MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 12.

The Worst Yet.

When Legislators pocket the money they are employed to expend for public purposes, and Policemen steal the property they are detailed to guard, and Firemen burn the houses they are paid to protect, and Aldermen send to the engine houses at night the material for drunken debauches, it is time for practical Christianity to take the place of speculative theology in the pulpits, and personal politics the place of party principles in the papers. The Salary Grabbing legislators must be left to their own guilty consciences and public scorn, the pilfering policemen have been dismissed, and the incendiary firemen will be properly punished if the proof be sufficient for the requirements of the law, but what is to be done with those members of the Common Council who aid the guardians of the city to get drunk at the post of duty? "My orders are to exclude intoxicating drinks from the engine houses," says the Chief of the Fire Department; "but what," he helplessly asks, "can I do when my masters, the members of the Common Council, send the stuff to the men?" This is the most disgraceful exposé yet made in civic affairs, and we hope the names of the culprits in this case, and the names of others who have been guilty of the same practice, will be brought out by the investigation now in progress. Individual members deny that they are guilty of this crime against the property of the town, and we want the names of the offenders revealed. Nothing less will be just to the town and fair to the decent members of the Common Council. Expose those who supply firemen with liquor for midnight carousals.

The Fredericton Land Scandal.

The papers submitted to Parliament on the subject of the "sale of certain ordnance lands at Fredericton, N. B., to the F. B. R. R. Co., or to Temple and Burpee, or other parties," show that the land was sold for $6,000, the money accepted and receipted for, the surveys made on which the letters patent were to be based, and the sale cancelled by the Premier when the transaction had begun to be too freely discussed by the public. The Premier publicly denied the sale, but the papers show that the sale was effected in such a way that only an arbitrary exercise of authority cancelled it.

The land was valued by Lt. Col. Maunsel, on data obtained, as he writes to the Department, from the President of the Company and Mr. Pickard, at $6,000, and the recommendation made that the land should be used only for railway purposes.

Notwithstanding the fact that telegrams and letters from the Mayor, and resolutions of the City Council and Board of Trade, were sent to Ottawa protesting in the strongest terms against the transfer of the land to the railway, giving reasons why the transfer should not be made, and announcing the decision of the Council not to grant the Railway Co. the right of way to the land, the Government, in Council assembled, Jan. 1, ordered, on a recommendation of "the Hon'ble the Minister of Militia and Defence," of Dec. 7th, that "all papers in the case be transferred to the Hon'ble the Minister of the Interior with a view to a deed of sale being executed in favor of the F'ton Railway Company for the consideration of six thousand dollars, to take effect from the 1st June, 1875." By a letter dated 11th January the Dep. Min. of the Interior informed Mr. Temple of this Order in Council, and told him to "cause a plan to be prepared by a Prov. Land Surveyor, authenticated in compliance with the law of New Brunswick, showing the land with its subdivisions," etc., etc., and announcing that "on payment of the purchase money, and on the production of the plan above referred to, Letters Patent will be prepared conveying the property to the F'ton R'y Co." On the 5th Feb. the Dep. Min. of the Interior acknowledges the receipt of the $6,000 from the Company, and asks for the required plan. Mr. Temple replies that the plan has been forwarded by Mr. Pickard, and suggests a reduction in the price on account of there being less land than the price was based on. In the meantime, curiously enough, Mr. Pickard, who seems to have been acting with Mr. Temple all along, has applied to the Militia Department for the land in the name of the County of York! The Minister of Militia, who had promised that no sale should be effected without giving a hearing to the City Council, and in whose absence the sale was ordered, wrote to the Minister of the Interior to delay proceedings, Mayor Wetmore laid a vigorous memorial before the Privy Council in opposition to the transfer of the land to the Company, the newspapers let the cat out of the bag as to the ownership of the F'ton B. R'y, and the Premier cancelled the agreement for the purpose of quieting scandal.

Conscience and the Pope—The Coming Crisis.

Rev. Dr. Newman has made a conclusive reply to Mr. Gladstone's last pamphlet, by showing that, when the Pope's commands conflict with the dictates of conscience, the Pope is not to be obeyed. There is one little fact, however, that will mar the Protestant world's satisfaction at Dr. Newman's argumentative triumph—the fact that the Pope will repudiate Dr. Newman's definition of the relative importance of the commands of the Vatican and the dictates of conscience. There is no place in the Catholic Church for consciences whose dictates conflict with the teachings of the Vicar of Christ. The Rev. O. Brownson, one of the ablest of Catholic controversialists in America, in a lecture at Boston the other day, stated the Roman Catholic theory with respect to the relative rank of church and state to be that the Divine Sovereignty, which is universal, is represented in human affairs by the Pope, the Vicar of Christ, and that the civil law, when it conflicts with the ecclesiastical law, is to be wholly ignored. How, then, can Dr. Newman consistently conceive of a christian conscience requiring obedience to laws that conflict with Papal decrees—of Christ in man resisting the commands of Christ at the head of His Church? "Get thee behind me, Satan!" is what the Vicar of Christ says to the conscience that questions his authority.

