near each other, and a decisive battle was daily expected."—In the House of Commons, on the 23d Aug., the following notice was given:

Colonel Evans gave notice, that on Monday Sept. 5th, he would move an Address to His Majesty for copies of Correspondence between this country and Poland, and this country and Russia, relative to the differences between Poland and Russia.

COMMERCE OF QUEBEC.—According to the Custom House returns, the total number of vessels arrived at Quebec, from the opening of the navigation to the evening of the 26th Sept. was 858;—tons, 224,104.—The number of settlers amounted to 47,708!—What an addition to the population of the Canadian Provinces in the space of five months!—Fully equal, we should think, to the number of inhabitants in both Quebec and Montreal.

The Quebec Gazette remarks as follows on the thriving condition of the country in the immediate vicinity of that city.—We are glad to hear of the increasing prosperity of our fellow-colonists:

The Lumber Coves.—Those who know and admire the value and creative power of trade and industry, the main sources of individual and public prosperity, would do well to visit the lumber coves in the vicinity of Quebec. About 20 years ago, there was hardly an inhabited house from the ship-yard of Cape Diamond to Sillery, a distance of four miles; there are now probably five or six hundred, from the boarded hut of the day labourer to the substantial stone buildings of mercantile houses, well furnished stores and tradesmen's shops, comfortable and capacious taverns and boarding houses. The whole beach is covered with timber; booms, wharves and ship-yards are provided, and the population is probably upwards of three thousand souls, besides the crews of one hundred vessels sometimes loading at the same time, and numerous raftsmen from the Upper countries.

Here you may meet with people of all nations and all tongues, generally peaceably, but earnestly pursuing their various occupations; the manly abrupt and honest Englishman; the warm-hearted and ready witted Irishman; the active, cheerful and polite Canadian; the silent, intelligent and calculating yankee, and the industrious and frugal German. Even the Greek from Constantinople, has found an asylum in the Lumber Coves of Canada.

The Coves from Cape Diamond to Sillery are however but a portion of the Lumber establishments in the vicinity of Quebec, the River St. Charles, the Falls of Montmorency, Cape Rouge River, on the North shore; St. Nicholas, the Chaudiere, Etchemin, New Liverpool, New London, New Leith, &c. on the south shore, are all busy scenes of hauling up, dressing and shipping lumber. All have collected about them, numerous inhabitants, and they are become markets for the spare labour and agricultural produce of the vicinity.

The numerous children to be met with in all these coves; their healthy and comfortable appearance, show that the produce of the industry of those employed there is not wasted. Drunkards are not fit for the hard labour of the coves, and cannot get employment. There are indeed much fewer irregularities & crimes in these places, than is generally imagined. In every one of them of any extent, schools have been established, which are numerously attended. In general, the merchants and others at the head and management of the establishments at the coves, have been active in discouraging disorder and immorality.—Neilson.

The manly and honourable character of the following Address of Sir CHARLES COLVILLE to his tenants, should entitle it to a ready admission into every Newspaper:—

RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.—Sir Charles Colville, in an address to his tenants on his rent-day at Dunfield on the 6th inst., said, "As seven candidates have already started for the county of Derby, and as four can only be elected, there will probably be a severe contest at the next dissolution. Most landlords expect their tenants to vote as they vote. I do not. Ministers give up the old system of patronage and interest, and wish to govern the country by the mat ure judgment of public opinion. I throw in my mite in furtherance of these views, and cheerfully resign a privilege which custom alone can entitle me to.—Vote therefore at all elections as you choose, without consulting me, or even inquiring how I shall vote, and be assured you will never hear any complaint from me on the subject. I claim no merit in resigning what does not belong to me; I am not the landlord of your votes, nor do you hold them under me as tenants at will. I am not your proxy by any legal assignment; your votes are not pledged to me by any clause in your agreements; you are bound to cultivate your land well, and to keep every thing in good order, and to pay your rents punctually. Having done these things completely and honestly, your duty to me is fulfilled, and further you have no responsibility."—Sheffield Independent.

Notice to Emigrants.—Mr. WEDDERBURN being absent from town for the purpose of inspecting districts for Emigrant location under the orders of government—Mr. HEAVISIDE will attend to applications from them during his absence.

Our City Corporation having liberally provided and fitted up a more convenient place for the Post Office than where it has been located for some time past, that establishment has been removed to an apartment in the City-Hall, Market-square. We congratulate our citizens on the advantages that will be derived from the change; and strangers visiting St. John in future, will be at no loss to discover the situation of so useful and necessary an establishment, while the public generally, we are certain, will be much pleased and benefitted by the removal.—Courier.

BOAT RACE.—A spirited Boat Race, round the Beacon Light House, in this Harbor, for £5 a side, took place on Thursday afternoon, between two Pilot Gigs, rowed by young men from the North and South Market Wharves, respectively. The boat manned from the North Wharf got the advantage immediately after starting, and kept it during the race, coming in a considerable distance ahead of her competitor.—Ib.

MISSING.—We understand that Mr. Thomas Mills of this city, one of the Branch Pilots, started alone in a gig boat from Little Dipper Harbour, on Wednesday the 28th ult. with the intention of boarding the Brig British Tar, then in sight, and has not since been heard of. A hat supposed to have belonged to him, has been picked up, and the boat was discovered the day following on the rocks near Musquash. At the time he left the shore, the wind was blowing very fresh, and continued to increase; it is supposed, therefore, that failing to reach the Brig, he endeavoured to return to the shore, but perished in the attempt.—Ib.

MIRAMICHI, SEPT. 27.—St. Paul's Island.—The carpenters, &c. with the requisite materials for the erection and completion of the buildings on St. Paul's Island, for the accommodation of shipwrecked seamen proceeded to the above Island a few days since. They are accompanied by the persons who are engaged to take care of the same, who have also in charge a quantity of provisions for the establishment.

