputable old bachelor says this may be so, but some women don't read it. They manage to find out all that occurs in it by gadding around town and questioning their neighbors.

"Will you be so kind, my friend, as to tell your grandmother that the man who is taking the census would like to see her?" said a census-taker to a young miss of seven summers. The little one hesitated an instant, and then replied: "Yes, sir; I'll tell her, but I don't believe she has any.—Troy Times.

A woman bought a circus ticket for herself, and then, taking a boy fully 15 years old in her arms, she wrapped a shawl around him and started in. "That's a pretty big baby you have there," said the man as she came up. "Big? Why, you ought to see his brother!"

School teacher to little boy, whose father is a grocer—"Now, Johnny, if your father has a barrel of whisky containing forty gallons, and one-fourth of it leaks out, how many gallons does he lose?" Johnny—"He doesn't lose none. He fills it up again right off."

—There is probably nothing so exhilarating in the experience of the amateur gardener as when he steps upon the hoe and the responsive handle immediately arises to implant a fervent kiss between his eyes.

A minister was questioning his Sunday school concerning the story of Eutychus—the young man who, listening to the preaching of the apostle Paul, fell asleep, and falling down, was taken up dead. "What," he said, "do we learn from this very solemn event?" when the reply from a little girl came pat and prompt, "Please, sir, ministers should learn not to preach too long sermons."

"Above all things in the world," said a youth who stands at street corners for a living, "do I value the love of my mother." "God bless you, young man, for these sentiments," said a missionary. "Having so much respect for a mother, you need no other recommendation to successful men who will aid you." "Yes," continued the young man, "mother feeds me, and clothes me, does my washing, and has been doing it for twenty-five years. I don't know what I would do without her."

Not Much of a Loss.

A young lady went to a drug-store on Baltimore street, and had a prescription made up.

"How much?" inquired the lady.

"Fifty cents," said the clerk.

"But I have only forty-five cents with me," replied the customer; can't you let me have it for that?"

"No, ma'am," said the clerk, "but you can pay me the five cents when you come in again."

"But suppose I were to die?" said the lady jocularly.

"Well, it wouldn't be a very great loss," was the smiling response.

And immediately the smiling clerk gathered, from the indignant flush on the lady's face, that he had been misunderstood, and, before he could assure her that it was the little balance and not she that would be no great loss, she had bounced out at a go-as-you-please gait, and was beyond the sound of his voice.

Not Her Motto.

A Woodward avenue officer was the other day halted near the City Hall by a 200 pound woman with a parcel in her hand, and she requested to be directed to the store where they sold mottoes. He asked her which particular store she wanted, and she explained:

"Well, I can't tell. My old man came to town yesterday, and I wanted him to buy the motto of 'God Bless Our Home.' He got in somewhere where they told him that stylish folks no longer hung up that motto, and the old idiot brought home this one."

She unrolled the parcel and held up a card on which was tastily painted:

"Don't ask for credit—Our terms are cash."

"You needn't grin," she said as she rolled up the card again; "I'm heavy on foot, and the walking is bad, but I'm going to walk this town till I find the man who got this thing off on Samuel for 'God Bless Our Home.'"—Detroit Free Press.

THE LONDON MUTUAL

(Formerly Agricultural Mutual.)

HEAD OFFICE,

Molsons Buildings, London, Ontario.

Assetts 1st January, 1879, $275,854.41, and constantly being added to.

CROWELL WILSON, President.
D. BLACK, Vice-President.
W. R. VINING, Treasurer.
C. G. CODY, Inspector.

The Fire Office, now in the 21st year of its existence, is doing a larger, safer and better business than ever, having in the month of June issued 1,940 policies and in July 2,032 policies—a number never before exceeded except by itself.

Intending Insurers Will Note,

1st. That the "London Mutual" was the pioneer of cheap farm insurance in Canada, and that its rates have always been placed as low as is commensurate with the hazard; that, being Purely Mutual, it has no stockholders, and all profits are added to its reserve fund to give better security to its members.

2nd. That it is the only Company that has always strictly adhered to one class of business, and now has more property at risk in the Province of Ontario alone than any other Company—stock or mutual—English, Canadian, or American, [vide Government Returns].

3rd. That it has paid nearly a million dollars in compensation for losses, having distributed the same in nearly every township in the Province.

4th. That its books and affairs are always open to the inspection of the members, and the Directors are desirous that the privilege should be exercised.

FARMERS! Patronize your own old, sound, safe, economical Company, and be not led away by the delusions of new ventures and the theories of amateurs in the insurance business.

For insurance apply to any of the agents, or address, D. C. MACDONALD, Manager.

SOCIETY

LONDON, ONT.

OFFICE, OPPOSITE CITY HALL, RICHMOND ST.

SAVINGS BANK BRANCH.

The object of this branch is to enable persons of regular income to accumulate by gradual savings, a capital which may be resorted to in case of emergency. The deposits bear interest compounded half-yearly.

The whole of the Income, from the repayment on Loans, together with the Capital Stock of the Society, are pledged by Act of Parliament as security for the proper repayment of deposits. The Funds of the Society are entirely invested in Mortgage on Real Estate only; thus rendering the Security to Depositors both complete and permanent.

Dedosits of One Dollar and upwards received, subject to withdrawal, and interest allowed thereon at the rare of five and six per cent. per annum, as may be agreed upon at time deposit is made.

BALDNESS, GREYNESS, DANDUFF, HAIR-FALLING.

CAN Baldness be cured? Has been settled in the affirmative by Chas. M. Wintercorbyn, late of H.M. Royal Navy, who has accomplished in Toronto and Hamilton during the last three years what has never been done by any advertised remedies of the century, by restoring the hair to numbers of the most hopeless cases. This is no deception, as hundreds of the citizens of Toronto, Hamilton, and elsewhere can testify to the truth of this statement. The Restorative is put up in bottles, at One Dollar per bottle, or six for Five Dollars. For further information, address—

CHAS. MAITLAND WINTERCORBYN, 144 King street west, Toronto.