Cardinal Manning seems to have received his scarlet hat with a feeling akin to that with which the Highlandman used to receive the fiery cross. He announces that "he regards himself as having been entrusted with a commission of warfare, for he believes that the Church is approaching a crisis the most fiery for 300 years." The crisis, if any is at hand, will be of the Church's own making, as nowhere except in Germany are there signs of a disposition to deprive the Church of any of its present authority. There can be no crisis in England, the field of the newly commissioned Cardinal, unless the Church creates it, as neither the rulers nor the people of other denominations show the slightest intention of interfering in any way in the spiritual domain of the Catholic ecclesiastics. Church and State seem to be the best of friends there, and the State will not be the one to cause the fiery crisis in which Cardinal Manning expects to win renown. We can not imagine what the Church wants more than the freedom to preach, teach, proselytize, etc., which it possesses now, and are not inclined to think it will "strike" for further powers. Englishmen, therefore, may calmly await the "fiery crisis" which the scarlet-hat inspiration of Cardinal Manning perceives to be coming. Let it come.

Let us be Logical.

Educational sermons were preached in the Methodist churches yesterday, and educational meetings are to be held this and to-morrow evening. The propriety of denominational schools is the only logical conclusion that can be drawn from Dr. Stewart's and Prof. Burwash's arguments in support of religious education and the Bible in schools. Methodists cannot make such appeals on behalf of Methodist schools without endorsing the separate-school doctrines of the Catholics. If we can not banish the Bible we should provide separate schools for those who object to it. Let us be logical, dear brethren, even though we have to either abandon our own cherished doctrines or accept the unwelcome results to which they lead in practice.

When "prominent citizens" of Woodstock engage in fisticuffs on the street it only costs them $5 each. They could not do it as cheaply in St. John.

Torren's brick building, Queen street, Fredericton, was destroyed yesterday morning together with a large wooden building adjoining, occupied by James Crangle. The buildings were both owned by Mr. H. Torrens and were insured. Messrs. F. & O. McGoldrick, dry goods, and Mr. Limerick, hardware, lost most of their stock.

Nova Scotia News.

Nine men who have occupied the position of Mayor of Halifax, are now living in that city.

Fifty three years ago the brig Spanish Main was lost off Meagher's Head, N. S., having on board a quantity of gold and silver. A Prospect man has recently been diving for the treasure, and has succeeded in getting a number of doubloons, and is in hopes of finding more. When he gets through that job he ought to start on the sunken Plumper, which was lost off Point Lepreaux with a freight of silver dollars.

The business outlook is bad in Halifax. A heavy failure has recently taken place, and one of the papers remarks: "There are, we believe, well authenticated rumors of several other failures in the city, one of large amount, and others with smaller liabilities. It is to be feared that the effect will be to unsettle the business community, destroy confidence, and increase the mistrust which has for some time past been felt in business circles. Is there any foundation for the statement that is repeatedly made at the street corners, by men who are angered by losing their money by bankruptcy, 'that business in Halifax is in a rotten condition?'"

TIMELY TOPICS.

A Montreal boy has been convicted of stealing some human bones from a doctor, and it is said he disposed of them to a sugar refinery. The offender was sent to a Reformatory, but as no mention is made of the recovery of the bones, they were probably used for refining purposes.

The Canadian fishery regulations published say no person shall carry on cod fishing with a seine at a less distance than one half-mile from any fishing grounds where fishing boats are anchored and fishermen actually engaged fishing for codfish with hooks and lines.

Courage, down-hearted lovers, who fear cruel parents. A girl ran away from her home, in Glencoe, Ont., last week, and went to London to get married. Her father telegraphed the authorities to stop her, and she was accordingly arrested. The Magistrate afterwards discharged her, saying he knew of no law to prevent her getting married if she wanted to. Thereupon she went off and got married without further loss of time

At the execution of the bandit Vasquez, at San Jose, Cal., the only woman present hailed from the Dominion. This Mlle. Metteya, petite, prettily shaped, and dressed in black with Parisian propriety, stylish hat, and irreproachable gloves and shoes. "I am French," said she, "from Montreal." She was extremely anxious to get a good place from which to see the hanging, and they found her one on the roof of the gaol. She was the only woman in the crowd, and they could afford to be polite. "The only woman here, thank God," said they, as she appeared in her lofty and conspicuous seat. The big hairy men stared up at her in disgust, but she cared not.