Lord John Russel, the author of the Reform Bill, has suffered so much from the excessive fatigues in Parliament, that he is unable, for the present, to perform his public duties.—N. York Albion.

, It is requested that the Members of Committee, who have been appointed to collect the Subscriptions due for the present year to the New-Brunswick Auxiliary Bible Society, endeavour to discharge that duty in the course of the present week, as it is desirable that a correct statement of the funds of the Institution may be made at the Annual Meeting on the 26th inst.

At Halifax, on the 5th inst. after a lingering illness, Mrs. ANN CLEAVELAND, wife of Mr. William Cleaveland, in the 48th year of her age.

At Halifax, on Saturday the 8th inst. after a gradual decay of his bodily powers, but retaining, in an eminent degree, his mental faculties, the Honorable MICHAEL WALLACE, in the 85th year of his age. Mr. Wallace was by birth a Scotchman, came early to America, and, during those revolutionary feelings which disturbed the whole continent, remained steadfast in his loyalty. After having faithfully discharged his duty as one of the representatives of the Province, he was elevated to a seat in the Council on the 2d of April, 1766. In 1797 he was His Majesty's Treasurer of the Province, which office he held until appointed Treasurer, when age, rendering his duties irksome, he resigned the present year.

October 18. JOHN ROBE

JONES'S
PERMANENT WRITING BOOK, WITH
Prepared Paper, and Geometrical Scales to illustrate a new and perfection of Letters and Writing in gen.

PATRONISED BY HIS MAJESTY.

THE object which the author has in view in offering the Permanent Writing Book to the Public, is the promulgation of the system of instruction whereby the very useful and ornamental art of Writing may be acquired in a much shorter space of time than what is usually employed in what may not improperly be termed the old school; to gain time, by a proper use of it, is, in learning to write, as in any other pursuit, a matter of no little consequence; and although the author by no means professes to put all his pupils into possession of an elegant and expeditious style of writing in the short space of half a dozen lessons, yet he presumes that, from the mode of arrangement he has adopted, his pupils will arrive at a proficiency commensurate with their attention and perseverance, in a far shorter period than heretofore. The arrangement of the Permanent Writing Book is such as to render it plain and simple to the lowest capacity; and those who wish to learn or improve themselves in writing, without the intervention of a master, it will be found admirably calculated, conducting them gradually from the formation of the simplest strokes to the proper slope, thickness, and construction of text and current hand. To ladies' establishments and private families it will be found of considerable advantage, as it will afford to governesses and teachers a sure guide by which to proceed in the advancement of their pupils.

There is also another advantage attending the Permanent Writing Book, which is its very great economy, there being no necessity for the use of any other paper than what is contained in the Book itself, during the whole course of instruction; this property, from which the Book receives its name of Permanent, depends upon the use of a peculiar description of paper for the purpose of practising upon, making use of pure water instead of Ink, and which allows of any number of copies being written, without in the least impairing its capacity for receiving a fresh series.

To say more as regards a system, which from the powerful patronage and extensive circulation it has already received, mark it as one of solid utility, would be useless, further than to recommend it to the notice of a liberal Public.

☞ Each Copy Book contains ample instructions, and may be had upon application to the Subscribers, who are specially appointed by the Patentee, to vend the same in the North American Provinces. Price 7s. 6d. in half Binding, or 10s. full Bound.

THE Light House lately erected on Point Lepreaux, will be lighted on the 1st November next; it will shew two fixed Lights, one above the other, and distant 18 feet: The lower Lantern is fixed to the outside of the building, and will shew its light quite in with the shore to the Eastward, and Westward into Mace's Bay, within the outer ledges.—This Light House is distant from Partridge Island about 19½ Miles, and bears thereform W. by S.; from the Easternmost of the Wolves 11 Miles, E. by N.; and from Head Harbour Light House, about 20 Miles, E. ½ N.

Gannet Rock Light.—The Light House on Gannet Rock, off the South side of Grand Manan, will be lighted on the 1st December next. This will shew a fixed light of a bright red colour, to distinguish it from other lights in its vicinity.

This Light, from its proximity to several very dangerous ledges and shoals, ought not to be run for; it is intended to give timely warning to vessels which are by the rapid tides about these ledges frequently drawn into dangers, and too often wrecked.

The dangerous shoal called the Old Proprietor, which dries at ⅔ ebb, bears from this Light House E. ½ S. about 7½ miles. St. Mary's Ledge, dry at all times, S. W. by W. ½ W. 1¼ miles; northerly from this ledge, the whole space westerly from the Light House for the distance of 5 miles, is full of dangerous ledges, (several of them dry at high water,) called the Murr Ledges: the inner or northernmost of these ledges bear from the Light W. N. W. nearly, and is dry at ⅓rds. ebb.

Within the Murr Ledges, there is a clear channel round the South West Head of Grand Manan, which bears from the Light House N. W. ½ N. about 7½ miles.

Black Rock, off White Head Island, bears N. E. ½ E. about 8 miles. Vessels, except in cases of extremity, ought not to attempt running between this Rock and the Old Proprietor, as there are some dangers in the way, the ground rocky, and the tides very rapid.

The S. W. point of the Machias Seal Islands bear from this Light House W. ½ S. 12 miles, and the N. E. Rock off these Islands W. N. W. about the same distance.

It is proposed shortly to publish a particular description of all the dangers round Grand Manan, with observations on the set of the Tides, &c.

Note.—The above notice is sufficiently accurate for practical purposes; a more particular notice will hereafter be given—The foregoing bearings are by Compass.