Annual meeting of Mechanics' Institute members this evening.

The last meeting of the old Town Council of Portland takes place to night.

Target practice on the McCoskery Road, Portland, is the last Sunday amusement reported.

As the nomination of Mayor Smith was the only one handed in on Saturday, there will be no poll held this year.

Nearly all the remaining Salary Grabbers arrived in the city from Fredericton Saturday night.

Snowflakes, falling at intervals to-day, take the place of the proverbial April showers.

The returned members are around the streets to-day receiving the congratulations of their friends on their increase of pay.

Fifteen persons were baptized by Mr. Hartley, in Carleton, yesterday. The church is prospering in spiritual matters beyond expectation.

The Halifax papers will rejoice to learn that there was ice in our harbor last night. It came from up river and was on its way to sea.

Those who attended the children's concert at the Germain street Baptist Church last evening were well repaid by the interesting entertainment offered.

On the prorogation of the Legislature the salary grabbers will in future "fold their tents like the Arabs and a silently steal away" the Sessional allowance.

A bust of Mr. Geo. Stewart, Jr., by Mr. Meade, is on exhibition at Notman's. It is a wonderfully correct likeness. Mr. Meade is ready to receive orders for plaster or marble busts, statuettes, or medallions, and will warrant a likeness every time.

Evangeline, No. 20, Kentville, and Guiding Star, No. 21, Granville Ferry, N. S, lodges of the I. O. O. F., were instituted last week. There are now 18 Lodges in he Lower Provinces, with a membership of 1200, of which 484 were initiated last year. The amount paid for relief last year was $1,138.41, while the annual receipts amounted to $8,782.44.

It is remarkable that the active ingredients of Fellows' Hypophosphites are alkaloids from trees which attain to very great ages, taken in connection with the fact that this preparation will increase the longevity of the human family is a somewhat singular coincidence.

New Offices.

The apartments in Messrs. Chubb's building formerly used by Mr. DeBlois, for News Room purposes have been converted into a set of snug offices for the use of the legal profession. The floor now contains six rooms. The two looking out upon Prince William street will be occupied by Mr. John Kerr, the one next to these by Mr. J. R. Armstrong, while the two in the rear of the building have not yet been taken. The convenient location of the offices makes them very suitable for any business or professional man, and they of course command a good rent.

Tribute of Respect.

The flags on the shipping and on many of the business houses are half mast today, as a tribute of respect to the memory of Captain Cronk, whose funeral takes place this afternoon.

FRENCH MEDICATED PASTILLES—THE NEW SUBSTITUTE FOR PILLS.—It would be quite impossible to find a family in the land who had not at some period of their lives made use of Pills in some form; in fact they have ever been considered one of the necessaries of life. Such being the case, any remedy offered the public as their successor involves questions of no little importance. To be successful the new preparation must possess more attractive features and more intrinsic worth. It shall not be our duty to speak of the disadvantages arising from the wholesale use of Pills, but simply to point out the claims to public notice which the Pastilles possess. First, they compose a happy combination of the choicest remedies to be found in the entire Materia Medica. Secondly, they are easily dissolved in the mouth without causing the least nausea. Third, they are admirably adapted to a general use for both children and adults. Fourth, they are excellent for pocket use—they are effective.

Cost of Crime.

The receipts of cash at the Police Office during the month of March were $232.25, but this is a small amount in comparison with the usual monthly receipts.

CATARRH CAUSES CONSUMPTION.—Yes, this is true, as the medical record will show. It was first a cold, then catarrh, and lastly confirmed consumption.Ræder's German Snuff will cure the worst cases of catarrh.

Fire Investigation.

The investigation into the origin of the recent incendiary fires will be resumed at the Police Office to-morrow morning. The developments made public on Saturday have caused considerable comment, and many are of the opinion that the interests of justice would have been better served had the witnesses not been allowed to hear each other testify.

A few drops of Dr. FORSTER'S IMPROVED ENAMELLINE upon a wet tooth brush forms a rich, creamy foam in the mouth, imparting a delightful fragrance to the breath, and thoroughly cleansing the teeth from all impurities. Call at the Drug Stores and get a sample bottle free

Portland Police Court.

This morning Wm. Anderson was fined $5 for drunkenness on Saturday. John McGowan who got drunk on Sunday had to pay $8.

A small boy charged with disorderly conduct was fined $2 as a warning to other bad boys.

Extensive Sale of Pianos and Organs.

Messrs. Peller Bros. sold to Dr. O. Preston Sweet, yesterday, three magnificent pianos—Haines' make—and six of their best Cabinet Organs, aggregating twenty-five hundred dollars.

City Police Court.

The fire in the court room burned feebly this morning and the air was cold and raw. There was a chill in the air that lent a tinge of melancholy to the scene, and caused the Judge to rub his hands before he took the judicial pen to record the edicts of the court. The audience was large and inclined to be noisy, but at last became sufficiently quiet for the business of the court to proceed. The common drunks were all disposed of by an $8 fine, or the alternative of going across the flats. "The jail is full," exclaimed the Judge, "and they can feed you cheaper over there." The drunks of Saturday and Sunday were: Edward Scribner, on Prince William street; Thomas Fitzgerald, on Ferry floats; James McCart, on Carmarthen street; Patrick Pye, on Sheffield street; Joshua Scribner, on Duke street; Edward McGowan, on St. James street; Thomas Johnson, on Princess street; and Daniel McIsaac, on Water street.

Wm. A. Thomson, picked up on Prince William street, was let go with $8 fine.

Sitting on the bench with an air of injured innocence was Julia Mahoney, who was a petitioner for justice on account of divers wrongs, to wit, two assaults, committed on her by Joshua Scribner, who had been fined $8 for drunkenness. Julia stepped into the witness box with an injured look, and a large stone carefully wrapped up in paper with which the assault had been committed. Julia resides at the boarding-house of Mr. Neil Muldoon, and last Wednesday night Josh Scribner and some others entered the house and passing up stairs tried to get into the apartments of another tenant. Julia being annoyed at the noise ran up to request order, and thereupon, as she says, Scribner kicked her on the hip and jaw. After going out doors he fired the stone and severely cut her head. The prisoner asked her how she knew he was the person, and she identified him as having come in for a drink with one of the firemen belonging to No. 1, on the previous Friday. Scribner was fined $20. The Magistrate also remarked, regarding the firemen, that something must be done to stop this rum drinking among the members of the department.

Mag Martin and some other ladies from Sheffield street were present to get out mutual warrants for abusive language, but were dismissed with the recommendation to live in peace with each other.

A British officer, writing from Teheran, Persia, to the London Times, remarks: "A Cathartic Pill, manufactured by 'an American Chemist' (Dr. J. C. AYER, of Lowell, Mass.) has cured the Shah of a Liver Complaint that threatened his life. This simple fact, as might be expected, renders the Americans immensely popular here, while we English are overlooked. Doubtless our own scholars made the discoveries which he employs, and thus it is, in everything; we do the labor, then the mousing. Americans put their mark upon it and take the reward. Dr. Ayer is idolized by the Court and its retainers here, which will doubtless be reflected to him on a gold snuff-box, or diamond-hilted' sword, while not the name even of Davy, Christison or Brodie—the great lights by which he shines—is known.—[New York Sunday Paper.]

Shipping Notes.

The Bark Emma L. Shaw, Macomber master, at New York 8th inst., from Dunkirk, 40 days, reports having experienced heavy westerly gales during the entire passage, during which lost and split sails.

The Ocean Waif.—The Charleston News and Courier says that the schooner Laura, at that port from Rockport, Me., has on board a small gig-boat, marked on the stern "Grace Irving," which was picked up off the George's Banks by Cape Ann fishermen, in a perfectly sound condition. This boat is the only thing that has ever been found belonging to the ill-fated steamer Grace Irving, which left Boston about two years ago, bound to the Straits of Belle Isle, with a scientific party on board to take observations, and of whom nothing has since been heard.

Icebergs and Field ice.—Captain W. H. Copp of the bark General Wolsely, which arrived here to-day from Liverpool, 31 days out, reports having, on the 1st inst., in lat. 42.50, lon. 50.50, seen a number of very large icebergs and immense fields of ice; counted thirty-two vessels, some of whom were surrounded by it, while others were trying to keep clear of it; had to pass through about half a mile of it, occupying about an hour, and met with more or less drift ice for about 12 hours afterwards.

Point Lepreaux, April 12, 9 a. m.—Wind N. E., moderate, cloudy; two schooners outward; one ship and one brigt. passed outward at sunset.

ENORMOUS.—No medicine that has ever been introduced into these Provinces enjoys the enormous sale thatRæder's German Snuff does. The reason is obvious, because of the grand fact notorious throughout the United States and the Dominion of Canada that it cures that fatal disease catarrh, when all other remedies fail.
